Public opinion in United States tells us frequently that the desire there is that the Allies should win this war, because if that is not done then United States is going to be brought face to face with the greatest and ugliest problem in its history. For such reasons the United States should take itself into a spell of serious thinking before it starts protesting about mail bags being searched. Nothing is being stolen; everything is accounted for, and valuable goods are being prevented from entering Germany.

That Desire For Peace

The Examiner publishes today a letter written by a lady in this city. In forwarding it for publication she stated she realized the Examiner would not approve of all that was said in it, and for that reason might not give it space.

The reason why we publish the letter is that the Examiner is convinced this lady has not properly interpreted the events of past months, and there may be others who are thinking in similar ways. In her published letter our correspondent says she read in this paper part of the report of Sir Neville Henderson, British ambassador to Berlin. It appeared to be a fair-minded statement, she concluded, and it was. She believed that Hitler was being influenced, and that he himself may not be as bad as painted.

With the extent to which Herr Hitler acts on the advice of others and is subject to their advice, Sir Neville deals in another section of his report. He had appealed to Field Marshal Goering, but —and here we quote:

"Field Marshal Goering once said to me: 'When a decision has to be taken, none of us count more than the stones on which we are standing. It is the Fuehrer alone who decides.'"

We do not believe it is necessary to labor that point. The decision for the Russian alliance, arranged by von Ribbentrop, had to be approved by Hitler. The decision to proceed with the mass attack upon Poland was decided by Hitler himself.

Our correspondent is impressed by the fact that Hitler and Chamberlain signed a paper at Munich saying that the Germans and British would not again fight. The whole world was impressed by that same thing. The suggestion is made that the pact was broken "perhaps unwillingly by both." Now that belief is not one which can be defended, and with it can be coupled the claim that the hand of Chamberlain was forced to save his face on account of the displeasure he had created over the Munich appeasement."

The policy of appeasement (or giving Hitler what he wanted) was undoubtedly the one adopted at Munich, and the reason was that Prime Minister Chamberlain actually believed it would be possible to preserve peace by such measure. The understanding at Munich was plain enough—

Germany was to be allowed to take over the Sudeten area of Czecho-Slovakia, and that was all. The rest of the land was to remain as it was. Czecho-Slovakia was to be slightly dismembered in order that Europe might preserve peace.

Bound by that agreement and plain understanding, Hitler later moved his armed forces into Czecho-Slovakia and set up headquarters in Prague. He had done the very thing which at Munich he had pledged he would not do. Chamberlain had dealt with him under the belief that Hitler was a man of honor and whose word could be accepted. If Hitler had observed the understanding of Munich we would not be at war today.

The attitude of Britain is well reflected in that memorable report of Sir Neville Henderson. In years to come it will take its place worthily in the history of the nation. From beginning to end there is not a word of abuse; there is remarkable restraint used in describing meetings which must have tried the soul of the British diplomat. There is not a thing to indicate an attempt to indulge in that easily attempted tendency of fixing blame; it is merely a gentleman's plain statement of fact and an intelligent recital of events, painful and heart-rending, as they unfolded themselves in the last days of peace.

One can appreciate and even admire our correspondent's deep-seated longing for peace in our times. We abhor war and all that war means. But there could have been no peace in our times while Hitler had it within his power to say yes at Munich and a short time later to say no in Czecho-Slovakia and again in Poland.

Too Much Of It

J. E. Atkinson, publisher of the Toronto Star, his son-in-law and Mr. Atkinson's grandsons were brought into a debate in the Ontario Legislature. Mr. Hepburn does not like Mr. Atkinson, and his dislike seems to have extended even unto the grandsons. Young scamps they are in the eyes of Ontario's first citizen. They put paint on a school house and were up in court for it, but not in the court Mr. Hepburn believed they should have entered.

Reports of this went on line after line until they piled into columns in Toronto papers and it all happened when Mr. Hepburn decided it was time to take Arthur Roebuck to pieces regarding something which took place a few years ago.

What it all had to do with the business of the Province of Ontario or furthering or protecting the general interests and welfare of this province is what we could not make out. We knew in advance that Mr. Hepburn did not like Mr. Atkinson, but perhaps the new feature is that he also dislikes the man's grandsons, and it may be that was the important information which Mr. Hepburn was seeking to impart. But what a level for a so-called debate in the major governing body of our Province during a year when we are at war!

Don't waste all your energy on the coming election. After it is over and while it is going on there is still the war to fight.

CHANGED

(By A.R.K.)

¶ Some years ago my Aunt Phoebe knit, some bed socks for my Christmas kit, and they were deep and soft; I wrote and thanked her right enough, although I felt exceeding rough, in fact I think I scoffed.

¶ They were a sissy thing I said, to wear when one went off to bed, the feet should not be cold; she must think I was soft indeed, or that I was fast going to seed, or growing very old.

¶ She could have made some other thing, a gay-hued vest to wear in spring, that would have been a treat; those bed socks made me almost squirm, I'd see them every time I'd turn, they never touched my feet.

¶ I kept on feeling kind of sore, so tucked them deeply in the drawer, I'd put them out of sight; perhaps some old decrepit friend, touched by the cold on pedal end, might find them nearly right.

¶ But when the hound bays in the night, I have to see that all is right, a burglar may be near; a window rattles or a door, I see that it's getting on toward four, and it sounds rather queer.

¶ That time of night why things are cold, nor do I step forth high and bold, in truth I'm much afraid; I slip the bed socks on my feet, then prowl around the foe to meet—I'm glad now they were made.

Henderson's Last Hours In German Capital

WHEN Sir Nevile Henderson wrote his official report of his last days in Berlin prior to the outbreak of war he made no effort at dramatics. The subject was too great; so great that it needed only simple and dignified narrative in its presentation. Of the last day in Berlin as recorded in the White Paper we quote:

Dr. Schmidt received this communication and undertook to deliver it immediately to his Chief. As no reply from the German Government was vouchsafed by 11 a.m., the German Representative in London was informed in due course at that hour that a state of war existed between Britain and Germany. By 10 minutes past 11 a.m. every British consular officer in Germany had been advised by the staff of His Majesty's Embassy at Berlin that this was the case.

Shortly after 11 a.m. I received a final message from Herr von Ribbentrop asking me to call upon him at once. I did so at 11.30 and he handed me this time a lengthy document to read, beginning with a refusal on the part of the German people to accept any demands in the nature of an ultimatum made by the British Government, and stating that any aggressive action by England would be answered with the same weapons and the same form. The rest of the document was pure propaganda with a view to attempting to prove to the German people and the world generally that it was Britain alone who was to blame for everything which had happened. My only comment on reading this completely false representation of events was: "It would be left to history to judge where the blame really lay." Herr von Ribbentrop's answer was to the effect that history had already proved the facts, and that nobody had striven harder for peace and good relations with England than Herr Hitler himself. His last remark to me was that he wished me personally good, to which I could only reply that I deeply regretted the failure of all my efforts for peace but that I bore no grudge against the German people. Thereafter I saw no further German official except the member of the Protocol, who accompanied our special train as far as Rotterdam. My last official communication to the German Government was a note which I presented on the instructions of His Majesty's Government enquiring whether the German Government would observe the provisions of the Geneva Protocol of 1925 prohibiting the use in war of asphyxiating, poisonous or other gases and of bacteriological methods of warfare—I understand that the German Government have since replied through the Swiss Minister in London giving the required assurance on the understanding that His Majesty's Government would similarly observe the provisions of the Protocol.

The French Ambassador had presented at noon a similar ultimatum to the German Government to expire at 5 p.m. For a few hours after 11 a.m. the telephonic lines of His Majesty's Embassy at Berlin continued to function, but about 4 p.m. all telephonic lines were cut off and both the Staff at the Aldon Hotel and the Embassy itself was isolated from all external contact. Members of my staff, however, had visited the protocol at 11 a.m. with a view of arranging for our departure. They were treated with every civility and consideration and were informed that a special train would be placed at our disposal the following morning.

Our only contact thereafter with the outside world was through the American Embassy. Its aid and help was invaluable. No trouble was too great for the Charge d'Affaires, Mr. Alexander Kirk, and the members of his staff. They did everything that was possible to smooth over the difficulties of those last 24 hours, and our pleasantest recollection of them is our appreciation of the great sympathy and willing assistance which we received from the American Embassy.

The French Embassy left Berlin at 9 a.m. the following morning, Monday, the 4th September. The British Embassy followed in a special train, leaving the Charlottenberg station at 11.20 a.m. The whole party consisted of 30 men, 7 women and 2 dogs. A small crowd collected round the Embassy before our departure, but unlike 1914 it evinced no single sign of hostility. Mr. Kirk rendered me one more last service by driving me to the station in his own car. The streets of Berlin were practically deserted and there was nothing to indicate the beginning of a war which is to decide whether force is to be the sole arbiter in international affairs; whether international instruments solemnly and freely entered into are to be modified, not by negotiation, but by mere unilateral repudiation; whether there is to be any faith in future in written contracts; whether the fate of a great nation and the peace of the world is to rest in the future in the hands of one man; whether small nations are to have any rights against the pretensions of States more powerful than themselves; in a word, whether government of the people by the people for the people is to continue in this world, or whether it is to be replaced by the arbitrary will and ambition of single individuals regardless of the peoples' will.

• Could We Not Have Had Peace ?

EDITOR EXAMINER: Sir,—As I am a woman I have not ventured to give any opinion concerning the present war, nevertheless there is much to be said from a woman's point of view. I wonder often if some of our leaders who have plunged us into — are as unwise as many parents who for lack of self-control thrash their children for every mistake they make and every wrong they do instead of trying to understand them.

I read the other evening the report of Sir Neville Henderson on the editorial page of The Examiner. It was a very fair-minded account of the last days before the break with Berlin. One wonders if Herr Hitler is as bad as painted or is he rather acted upon from others, at any rate I often ask myself "Would England not have been wiser not to have acted as policeman for small nations in Europe and to have waited a while to have been sure no evil intent was meant to her.

How sad it is to think of all the hard feelings now between England and Germany, and the lives that have been lost, and this so soon after the pact was signed between Mr. Chamberlain and Herr Hitler never to go to war again. This pact has been broken perhaps unwillingly by both.

I read in a Canadian newspaper an editorial that Mr. Chamberlain's hand was forced to promise aid to Poland to save his face on account of the displeasure he had caused over the Munich appeasement. We are all in equilibium, poised, and balanced between the actual forces flowing into our minds from heaven and hell. We are free to choose between the two. If we choose the heavenly influence and seek to obey it we can bring down to earth peace and goodwill, but if we weakly yield to passion in any form then hell prevails, and these passions inflame and spread as a fire and we have violence, robberies, murder and war with all its hideous wholesale murders, and the kingdom of heaven farther off than ever.

I will say no more, except this word from the Apostle "To whom ye yield yourselves servants to obey—his servant ye are, whether of obedience unto life or of sin unto death."

• Personal Guard of Adolf Hitler

BERLIN.—A generation brought up to hate Bolshevism could not be expected to accustom itself overnight to the new accord. The hammer and sickle and the swastika are flying from twin flagpoles on the Adlon Hotel, where Russian officials are staying this week, and pedestrians are only slowly overcoming a desire to stand and stare; they glance up quickly and away again. People from the provinces boldly take snapshots of the sight. Berliners tell a story about a youthful member of Hitler's personal guard, which, of course, is constantly fearful that some one is going to take a pot shot at the chief. Not long ago the Fuehrer made one of his early-morning dashes up Unter den Linden. After the party had passed the Russian Embassy, the young guard turned to a companion and said, "Thank God, we got him by there all right."

Meanwhile, though the cafes remain open and crowded until one in the morning, the average Berliner goes home at sundown and stays put until dawn. Blackouts, ration cards, and the fates of individual soldiers are more immediate realities to him than the intricacies of political jackstraws. Many of the black-edged obituaries in the daily papers are marked with the iron cross and swastika, indicating that the deceased was killed in action. Most of the soldiers now being commemorated in this way were killed during the early stages of the German advance in Poland. The death notices are inserted in the newspapers by relatives, army comrades, and former business associates of the dead men, and they set forth that Willi Schulz or Hermann Muller or whoever it may be gave his life for "Fuhrer, Volk, und Vaterland."—Berlin Cor. The New Yorker.

THE CAUCUS

CAUCUS — magic word in politics. What magic hath been wrought in thy name, black magic some of it. The Exeter Times-Advocate has a sneaking suspicion—as we also have —that the caucus, like some overcoats, covers a multitude of patches:

The Ontario Legislature Assembly is now in session. What do you expect of it? A member of that Assembly was asked a question something like this the other day. The reply was "Well, I can't very well say till we have a party caucus." "What have you in mind to do yourself?" it was persisted. "Can't say. We must get things through the caucus first." As the good man was showing signs of irritation there was nothing for it but to stop the inquiry. That caucus must be a wonderful place when our elected representatives must wait for it to function to get their incentive and their suggestions for their term's work. They tell us that if a member kicks over the caucus traces that he is out of everything. What is the caucus anyway? Ask your representative. Do a dozen men or less run the public business of this province? If they do, what is the difference between this province and a dictatorship.

MATERNAL INSTINCT

(Letter in Chicago Daily News)

PERSONALLY, I fell sorry for a married woman not granted at least a maternal instinct.

The other day, I was very much impressed when my ironing woman was here doing her weekly task for me. She said, of a husband, who deserted her, leaving her with seven children (all small), "I often think I'm sorry I ever met Floyd — then again I'm glad because I have my family of nice boys." This mother has worked hard, sacrificed, and her girls have not in each case given her great happiness. She loves them all and is grateful for what virtues they may have and bears no regrets, because she has three sons who will not repeat their father's offense.

It's hard to understand how each one feels toward life's responsibilities. However, this hard-working woman says, "I'm glad I'm a mother."

IGNORANCE

Hon. Unity Valkyrie Freeman-Mitford, daughter of Lord Redesdale and persistent idolizer of Hitler, is back in England after one of the oddest adventures of this or any other war. Her father said, "My daughter, poor child, does not even know that England is at war." Now, perhaps, the clever skeptics will not sneer quite as loudly next time a story comes from the Western Front about a group of German prisoners who thought it was "just manoeuvres."—Brantford Expositor.

FADES NEAR TO NOTHING

IN A RECENT announcement Sir John Simon, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, said that the war is costing Great Britain £6,000,000 per day or about £4,000 per minute. Such figures are beyond us. We simply cannot grasp them. Then too we must not forget the cost in life and limb. When our own Prime Minister stated not long ago the war was costing us about $1,000,000 per day we thought that was enough. (He spoke in dollars and not in pounds.) Beside the war cost of Great Britain it fades away almost to nothing. — Canadian Churchman.

COURTESY PAYS

GUESTS at his hotels found their laundered socks turned inside out—just as at home—and a hometown newspaper in their mailbox in the morning. These were only two reasons why the late Ralph Hitz, the immigrant who began as a bus boy at $3 a week, made good as the operator of $80,000,000 worth of American hotels doing a $15,000,000 annual business. Largely because of these little touches which the traveling public likes, the Hitz chain boasts a 70 per cent occupancy, far better than the average. Making friends pays in any line of business. Havelock Church Reviews Prosperous Year

HAVELOCK, Jan. 26—(ENS).—Encouraging reports were received from the different organizations as the congregation of Knox Presbyterian church held its annual meeting. Owing to bad weather there was a comparatively small attendance. Rev. D. K. Perrie acted as chairman and Albert Wilson as secretary.

Church treasurer, A. Wilson gave a detailed statement of the church's financial affairs, which showed a tidy balance for the new year. Splendid reports were received also from representatives of the Young Women's Association, Sunday School, Ladies' Aid, Women's Missionary Society, Cemetery committee and manse committee.

The session, in their report, stated two members of the congregation had been removed by death, one lost by certificate and four united by certificate from other congregations. They strongly emphasized the importance of attendance at public worship, which in turn would strengthen the congregation and church.

The following board of managers were appointed for the year: F. McKenzie, H. Krantz, W. Martin, A. Wilson and G. Wright. Albert Wilson was re-appointed secretary-treasurer.

Rev. Perrie, in his remarks during the meeting, praised the ladies of the congregation for their work in the church He also appealed to the members to firmly support the session. Many other phases of church work were discussed before the meeting adjourned with prayer and benediction.

Afterwards refreshments were served by the church ladies, and a pleasant social period spent.

Canucks Cop Win

Canucks nosed out a 1-0 Southend League midget game over King Edward last night at the Sacred Heart rink. It was a fine fast fixture on good ice, tight all the way. L. Giardino and Harrison all looked good this game. The teams:

USING A SKI-TOW — Several people have suggested that a little advice on how to use the ski tow would be timely. We will therefore endeavor to set out the fundamental principles of 'uphill skiing," however will not be held responsible nor will we be liable for damages. The prime rule is of course, to stand firmly on both skis facing up the hill with the rope passing on the right. After having applied plenty of resin to your mitts (which is supplied at the foot of the tow) you extend the right hand forward and the left hand behind you, with both ski poles around the left wrist. Standing in this position, you grasp the rope with both hands, simultaneously, but do not grasp it so tightly that it pulls you off your balance; slowly tighten your grip allowing the rope to slip through the hands until you pick up speed and are moving the same speed as the tow. With a little practice and following these rules, you will find that in a short time you will be starting off very quickly with very little slip and resulting wear and tear on the mitss. Some prefer to crouch very low while being pulled up and make a improvised sling for the weight by extending the left hand around and behind as mentioned above.

The non-skiing public will be welcome at eBthany at all times or on any other club property and there is no admission charge. Possibly in our anxiety to protect our investment and the members of the club, we have created a wrong impression by stating that only club members or guests wearing guest tickets will be allowed on the property. This statement applies only to people who are skiing and non skiers are welcome to come and go as they like and are free to come in the Chalet.

St. Paul's Bantams Are Eliminated 5-3

St. Paul's Bantams were eliminated by their third loss in a row last night, George St. winning 5-3 in a lively Church Loop tilt at All Saints'. The winners are still well in the hunt. Wilfrid and Heath went best for the losers. The teams:

Great Nazi Drive At Sea, Seen In Berlin Boast

LONDON, Jan. 26—(CP).—German claims that submarine production had reached a one-a-day level and reports that the Reich had launched several new plane carriers have stirred speculation on the chance of a new Nazi campaign against merchant shipping.

In Berlin, authorities would not comment on the plane carrier reports which were widely circulated in London, but a well-informed source there was responsible for the claim about submarine production. British naval authorities have contended that German submarines were being destroyed faster than they could be turned out.

The first group of undersea craft supposedly built under the Nazi program was said in Berlin to be slated for service as fast as officers and crews can be trained. Nazi spokesmen suggested these men could be trained for their exacting duties in about a month.

(Reliable marine quarters in New York professed to see signs of a coming German submarine offensive against British communications in the West Indies, within the Americas' neutrality zone).

Subs Off Trinidad.

(These sources said that three German submarines, accompanied by a passenger boat now turned tender, had reached the vicinity of Trinidad, on the flank of sea lanes to and from the Panama canal.

(In these quarters it was felt that the Reich was planning to attempt an assault against British and French ships carrying grain and other supplies.)

British aviation experts, speculating on the reported launching of German plane carriers, expressed belief that the floating air bases would find difficulty in obtaining supplies sufficient to sustain important operations on the high seas even if they found it possible to slip past British naval and aerial patrols in the North Sea.

ONE GAME PROTESTED IN INDUSTRIAL LEAGUE TRIPLE-HEADER

Quakers On Top Of Circuit With Westclox

Team	Won	Lost	Tied
Marines	2	0	1
Brintons	0	2	1
Raybestos	0	2	0
Packers	0	2	0
Watercraft	0	2	0

Three lively and tight tussles were run off in this league last night at the Brock before a fair-sized crowd. Quakers nosed out the Packers, 3-2, Marines and Brintons battled to a 1-1 tie, and Westclox beat Watercraft 7-4. Packers lodged a protest over their game, claiming the third period was cut short.

Staging a strong finish of the opening game, Quakers ran in three goals to win out, being held scoreless the first two heats as Packers got a marker the first and second stanzas. It was a fast, close game with plenty of excitement and some stiff bumping at times. The losers drew six penalties to three. Feeley played a fine game in goal, his defence being shaky in the third. Jopling and R. Cournyea tallied for the Packers, with Howland, Kennedy and Hill counting for the Cereal Men, Calladine making the play for the tying goal. The teams:

Quakers: Goal, Merritt; defence, Innes, Webb; centre, Fisher; wings, Hill, Howland; alternates, Calladine, Shine, Kennedy, Campbell, Scriver.

Referee—T. Miller.

Score In Third

Both Brintons and Marines scored their only goals in the third period of a hard-fought battle. Both sides lacked combination but provided lots of action, and the rival goalies worked hard and effectively. Shields counted for the Outboards halfway through the stiff third chapter, and then Jones rapped home the tying couner just five seconds before the last gong. Aside from the goalies, there were probably no outstanding players on either side over the entire route. Only three penalties were drawn. The teams:

Marines: Goal, Watkins; defence, Murphy, Fuller; centre, Partridge; wings, Boyle, Stephenson; alternates, Shaughnessy, Payne, Saunders, Mesley, Wood.

Brintons: Goal, Corrigan; defence, Watson, Deadey; centre, Henthorne; wings, Jones, Lackey; alternates, Agnew, Leether, Scott.

Willshaw in the second heat of the final fray caught Sloane out of the net and pushed in the rubber. Seconds later, O'Connor slipped another one past to liven up a game that, till then, was all Westclox. But Watercraft as usual played a speedy game, giving all they had, and it was interesting before the finish. Westclox had a 3-0 edge in the first and led 4-2 going into the third. Boulter scored one early in the third for Canoeists and O'Connor slipped in during a scramble to tie it up. Action was fast then with both goalies busy and players missing many chances. Westclox had more punch at the finish. Driscoll, White and Thirnbeck had two each for the winners and Gilbert one. For the other side, O'Connor led with two and Willshaw and Boulter had one apiece. It was a clean tilt. The teams:

Digging Up the Local Dirt With the Odd Chuckle or Two

By CEC PERDUE

Somewhere down the wintry years, a feud broke out down Deseronto way between some neighbor boys. They were two brothers, Clayt and Bill Jackson, on the one side, and Honey Tompkins on the other.. The trio started to play organibed hockey about the same time and did right well, too. Eventually graduated to Belleville, but then came the parting. Several seasons ago, Tompkins obtained work in Peterborough and has been playing hockey here since. Has married—though just out of junior ranks a coupla years—and plans to live here. Despite lucrative offers to move a couple of times. The Jacksons have been at odds with Honey ever since he deserted Belleville, and they try to rough him up every game. Now, Tompkins is a wiry, clever puckist and will back up from no one. Hence, they frequently clash on the ice.

* * * * * *

This is but one of the embryonic battles liable to mature any game between the Belleville Redmen and the Petes. Maybe in tonight's fray here. Don Crowe tangled with a couple of Redmen last game, and Ellis blames Storms for slashing him hard across the ankle. Several others on both sides have taken the odd rap at each other, and there is considerable enmity betwixt the clubs. The boys of Bella Villa burn up every time they think of the bad beating they took here to start the season. Things may be fairly peaceable tonight, but we wouldn't be a bit surprised to see fireworks threatening—if not popping—every period.

* * * * * *

Yep, They're Scrappy

Apart from possible fights, the tussle this eve sounds rather promising. We believe the Petes should win, and do it fairly handily. Yet, the scrappy Redmen made 'em hustle to the very finish last game to yank out a narrow nod. At anyrate, it should be a speedy, exciting contest as the revamped Redmen—coached by that scrappy defenceman, Speedy St Louis—make their final 1940 appearance here. The Petes should be at full strength and dishing up a lot of swish before a big crowd of puck rooters. Last home appearance of the local intermediates for quite a little spell.

* * * * * *

Coach Archie Weir will use Bob Parnell up front on the Colts' attack tonight in Lindsay, with Vitarelli working on defence. The speedy Bob is an efective puckster and might aid the team more on the firing line, especially when Bob Strickland returns to the lineup on defence next week. Another possible change to manufacture more goals for the local juniors is to try Sid Craig—a smart player—at centre between Parnell and MacDonald. Some of the forwards are consistently good while others have their on and off nights. After tonight, the Colts are idle till Lakefield comes here next Friday.

* * * * * *

A Tasty Cage Dish

Ought to be a flock of cage fans hanging over the rail at tonight's basketball offerings in the Y.W.C.A. Three important Girls' League contests, followed by an A-1 exhibition between two men's teams. At 6.30, the fast-stepping "Y" Gym dandies joust with a strong St. John's crew; at 7.30 the powerful Orfuns are in against Quaker Debs, who may make it most interesting; and at 8.15, Westclox and Aces tangle in what promises to be a pipperino of the first water—or an 18-carat sparkler. Then at 9-15 comes the exhibition fray betwixt the Provincial church champs, St. Paul's men, and the streamlined St. John's, also in provincial church playdowns. They look like pretty okay games to this corner.

* * * * * *

Chips were flying last p.m. at the Brock as three right lively Industrial League hockey melees entertained a fair-sized crowd of fans. Westclox had to go all the way out for a 7-4 verdict over Watercraft in an argument as wide-open as the election question. The Brintons lived up to their boast by holding the potent Marines to a 1-1 draw in their tussle. And Quakers eked out a late 3-2 decision 'gainst Packers in a hard-bumping and tight tilt. The Packers have entered a protest on the grounds the third period was shortened, and we believe this is true—though the game started late and perhaps that's why. At anyrate, the matter will be settled at an executive meeting at some later date.

Hockey In Hot Spot

Ran into Jack Barry up on the board Avenoo betwixt periods last night, Jack being back in town for a breathing spell or so. He used to pitch good ball in the E.P.L. and later umpired in the City Ball Loop Jack said he had been working on a Panama tanker in South America, with a couple of dozen other Canadians till just recently. Around Christmas time, he listened in to Foster Hewitt broadcasting via short wave one of the Leafs' games—the one where Foster's son came on for a space, remember? Barry says they were anchored in the Amazon with the temperature 110 degees, and listen' to a puck broadcast from the home country!

On the eve of announcement of the sale of Eddie Shore to the Amerks—and local fans can't help but be interested—we noted this thoughtful item in the Mo'real Star: "In Springfield, Eddie is starting to get what the boys call a bad press. It seems he clamped down on passes for the newspapers, which got him some barbed comment in return. Then he manned the turnstiles himself for a spell, being suspicious that some small-time grafting was being indulged in at his expense. Naturally such money-saving tactics did not gain him prestige in certain quarters. Now comes word that in games Eddie played he was treated in disdainful fashion by the minor leaguers who went after him as though he is just another fellow named Joe. He is also forced to play some out-of-town games in the Intam loop. Shore, who was one of our most obdurate holdouts for years, who learned hockey from the player's angle, is now beginning to realize that there are two sides to the business." As local players in any sport graduate to the executive end of it, they, too, get a different slant on things.

Novice Joe Downey Scores Double Slam

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 26—(AP).—Joe Downey, a comparative novice in the leather-pushing business, scored a double slam last night.

The Scranton, Pa., fighter dropped Frankie Kern, Steelton, Pa., heavyweight in the first round and then, as a substitute, accelerated his brief profesional career by stopping Dave Willis, Pennsgrove, N.J., in the third.

Dit Clapper Is Given Three Weeks' Rest

HASTINGS, Jan. 26 (ENS). — Dit Clapper, husky defenceman of the Boston Bruins hockey team in Boston, arrived home here yesterday for a three weeks' rest, during which time his injured thumb will be given a chance to heal. Despite Clapper's protests that he did not want the temporary retirement from puck chasing, Manager Art Ross decided to follow doctor's orders and Clapper was ordered to rest.

Last Night's Stars

(By The Canadian Press)

Davie Kerr, Rangers, became the National Hockey League's leading shutout goalie by turning in his fifth perfect effort of the season as Rangers topped Toronto 3-0.

Bryan Hextall, Rangers, led the attack against Leafs with a goal—his 17th of the season—and an assist.

Murray Armstrong, Americans, sparked his team's attack in a 2-2 draw with Canadiens by scoring one goal and aiding in the other.

Red Doran, Canadiens, assisted in both Canadiens' goals and did some lusty body-checking on the defence.

Red Hamill, Boston, gave the Bruins a 2-2 draw with Chicago Black Hawks by firing a goal in the third period.

CURLING

By HERB MARTIN

In yesterday's report of the W. G. Morrow Trophy 'spiel, we missed the name of J. A. Gibbs as second on Billy Widdess' runner-up rink. Sorry, and glad to correct it. The rink was W. Davidson, J. A. Gibbs, W. Harvey and W. Widdess.

Fred Green's schedule rink still keeps "rolling along." When they met and defeated W. Harvey last night, that made six schedule games in a row. His rink still tops them all and has yet to lose a 1940 schedule game. And what makes the rink more outstanding is the fact that R. J. Chandler playing lead, and H. L. Bamforth playing second are tacking this game for the first time, and we want to add, that they are making a good job of it.

It was mighty quiet all day yesterday down here—at times you could hear a pin drap on No. 8. Some of us had to talk to ourselves just to have company.

The Woodville Curling Club have sent out notices for a bonspiel to be held some time next month. We have one of those notices pinned up on the notice board. It's worth looking over, boys.

Well hold the week-end bonspiel to-morrow afternoon at 1.45. The fee is 25c.

PRO PUCK PERSONALITIES

DON GROSSO

By Central Press Canadian

A player with a brilliant future is about the best way to describe Don Grosso at this stage of his career. He's been a pro less than a year and has taken part in fewer than a dozen N. H. L. games, but no one doubts his ability to win a name for himself. Last spring Don Joseph (that's his full name) was a ball of fire for Lake Shore Blue Devils of Northern Ontario and played brilliantly right through the Allan Cup playdowns, which saw his team ousted by Toronto Goodyears. Shortly after that, on March 18, he signed with Detroit, just in time to get into their last home game of the season. In this he joined the not-too-extensive ranks of players who have scored in their first major league game as he fired a goal and received credit for an assist in Detroit's 3-2 win over Chicago. That's pretty near his entire league career. He played through the Stanley Cup playdowns as far as the Wings went, but before the start of this season suffered a wrist injury that kept him out of the first couple of dozen games. Born at Sault Ste Marie 25 years ago. Played amateur there, then with Sudbury juniors, then Falconbridge, then back to Sudbury for the Allan Cup winning team of three winters ago. Then Falconbridge again and Kirkland Lake before signing with Detroit.

EDDIE SHORE SIGNS TO PLAY WITH THE NEW YORK AMERICANS

Capitols Paste Providence Reds Easily 8-0

(By The Canadian Press.)

Any hopes International American League hockey teams might have held that Indianapolis Capitals were losing their touch were dissipated today. The Capitals banished them last night with an overwhelming 8-0 victory over Providence Reds.

Since the season started no team has been able to catch the high-flying Indianapolis club that has lost only 10 games in 35. Their victory over the Reds, in the only game of the night, widened their first place margin over Cleveland Barons in the western division to 10 points.

Carl Liscombe, apparently gunning to get his job back with Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey League, supplied most of the punch as the Capitals scored in every period. He scored two goals, one single handed, and assisted in three others.

Ronnie Hudson, Syd Abel, Thomson, Don Deacon, Ross and Bush fired the other goals. The Capitals got four counters in the space of two minutes in the first period, two coming within a minute and four seconds while Ab Demarco of Reds was serving a penalty.

No games are scheduled in the Int-Am tonight.

Gate Is Proposed To Revive Harness Racing

ORLANDO, Fla., Jan. 26.—(AP)—Elimination of tiresome minutes of waiting at the start of races through universal use of the McNamara starting gate would bring a nation-wide revival of interest in the harness horse, a veteran of the sport predicted here today.

The issue is a controversial one with United States horsemen, but David "Piggy" Friedman, an old timer in the standard bred game, believes in the "new-fangled contraption."

Although comparatively new to harness races in this country, the starting system has been in use in Europe some time and was introduced to American tracks last summer by Leo C. McNamara, Indianapolis horseman.

The "gate" consists of a wire, from which hang strips of tape, suspended across the starting line. The system includes a phonograph with an amplifier, and a record that warns "get ready" and counts to 15 at one-second intervals. On the count of 15 the machine bellows "go."

"That starting system will mean everything to the public," Friedman said.

Use of the gate was scheduled for discussion at the meeting of the United States Trotting Association in New York today.

Leading woman figure skater for nearly 10 years, Sonja Henie won the European championship at Berlin four years ago to-day. The 24-year-old Norwegian turned professional shortly afterwards and began her career in motion pictures and skating carnivals.

Wiseman And $5,000 Given Boston For Eddie Shore

NEW YORK, Jan. 26 — (CP). — The bow-legged man with the thinning hair, none other than the great Eddie Shore, will spend the dusk of his brilliant and turbulent National Hockey League career with New York Americans.

After 13 seasons in the uniform of Boston Bruins, most of them as the league's No. 1 defenceman, Shore was sold yesterday for "about $5,000 cash" and little Eddie Wiseman, 28-year-old right wing. Manager Red Dutton of the Amerks revealed the financial part of the deal in a long-distance telephone call from Montreal last night.

So to the Americans, home of N.H.L. castaways, at last came one who should do them a lot of good. Despite his 38 years, Shore still is a great defenceman. Good enough in Dutton's opinion to spark the Americans into the playoffs.

Shore's break with the Bruins has been coming since he invested some $40,000 in Springfield Indians of the International-American league between seasons. Eddie was to have played in all Bruin home games after Dec. 15, and at the end of the season was to have been made a free agent. He asked and obtained a few weeks ago his release from the contract calling on him to play for Boston, and finally he was given permission to play home games for the Indians.

Some Trouble

Difference cropped up between Shore and Art Ross, Bruin manager, and the rumors of a trade finally were confirmed in announcements by the Americans office here and by the Bruins in Boston.

Dutton said Shore will play "as many games as possible" for the Americans, on the road and at home, but he also will play with the Indians. Final details as to the number of games with each club were left for a conference Monday.

The Big Alberta wheat farmer who fought tooth and nail over salary with the Bruins almost every season had no trouble reaching terms with Dutton, a close personal friend. Dutton would not reveal any details except to say Eddie would be paid a flat sum for the balance of the season irrespective of the number of games played.

Shore will play for the Americans if they reach the Stanley Cup playoffs and he will play with them next season, Dutton added.

Dutton hopes to have Shore in uniform for the game against Canadiens next Tuesday. He'll take Hooley Smith's place on defence with Hooley moving up to centre. Johnny Gagnon replacing Wiseman at right win and Nels Stewart being held in reserve for power plays.

Though he is well beyond the age when hockey players are considered through in the big league, Shore was good enough to make a defence post on The Canadian Press all-star team last season.

He's been a perennial all-star in the last decade, seemingly improving with age. Possibility the last of the great individualists, his career with the Bruins was filled with some of hockey's finest achievements and some of its most dramatic.

THE SPORTS ROUND-UP

By EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, Jan. 26 — (AP).— Jack Zeller's job as generalissimo at Detroit is safe despite the big upheaval....You'll be surprised plenty when they announce Joe Louis' opponent for the Finn relief fund fight in March....The big St. Louis books which laid 8 to 1 against the Cards last spring, will start them out this year at around 2 to 1 ....The Reds will be the early favorites at 8 or 9 to 5....Lou Diamond, the honest brakeman (he never stole a box car) will be Mike Jacobs' matchmaker for the Conn-Lesnevich brawl at Miami.

Washington beat all the other big league clubs under the wire with its 1940 roster....Which makes Washington' first in rosters and first in the hearts of the Cubans, Venezuelans and Lithuanians—but still sixth in the American League.

To-day's True Story:

The other day Warren Wright and Trainer Ben Jones sent four consecutive winners to the post at Hialeah....That was nice going, but it wasn't the first time it had happened....Larry S. Williams, former Arizona legislator, was at Latonia one afternoon back in the 90's and saw horses owned by T. J. Megibbin of Cynthiana, Ky., sweep the entire card of six races....If that isn't a record it will have to do for awhile.

Some of the boys have been saying Pedro Montanez was a bit shy in the ticker department, but we'd like to borrow what he used for one against Armstrong....Almost without exception the sports writers say the Reds poured it on a bit too thick when they asked Ernie Lombardi to take a $6,000 slice.

The sports world extends sympathy to Tommy Gibbons, the old heavyweight (now sheriff out at St. Paul) who lost his wife the other day....The incident recalls Tommy's last big fight when he lost to Gene Tunney here....His wife was so very inill at the time they spared her the chock. . . For months she thought Tommy won.

Going or Coming:

When Tony Galento was introduced at the fight the other night, everybody cheered except the members of the Boxing Commission. . . One fellow said: "Them guys don't like Tony drunk or sober."

Jacobs To Untangle Middleweight Scene

NEW YORK, Jan. 26 — (AP). — Out of a trip to Chicago may come the "un-muddling" of the middleweight fight picture.

Promoter Mike Jacobs left last night for an unannounced destination—believed to be Chicago—where he is to confer with Nate Druxman, Seattle promoter, in an attempt to arrange a bout between Al Hostak, the recognized National Boxing Association middleweight king and Ceferino Garcia, whose title is recognized only in California and New York.

Rangers Shutout Toronto Leafs By Score 3 to 0

By JACK CALDER
(Canadian Press Staff Writer.)

Maybe the trailing teams will stand up now to whoop and holler down the stretch of the National Hockey League schedule. At least it's about time.

New York Americans have acquired the mighty Eddie Shore; Chicago Black Hawks are starting to kick the leaders around; Montreal Canadiens have changed from beer to tea as a liquid builder; and Detroit Red Wings have summoned Alvin (Buck) Jones to ride herd again on their defence.

The Americans and Canadiens, who up to now have been mooching along with the other laggards while New York Rangers, Boston and Toronto have been hitting the high spots, rate first place in the news to-day. They played a 2-2 overtime tie last night at Montreal after two of the most startling developments of the season.

Before the game the Americans acquired Shore, the 37-year-old bruiser who for 13 years was heart, soul and chief driving force of Boston's Bruins. They traded right winger Eddie Wiseman to the Bruins for the right to use Shore in games that he can spare away from his investment in the Springfield Club of the International - American League. Shore expects to join his new team at New York on Tuesday.

Eddie Shore

Live Third Period.

Then the Canadians turned to sipping tea between the second and third periods of play. In the third period against the Americans they scored two late goals to earn the draw.

The result lifted the Americans into a sixth-place tie with Detroit and left the Canadiens a point behind them in the cellar, heralding a battle down the stretch for the sixth and last playoff spot.

Johnny Sorrell scored for the Americans halfway through the second period and Murray Armstrong halfway through the third. Charley Sands reduced the margin to 2-1 with six minutes to play and Marty Barry levelled the score a minute later.

The Black Hawks, who 12 days ago stopped the Rangers after a great winning streak, turned on the second-place Bruins at Chicago and played them to a 2-2 overtime tie. The split in points left Chicago secure in fourth position.

Doug Bentley and Mush March put the Hawks two goals up early in the game, but Johnny Shewchuk, the improving defenceman from Brantford, Ont., scored for Boston before the first period ended. Red Hamill completed the scoring on a play with Flash Hollett five minutes after the third started, and the teams went through 25 more minutes without scoring.

Doug Bentley

The Rangers, scoring their 14th victory in 15 starts, blanked Toronto 3-0 at New York and extended their league lead to three points. It was the first time the Maple Leafs had been shut out.

Dutch Hiller bagged a goal in the first period, Alf Pike in the second, and Bryan Hextall in the third, while Toronto met the stern resistance of Goalie-of-the-year Dave Kerr. The Leafs, already deprived of Syl Apps and Nick Metz through injuries, had to play withough Gordon Drillon because of an indisposition.

SANDBAGS ROTTING

Tricky Forward

HONEY TOMPKINS

One of the fastest and smartest of the Petes' forwards is Honey Tompkins (above), who will be on the local lineup tonight here against the Belleville Redmen.

Tonight's Game May See Few Puck Feuds

The Petes do not expect a gentle game here to-night when they clash with Belleville Redmen at 8.30 o'clock in the Brock Street Rink. It is an O.H.A. Intermediate scheduled fixture, the last showing of the Redmen here this season, and the Petes' second last game at home before playoffs. While the Redmen appear out of the running, yet the locals anticipate a strenuous struggle, fairly tight, and plenty rough. Their last meeting on Quinte ice produced some slashing hockey, with several genuine feuds cropping up, and these are likely to be continued here this evening.

Speedy St. Louis, hustling and scrappy defenceman, is now playing coach of the Redmen, and the team has been shaken up a bit and playing good hockey the last two starts. The Petes expect to be at full strength for this tilt, and a fast, exciting—and possibly rough—match is likely to entertain a good-sized crowd of fans. A good sheet of ice is promised for the speedy tussle.

Madoc Outscores Terriers 6-3

TWEED, Jan. 26—(ENS).—Tweed Terriers lost to Madoc in the latter village on Wednesday night by a score of 6-3, the homesters retaliating for their loss in Tweed last week. Bill Arber, Jerry Wagar and "Frenchy" Leal were the marksmen for Tweed.

Tweed were without the services of Joe Courneyea, Joe Marsh and John Orr, all of whom were indisposed, although Mark Storms took his place on the local lineup despite the fact that Madoc threatened to protest. It was an extremely rough game, Madoc being handed eight penalties while Tweed players paid but two visits to the bastile. Akey, Madoc fire-brand was given five minutes to cool his heels after handing Elsbury a dirty check in centre ice.

Referees Sayers and Watson had a difficult time preventing the bad feeling between the two clubs from resulting in fistcuffs. Despite the rumpus raised by the Madoc officials, Manager Hubert Wagar informed them that Storms would remain on the local line-up.

Norwood Laces Havelock Scholars 8 to 3

HAVELOCK, Jan. 26 — (ENS). — The Norwood High School squad remain undefeated in the current Trent Valley Interscholastic Hockey League schedule, winning their fourth straight game last night at the Norwood arena when they conquered the Havelock scholars by a decisive 8 to 3 score.

Once again Norwood was paced to victory by "Mickey" Puffer, scorer deluxe of the scholastic league, who managed to pick up six of the winning tallies. Puffer has scored a total of 14 goals in his last two games, an eviable record for any player.

Wide-open play featured last night's tussle, with Copp in t he Havelock cage having a particularly busy time of it. Bongard for the winners was also called upon to make a flock of stops. Although there were only two penalties handed out, and both of these to the losers.

Havelock ran into hard luck early in the first period, when Hamilton deflected a drive from Puffer into his own cage, for the opening tally. Close to the half-way mark, Stevenson nabbed a pass from Nelson, new recruit to the Norwood lineup, to notch their second goal.

Puffer let a hard drive go past the defence, four minutes after the start of the middle session, which whizzed past Copp for the third Norwood goal. Jamieson notched Havelock's first marker on a neat solo attempt. Puffer, however, got this back for Norwood when he slapped home Buck's rebound six minutes later. The count read 4-2 when Hoffman combined with K. Pollock for Havelock's second goal of the night.

After seven minutes in the third Puffer added another to his total. Cole made in 6-2 for Norwood with Sargent assisting. Havelock's final counter was notched by Hoffman during a scuffle before the Norwood cage. Twice during the last three minutes of play, Puffer sallied through the visiting defence for another pair of goals. K. Pollock was penalized for boarding Buck in this session.

Bongard and Puffer were standouts for the winners, with the rest of the honrs about equally shared by the other members of the line up. K. Pollock, Hoffman, Jamieson, Buchanan, Hamilton and Copp were the pick of the visiting students.

The teams:

Norwood.—Goal, L. Bongard; defence, B. Puffer, D. Gardiner; centre, L. Johnson; wings, W. Green, W. Buck; alternates, L. Sargent, C. Stevenson, E. Morris, W. Cole, H. Lemon, S. Rusaw.

Havelock.—Goal, W. Copp; defence, E. Hoffman, K. Pollock; centre, E. Jamieson; wings, W. Buchannan, E. Yeo; alternates, T. Pollock, W. Mathison, R. Hamilton, W. Griffith, C. Curry, C. Pollock.

Referee—J. Aboud, Havelock.

Scores 100th Goal

Starting with New York Americans in 1934-35, Dave "Sweeney" Schriner, currently billed with Toronto Maple Leafs, has scored his 100th goal in N.H.L. competition.

Cattle Draggy With Prices Shade Stronger

TORONTO, Jan. 26 — (CP). — Cattle trade was draggy on a light run with prices steady to a shade stronger on the Toronto livestock market this week.

Calves opened the week 50 cents higher and held the gain while hogs lost an early gain of 15 cents. Lambs advanced 15 cents up to Tuesday but closed with bids lower and two carloads of westerns unsold.

Weighty steers sold at a top of $8 for a few choice with others from $7.75 downward to $6.75. Butcher steers and heifers were sold at $6.50 to $7.50 with a few at $7.60. Butcher cows closed at $4-$5.25. Canners and cutters sold at $3.25-$4. Bulls ranged from $5-$6 cwt. according to quality and fed calves were mostly $8-$9 cwt. The few stockers offered sold at $5.50-$6.75 cwt. Milkers and springers ranged from $50 to $90 each according to quality.

Choice veal calves sold at $13-$13.50 with others downward to $7. Most of the veal calf sales were between $11 and $13 cwt.

Hogs Close Easier

Hogs opened stronger at $9.25 off-trucks for bacons and at a top of $12.40 dressedweight. The close was weak with sales mostly on a rail grade dressed basis at $12.25. Live hog bids were down to $9 off-trucks.

The ban on the movement of feeder hogs through the Toronto market was removed on Jan. 25, and trading in feeders was resumed after a lapse of three months.

Western lambs made up 1,200 head of the lamb run. Early sales were at $10.75-$10.85 with two cars up to a high of $10.90 Tuesday. The market weakened and a lot of two cars offered Thursday was not sold. Last bid on western lambs was $10.50. Local lambs sold at from $8-$10.50 for common to medium quality with tops at $10.85. Sheep were steady at $3-$6.50 for locals with light western ewes at $6.50 cwt.

King Lays Blame

"I am confident the Prime Minister and the government will be swept out of power and some other group will be put in power to carry on the affairs of the country and its war effort."

General Surprise

The government's decision, announced in the speech from the throne turned an opening day which looked rather tame in advance into one of intense excitement. Liberals and Conservatives alike were taken by surprise.

Few members of the House caught the announcement as Lord Tweedsmuir read it in the speech from the throne. They stood at the bar of the senate chamber and it was hard for them to hear every word.

To members who came from a distance and engaged houses or apartments for the session, dissolution came as a shock. Instead of receiving $4,000, the full sessional indemnity, they will receive $25, the pay for one day.

Six new members, elected since the special war session in September, were introduced formally to enjoy parliamentary privileges for only a few hours.

Another Bit of History.

Here again history was made. For the first time a woman member introduced a new member. Miss Macphail, accompanied by Joseph Needham (S. C. The Battlefords) sponsored Rev. Walter Brown, new United Reform member for Saskatoon who lacks party affiliations.

The Prime Minister tabled copies of all orders-in-council passed in connection with the war but a vast amount of additional information which would ordinarily come out during the session will remain in obscurity.

Special precautions were taken to keep the decision secret until the appropriate moment. Newspaper correspondents who usually received a copy of the Throne speech a little in advance of delivery were denied this accommodation.

Dr. Manion complained of discourtesy to himself and other party leaders in that they were not permitted to see a copy of the speech.

Mandate Necessary.

"My ministers," read the significant paragraph, "are of the opinion that the effective prosecution of the war makes it imperative that those who are charged with the grave responsibility of carrying on the government of Canada should, in this critical period be fortified by a direct and unquestioned mandate from the people. My advisers, accordingly, having regar dto existing conditions and the stage of the life of the present Parliament, have decided upon an immediate appeal to the country."

There have been five winter elections since Confederation and party campaign leaders expressed worry over the possibilities snow-covered roads might have an effect on polling.

Prospects were, however, for a whirlwind campaign with the leaders foregoing their customary coast-to-coast trips and depending more on the radio.

In any event, it appeared a parliamentary session opening in April would extend well into the summer.

Ontario To Blame.

Mr. King said he woud not have attached importance to criticism of the government's conduct of the war by Premier Hepburn and Col. Drew but for the fact it was endorsed by the Legislature of the largest province in the form of a resolution which appeared to be the basis of a political campaign.

"That resolution was passed to start a political campaign while this parliament was sitting," he said, "to take advantage of the fact that my colleagues and myself would be obliged to give our attention to the work of parliament as well as the carrying on of the war but other gentlemen were to be free to criticize our efforts, to misrepresent everything that was done and everything that was left undone."

Already, Col. Drew had urged an election and proposed a slogan "King must go." The Prime Minister said he was prepared to accept that slogan if the words "to the country" were added. The highest authority in Canada was the people and to them he proposed to appeal. As he has trusted Parliament, even on the momentous question of war or peace, so he proposed to trust the people.

Same Reasons

There were other reasons why an early election was desirable. Parliament had been elected in 1935 and its term was nearly up. A great offensive might take place on the western front in the spring and it would give rise to grave decisions.

The government making those decisions, should have a clear mandate from the people and it would be better to have the election over before they arose.

Arrangements should be made for the soldiers to vote. An early election would permit members of the first division to cast their ballots before leaving England, and members of the second division before leaving Canada.

2nd Division Soon to Go.

Incidentally Mr. King made the first announcement of the Government's intention regarding the Second Division. He said it would be sent overseas as soon as possible.

Arrangements would be made for the soldiers to vote by an Order-in-Council under the War Measures Act.

"To put over a political trick of this kind is disgraceful and is sneering at the parliamentary tradition of Canada and the British Empire," said Dr. Manion.

Referring to Mr. King's assurance at the special war session that no election would be called before another session of Parliament he asked if Mr. Mackenzie King intended to "hoodwink" the House and bring members from all across the country at great expense for nothing.

Dr. Manion was unable to see why the Legislature of Ontario should dictate the date of a Federal election and referred to the proposed arrangement for soldiers' votes as a frameup. While Parliament was in session the Government proposed to legislate by Order-in-Council, thus showing Mr. King's sincerity when he spoke of the supremacy of Parliament.

Defence Minister Rogers said "Oh, Oh" when Dr. Manion charged ineptitude in the Government's handling of the war and the Opposition Leader turned his fire on the minister.

Mr. Rogers had made a greater failure of administering the department of Labor than any other minister and was rewarded by being given the department of national defence. The former minister, Hon. Ian Mackenzie had acted at least unadvisedly but had been defended by Mr. Mackenzie Knig and other ministers.

A Pointed Question

Dr. Manion wanted to know why Mr. Mackenzie was demoted if he was right and why he was kept in the government if wrong.

"With all his faults, I think the former minister was a more capable administrator of the defence department than the present," he declared.

Whatever action was taken by the goverment was only taken because of kicks. Allowances for mothers were being adjusted after repeated complaints. The government only acted to stop wheat sales to Russia after a storm of protest across the country.

The government boasted of the air training plan but long before the war the British government wanted to train pilots in Canada and place orders for aircraft here but was discouraged by the prime minister.

Mr. Mackenzie King denied this but Dr. Manion said he could prove it from the prime minister's own statements.

Nothing had happened since the special session to necessitate an election. Premier Hepburn had attacked the prime minister but there was nothing new in that.

"I think Mitch was right," he said. "I think he was right all along and never was I so sure he is right as I am after this piece of political trickery."

Statement Right Thing

The Prime Minister should at least make a statement on the government's war activity and give an account of his stewardship. He should also permit parliament to pass the legislation for the taking of soldiers' votes.

"The government has handled the war effort in a most disgraceful manner," Dr. Manion charged, "it should have been prepared years ago for a war which has appeared inevitable.

It had called up one division, without clothes, boots and equipment. What little had been obtained had to be collected from across Canada.

One British Columbia unit had crossed the country in winter wearing cotton uniforms and cotton underwear. As a result large numbers of men had gone to hospital due to the lack of vision of the government."

When the Prime Minister refused to let the British government establish training schools for airmen in Canada "he did something that rendered him unfit to be prime minister of this country," Dr. Manion declared.

The Prime Minister interjected to say he had agreed at once but on the basis that the training schools would be Canadian.

"I repeat there was no refusal to train pilots," said Mr. King. "My friend cannot give any veracity to that statement by endless repetition."

"I will give veracity to it from the Prime Minister's own words if I am given a chance to get my papers," retorted Dr. Manion.

"I will quote his words over and over before the election is over."

Dr. Manion said he was perfectly willing to let the people decide, but believed the Prime Minister should carry on the session and pass legislation for soldiers' votes.

"Where do we profit if we fight for democracy overseas and lose it at home?" he asked. "That is what we are doing by these acts of the Government."

Agrees With Manion.

Mr. Woodsworth said he found himself almost in complete agreement with Dr. Manion for the first time because the Conservative Leader was standing out for democracy and the traditions of British Parliaments.

Mr. Mackenzie King should give Parliament an account of his stewardship, provide the members with information, permit discussion, and state the Government's proposals, rather than ask for a blank cheque.

Every day Orders-in-Council were being passed curtailing the rights of free speech and free assembly and the right of labor to trade unions.

The Government would boast that there was no conscription, but men were being conscripted in the most objectionable way by being threatened with loss of relief if they did not enlist.

Mr. Woodsworth said the Prime Minister "suddenly springs the idea of an election in a few weeks," and declared the Prime Minister had come to the House "with a first-class political speech ready."

Mr. Woodsworth said he was not certain the administration would be defeated, but he knew there had been a great deal of unrest and dissatisfaction before the war started.

During the past six months the Government had been legislating by Order-in-Council and had taken away many of the fundamental liberties of the people.

"Now we are going to be denied the right of Parliament," Mr. Woodsworth declared.

"Seventeen more cups of tea for 4 o'clock" was the order given to the officer's mess, and a similar order to the messes of instructors, Warrant officers and men and the new contingent was shown to its quarters in the most modern technical training centre in Canada.

Some Questions

Reporters who came to interview the first contingent from overseas had the tables turned on them. "How far is it from here to the United States border? How much would a used car cost? How much is petrol? Is the backbone of the winter broken? Is it far to Toronto? Is it far to Ottawa? How long would it take to go to New York? Such was the barrage of questions that confronted the interviewers, but it all sprang from a natural and friendly curiosity.

In their eight days at sea the R.A.F. contingent ran the gamut of weather condition. When they left England it was very much like Canada, "but not quite so," said Wing Commander V. P. Feather, there was about eight degrees of frost. The first three days were fine, and then they ran into the Gulf Stream and the weather was heavy and humid, augmented by black-out orders that compelled the closing of all port holes. When they left the Gulf Stream the weather straightened out and became more invigorating as they approached Halifax.

Bill Ready Today

A measure to amend the Succession Duty Act, particularly in its investigatory clauses, will be introduced in the Legislature. Provincial secretary Harry Nixon, leading the House yesterday in the absence of Premier Mitchell Hepburn, said the bill would be ready today.

Members will have the week-end to study it and second reading debate is scheduled for Monday.

The bill to provide a two-year term for members of municipally-elected bodies will be debated today again in committee stage. It didn't get out of it yesterday, when there was determined Conservative opposition and pleas to the Government to withdraw the measure.

The measure will provide a one-year term extension for those on municipal bodies February 1, 1941, unless at the next annual elections the electors in any particular municipality vote themselves out of the bill's provisions.

The measure, as it reached committee, provided for the term extension for members of subsidiary municipal bodies, such as library boards, advisory vocational committees and other boards appointed by a council or school board. This provision was dropped by the government in committee stage.

Henry Leads Opposition

Former Premier George S. Henry (Con., York East), led the opposition to the municipal term extension measure. He urged that the bill make mandatory the taking of a vote in all municipalities on the proposal at the next municipal elections. As it stands the bill provides that the two-year term is to be effective unless a municipal electorate decides otherwise.

On a standing vote, two Conservatives, George Dunbar (Ottawa South) and W. B. Reynolds (Leeds) voted with the Government against making a vote on the proposal mandatory. Farquhar Oliver (U.F.O. Grey South), and Mr. Roebuck voted against the Government.

Denial By Roebuck

Arthur Roebuck (Lib. Toronto-Bellwoods), former attorney-general who yesterday engaged in a searing oral duel with Premier Mitchel Hepburn, rose to a question of privilege and denied that he and his brother-in-law, Walter Walkinshaw, went to England for a "pay-off" after Lloyds, famous British insurance firm, was granted a licence to do business in Ontario. The licence was granted on Mr. Roebuck's responsibility as attorney-general.

Mr. Roebuck charged the premier's assault on him was "part of a plan to terrorize the members of this House." He withdrew the remark when it was protested by Mr. Nixon who said he would not hear such motives imputed to Mr. Hepburn.

Walkinshaw issued a statement last night in reply to Premier Hepburn's references.

Among Mr. Hepburn's statements, Mr. Walkinshaw said, "was the assertion that I went to England with Mr. Roebuck while employed as his private secretary, and that I there received a contract as sole representative of Lloyds in Canada as the 'pay-off' to Mr. Roebuck for the order-in-council premitting Lloyds to do business in Ontario.

"This is false. The facts are that I did not approach Lloyds until I had left the public service. I did not go to England with Mr. Roebuck. I arrived in London, England, on a Friday night and Mr. Roebuck left for home on Monday morning.

"I secured an agency for the writing of insurance from a firm of brokers who were members at Lloyds, but not from Lloyds themselves. This was not a sole agency, as the premier said, and there were at this time a considerable number of such agencies in Canada. Mr. Roebuck did not know, nor had he ever met, the people I was doing business with."

French Crews Practise.

Describing the reported method of delivery, the despatch says that as the bombers are completed at the plant at Burbank, Calif., they are flown away by company pilots with French crews aboard to familiarize themselves with the handling of the planes before embarking on the purported flights across the Atlantic.

"Naturally, familiarization includes the actual piloting of the ships," says the Herald Tribune despatch. "And the company pilots are understood not to be too meticulous about the law in permitting members of the French crews to relieve them en route while still over American soil.

"The practice has been to fly over a southern route to some landing field near a south-eastern city, load up with the additional gasoline necessary for a long flight and then hop to Botwood, Nfld., which is the British 'jump-off place' for Ireland.

"The planes are then equipped with extra gasoline tanks for the transatlantic trips and go over in groups, as the numbers waiting at Botwood and the weather dictate. Flying has recently been greatly curtailed by the weather over the Atlantic."

Police Station Addition Let Stand Over

Two committees of the city council last night added their contributions to the expenditure estimates for this year.

The tentative requirement of the Fire Department was placed at $38,365.35, but purchase of a new pumper is expected to add $3,000 to that sum.

Three more items were passed by the property committee of which Alderman McCannan is chairman. The requisition for city property was $2,387 as compared with $2,332 appropriated last year when the amount spent was $2,618. The overdraft was accounted for largely by repairs to the city offices for which $500 was appropriated, and the actual cost of the work was $987.

The market division of this committee is asking for $2,765 as compared with $2,509 estimated last year. The amount expended was $3,621, which included $217 for rental of tents for the market as a result of the fire in the entrance last June, and also for the purchase of new weigh scales costing $696.70.

Plumbing Inspector Metheral's estimates are $138.50, a reduction from last year when $221.50 was placed in the estimates and $214.01 spent.

No Police Job

Alderman McCannan had included $10,000 in his property estimates for an enlargement of the police station, a project that has been discussed for the last two years. In fact John T. Hornsby has prepared plans for alterations and extensions.

Alderman Stocker said he was opposed to any outlay at the station for the present, and added an acrid criticism of Chief Newhall. "For all the time he's up there he doesn't even need an arm chair," was the little pleasantry.

Alderman Dutton moved, seconded by Alderman Stocker, that the structural changes be not proceeded with because "we think the time is not opportune for making the suggested alterations."

Alderman Bradburn said this work could be held over until after the war. "I think we should keep in mind work of this kind and have certain projects ready to be undertaken when the war is over and men coming back and looking for employment. There is also a proposed new sewage disposal plant for Ashburnham and other work of that nature that can wait for a while."

It was suggested that a storeroom for the police department might be provided. A room for this purpose would have to be made in an enlargement of the cellar by excavation under the police station.

"All the goods that would have to be stored in it for the next ten years wouldn't be worth the $1,000 you'd spend on it," Mayor Hamilton observed, and that item went into the discard.

Alderman McCannan's idea of getting prices on five wagons for use in the collection of garbage collided with the fact that the garbage collection rate has already been struck for this year. He had considered the possibility of adopting a plan of letting the contract for garbage collection on a ward basis, as is done with snow plowing, the city to supply the wagons which could be kept well painted.

"It would probably give us more independence," Alderman Wilson said, but the suggestion was shelved for this year.

Although Australia is about the size of the United States it now has less than 7,000,000 people.

The weather was pushed into the background of conversation this morning. No one asked how cold it was during the night, and it was only three above zero, frosty enough for a passing inquiry. Prospect of an early spring election was the main subject in and out and along main street. John R. Heron Is Entering Business World

Announcement will be made in Toronto next week of the retirement from newspaper life of John R. Heron, a former editor of The Examiner. He is entering business life with the Royal Bank of Canada and will be stationed at the Montreal head office.

Mr. Heron left The Examiner in 1929, after serving for six years in all editorial capacities. He started his newspaper career as cub reporter under the late E. G. McNeeley, for many years The Examiner's city editor. When he left to join The Toronto Star he held the title of managing editor.

Newspaper life in Peterborough was good preparation for the public business which now calls Mr. Heron to Montreal. He served here as president of the Canadian Legion, and was for some years secretary of Kiwanis Club. His overseas service, from enlistment here in 1915 to demobilization, led him naturally into the militia, where he held a commission in the Machine Gun unit.

Probably best known of Mr. Heron's newspaper exploits was his publication of a one-paper copy of the Star. It was at the time of a particularly atrocious murder a few years ago, when the slayer's wife was in a maternity home with her few-days-old infant. To keep from her the shock of the news with which the paper was filled, a special copy was printed with all murder news lifted out, and harmless features substituted.

Since joining The Star, Mr. Heron has covered the whole field of new executive activity;. He was, successively, telegraph editor, city editor and news editor of the daily paper, and has been for eighteen months associate editor of The Star Weekly.

His sister, Mrs. D. V. Canning, resides in Peterborough.

Boys' Brass Band Plans Program

The Prince of Wales Rangers' band will never lack recruits according to interest shown in the city's newest organization, the Boys' Brass Band. Their first public concert is being held in the Canadian Legion Hall on Sunday, January 28, at 8.30 in the evening.

This band started as a boys' brass quartette last spring and has grown each month until there are now 35 members and membership is open to all boys in the Peterborough district. Henry James Parnell, organizer and leader of the band is interested in the Rangers' senior band and is training the youngsters so that when they grow up they will be qualified for membership in the senior organization.

The boys will perform the entire concert in the Legion Hall, complete with marches, hymn tunes, popular numbers, serenades, and various solo and quintette numbers.

Lt.-Col. R. T. E. Hicks-Lyne, commanding officer of the Prince of Wales Rangers, is interested in the progress the youngsters are making and on a recent visit to their practice room was impressed by their attention and deportment, and gave words of encouragement to them. Lt. W. H. Peryer of the Rangers' band also gives valuable assistance.

Peterborough Scots Pay Homage To Immortal Memory Of Burns

Peterborough Scots' women and men, paid homage to Robert Burns Thursday night as the Caledonian Club celebrated the 181st anniversary of the birth of the ploughman bard in fitting style at a largely attended dinner in the Moose Hall, marked by the ritual of "The Haggis", eloquent speeches and Burns' songs and readings.

"We are willing to forget his weaknesses, his frailities, and excesses; they are written in water and will be soon blotted out. His virtues, his integrity of soul and his independence of spirit will be written in brass to be remembered so long as there is a Scot left in the world to read them" declared Rev. A. H. McConnachie in proposing the chief toast that to "The Immortal Memory" thus supplying the motif for the chorus of tribute to Rabbie Burns as a man, and as Scotland's national poet and sweetest singer of songs.

The admirable dinner was expertly served by the women members of the club and was prefaced by the arrival of the haggis, carried in proudly by Robert French who was preceded by Piper Angus Munro while the usual address to the haggis was ably done by William Petrie.

His Work Its Own Tribute

H. L. Garner who was toastmaster for the evening said in his introductory address after the toast to the King had been honored that Burns' work and what he left behind him expressed its own tribute. "Burns," he said, "was not a 'Yes' man; no hypocrite. You always just knew just where he stood every minute of every day. He was a master of word picture," said the toastmaster. "There never was any doubt as to what he meant."

The bard, Mr. Garner said, was a crusader in every sense of the word and one who was so interested in the brotherhood of men, must have had a very deep appreciation of the fatherhood of God."

The Two Countries

Gordon K. Fraser, introduced as the "Baron of Burleigh," responded to the toast "The Twa Countries". Humorously he declared that he had been accused of not being a Scotsman and in reply he declared that he had worn the kilts with the Argyle and Sutherland Highlanders and one of his ancestors was Simon Fraser, the last man to be beheaded in England and one of whose sons had organized the Highland regiment that fought with Wolfe in the capture of Quebec. Mr. Fraser paid tribute to the part that Scots had played in the development of the Empire and particularly to what they had done in Canada. "As for Canada", said the speaker, "the Scots had a lot to do with building up the country so it should be a great country. And it is a great country and we would all fight and die for it."

Toast To City

After the toast to "Our City" had been honored Hon. G. N. Gordon replied. Mr. Fraser's history he claimed was slightly mixed; it was the Gordons who did most of the fighting at Quebec. In regard to Peterborough Mr. Gordon said that men wage earners last year had earned $7,000,000 here while women had made $3,000,000. This city, he declared had 81 manufacturing establishments, employing 4,515 workers and turning out $23,128,953 worth of manufactured goods in a year. Peterborough's diversified industries placed her in a very favorable position and the city's bonds sold at a better price than Mr. Hepburn had been able to get for a provincial issue.

The Immortal Memory

Remarking that he had an advantage over most Burns' speakers because he had lived and preached for 15 years in the home town of Burns and had revisited Ayr since, Rev. A. H. McConnachie said that to properly understand Burns it was necessary to visit his country and breathe the same atmosphere and see the same scenes that had inspired his muse.

To deal properly with Rabbie Burns, Mr. McConnachie said in the toast to "The Immortal Memory" was to deal with a big subject. Burns was a great human being and had been described by J. M. Barrie as the greatest Scotsman who had ever lived.

The speaker deprecated the habit speakers had of referring to some unfavorable features of the character of Burns. That was not done, he said, in the case of other great men. The poet had faults and failings like other people and there was no necessity for digging down into them. "We should be satisfied with the wonderful creations he has left us," said the speaker.

Pointing out that Burns' life was never far removed from tragedy and that he was always more or less in debt, Mr. McConnachie stated that Burns had risen above the tragedy of his life to bless the world with his magic songs. "I regard him along with John Knox as a maker of Scotland", said the speaker.

The Lassies

The toast to "Lassies" was amusingly dealt with by A. R. Kennedy who confessed some doubt as to just what was meant by the term. Mr. Kennedy's description of a visit to Scotland and of his difficulty in getting a breakfast of real Scottish oatmeal porridge caused much merriment that changed into a sober mood as he told of watching the departure of a party of young Scottish emigrants from their native land while their mothers took a last farewell of sons they might never see again.

William May, president of the Caledonian Club replied to the toast "Our Club" and in so doing asked for more support from the Scottish people of the city for the organization. At one time he said the Caledonians had a choir, their own football team and other activities; now only the club itself remained.

A Musical Program

Musical numbers of a high grade of excellence added to the enjoyment of the evening. Regret was expressed that Miss Viola Sexsmith who was to have sung had been injured in an accident and was unable to attend. Miss Jessie Pattison took her place on the program and delighted the gathering with her singing of "Coming Through the Rye" and "Haine O'Mine". John A. Smith's baritone was effectively displayed in "Ae Fond Kiss" and My Love is Like a Red, Red Rose". Mrs. A. H. Radford who in addition was the efficient accompanist for the evening scored in her vocal numbers."

"Afton Water" and "Whistle and I'll Come To You." Alex. Milne contributed a dramatic reading of one of Burns' most popular poems "Tam O'Shanter" and there was community singing of "Scots Wha Hae" and other songs led by John A. Smith.

Robert Hendry proposed a vote of thanks to the speakers and artists for their contribution to the program and another most enjoyable Burns' night passed into history with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne" and the National Anthem.

Market Revenue At Brantford Totals $7,000

The farm produce market at Brantford yields a revenue of more than $7,000 a year, and the city engages a caretaker who is paid a salary of $1,520.

Kingston pays its market clerk $1,100 a year. Its market revenue is about $3,000 a year, and there are three market days during the week, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

London engages a market manager and a weigh clerk, each of whom is paid $1,800 a year, with every day market day.

These were some of the facts obtained as information from other cities by the market committee of the council of which Alderman McCannan is chairman. They were mentioned at last night's meeting at which the proposal to discontinue the sale of market tolls was briefly discussed with other improvements that have been gradually getting a hearing of late.

Alderman McIntyre suggested that the treatles on which the tables be made with collapsible legs, and that the tables be painted.

"I believe we should make the market as attractive as we can, and yield the highest efficiency to the people using it," Alderman Dutton said. "Peterborough is too big a city to cling to the selling of the right to collect market tolls."

Mayor Hamilton said he was dubious about the venture which has already found considerable support among members of the council.

Alderman Bradburn asked that the market question be deferred for a special meeting of the committee when it can be discussed at length and with more information for the members.

Poser Is Tossed At Ald. Stocker

Alderman Ovens tossed a poser at Alderman Stocker Thursday night in a discussion of various market matters.

Alderman Stocker rarely passes up an opportunity to tell the council audience that the caretaker of the market lavatory spends too many hours away from the job. So often has Mayor Hamilton heard the criticism that he had asked Alderman Wilson last night to get prices on time clocks to put in the lavatory for the same checking use as in factories.

The woman caretaker of the eastern section of the same building has won Alderman Stocker's approval. She rates up near the top of his listing of civic employees. Last night he interjected a comment about the longer hours this woman worked, as compared with the caretaker, and Alderman Ovens asked: "Now, how do you know how long she's there? You're never in that section."

That halted Alderman Stocker for a moment, but he came back with the statement that he had been "in there with the M.O.H."

Icy Roads Blamed For Traffic Crash

Icy road conditions are blamed for a traffic accident at Park and Romaine streets at noon Thursday that involved five motor vehicles.

G. D. Carlisle, Weller street was driving north on Park street and near Romaine turned out to pass two men on bicycles. As he did so his car skidded and met in collision with a southbound automobile driven by Joseph McNulty, 147 Albertus street. Henry Joselyn, 399 Water street had been following Carlisle's car northward and after the first collision his machine skidded into Carlisle's. Meanwhile a Peterborough Fuel and Transfer truck had stopped at Romaine street because of the accident and a car driven south by Harold Porter, Orpington Road collided with the rear of the truck.

None of the vehicles was extensively damaged and no one was hurt.

Clifford Hall Wins Promotion

Kiwanians heard at their luncheon meeting at the Empress hotel today that they were losing one of their most valued members, Clifford Hall, genial manager of the Mutual Life Assurance branch here for the past five and a half years.

Mr. Hall, who has been in charge of the company's business in this entire district, which comprises six counties in Central and Eastern Ontario, is being transferred to Halifax where he will be in charge of the entire province of Nova Scotia. The move is considered a great advancement and Kiwanis friends congratulated him today while they regretted his departure from Peterborough.

He will leave Peterborough to report by the first of February in Halifax, but Mrs. Hall will remain in this city until after Easter. They have one daughter, Lillian, who was graduated from the University of Toronto last year and is now attending the Ontario College of Education.

John Troke, chairman of the club's membership committee, expressed the regrets of Kiwanis at Mr. Hall's departure and made a presentation on behalf of his fellow members. "Our loss will be the gain of Halifax," he said. President Bill English also expressed the club's regrets. "I will carry the memory of the good associations I have enjoyed in Kiwanis here, as long as I have memory at all," replied Mr. Hall. Mr. Hall has been in Peterborough for the past 5½ years, coming here from London, Ontario.

Speaker of the day was Secretary John A. McKone, who outlined the development of Kiwanis from its founding in Detroit in 1915 to the present time. This month is the 25th anniversary of the founding of Kiwanis. It was in 1917 that the first Canadian club was formed at Hamilton, he related, and the international organization now boasts 2,060 clubs. He was introduced by Dr. C. B. Waite and Cliff Hall moved a vote of thanks. The meeting was under direction of the educational committee.

Wolves Plentiful In North Country

First man to stand up for Charlie Kingan's wolf hunt is Indian Chief Dan Whetung of Curve Lake. "I think he should be given more praise for his attempt to track down the destructive wolves of the north," said Chief Dan.

Two wolves were killed and one wounded in Harvey township, only four miles from the Curve Lake Indian Reserve, during the past fall, he said. On the first of January Clifford and Murray Whetung came across the remains of two deer that had been destroyed by wolves. Of one only part of the head remained and Chief Whetung said there must have been seven wolves in the pack that ate the two of them.

"There are plenty of wolves in Peterborough county and I give Mr. Kingan great praise for attempting to run them down. He would have been successful if people had just taken a greater interest, because wolves can be hunted the same as fox or deer. The more hunters there are around a swamp or woods the better their chance of bagging wolves."

TOBOGGANING ACCIDENT

Betty DeLong, daughter of Cecil DeLong was the victim of a painful accident Wednesday when she had a finger fractured when coasting down the hill near the King George School. Two other children rolled off the toboggan when they saw that a crash into a tree was inevitable.

Council Going To Market Two Saturdays

A committee of the council is going to market two Saturdays in a row to look over the arrangement of the tables about which various grievances have been heard since Chief Gimblett changed the direction of their axis from north-south to east-west.

The members of the committee are Mayor Hamilton, Aldermen McIntyre, McCannan and Bradburn, according to a motion by Alderman Ovens, seconded by Alderman Wilson.

James Brown, market clerk, reviewed several matters with the property committee Thursday night, including the obvious results of the switch of the tables, leaving the end groups of vendors almost isolated.

"It is injustice to them," Mr. Brown said, confirming the Examiner's reference to this situation several weeks ago. Alderman McCannan, chairman, said he had gone to the market and examined the effects of the new table alignment for himself and agreed with the report.

"We can take Chief Gimblett along," said Mayor Hamilton. "We can go Friday afternoon, and see how the several plans of the hall look. Then we can see the results in operation on two Saturday mornings."

"It is too bad that the market business should be disrupted," Alderman Wilson said, and another comment was that as a result of the new arrangement of tables some of the farmers had lost customers of years.

Mr. Brown told the committee the new arrangement of the tables had been ordered by Chief Gimblett.

Man Charged Theft Of Car

Elmer Tripp, Monaghan Road, was charged before Magistrate E. A. Gee in police court this morning with having stolen an automobile from William Milliken early last Sunday morning.

"The police want to make some inquiries in regard to this man," said Crown Attorney McElderry. "I am asking that he be remanded until some day next week without plea or election."

Magistrate Gee enlarged the case until Friday next, bail being fixed at $1,000.

Milliken's car was taken from in front of the Elite Cafe early last Sunday and was recovered Monday by Chief Wallace Hendren in Lakefield. Tripp was arrested Thursday evening by Detective Sergeant W. E. Meagher and Officer W. R. Piercy.

Switzerland has only 21,090 unemployed, less than half the number a year ago.

Old Overcoat Is Left Behind By Thief While Man Makes Off With A New One

Breaking the glass in a rear window of the Arcade Store, George Street, around 8.30 o'clock Thursday night two thieves thought to be transients gained entrance into the store and carried off an overcoat, a quantity of underclothing, socks and other wearing apparel.

The men were seen after they had left the store, travelling north on Chambers Street and through a laneway leading north from Brock Street. In their haste they dropped a number of pairs of socks and these were recovered but police could find no other signs of the thieves when they took up the hunt.

CORDUROY GOES TO TOWN

By ALICE ALDEN

CORDUROY is on the up-and-up. One of our smartest winter resorters wears corduroy ski pants. A corduroy coat designed in Paris for cruise and spring wear inspired the model shown today, one of those wraps which looks as well over light as dark clothes, comfortable for travel and useful all summer long. It's a wide-waled weave in ivory, distinguished for its double-lapels, slim sleeves and large buttons. Note the crisp sailor with its indented crown, a hat to go with mid-season ensembles as well as lightweight suits. Incidentally, the lining of the coat is antiseptically-treated.

CHOICE OF THE SEASON

By ALICE ALDEN

SNOW AND spring meet in this practical jacket dress, which has small white flakes or snow flowers printed on a black background, with the white repeated at the throat and pockets. Buttons down the bodice, a stitched self-belt and skirt fulness are all good designing points, details not always found in inexpensive prints. Now is the time to pick them up—and wear them. The jacket provides the extra warmth needed in fur coat weather, especially since it has long sleeves; it may be dropped later for a furpiece. Yield to color in prints if you are purchasing a number, but remember, otherwise, that black and white are most easily accessorized. The white straw hat has a cox-comb of pleated black velvet.

East Emily A.Y.P.A. Sponsors Euchre

EAST EMILY, Jan. 26 (ENS).—The members of the A.Y.P.A. of St. James' Anglican Church held a very successful progressive euchre party in the Parish Hall on Friday evening with a very good attendance despite the severe cold weather and the condition of the roads. Prizes went to Miss Grace Franks for high score and Alton Clark for gentleman's high score. Consolation prizes were won by Mrs. Vincent Franks and Herman Franks. Refreshments were served by the ladies and a very pleasant evening brought to a close.

Speaking Honors,

Congratulations are extended to Miss Elzina McConnell, thirteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McConnell for winning the prize in the speaking contest in Toronto on Friday afternoon. Elzina was the winner at Omemee School Fair in the fall, later going to Lindsay and was also the winner there. Elzina has to speak in Toronto again in March, and everyone in the district wishes her every success.

Harold Millen attended the funeral of his uncle, the late William Millen, in Peterborough on Tuesday.

Miss Marguerite Kennedy spent the week-end with her mother and sister in Toronto.

Mrs. Lawrence Frost of Saskatoon spent a few days last week visiting with her cousin, Mrs. Harold Mitchell.

S. B. Carew and daughter Miss Marjorie attended the funeral of the late E. Mitchell in Lindsay on Saturday.

Robert McConnell and daughter Miss Murtena accompanied his daughter Miss Elzina to Toronto on Friday when she was the winner in the speaking contest.

WOMEN'S WORK AND INTERESTS

DOROTHY DIX

Children Of Poor Families Are The Ones Who Go On To Greatness In Many Walks Of Life Because They Are Fired With Ambition To Better Their Condition.

A GIRL of 16 who signs herself "Little Rebel" writes me a letter in which she says that she does not think that poor people should have any children. "What right," she asks, "had my father and mother to bring me into the world when all that they could give me was poverty? I am young. I am pretty. I want pleasure and gayety. I want lovely clothes and furs and jewels. I want a beautiful home and a place in society. I want a car. I want to go to night clubs and have my picture in the papers and for people to turn and look at me on the street. I want to be a glamor girl instead of a shabby little clerk, wearing cheap finery and make-believe silk stockings. I want everything. I have nothing. And there are millions of girls like me. Parents expect their children to be grateful to them for bringing them into the world, but when all they give us is a life of hardships we've got nothing to thank them for. So I think that poor people who can't give their children advantages should not have them."

Every reader who peruses this letter will do it between a smile and a tear because it is so young, so artless and so ignorant of the true value of things. And it is so sad that Sweet Sixteen can't have its cakes and ale while it is still so ravenously hungry for them. For it is only when a girl is very young that the whole of her heart's desire is a party dress; where ambition reaches no higher than for her name to be mentioned in the society column, and she can conceive of no happiness so great as rushing from one place of amusement to another.

Of course, one might tell the girl who rebels at not having been born with a whole set of silver spoons in her mouth that if only the rich had children the race would soon run out, not only numerically but in point of physical and mental ability. It is not the pampered sons and daughters of wealth who are the great statesmen, artists, writers and financiers. It is the children of the poor who were driven on to success by their need. "Who's Who" is filled with the names of men and women who have struggled up from dire poverty to fame and fortune, but it doesn't take many pages to list the names of those who inherited vast wealth who have ever accomplished anything worth recording.

It is natural that young people should want all of the good things of life presented to them on a silver salver, but, in reality, it is a misfortune rather than a blessing to be the child of a millionaire. The best recipe that can be given for attaining success is wanting something that you haven't got so badly you will fight for it tooth and nail until you get it.

I might tell this girl who thinks that her parents gave her nothing because they did not give her money that she has had something that very few rich girls ever have, and that is her mother's personal attention. She was not turned over to a baby specialist when she was born. She was not brought up by a governess. Her mother was not a strange lady whom she only saw at stated intervals and with whom she never got acquainted. Her mother was just part of her daily and hourly life, somebody who cuddled her and kissed her and tucked her into her bed at night and heard her prayers; who kissed her hurts and made them well; who was never too tired or too busy to listen to her and talk to her. Many little millionairesses are the loneliest creatures in the world. Poor children who have mothers are never lonely.

And I might tell my Little Rebel—though she won't believe me—that she has a far better chance of being happily married than any glamor girl has. To begin with, the poor girl knows that the man who marries her marries her for herself alone. He marries her because he loves her and not because he wants her money. Rich girls are beset by fortune hunters, and so suspicious do they become of men's motives in courting them that many of them never marry at all. In no other class of women are there so many old maids as among the millionairesses.

Furthermore, the heiress seldom makes a success of marriage because her whole life and training have unfitted her for the sacrifices that marriage inevitably demands. She is spoiled, selfish, self-indulgent, arrogant, believing that the whole world, her husband included, must kotow to her, and these qualities do not make for happiness in the home. That is why most rich women's marriages are a series of divorces.

Poverty has its disadvantages and its children have to fight for what they get, but it also has its rewards. So let us hope that poor people will go on bringing go-getter sons and daughters into the world and that the rich will not be able to monopolize the baby proposition.

To Win Socially Know Etiquette Rules

Don't Embarrass Your Escort

What sort of girl does a boy like to take places? A girl whose manners are poised, who doesn't create awkward moments.

But the girl in our picture isn't like that, you see! She doesn't know who enters a theatre first—she or her escort — and how she embarrasses him!

So easy to learn the correct thing ahead of time, to check on other etiquette points, too.

At the entrance to the theatre the girl goes first, the man follows and gives the tickets to the doorman. If there is no usher, the man goes ahead to find a seat, but stands aside to let the girl enter the row first.

And the socially-experienced girl never "takes charge" on a date. At a restaurant, the man does the ordering after learning the girl's wishes. If he is taking her home in a taxi she tells him her address, lets him inform the driver. And how smooth she makes her escort feel by letting him open doors, assist with wraps.

Yes, boys gravitate to the girl who is gracious and smooth-mannered, so brush up on the etiquette rules given in our 32-page booklet. Tells what's correct at dances, college proms, on house parties, dates, other occasions. Gives advice, too, on the petting question, office behavior.

Send 15c in coins or stamps for your copy of ETIQUETTE FOR YOUNG MODERNS to Examiner, Home Service, Peterborough. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, and the NAME of booklet.

To measure milk or other liquids, place the cup on a flat surface and pour in the required amount. Never tap the side of a cup to level dry ingredients — such tapping often packs them and increases the actual amount of the ingredient in the cup.

Tested Favorite Recipes

By MARY MOORE.

Most cooks have their own recipe for Cream pie, but the one we had on Sunday night was so exceptionally creamy and smooth I will repeat it here for those who are scouting around for new recipes:

Emem's Banana Cream Pie.

One baked pie crust made from rich plain paste, 2 bananas—quite ripe, 3 tablespoons flour, ½ cup sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, 2 eggs, beaten, 1½ cups scalded milk, 1 teaspoon vanilla. Mix together the dry ingredients and add to the milk, stirring constantly and cook in top of double boiler until smooth and thick. Cook for 10 minutes longer stirring occasionally. Pour gradually over slightly beaten eggs. Return to double boiler and cook for 3 minutes.

Slice the bananas into baked crust and pour the filling over them while it is still quite hot. Sprinkle top with cocoanut or note: Whites may be reserved and made into meringue. To whites add 6 tablespoons sugar and beat until they will hold up in soft peaks. Flavor with a dash of salt and 1 teaspoon vanilla, and put on top of hot filling in pie in border and peaks. Bake meringue on pie in slow oven of 275 deg. Fahr. for about 30 to 40 minutes—until it is baked through and golden. Serve pie within about three hours for it to be at its peak of perfection.

Burns Tea Is Held By Lakefield W.A.

LAKEFIELD, Jan. 26.—(ENS).—Commemorating the birth of the poet Robert Burns was the afternoon tea, sponsored by the Women's Association of St. Andrew's church, Lakefield on Thursday afternoon.

Something different in menus was served by the ladies. Instead of the usual cake and sandwiches, the guests received hat cinnamon toast, bran muffins, cake and oatmeal cookies, so thin they melted in the mouth.

The daintily arranged tables were each centred with a spray of heather, while the head table was centred with a large bouquet of heather.

The proceeds of this novelty tea and sale of home cooking were encouraging and will add greatly to the receipts of the association.

With The Girl Guides

1st Company came well equipped with wool and knitting needles and plenty of enthusiasm to begin knitting for the troops. Arrangements were made for our part in the forthcoming concert at the Salvation Army Temple on February 12th. 2nd Company had a very good meeting, and are thoroughly reorganized. Peggy Houghton of this Company is still confined to bed, but is progressing satisfactorily. Guides will be sorry to learn that Iris Whalon is in St. Joseph's Hospital with an injury to her back, the result of an accident while tobogganing.

3rd Company welcomed back their Captain, Mrs. Douglas, after a short illness, and plans were discussed for a concert, also for a Guide Hockey Team. Players will be selected only from those attending meeting regularly. 3rd Brownies had a jolly skating party on Friday, afterwards enjoying refreshments at the home of "Brown Owl", Mrs. White.

1st Brownies and Guides had a sleigh-ride on Saturday, and returned to St. Andrew's Church basement for hot dogs, etc. In spite of the severe weather 42 turned out and a very enjoyable afternoon was spent.

4th S.A.G. are busy preparing for their entertainment. Badges were won and presented to the following: Entertainment, Ruth Smith, Ann Hubel, Irene Whitworth and Betty Craig; Artists, Mary Masters; Domestic, I. Whitworth.

Keene Church Reports Surplus

KEENE, Jan. 26— (Special).—The annual congregational meeting of Keene United Church was held on Monday, which took the form of a supper gathering. The meeting was presided over by the Rev. George Murray, who expressed satisfaction at th splendid attendance of members and adherents. Reports were presented from the various organizations which indicated that much progress had been made spiritually and financially during 1939. The W.M.S. reached its allocation, and it is hoped that when all moneys are in that the M. and M. Fund shall exceed that of last year. The Sunday School records a membership of 274 and the church 310, which had been increased during the year by 31. The other organizations are as follows: Woman's Association, the Young People's Association, Tillicum Class, C.G.I.T., Trail Rangers, also the choir, all of which had rendered splendid service during the year.

The treasurer of the church said that all obligations had been met, and that a substantial balance was on hand, the first time for some years. In making his report, Rev. Mr. Murray who came to the charge last July, thanked the congregation for the splendid response which had been made and expressed appreciation for the continued interest in all the work of the church, and especially the increased attendance at the Sunday services. He said that with such a fine class of young people and the co-operation of the large number of active workers that the prospects of the church were very promising.

During the evening music was provided by Miss Bryce, who sang "My Task," and the singing of hymns by the congregation, including "The Church in the Wildwood." On behalf of the Official Board and congregation Peter Mathers thanked the minister for the efficient and faithful services and called upon the treasurer to express that appreciation with a substantial cheque, also W. Drummond thanked the caretaker for his splendid work, and he also was given a cheque as a tangible expression of appreciation. The recipients suitably replied. The singing of "Abide with me" and the benediction brought to a close a very happy gathering. This congregation has every reason to take courage and go forward in the work of the church.

France has decided to continue first class passenger service on long distance and international trains.

"TELL BILL GOODBYE"

WRITTEN FOR AND RELEASED BY CENTRAL PRESS ASSOCIATION — By Marie Blizard

CHAPTER TWENTY-FIVE

NEITHER BILL nor Ellen said anything then, and so it wasn't until after Dick left, after inviting them to his wedding, that she realized how Ellen might take her casual announcement that "of course" she would be going back to live with her mother."

"It isn't that I don't love it here, Ellen," she said with a wistful attempt to make the other girl understand, 'because I do. But . . . but mother has a big place and plenty of servants—" She realized that that was a mad way to say it, and finished desperately, "I'm still pretty weak in the knees and I need a lot of taking care of. I'm only a burden around here these days.

"You are not!" Ellen denied. "However much I shall miss you, I understand. With the wedding coming off and all that, it is natural for you to want to be with your mother and do all you can to help with the preparations."'

Fabienne gave her a grateful glance. Dear Ellen; trust her to make it easy.

"I'm not sure I approve of it at all," Bill said calmly. "You're a lot better off here where we can keep an eye on you. It's going to be some time before you have your strength back. A round of parties isn't going to be the convelescence I recommend at all."

Fabienne gave him a glance of simulated hauteur and said, "Dr. Mallory, when I ask your professional advice—" Then she laughed. "Will you ever forgive me for that, Bill? I was beastly, ill-bred and—"

"Skip it," he said, standing over her with a broad grin. "But if you want any more names to call yourself I'll supply a few."

Ellen got up and went into the bedroom.

Fabienne said loudly, "I'm awfully tired, and I have a very good book. I think I'll go to bed. Good night, Bill. See you in church." She held out her hand.

"I'm still the physician in attendance," he reminded her. "And I have not discharged your case."

"Be a lamb and discharge it now," she told him. "I promise to sleep fourteen hours a day, take my medicine and eat all the horrible, fattening things you advise. When you see me at the wedding, you'll see a great improvement." She hoped that Ellen heard her, that Ellen would know she didn't intend to see Bill again until the wedding.

Ellen didn't hear her for the simple reason that Ellen was not interested in listening to what Bill and Fabienne had to say to each other. If only things were going as she hoped they would! Bill and Fabienne were her two favorite persons and she hoped that some day—

Fabienne came to her door. "Darling, don't feel that my going to mother's is anything more than —than a change—and what you said."

"I don't," Ellen said, smiling reassuringly. "I think a change will be good for you. You've been cooped up here much too long. But I'd like you to know that I want you back whenever you wish to come—IF EVER you wish to."

Fabienne did something she had never done before. She crossed the room and put her arms around Ellen, holding her close for a moment. Then with a little embarrassed laugh, she let her go, saying, "Ellen, there isn't anything I wouldn't do for you. And not one thing that would ever hurt you!"

Surprised by the other girl's intensity, Ellen said, "I know that, Fab. Now, off to bed with you! You're still under doctor's orders."

From her own bedroom Fabienne called. "Darling, will you please bring home the copies of the first play we're to do? Bill said the parts had been copied. I'm awfully anxious to get to work on them."

"I'll try to remember," Ellen said, sighing. Bill had told her that Fabienne would not be able to go back to work for many weeks. "Those flu germs on top of too much work have left her far from well," Bill said. "The work at the settlement house is entirely too hard for her. She burns up all her energy and gives too much of herself.

She might as well tell her, not let her go on thinking that she must get back to work.

Reluctantly, Ellen went into Fabienne's bedroom, and sat on the side of the bed. She said, "Listen, soldier, I'm going to exercise some of my authority. I'm not going to let you come back to work for a long time."

Fabienne's eyes widened.

"I want you and I need you. But if you start a project and break down in the middle of it, where will we be?"

"But I won't," Fabienne protested.

"Fab, you're a grand worker, as I've said before, but I won't go against Bill's orders. If you want to confine your activities to organizing the theatre group and directing it — and that will mean not more than two or three hours' work at a time for not more than three times a week—come back when you are able. But I will not consider assigning you to anything else."

Fabienne was thinking of the long, lazy days ahead of her, so unlike those busy, busy days she had spent at the work she had come to love. The prospect was not inviting. And now, more than ever, she needed work to fill up her time, to keep her from dreaming and longing and wanting someone she couldn't have. But she couldn't tell that to Ellen, so she nodded, "Okay, chief," she said. "But I can do the theatre stuff?"

"Certainly you can. I'll bring home the play to-morrow."

After Ellen left, a small, horrible suspicion came to Fabienne's mind —was Ellen getting rid of her? She banished it at once. Ellen Chapman was incapable of anything like that.

Resolutely, she turned her thoughts to the wedding.

Trust Gertrude to outdo herself in giving a wedding to her wealthy daughter-in-law-to-be.

Fabienne and Dick—with Brenda, who was a nice enough little doll, madly in love with Dick—met Gertrude at the dock.

"Darling," Gertrude said, kissing her daughter. "You look frightfully peaked after your illness. I meant to write you about it, but Dick's news was so unexpected and so exciting, I made all the plans on the boat. We will have a little family conference as soon as I'm through customs."

Fabienne smiled wryly at her mother's dismissal of her illness. Dick's wedding was, after all, much more important than her own "peakedness."

Brenda and Dick were married at St. Thomas' Church in the presence of some five hundred guests. The reception was held at Gertrude's apartment.

Society reporters described the scene, using superlatives to encompass banks of dogwood blossoms, cases of champaigne, gowns from Paris and a king's ransom in jewels and furs. "The lovely Fabienne Seymour, post-debutante, and sister of the bridegroom who has deserted the social arena for settlement work, was one of the bridesmaids and it was hinted that her engagement to Nicholas Bartlett may shortly be expected," one of the gossip writers informed his public.

The information must have come from Gertrude, for Fabienne, turning in the reception line to greet each newcomer to the reception, found herself face to face with Bill Mallory.

"Came in to see what I'm in for some day," he said, grinning at her.

"So glad you did," she said evenly, with tears in her throat because she couldn't share that "some day" with him. "You haven't met mother. This is Dr. Mallory, mother."

Bill passed down the line and then Nicky was bringing Ellen up. But when she got there Fabienne had fled to her room to throw herself face downward on her bed.

The door opened softly and Ellen came in.

By SHEPARD BARCLAY
"The Authority on Authorities"

COUNT EACH FOR ONE

FREQUENTLY there will be two intermediate honors out against you in different suits, either of which may possibly get caught in a finesse. If you are in a contract about as high as your cards justify, or higher, and the opponents have not doubled you, the chances are that those two cards are not in the same hand. So in the play it is sound to finesse against one opponent for one of those honors and then count on finding the other in the hand of the fellow who did not have the first one.

(Dealer: North. Both sides vulnerable.)

Most North-South pairs reached 6-No Trumps on this deal in a Knickerbocker Whist club duplicate, but only one, E. A. Mason, made it. After 1-Club in the North, he bid 2-Diamonds in the South, his partner 2-Spades, he 3-No Trumps, North 3-No Trumps and then, after a Blackwood exchange of information, he bid 6-No Trumps.

At other tables, when the heart 5 was led to the 9, 10 and Q, South led to the club K and finessed the club 10 unsuccessfully, losing also to the club A and being defeated. Mr. Mason, however, after the first heart trick, realized he had to shut out both the diamond Q and the club J. The only way he could catch the diamond Q was to find it held by East. So he decided to count on West to have the club J, caring not who had the club A, which was bound to win anyway.

Consequently to the second trick, Mr. Mason led the club 5 and finessed the 10 successfully, then the diamond J and 10 equally successfully, followed by the club 9, which West took with the A. The rest was easy. He got two tricks in spades, three in hearts, four in diamonds and three in clubs, for a total of twelve and a top score.

Burns Night Is Held By Campbellford YPS

CAMPBELLFORD, Jan. 26 (ENS)—An appreciative audience nearly filled the Sunday School Rooms of St. Andrew's Church on Monday evening when the Young People's Society staged their annual Robert Burns Night. The carefully arranged program from the opening talk on the poet, through the entire list to the typical Scottish menu served at the close, was most appropriate for the occasion.

Mrs. Bruce Grills, president of the society, welcomed the gathering, and the program began with a talk on Robert Burns by Rev. B. Simpson Black. Following this were vocal solos by Miss Ruth McCredie, Mrs. Cliff Vessey, Miss Monica DeCarrol, and Miss Frances Hendy. Captain Hutchinson contributed Capt. Hutchinson gave musical selections; Wilsie Phillips combined with Mrs. M. McFarlane and Jack Bell to form an instrumental trio; Albert Hazel provided several piano selections, and the Misses Doris and Josephine Locke gave guitar and vocal duets. Dances were given by Miss Yvonne Hollings and the Misses Rhea and Reta Patrick. Mrs. Bruce Grills offered a reading, "Margaret's Problem Child."

The program concluded with the entire assembly joining in singing Scottish ballads, following which the lunch, consisting of oatcakes, scones, oatmeal cookies, shortbread, cheese, jelly and tea, was served.

Vestry Reports Successful Year

CAMPBELLFORD, Jan. 26 (ENS)—The most encouraging financial report the members of Christ Church had seen in recent years was submitted by Hilton Beatty at the annual vestry meeting held on Monday. The statement indicated the year had been one of great progress and Mr. Beatty paid tribute to the energetic work done by the Parish Guild under the capable leadership of Mrs. S. Hopping. This organization had contributed substantially towards the parish expenses, he said, placing the church's finances in the healthiest condition they have been in in some time.

Rev. T. S. Gault was in the chair for the opening of the meeting and presided for the election of officers. It was decided during the evening to revert to afternoon Sunday School classes in the Parish Hall, which it was felt, would encourage a larger attendance. Rev. Mr. Gault re-appointed Hilton Beatty as rector's warden, and J. R. Belshaw was unanimously elected as people's warden. Sidesmen for the year 1940 were appointed as follows Alton Dunk, Charles Collard, Arthur Hatfield, Roy Ramsden, F. W. Burgess, A. Hollings, T. S. Baker, George Elmhirst, Albert Hardy, Peter Winstanley, Earl Wood, and Roy Hardy. Other officers elected were; Vestry clerk and envelope secretary, J. P. Archer; Lay delegates to the Synod, J. V. Bedford and W. D. Wood; auditors, Mr. and Mrs. N. A. MacColl; Cemetery trustees, John Ray and J. P. Archer.

Reports from the various church organizations were given by Miss Ethel Bedford for the choir, Rev. T. S. Gault and Alton Dunk the Sunday School. Mrs. Hay the Parish Guild, Alton Dunk the A.Y.P.A., Charles Collard the Boy Scouts, Miss Ethel Bedford for the Woman's Auxiliary, and J. P. Archer the cemetery.

Worlds Fair Described To Omemee Y.P.U.

OMEMEE, Jan. 26—(ENS).—The meeting of the young people of Trinity United Church was held on Monday night and was in charge of Miss Christina Connell, the Christian Culture convener. Several committees were formed to plan for a St. Valentine tea. The theme of the worship period was "Preparing for a fuller life." The scripture was read by Arthur Weir. Christina Connell gave a shot talk on the life of the great King David of Israel.

Misses Eleanor Sherin and Hazel Wilson gave the society a real treat by telling of their visit to the world's fair at New York this past summer. Miss Wilson described the trip via Toronto and Buffalo, the tour of the city of New York, and the boat trip around Manhattan. Miss Sherin dealt with the actual visit to the fair, describing a few of the many pavilions visited. They were both disappointed to find no exhibit from Ontario in the Canadian building.

The Mizpah benediction brought a very interesting meeting to a close

Transient Takes Month In Jail

John McCallum, transient, has had the misfortune of slipping off the water wagon and coming within the range of police eyes twice within the last month and the double slip has resulted in his retirement from society for the next month.

On Thursday, McCallum pleaded guilty before Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., on a charge of having been drunk on Charlotte street Wednesday night. The police report said that he had also been "panhandling." He admitted that he had been convicted of the same offence on December 26 last which entitled him to rank as a second offender.

The result was a fine of $50 and 75 cents costs or a month in the county jail, McCallum accepting the second choice.

OBITUARIES

SARGENT MEDD.

MILLBROOK, Jan. 26—(ENS).—The death of Sargent Medd, which occurred after an extended period of ill health on Tuesday, January 16, at his home in Millbrook, in his eighty-second year, removed a highly-respected character who had spent practically all his life, after coming to this country from England, in the township of Manvers.

The deceased was born at Yorkshire, in England, and was a son of the late William and Mary Medd, coming to Canada when a young man, and residing for fifty-three years in Manvers, only within the last two months coming to Millbrook to live. He was a life-long Anglican, and worshipped regularly at Trinity church, west of the village.

The immediate survivors include three daughters, Mrs. Mary Sanders of Millbrook, Mrs. G. Kellett of Pontypool, and Mrs. Mildred Howie of Toronto; one sister, Mrs. A. Olan of Peterborough; three grandchildren, Mrs. S. Winterbottom, Mrs. George Lancaster, and Mrs. Paul Hillier, all of Peterborough; also three grandsons, Vincent, Lynden and Douglas Sanders, of Millbrook.

The funeral took place on Friday, the service being conducted by Venerable Archdeacon William Simpson, of the Parish of Cavan, and at Pontypool cemetery, where interment took place, conducted by Rev. H. D. McCormack.

The pall-bearers were four sons-in-law, Wesley Sanders, Talbot Kellett, A. Olan, and R. A. Howie, and two life-long friends, A. J. Henderson and Stewart Fallis. The flower-bearers were Vincent and Lynden Sanders, Paul Hillier, and G. Lancaster.

WILLIAM ARTHUR MILLEN

Civic officials joined a large group of Orangemen and other friends at the funeral Monday of William Arthur Millen, board of works employee, who died in Nicholls hospital on Friday in his 53rd year.

The civic group was headed by Mayor James Hamilton and nearly every committee of the council was represented, together with many fellow employees. One of the largest turnouts of the Orange Order seen here in many years was present to do honor to their prominent fellow member. Mr. Millen had been a member of Nassau L.O.L. No. 457, was Past Worshipful Master, and Past County Marshall. He was also a member of the Royal Black Preceptory, a delegation from which was also present at his funeral.

The funeral was conducted from the Nisbett Funeral Home, 347 Charlotte street, Rev. W. McArthur of Bethany Tabernacle officiating. An Orange Order service was conducted by Chaplain Gordon Kennedy, assisted by Worshipful Master B. Lockington and Deputy Master Melville Shadgett. Pall-bearers were J. J. Turner, R. Wilson, A. Duncan, F. Robson, D. McAdams, and B. Lockington.

Mr. Millen was for many years foreman of works on highway 28 and during the last four years was employed by the board of works driving the city's flusher. He was known as a capable worker who had won the confidence of his employers through long-term efficiency.

He was born in Manchester, England, and came to this city when he was a baby, living here all the remainder of his life. He is survived by his wife, formerly Jean Wilson; one daughter, Mrs. Robert Armstrong; and four sons, Arthur, Gordon, Norman, and William; also two brothers, Cornelius and Edgar Millen. All reside in Peterborough.

Interment was at Little Lake cemetery.

MRS. MARTIN FREDERICK.

CAMPBELLFORD, Jan. 26 (ENS)—Funeral services for the late Elizabeth Thompson, widow of the late Martin Frederick, were held here on Tuesday afternoon. The deceased had been a life-long resident of this district and was born in West Seymour nearly 87 years ago. She was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Thompson. Although she spent her early life in the township following her marriage she resided in Campbellford. Mrs. Frederick had been in poor health for some time as the result of a fall she sustained some three years ago. She died at the home of her son, George Frederick, on Sunday, having been predeceased by her husband fifteen years ago.

Surviving her are two sons, Allan of Fort Erie and George W. of town, and two daughters, Mrs. Joseph Caley of Detroit and Mrs. Ralph Bennett of town.

The funeral service was conducted by Captain Hutchinson of the Salvation Army, and interment was at Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

The pall-bearers were Francis Frederick, Gerald Frederick, Joseph Bennett, H. Payne, Joseph Caley, and George Frederick.

DAVID AKINS

CAMPBELLFORD, Jan. 26.—(ENS).—The funeral of the late David Akins conducted from Stanwood United Church on Monday was largely attended with Rev. A. W. Harding officiating and assisted by members of Stanwood Lodge, L.O.L. Mr. Akins, who was born in Percy Township 79 years ago, was one of the early settlers in North Seymour, where he had resided for the past sixty years. He was widely known and highly regarded by a large number of friends and had been a member of the Orange Lodge for many years.

Surviving besides his widow are two sons, Robert J. and Joseph S, and one daughter, Miss Lena Akins all of Seymour township. One sister, Mrs. Thomas Rutherford of Paris, Ontario, also survives. The pall-bearers were Messrs. Clifford Kean, Frank Elmhirst, Clifford Kennedy, Carleton Rowe, Kenneth Mark and Donald Elmhirst. Interment was at Stanwood Cemetery.

Reds Crushed In Trap At Lagoda

Hundreds Of Tanks, Armored Cars Guns Captured

HELSINGFORS, Jan. 27.— (AP).—A crushing Russian defeat northeast of Lake Ladoga with the capture of huge quantities of tanks and other war material by the Finns was reported to-day by unofficial Finnish sources.

These reports said the Russians, desperately trying to escape from an icy trap into which Field Marshal Baron Mannerheim's Generals had led them, had abandoned hundreds of tanks, armored cars, motorized anti-aircraft guns and other artillery. More Red army material was said to have been destroyed.

Benefited by the coldest winter in 60 years, the Finnish forces have launched attack after attack at Kollaanjoki and at Aittojoki, near the Russian border north of the lake.

The Finns said the Russian troops at Aittojoki were the remnants of forces scattered in battles at Algajaervi and Tolvajaervi. Another Soviet division was reported battering vainly at the Finnish lines at Kollaanjoki in attempts to relieve comrades in two other divisions caught too far from their base in the region of Kitela, on the north shore of Lake Ladoga.

A game warden read of the affair and asked them:

The boys didn't have licences, but they had a quick answer:—

"We ran down the rabbits," they asserted. "We caught nine."

The baffled game warden has not pressed charges.

Vote Won't Hurt War Issue Says U.K. Press

LONDON, Jan. 27—(CP).—British newspapers today expressed the opinion that the Canadian general election is sure to demonstrate the Dominion's full determination to continue its resolute participation in the war, no matter what the outcome may be.

The "grievances, real or imagined," being ventilated in the election campaign "detract in no way from the country's determination to play her full part in the war," the Manchester Guardian said editorially.

"With two Canadian detachments already in Europe and plans taking shape for a vast Empire air school, to which Canada will be the host, it is hard to imagine that the charge of lukewarmness will lie against the government.

"If an election reveals its shortcomings at this point or that, so much the better, but the general re-

Doubts Nazis Equal To Reverses

Claims Odds 500 To 1 Of Sub Sinking Any Convoyed Ship

MANCHESTER, Eng., Jan. 27. —(CP)—Winston Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty, today termed the Germany of 1914-1918 as a "stronger enemy" than the Nazi Germany of today.

In a speech in Free Trade Hall, Mr. Churchill said he doubted the ability of Germany today to withstand reverses as she did in the First Great War.

"I always hesitate to say anything that tends to underrate the formidable character of the foe we have to fight," he said. "Yet, I cannot rid my mind of the thought that the Imperial Germany of 1914 was a stronger enemy than the Nazi Germany of today."

He had no idea what the war would cost but he believed that France and England in money and man power "can and will outlast the enemy."

Ignores Hecklers.

A couple of hecklers broke into the shouting "we want Mosley" — obviously referring to Sir Oswald Mosley, leader of a group of Fascists in England before the war. Little has been heard of the movement since the war started.

Mr. Churchill paused until silence was restored, turning to ask "what does he say?" at one point. Then he continued without comment.

One man shouting "we want Mosley and Peace," was ejected from the hall.

On the sea Mr. Churchill said with emphasis, Great Britain is proving its traditional superiority. The odds were 500 to 1 against the Germans sinking any British-convoyed merchant ship which obeyed Admiralty orders.

Mr. Churchill said Prime Minister Chamberlain led the country into the war "like one great body into a struggle against aggression and oppression, against wrongdoing, faithlessness and cruelty, from

Rations Increased

London, Jan. 27 (CP)

THE food ministry announced today that the weekly ration allowance of uncooked bacon and ham will be raised from four ounces to eight ounces per person next Monday.

The smaller allowance had been in effect since Jan. 8. The doubling of the ration, the food ministry said, is due to improvement in stocks. It will be subject to adjustments in the light of further changes in the situation, it was stated.

Freighter Flint Back Home; Future Clouded

BALTIMORE, Jan. 27.—(AP). — Only the formalities of quarantine inspection stood to-day between the freighter City of Flint and the end of a war-time adventure on the high seas.

Pushing through Chesapeake Bay ice floes, the 4,963-ton vessel dropped anchor outside the harbor before dawn.

While her 40-man crew chartered short leave and the first pay day since Oct. 3 when the ship sailed from New York for Europe with a miscellaneous cargo, the vessel faced an uncertain future.

Her owners said no further operations were planned immediately, but declined to comment on reports that she would be scrapped. She was built at Hog Island shortly after the United States enterel the last war, and served as a supply ship throughout the conflict.

For the crew that aided in the rescue of 223 survivors of the sinking of the passenger liner Athenia and took them to Halifax, N.S., then a few weeks later faced the bristling guns of the German pocket battleship Deutschland, to-day was a big day. A half-dozen celebrations were arranged.

Six days after discharging the last of the Athenia survivors, the City of Flint was overhauled by the German pocket batleship Deutschland, manned by the prize crew and then, disguised as Danish, sailed to Tromsoe, Norway.

Murmansk, Russia, was the next stop. Six days later, she was steered down the Norwegian coast in what was presumed to be an effort to reach a German port. Instead, however, she was taken finally into Haugesund, Norway, where a Norwegian court held she had been improperly seized, and turned the command back to her captain, J. A. Gainard.

Cannot Wait, Says Hepburn; Will Ponder His Part In Election Over Weekend

Premier Crosses Up Legislature Friday Hints Statement Likely Monday Urges Study Of New Succession Duty Act

TORONTO, Jan. 27—(CP).—Ontario legislators will study during the week-end, if they heed Premier Mitchell Hepburn's request, their copies of the bill to amend the Succession Duty Act—a bill brought in by the Government as a bill to end all bills on succession duties.

Expected recess of the House Monday or Tuesday may not take place. After yesterday's brief sitting, Premier Hepburn said that the inability of the Federal Parliament soon to be elected to deal with the Federal budget before March 31, and of Ontario's fiscal year, might mean Ontario will have to act independently in fiscal policy.

As it is now the Provincial budget will have to be drafted without foreknowledge of what the Federal Parliament will do in the way of increased taxation, said the Premier. Original purpose of the recess was to enable the Premier to present a budget that would have regard to the Federal factors.

Premier Hepburn said that during the week-end he would ponder what part, if any, he will take in the Federal general election campaign.

Statement Monday?

"I may have a statement to make on Monday," he said.

An expectant Legislature waited yesterday for the Premier to say something about his arch-foe, Prime Minister Mackenzie King. Ears were cocked every time the Premier rose to his feet. But never a word of what everybody wanted to hear escaped him.

The Premier urged careful study of the new succession duty legislation when Attorney-General Gordon Conant introduced it. Mr. Conant presented the new measure yesterday in the form of a 15-page bill amending the Succession Duty Act —an act which was also revised at a special session called for that specific purpose last September.

Main purpose of the bill before the House is to make applicable to any estate the law in force at the time of testator's death in determining the amount of succession duty, interest and penalties due to the province.

Another amendment proposed is that gifts to the immediate mem-

Shivering South Suffers Worst Winter

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 27.—(AP) —Shivering southerners were cheered today by promises of slowly moderating weather in a cotton country unaccustomed and unprepared for severe cold waves.

Hampered further by ice-glazed streets and highways, the sun-loving southern states struggled back toward normal temperatures with losses running into millions of dollars.

The rest of the country, whipped by frigid blasts from the Rockies to the Atlantic coast, counted its two-week death toll at 366, including 105 this week, as attributable to the weather.

Separate Peace Of Hertzog's Beaten 81-59

CAPE TOWN, Jan. 27 (CP-Reuters)—The House of Assembly today rejected General J. B. M. Hertzog's resolution calling for a separate peace between South Africa and Germany. The vote was 81 to 59.

Vote on the former premier's resolution came when the house re-assembled following an all-night debate.

A Labor party speaker declared Hertzog's proposal was intended as propaganda to suggest disintegration of the British Commonwealth, and that Oswald Pirow, who was Hertzog's defence minister, "inherited every German characteristic except the ability to organize an army."

Hertzog, who opposed joining the war against Germany and was succeeded by General Jan Smuts Sept. 6, proposed last Tuesday a resolution that "this house is of the opinion that the time has come for the state of war against Germany to be ended and peace be restored."

Branching Out

London, Jan. 27 (CP)

THE ADMIRALTY has started and will extend steps to make the navy more democratic by making officers' commissions more widely available, as was done in the army, it was announced here today.

Henceforth any youth of good education called to service as a simple sailor may appear before an Admiralty commission which will select student officers.

Those chosen will be given three months intensive training aboard a warship. Those who pass subsequent written and oral examinations will immediately be made ensigns attached for instruction.

Cabinet Council Fixing Date For Vote Today

OTTAWA, Jan. 27. —(CP)— The cabinet meets today for the second time since parliament was dissolved and from the council chamber is expected the official decision on the date for Canada's trek to the polls.

Already on Parliament Hill March 26 has been so often mentioned as to be regarded as a virtually certain election date. Nevertheless official word, looked for last night after a cabinet council, has yet to come.

Observers looked also to today's 11 a.m. council for announcement of some important appointments, perhaps many of them. Between now and election day the government has an opportunity to fill more attractive positions than at any one time in the past.

There are 13 senatorships alone. Other vacancies are the posts of auditor-general and chairman of the Tariff Board, both $15,000 a year spots.

There was no announcement last night when the cabinet council broke up after a day in which the Liberals, in caucus, registered confidence in Prime Minister Mackenzie King when the opposition condemned his action in dissolving parliament Thursday four hours after it opened.

No statement was forthcoming yet from the Social Credit group though the party held a caucus. However, the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation, in the midst of a two-day discussion of campaign plans, took up the cry of their leader, J. S. Woodsworth, that dissolution of parliament was "a negation of democracy."

26 Of 90 Raiders Downed Up To Christmas

LONDON, Jan. 27.—(CP).—Royal Air Force statistics covering the period from the start of the war, Sept. 3, 1939, to Christmas, show that of approximately 90 German aircraft which reached or attempted to reach British soil, 26 were downed and one crashed.

Altogether 58 German aircraft were destroyed by anti-aircraft fire; 51 by British aircraft and one crashed.

The statistics show the coastal command of the Royal Air Force had flown more than 3,750,000 miles in 44,000 flying hours and that every day they covered a total distance greater than the circumference of the earth (25,000 miles).

Patrols sighted German submarines 107 times and attacked them 57 times. The coastal command also provided escorts for 400 convoys and patrolled a sea-area of 3,000,000 square miles.

The bomber command up to Christmas made 27 mass flights over Germany.

Zero Hour March?

Ottawa, Jan. 27 (CP)

CONSERVATIVE LEADER Col. George Drew of Ontario predicted in an address yesterday that Adolf Hitler may strike again in March and it will be against Rumania and Hungary.

Col. Drew referred to the calendar for his predictions that the German Fuehrer, "A man unquestionably mentally unbalanced," went into action at regular intervals of six months.

Austria was seized in March and Sudetenland in September, the rest of Czecho-Slovakia in March and Poland was invaded in September, he said.

"Hitler is a slave to words, a slave to any dogma he lays down; he has faith in some recurring event at each six month interval. Each March and each September there is some event of tremendous importance in the movement of that government."

No Income For Years, Gold Hidden Scotty Explains For Revenue Men

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 27.—(AP)— Investigation by income tax authorities as to taxability, source and amount of death Valley Scotty's income, discloses a relationship between Scotty and his banker, as Scotty calls his partner, that is unique and unparalleled in business and mining traditions.

The mystery desert rat signed the following statement for government records:

"U.S. Collector of Internal Revenue, "California Income Tax Supervisor, "And to all Others Whom It May Concern:

"About 30 years ago I found gold ore and buried some in caches or deposits in the mountains. The gold ore is very rich.

"To the best of my recollection, I have had no income for about 30 years except money borrowed from my partner, A. M. Johnson, who has furnished me with all the supplies and mules that I have used in the mountains.

"I have not converted the caches or deposits in the mountains into cash. There are many hazards in the mountains. Trails and landmarks are buried by cloudbursts.

"I have not lost any of my caches or deposits. I've had many accidents. The rugged mountains are never safe, at best, unless you are ready to fight your way through.

"Death Valley Scotty,
"Walter Scott."

This official breaking of a silence of over 30 years, by the man whose name has, since the beginning of this century, become legendary for adventure and romance and hidden wealth, not only fails to solve but intensifies the mystery that has always surrounded Scotty.

Old desert rats in times past have told strange tales of meeting Scotty on lonesome trails with pack mules loaded with high-grade ore of such richness that it was almost pure gold.

Rumors arise from time to time that some day not too far away, Scotty is going to lift his caches and open up and mine his prospects

Liner Founders On Reef Off South Japan

TOKYO, Jan. 27 — (AP). — One member of the crew of the Philippine liner President Quezon was reported lost to-day when he was washed overboard from a lifeboat after the 8,341-ton ship ran aground and sank off Tanegashima Island, Southern Japan.

The steamship Ukishima Maru, one of three Japanese ships which answered the President Quezon's SOS in a raging storm, said all the others were safe.

Earlier cnnflicting reports had left the fate of some in doubt. Domei, Japanese news agency, said three crew members were missing.

The Ukishima Maru wirelessed that the disabled President Quezon sank almost immediately when the mountainous waves heaved her from the reefs on which she foundered.

The President Quezon struck one of many dangerous reefs off Tanegashima Island and sank stern first at 11.45 a.m. (9.45 p.m. EST, Friday) after pounding seas opened holes in her hull.

Misfortune dogged the President Quezon, formerly the President Madison of the American Mail Line. In 1933, when still called the President

U.S. Awaits Japs To Make 1st Move Respect Rights Or Treaty Out

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27 — (AP). —Respect for American interests in China is the price which officials here say Japan must pay to obtain a new treaty guaranteeing her trade against discriminatory treatment by the United States.

The Japanese-American commercial treaty of 1911, which pledged both countries not to discriminate against trade of the other, expired at midnight last night. It had been abrogated by State Secretary Cordell Hull last July, following repeated interference by the Japanese with American interests in China.

Termination of the accord makes no actual change in trade between the two countries. But it leaves President Roosevelt free to raise duties of Japanese imports, if he finds that Japan is discriminating against the United States; to impose a complete embargo on Japanese imports if the discrimination then continues, and to impose special harbor charges or tonnage rates on Japanese vessels.

The treaty's termination leaves Congress free also to authorize additional action against the Tokyo Government, such as the embargoes proposed by Senators Key Pittman of Nevada and Lewis B. Schwellenbach of Washington against shipment to Japan of raw materials useful in the conduct of hostilities against the Chinese.

United States officials are inclined, however, to "sit tight" for the time being and let Japan make the first move.

Never Yield To Threats

TOKYO, Jan. 27.—(AP).— Determination that Japan "never will yield to threats" from abroad appeared to-day as the first reaction to termination by the United States of the 1911 treaty governing trade between the two countries.

It was indicated in high quarters that Japan would make no particular efforts for a new agreement immediately, but would try to prevent incidents in China involving Americans.

(Nevertheless, in Tientsin, China, Japanese military authorities officially informed the public that effective Sunday the barbed wire barricades surrounding the foreign concessions would be electrically charged again, as they previously had been since the start of the blockade of the concessions last June.

(In Shanghai, Japanese army officers took the position that after 2½ years of fighting, Japan was too deeply concerned in China to yield territorial or economic gains to placate the United States).

Kaiser At 81 Watches The War From Exile As Nazis Try Job He Failed To Finish

DOORN, The Netherlands, Jan. 27—(AP).—Shadows of another war fell today across observances of the 81st birthday of former Kaiser Wilhelm II.

The gay family celebration of other years was missing from Doorn Castle, where the former German ruler maintains formalities of his former court and watches, in exile, the progress of another generation of Germans at war with the Allies.

Hohenzollerns in Adolf Hitler's army provide part of his interest in the flagged pins he sticks in war maps to follow the campaign. He has 22 grandsons in the German army. Another, Prince Oscar, lost his life in the Polish campaign.

The Kaiser and Princess Hermine, his wife, invited members of his court, a few dignitaries and friends in Doorn village, including Mayor Baron Von Nagell, to a simple luncheon.

But there were no visitors from Germany or other countries in contrast with last year, when sons and grandsons of the Kaiser came in gala uniform with their families. Instead, he received gifts and numerous congratulatory letters, many of them opened by the German censor.

Although confined to his castle a few days earlier this month with a cold, he has been going into his snow-covered garden lately and taken occasional, short automobile rides.

Many Of Canada's Nazi Prisoners On Oath To Obey Hitler's Orders

PETAWAWA, Ont., Jan. 27 — (CP). — Many of the prisoners of war interned in Canada are members of the German National Socialist Party who have sworn to obey orders of Adolf Hitler and his representatives without question.

They are among the most dangerous of the several hundred men confined in the internment camp at Petawawa, about 120 miles west of Ottawa, and the western camp at Kananaskis, Alta. The prisoners are a varied lot in their political views, in the degree of their subservience to the Nazi regime and in their talents.

Many are skilled workers. Not a few are highly intelligent and have good educations, but all are considered by the authorities a menace to public safety in Canada so long as the war lasts. Practically all have had their cases reviewed by a special tribunal set up by the Government to hear any reasons they may advance as to why they shoul dbe set at liberty.

Known Nazi Members.

The authorities say the prisoners fall into five general classes. The first is that of German Nationals resident in Canada and known to be members of the Nazi Part. The German National Socialist Party in Canada is a part of the Auslands organization of the party in Germany and its members subscribe to the same undertakings. It is a compact and rigidly disciplined body.

The second class consists of male members of the Deutsche Arbeitsfront, a closely knit affiliate of the National Socialists party. Its members describe themselves as "true followers of the Fuehrer' In their applications for membership. Most members are relatively recent immigrants to Canada and nearly all of military age and so liable for service in the German army.

In the third group are German nationals who are not known to belong to either the party or the Arbeitsfront but who, from their political and social associations, business and industrial connections and other opportunities for espionage are believed to be dangerous in time of war.

The fourth class consist of a number of naturalized Canadian citizens of German origin or both who have so identified themselves with Nazi activities that they cannot be regarded as loyal citizens. They are all influential in their own communities and have been under investigation for some time.

It is felt that by arresting these leaders of the Deutscher Bund (Canadian society for German culture) who have been seeking to undermine the loyalties of Canadians of German origin the position of the Last Minute News Flashes

OTTAWA (CP) — Conservative Leader Manion indicated today that he does not place party limitations on the "truly national government" he plans to form if his party wins the federal election. "What I said was, that the very best brains obtainable among our people would be drafted to serve in the cabinet," he said in a press statement. "Naturally, it would be ridiculous for me to suggest that all the best brains in Canada belong to one party, and I certainly did not mean to place party limitations on what I called 'a truly national government'."

Senior Cagers At P.C.I. Suffer Reverse

P.C.I.'s victory streak was upheld by the junior boys, but the senior girls' team were held to a tie and the Garnet and Grey senior boys' team was beaten, as P.C.I.'s three teams played host to Bowmanville High school here last night. The local junior boys stayed undefeated by scoring a hard fought 1-point win, 16-15, while the girls' team went to a 22-22 dead heat with the visitors and P.C.I.s senior boys' team went down to defeat before a strong B.H.S. squad 30-25 despite a strong last half rally.

P.C.I.'s junior entry are in first place, after registering a hard fought victory. They gained a 7-5 edge in the opening half, but the visitors rallied to tie it up near the finish before P.C.I. again jumped in front. It was hard and fast all the way, with the homesters having a fair edge in play throbgh the first half, but failing to cash in and both teams about even throughout the last period. They tied it up at 13-all near the finish and then Gillespie scored a field goal and a free throw to put P.C.I. in front 16-13. B.H.S. scored once more, but it was not enough and P.C.I. clung to their argin to the end. Rogow and Gillespie led the winners, with McIlveen and Siemon best for the losers. The teams:

P.C.I.- (16)—Centre Hall 2; forwards Moorhead (1), Gillespie (5); guards, Rogow (3), Saunders (1), subs, Smith (1), Gardiner (1), Clapham (1), Routley (1).

B.H.S. (15)—Centre, Jackman (4), forwards, Siemon (4), McIlveen (5); guards, Tambiyn (2), Rundle; subs, Clarke, Wheeler, Underhill, Mitchell.

Referee—Curly Krug.

A Tight Tilt.

Bowmanville senior girls' team had a 16-10 margin in the first half, but P.C.I. fought back to equal their first period edge and gain a 22-all tie and keep the Garnet and Gray undefeated record intact. B.H.S. got away to a flying start and outplayed the home team through the first half but P.C.I. rallied and had a last period edge as both teams played good basketball. P.C.I. and Bowmanville are tied for the Lakeshore League leadership, each having two wins and a tie. Although both teams went all out, only two fouls were called, both against P. C.I., and the visitors sinking both of them. One player stood out for each team, M. McDonnel scoring 16 points for B.H.S. and E. Saunders duplicating that for P.C.I.

Senior Boys Beaten

P.C.I. senior boys made a gallant comeback in the last half after trailing 16-6 at the rest period, but Bowmanville had piled up too big a lead and the homesters couldn't quite pull it down. The winners clicked on all cylinders in the first half as P.C.I.'s attack bogged down, but from then on it was all Garnet and Gray in the bitterly fought last half. Bowmanville now leads the Lakeshore League without a loss, while P.C.I. are just behind them.

P.C.I. scored only 4 free throws in their 12 tries and Bowmanville notched 8 in their 16 chances. P.C.I. lost two men with 4 fouls as play roughened up. Mason, Brown and Colville sparked the winners, with Moorhead, Tayor and Johnston leading P.C.I. The teams:

B.H.S. (30)—Centre, Brown (9); forwards, Fagan (4), Mason (11); guards, McIlveen (2), Colville (6). Subs, Casbourne, Swindles, Crawford, Morden.

P.C.I. (26) — Centre, Moorhead (12); forwards, Taylor (11), McPherson; guards, Johnston (1), Scott. Subs, Clarke, Rogow, Marshall (2).

Referee—Curly Krug umpire, N. Colville.

CURLING

By HERB MARTIN

Starting in at 9.30 yesterday morning and curling until 11.30 last evening there were 176 curlers — ladies and gents—used the seven sheets of ice.

They pushed up and down the ice from one end to the other 3096 stanes. Assuming that the average stane weighs 40 lbs. that would mean 123,840 lbs. or almost 60 tons of "Scotch' granite were tossed around in one day. Now we ask one question. Is it any wonder that the ice becomes tired and worn out?

A number of lady curlers from Bobcaygeon and Lakefield paid a friendly visit to the club yesterday afternoon.

All names were tossed in the hat and rinks were drawn for. By this procedure the clubs were all intermixed. The ladies each threw two into the jack pot and at the end of eight ends prizes were awarded to the rinks skipped by the following:—Mrs. Pardee, Bobcaygeon; Mrs. McIntosh, Bobcaygeon; Mrs. Wood, Peterborough and Miss Fenning, Peterborough. Immediately after the games, the visitors were entertained by the Peterborough ladies in the club parlors.

The Best Party.

Said the Times:

"In the forthcoming general election the issue will simply be which party can be trusted to show the greater energy and greater efficiency in the conduct of the war. It will be a competition of those qualities, not in any sense a conflict about the essential righteousness of the war itself."

The Allies "can expect to see added resolution whatever the result of the election" in Canada, the Daily Express said.

"Canadian politics appear confused but one thing is certain. As magnificent as Canada's war effort has been until now, we can expect to see added resolution whatever the result of the election.

The result of the election "will certainly be an impressive demonstration of Canada's loyalty to the British Commonwealth and to the cause she is helping us to defend in the war," the Yorkshire Post predicted.

Lesser Patrick Is Sitting Pretty But Manager Art Ross Is Uneasy

By JACK CALDER
(Canadian Press Staff Writer.)

All the swift changes the National Hockey League is undergoing serve to swell the belief that this is New York Rangers' year to haul down all the prizes.

When Chicago Black Hawks played to a 1-1 tie with the Red Wings at Detroit last night, the Black Hawks had on their defence mountainous Jack Portland, who until a few hours before had belonged to Boston all through his professional career. Portland was traded to Chicago yesterday for another defenceman, Des Smith.

The trade bore out rumors of strife between Manager Art Ross of the Bruins and the hard-hitting Portland, who used to be a high-jumping champion in his schooldays at Collingwood, On. Onlookers got the idea recently, though, that the trouble had eased off and Portland would remain.

With a well-knit lineup that he wouldn't think of changing, Manager Lester Patrick is sitting pretty in the Rangers' camp. More and more, too, there is being brought to mind the hockey axiom that the team which misses extensive injuries is heading for the heights. The Rangers haven't had a serious casualty this season.

Great Defence Broken

Ross is uneasy at Boston. He has traded his great Eddie Shore to New York Americans for Eddie Wiseman. Now Shore's defence mate of the 1938-39 Bruin team—which Ross called "the eatest in 38 years" —has gone to Chicago. Injuries have hampered the second-place Bruins.

The Canadiens undertake this weekend's heaviest program. Playing at Toronto tonight and at Chicago tomorrow. They can rise from the cellar if things work properly.

The Rangers will meet the Americans in New York tomorrow. But Shore won't join the Americans until Tuesday. Meanwhile Wiseman will be playing with Boston at Detroit.

Bill Carse gave Chicago a 1-0 lead after 16 minutes of last night's game. In the second Detroit's youngsters turned on a furious attack and Connie Brown levelled the score with the aid of Joe Fisher and Butch McDonald.

The result left the fourth-place Hawks four points up on Detroit, but pulled the Reds Wings into sole possession of fifth position, a point upon the Americans.

Landis Plan Is Being Studied

CHICAGO, Jan. 27. — (AP) — Chain-gang baseball is as dead as last year's pennant race if the club owners take the advice of stern, unyielding Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis.

The big league and minor league magnates today studied Landis' involved and voluminous plan for setting up a new system of player transactions between baseball clubs. He asked the major and minors to study it thoroughly and give him their reactions.

Landis long has been an opponent of extensive farm systems in baseball, his views doubtless being formed after discovering many violations of baseball law in the operation of the chain-gangs.

The Landis plan provides for cooperation of the majors and minors in acquiring, developing and advancing players; the acquisition of players by no means except outright ownership, eliminating the practice of controlling of players on option; granting of subsidies yearly to class B, C, and D league teams; ruling all players in the minors not sold by a deadline eligible for the draft by higher classification clubs each year.

The commissioner asserted that the best interests of club owners and players would be served by legislation establishing such a system of handling players. It has been Landis' contention that farm systems keep players in "cold storage until the possessor club needs them and that they "cover up" players.

Doubts Nazis

which there could be no turning back."

No Party Job.

The war was not decided or undertaken by a government, a class or a party.

"It is impossible to foresee how the war will develop but the government is persuaded that in the end right will win, that freedom will not be crumpled down, that truer progress will appear and that a broader justice will reign."

The British people must bear in mind, he said, "that we shall have to pay a relentless toll for mastery of the seas."

There was no doubt that mines present a grave menace, and that the victory over them would be dearly won. But Great Britain had resources in scientific material superior to those of the enemy, and in the end the mine danger would disappear.

Remarking that many people are astonished that Britain has not yet been attacked by enemy aviation, Mr. Churchill said that he had asked himself this question. "I also wonder," he said, "whether the enemy are saving up for some orgy of frightfulness which will soon come upon us, or whether it is because so far they have not dared. Is it because they dread the superior quality of our fighting aircraft?"

In any event he was convinced that the enemy was not refraining for humanitarian reasons.

Bombs Or Leaflets?

"Ought we," he asked, "instead of demonstrating the power of our air force by dropping leaflets all over Germany, to have dropped bombs? There I am quite clear that our policy has been right."

Time gained by the Allies was used for important preparations which brought "enormous" progress in means of protecting the civilian population and in means of counter-attack.

Terror To Every Home.

Mr. Churchill, speaking on the "progres sof the war," said that when the war started in September everybody expected air bombing immediately.

"There never was such a war that seemed so likely to carry its terrors into every home," he said, "and there never was a war when the people were so united."

The government, he went on, has not failed to rise to the fight against "aggression, oppression and wrong-doing" from which there can be no turning back.

"We cannot tell into what regions the struggle will carry or how long it will last, but we can be sure that in the end righteousness and freedom will win and justice will reign. We are sure of this and we are determined to play our part faithfully and to the end."

The war in the west so far had fallen almost entirely upon the Royal Navy and the Royal Air Force.

"The naval war opened at full pitch from the first moment and the most intense efforts were made by the enemy to destroy the commerce by which we live and to starve us into submission. No considerations of humanity, no respect for the conventions of war, even those to which Germany recently had proclaimed her adherence, none of these have deterred Herr Hitler and his accomplices from wreaking their malice upon us to the full extent of their power."

"Even humble fishing boats have been attacked with incendiary bombs and their crews left to drown or subjected to the fire of machine guns.....Our Navy has had to cope with all these various forms of attack.

"I have been taught by hard experience and I am always careful not to give way to jubilation or optimism. But I think you will agree that up to date the Navy has not failed the nation.

"Out of nearly 7,500 ships convoyed to and from this Island only 15 have been lost. Our convoy system is becoming more refined and rapid as the weeks go by, and....our imports are steadily rising again, and the ships we have captured and the ships we have built have almost made good the losses we have suffered."

Churchill turned next to the system of rationing. "There was no fear of starvation, but "we wish to save every ton of import in order to increase our output of munitions and to extend and increase our export trade so that we can get credit to buy more munitions and war supplies."

"It is no time for ease and comfort. It is a time to dare and endure. That is why we are rationing ourselves even while our resources are increasing. That is why we intend to regulate every ton carried across the seas and to make sure that it is carried only for the purposes of victory."

A Step Ahead.

Mr. Churchill said he felt "I was right as I said in one of my earlier broadcasts that if we reached the spring without any serious offensive on sea or land I think we shall have gained the opening campaign of the war."

"I am thankful that this country has got into its war stride. It will be said that the other side too has expanded its army and increased and improved its air force, but we must remember Germany has been going for three years at full wartime strength and it may be possible she has no reserves of manpower and supplies so that she could make an additional spurt."

Britain had not yet taken up its slack. There were many unemployed in the country.

"Yet I think these extra months of preparation have been a Godsend to us and if we do not relax Herr Hitler has lost his last chance."

The Government, he continued, can not yet place in the field the vast army it has formed and is still forming, and munition factories must yet be brought to full production. "But we are far ahead of where we were at this time in the other war."

All British and French resources, he said, would be brought to bear "upon that evil thing whose wickedness has so shocked the world."

Some Atrocities

He referred to the German conquest of Czechoslovakia, the shooting of Czech students, the closing of the Czech universities and the destruction of the works of their national writers, as well as the suppression of newspapers and the opening of new concentration camps.

"But I can assure you that everything that has happened to the Czechs cannot compare with the atrocities worked upon the poor Poles," he said, adding that individuals, picked at random, were shot in every town.

"It is estimated that upwards of 15,000 intellectuals have been shot. In one place 300 were lined up against the wall. In another place a group of drunken German officers shot 70. In still another place boys between 12 and 13 were butchered," Mr. Churchill said.

From Germany's "shameful records we can judge what our own fate would be, should we fall into her clutches."

"Without expansion of labor," Mr. Churchill said, "and without allowing the women of Great Britain to enter the struggle, we should fail utterly to bear our share of the burden which France and Great Britain jointly assumed."

Mr. Churchill expressed his admiration for the way British taxpayers had accepted "a burden so fierce and heavy that it has altered decisively the way of living of all income taxpayers of the country." In the financial field "the Chancellor of the Exchequer is building up a veritable Maginot line of financial strength and confidence."

Information from police files indicates a number of the prisoners planned to sabotage Canadian industrial plants. The fact that there has been no serious sabotage so far may be due to their detention.

Shades of political opinion among the prisoners are known to exist but play no part in the administration of the interment camp. The officers and men engaged in guarding the camp never discuss politics with the prisoners, discuss nothing with them except their own immediate affairs.

Trades and professions represented among the prisoners are many. There is a diver who busies himself in the camp as a saw setter. Others in confinement include eight carpenters, 12 designers and painters, three manufacturers' agents, three electricians, a sales executive, a mechanical engineer, five tool makers, a commercial traveller, three butchers, four bakers, one economic research expert, a druggist, two farmers, a university student, a teacher of languages, the managing director of a sizeable corporation, a sculptor, a millwright, a commercial artist, a brewery supervisor, a musician, an advertising manager, a cabinet maker, a chemical engineer, a textile chemist, several night watchmen.

Winter Carnival Of Rotary Club Is Big Success

CAMPBELLFORD, Jan. 27 (ENS) The annual mid-winter carnival staged by the Campbellford Rotary Club drew a near record crowd to Charlie Davidson's Arena here on Friday evening. Highlight of the evening was provided by the hockey game staged between the East Side captained by Charlie Davidson and the West Side by Bob Bateson. All of the players were supposed to be between the ages of 35 and 70, and the fact that the Bateson team once again brought victory to the West Side which were last year's winners, provoked some controversy over the age of at least one of their star players. However, the game was all in fun and the spectators seemed to enjoy it more than some of the players who slid around on the ice on everything but their skates. Norman Brown, who was very effective in last year's tilt was in the limelight again this time for opening his forehead on the ice. He required three clamps to close the cut and was the only casualty of the contest. Doc Stuart was netminder for the losers, and most of the shots found their way into the net mainly because the two defence men, Harry Cousins and Charlie Davidson, gave him little protection which he needed badly when Jack Cowan and Harry Atkinson, both of whom were hockeyists with an enviable reputation a decade ago, ganged in on him. Others in the line-up for the East Side which lost by a score of 6 to 0, were E. Sloggett, Les Shillinglaw, Bill Hogle, Henry Locke, and J. Ranney. For the West Side Perry Saunders blocked the goal, while H. Redden, Carl Johnston, Hilton Beatty, C. B. Williams, Bob Bateson ,and Jim Benor, assisted out in front.

The program began at 7.30 when President Arthur Armour welcomed the gathering, thanking all who were supporting the club in their work of helping crippled children. He then handed the microphone over to Percy Denyes, who was master of ceremonies for the remainder of the evening.

Juvenile Games.

Many of the spectators saw for the first time what Harold Dunk is doing in the way of training the Public and Separate School hockey players. The Pee-Wees, Midgets, and Bantams each played games well worth the price of admission, and received plenty of applause from their biggest audience of the season. In the Pee-Wee section Canadiens defeated the Leafs 2 to 1 in a tight contest for the first of the three ten-minute tilts provided by the boys during the evening. Though Ken Messenger earned a shut-out the puck managed to roll in during the second half of the game. On Canadiens' defence were D. Burgiss and P. Glenn, with K. Brown, L. Nesbitt, and J. Bartley as forwards. J. Hoey, T. Dunk, and A. Taylor were the subs. For Leafs R. Hay was in goal; E. Sutton and R. Ferrill, defence; A. Saunders, R. Reynolds, and J. Ellis, forwards; P. Doherty, A. Bennett, and D. McEachearn, alternates.

On the Bantam section D. Nobes got the solo counter which gave Hawks a 1 to 0 victory in what was generally considered the best tilt of the evening. Their line-up included E. McComb, goal; G. Jacobs and G. Runions, defence; D. Free, D. Nobes, B. Nesbitt, forwards; B. Ayrhart and A. Johnston, subs. On the Americans' team M. Maxwell played in goal; D. Jones and M. Beggs, defence; A. Shillinglaw, B. Peloquin, L. Dunk, forwards; B. McKelvie and N. Sloggett, subs. The Midgets gave a display of wide open hockey in which the Leafs took an early lead and managed to hold on to it all the day, endeng up 4 to 1 over the Canadiens. Leafs were: Goal, G. Martin; defence, P. Battman, J. Coxwell; centre, K. Dunk; wings, G. Fraser, K. Milne; subs., D. Bartley. Canadians: Goal, R. Metcalfe; defence, M. Stover and C. Runions; centre, J. Little; wings, J. learn to recognize Nazi warplanes at sight. Before being sent up to try conclusions with a German bomber he attends a series of lectures or recognition classes.

No two types of aircraft are absolutely identical, but in some types the differences are so slight that only a highly-trained eye can recognize the distinguishing characteristics, especially when flying fast and high. At the daily classes the pilots see "recognition models" — replicas of German planes built to scale and complete in every detail.

By these models, pilots learn to recognize such features as camouflage, markings, positions of guns and turrets, shape of tailplane and fuselage.

The pilot must memorize the arc of fire from a Nazi plane's guns. The models are fitted with an ingenious device by which pilots learn to avoid these danger spots while directing their fire on the enemy's most vulnerable parts.

Biblical Thoughts For The Shut-Ins By Rev. E. R. James

THE CHRISTIAN IDEAL

O, Ye that love the LORD, see that ye hate the evil.

Ps. 97; 10.

Do you love anyone? Is anyone your ideal of nobility and purity of character. You are fortunate if you have such a vision and inspiration. A great artist lay adying in a comotase state. Suddenly he opened his eyes and exclaimed: "I have seen the Almighty and the curves are perfect." All his life he loved beauty and strove to reveal it with his brush. His heart was filled with the ideal of loveliness. You may be sure he hated the unlovely and the ugly; the mis-shapen and the deformed. With a very slight change he would endorse the passionate cry of the Psalmist: O, ye that love the beautiful, see that ye hate the ugly."

What do you think God is like? What is your mental image of God? Do you think of Him as beautiful beyond all words? It is a tragedy that the mass of English speaking people think of God and His religion as ugly and unbeautiful; consisting largely of "dont's." They have seen Christian people going about with sad, unhappy faces and believe Christianity is a kill-joy and most unattractive—nothing beautiful or lovely in it.

When the Lord Jesus said: "I am the good Shepherd", He meant also "I am the beautiful Shepherd", for the Greek word has both meanings. Archbishop Temple thus translates in his commentary. It throws a great light on the thought of God's character and His loveliness.

If Christ is dwelling in your heart by faith His Spirit will slowly, here a little, there a little, reproduce something of Christ's beauty in you. You must remember that pure, unadulterated goodness is beautiful, lovely and very attractive to those who have eyes to see. As you pray regularly, read God's Holy Word and meditate on same heart searching verse the Holy Spirit will pour into your heart something of God's love and the desire to be like Him so that you will grow to hate that which is evil. Evil is always ugly and the very opposite of good.

Our Lord gave us a parable of the evil spirit which was driven out of a man's soul. Later that evil spirit came back and found it empty and the last state of that man was worse than the first. It was because the man had driven out the evil spirit by his own strength and nothing had taken its place. The Devil loves a vaccuum. But if you have driven out the evil spirit by the help of the Spirit of Christ then it will be different. Your heart is the temple of the Holy Spirit. Some day that evil spirit will return. You will look into his face and see its ugliness and horribleness. That evil spirit will depart for he knows there is no room for him in your soul. You will hate it and abhor it. You will marvel that you ever saw any attractiveness in that sin which once gripped you. It has lost its fascination.

This is the inward evidence of your growth in holiness and in the revelation of the Character of the Lord Jesus in you. Christ is slowly being formed in you.

But your problem will be to hate the evil and not the person; to hate the evil spirit and not the individual. This is the hardest and most difficult thing to do. As your heart grows full of sympathy for the sinner and your hatred of his sin increases it is the proof that the Holy Spirit is working in you and revealing to you the beauty of holiness and the ugliness of sin and evil.

This should deepen your humility for your greatest peril lies in the spirit of the Pharisee—spiritual pride—who prayed with himself: "Lord, I thank Thee that I am not as other men are".

Churches Busy In War Service Work

TORONTO, Jan. 27.—Nearly 1,000 units of the United Church of Canada, representing 2,700 organizations and at least 50,000 women, are now assisting in the preparation of material comforts for Canadian soldiers, according to a report presented to the War Service Committee of the United Church of Canada. Rev. Dr. W. Harold Young of Toronto, is chairman of the committe, with Rev. Dr. Gordon A. Sisco and Rev. Jr. R. Mutchmor joint secretaries.

Reports from eleven conferences of the United Church reveal that the material prepared by the church groups is being shipped to Red Cross Society depots established throughout Canada. Close co-operation is maintained between the church groups and the Red Cross.

Many women are working on soldiers' comforts from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. the reports disclosed.

A typical War Service Unit report was presented to the Committee. It came from Rhodes Ave. United Church, Toronto and reported that the Woman's Association, the Woman's Missionary Society and the Auxiliary of the Boy Scouts were all co-operating in war service work. Mrs. Mary Rappson, secretary of the unit, stated that already 177 pairs of socks have been knitted, as well as 16 scarves, two pairs of mitts, four pairs of wristlets, three baby jackets, eight bonnets, four pair of booties. The baby clothing is for families of soldiers in training.

Old Legend Basis Of Sermon Topic

Instead of the usual sermon the pastor of St. Andrew's church, will tell the story of a dramatic legend that lies behind an oft repeated proverb in Central Europe. The proverb is brief but the story is long. The story is that of a complacent people who lived in a valley surrounded by high mountains that they never crossed. One day an adventurous young man crossed the mountain and discovered that "behind the mountains too are people." He came back and told the story of what he had seen but the people of the valley would not believe him, they called him a fool. There are lessons in this old world story for young and old. One of them is that people do not like to be shaken out of their complacency. The adventurions, dare devil kind of man will get many a bump as he goes through life. The man who plays safe will roll along smoothly and most people will speak well of him. The complacent folk have much good in them, they conserve the past, they travel the beaten path, the smooth road. They never break up new ground, however, they have no aptitude for crossing mountains. They never see the far away visions of the seers of the race. These latter more than compensate for the bumps that come.

Sunday School Elects Officers

KEENE, Jan. 27 — (ENS). — The Sunday School executive of the United Church, Keene, held its annual meeting recently to elect officers for 1940. The financial report was read and it shows a nice balance on hand. It was decided to use "star memory certificates" for junior class and also pledge cards for the intermediate classes.

Report of the Primary Department was given by Mrs. Murray, the Home Department by Mrs. A. E. Fletcher, the King's Bank by Bill Millar, The librarian, W. E. Patterson, also gave his report. A committee was appointed to look after library books.

Mr. Murray took the chair for the election of officers, as follows:

Superintendent, David Edwards; assistants, William Drummond and A. Rennie; secretary-treasurer, Myrtle Patterson; Missionary superintendent, Mrs. Roy Kempt; Temperance superintendent, William Chapman; Home Department, Mrs. A. E. Fletcher; Cradle Roll superintendent, Mrs. A. Adamson; King's Bank, Bill Millar; librarian, W. E. Patterson; pianists, Lois Wright, Mrs. A. E. Fletcher; Primary superintendent, Mrs. Murray; paper librarian, Alexander Patterson; lantern operator, Donald Rennie. The teachers are all as in 1939.

Y. P. S. Meets.

The Young People's Society of the United Church, Keene, held a social evening. The meeting opened with a short worship service, led by the president, Betty Brown. A debate followed: Resolved, That a man in the city with a salary of $2,000 and a house paid for is better off than the farmer with a hundred acres of land, stock and implements paid for. The affirmative side was upheld by Marybelle Humphries and Tom Gall, the negative by June Graham and Arthur Elmhirst. The affirmative side were the winners. All enjoyed recreation and refreshments and the evening closed with the singing of "Blest be the tie that binds."

Plan To Mark Centenary Of Great Home Missionary

WINNIPEG, Man., Jan. 27.—To mark the centenary of a great chapter in the story of Canada Home Missions plans are now under way to honor the memory of James Evans whose contribution to missionary work among Canadian Indians is among the most noteworthy in the annals of Canadian church life.

A committe representing the whole of the United Church of Canada, with an executive made up of members resident in Manitoba is now working on the centenary celebration arrangements which will take place in June of this year.

The main celebration will be held at Norway House where James Evans invented an alphabet so simple that Indians, whose language had never been reduced to a written form, learned to read it in a few days. Norway House is 25 miles beyond the north shore of Lake Winnipeg, and approximately 350 miles north of Winnipeg.

It as in 1840 James Evans perfected a new alphabet for the Indians, using symbols for syllables, which later came to be known as the Cree Syllabix System. It is now in use on Indian reserves from the eastern slopes of the Rocky Mountains to the shores of Labrador. It has even penetrated into the inland reserves of British Columbia and the principle has been put to use in the foothills of Tibet.

Inventing the language symbols was only part of the task. Evans was confronted with the problem of printing. Since he was hundreds of miles away from a type foundry, he made his first type faces of wood, which he fashioned with a pocket-knife. Later he ran type in hand-made molds, of lead bullets and tea caddies. A mixture of fish oil and powdered charcoal served for ink, and a printing press was improvised from a fur press. Then with birch bark for paper he gave the gospel to the Indians in a form in which it could be read in their own language. He thus became the first printer in western Canada as well as the first missionary in northern Manitoba.

While James Evans centenary celebrations are proceeding at Norway House, simultaneous meetings will be held, so far as possible, at every Indian reserve where United Church missionaries are at work.

Special excursions are being planned from Winnipeg to Norway House for the celebration.

A permanent memorial to mark the centenary will take the form of a bursary for theological students of the United Church of Canada. Members and aherrents of the United Church will have opportunity of contributing to this special fund.

Fairview, Knox YPS Enjoy Debate

FAIRVIEW, Jan. 27—(ENS).—A very enjoyable evening was held on Tuesday at Fairview Church, when the young people entertained the Young People's Union of Knox United Church, Peterborough. A special feature of the program was a debate between the two societies for Presbytery honors. The debate was entitled: "Resolved, That the power of the press hould be demolished." Keith Harrison and Clarence Tully upheld the Fairview group and the Knox team won by a small margin. The judges were: Robert Spence of Lakefield, Fred Brown of Fairview, and Rev. V. E. R. Zufelt of Knox Church, Peterborough. The young people from the city enjoyed the sleigh drive out and the Fairview young people served a hot supper, which closed a very happy evening.

Fairview Young People have just completed a very large bale of clothing, bedding, books and many other articles, and have sent them to the Curve Lake Indian Reserve, for the need there is very great.

The regular meeting of Fairview Women's Association was held at the home of Mrs. Fred Bell. A quilt was finished during the afternoon for the Young People's bale. A pot-luck super was served and a hearty vote of thanks tendered the hostess by Mrs. William Fowler.

Highlights Of S.S. Lesson

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for January 28 is Matthew 21% 1-16, the Golden Text being Matt. 21:5. "Behold thy King cometh unto thee).

OUR LESSON today tells us of the only time Christ appeared in triumphal guise before the multitudes of the City of David—Jerusalem. He had spent a day and evening in the home of Mary, Martha and Lazarus, his good friends, in Bethany a quiet place not far from Jerusalem, where He could be with those who loved Him and whom He loved. Bethany was just over the top of the Mount of Olives, on the eastern slope, we are told, out of sight of Jerusalem.

Next day they started for Jerusalem, and came to Bethphage, a small village. Jesus called two of His disciples and said to them: "Go into the village that is over against you, and straightway ye shall find an ass tied, and a colt with her loose them, and bring them unto me. And if any one say aught unto you, ye shall say, The Lord hath need of them, and straightway he will send them."

Did as They Were Told.

The two disciples did as they were bid having all faith in Jesus. They found the ass as He said, and the colt, brought them to the Master, and taking off their upper garments, they laid them upon the animals. Jesus mounted and led the way into Jerusalem. The multitudes followed, casting their garments in His pathway, and others cutting palm leaves from the trees and strewing them also in His way. As the triumphal procession neared Jerusalem, the people cried, "Hosanna to the son of David: Blessed is He that cometh in the name of the Lord; Hosanna in the highest" Other multitudes came from the city asking excitedly, "Who is this?" And the others cried, "This is the prophet, Jesus, from Nazareth in Galilee."

Jesus rode to the temple, and when He reached there He found money changers, changing the Roman coins for old Jewish coins with which the people would pay their sacred tax, and sellers of doves. These money changers changed the money at a profit to themselves. The doves that were being sold were offerings of the poor. Jesus was angry at this desecration of the holy place, and cast them all out, overthrowing the tables of the money changers and the seats of those who sold doves, and saying: "It is written, My house shall be called a house of prayer; but ye make it a den of robbers."

Heals Blind and Lame.

"And the blind and lame came to Him in the temple," says Matthew, and He, forgetting His wrath and filled with compassion, healed them.

The chief priests and the scribes saw these wonderful things and heard the children crying in the temple. "Hosanna to the son of David," and were very indignant. "Hearest thou what these are saying?" they asked. Jesus answered them: "Yea: did ye never read, Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings thou hast perfected praise?"

The chief priests and scribes were supposed to know the laws and sayings by heart, to constantly be reading them so it was a rebuke when Jesus asked them if they had not read this saying. It told them that they professed to know the word of the law, but not the spirit of it. Then Jesus left the temple.

These events took place only a week before Jesus' trial and crucifixion. He had reminded His disciples of what was to come, you remember, in last week's lesson. But He could not make them understand. In the ways related in this lesson He proclaims His Messiahship: "Behold, thy King cometh unto thee.'

Jesus Proclaims His Messiahship ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Matthew 21:1-16

When Jesus and His disciples came to Bethphage, near Jerusalem, Jesus told two of His disciples to go into the town, find an ass tethered with her colt, and bring them to Him.

The disciples brought the colt and ass to Jesus, and put garments on them, and Jesus rode the ass while multitudes of people followed them, strewing palm leaves in their path.

When they came to Jerusalem all the people in the city were excited and asked, "Who is this?" And the people with Jesus said, "This is the prophet, Jesus, from Nazareth of Galilee."

Jesus came to the temple in Jerusalem and found men trading there; He drove them out, accusing them of making God's house a den of thieves. (GOLDEN TEXT—Matt. 21:5)

SATURDAY, JANUARY 27 1940

Too Much Haste

Rev. Walter George Brown, of Saskatoon, was elected member of parliament, and made the trip from his western home to Ottawa for the opening of the session. Being a new member, and not identified with existing parties, it became necessary for him to be introduced. He was ushered up the aisle by Miss Macphail and J. S. Woodsworth. He bowed to the Speaker and shook hands. And that was the extent of Mr. Brown's parliamentary experience and adventure. Before he had a chance to do much more than have a look about the chamber and find out who were to be his desk mates it was all over. Mr. Brown had been ushered into a House which became alive and died on the same day.

We mention the case of Mr. Brown to indicate how quickly events moved at Ottawa on the 25th of January in the year 1940. It never happened so rapidly before. In 1911 the House adjourned Friday to meet on Monday, but Sir Wilfrid Laurier obtained dissolution on Saturday at noon. In 1926 the Meighen Government was defeated at 2 o'clock in the morning and adjourned until 3. When members returned they found the doors locked and Parliament dead. That case was not at all like the present. Mr. Meighen could not command a majority; Mr. King had a tremendous majority.

Prime Minister King preferred to lay the whole thing at the door of the Ontario Legislature because from that assembly had come a vote of censure. But that vote of censure had been scantily supported. Sixty per cent. of the Liberal members had not voted at all or had voted against the resolution of censure. Our belief is that Liberals generally had resented it. It may be that Ottawa looks too much at Toronto and misses the spaces in between. At best it was not a strong reason nor yet a sufficiently deep cause for folding up the works and going to the country.

Mr. King argued too that it would be better to have one campaign than two. By that he meant that the session of the House which was ahead would be controversial, based on the knowledge that an election was coming soon, and for that reason the speech-making might just as well take place on the hustings and be done with by the time a new parliament had been elected.

Nor is that so good. There have been many charges bandied about the country; there have been complaints about patronage, regarding the furnishing of clothing for soldiers, the placing of contracts, etc. We believe it would have been advisable for responsible ministers to have dealt with such matters while they were in a House governed by rules of debate, and where factual evidence would be in existence to substantiate or deny wild assertion.

As matters stand at the moment—and as they will stand during the campaign—there has been no official voice raised to pass on any of these questions and charges. The campaigners are at liberty to trail them before the country as best suits their purpose. They will be made and they will be denied, and there will be no official on hand with a sheaf of documents to present the plain facts. It would have been better for his own interest had Mr. King kept the House together until there could have been a plain accounting of his stewardship in war days laid officially before the people.

Creating a New Post

One of the last appointments made by the King Government was the naming of Major-General L. R. LaFleche as Military Attache to the Canadian Legation at Paris.

Major-General LaFleche was formerly Deputy Minister of National Defence, serving under Hon. Ian Mackenzie, deposed Minister of Defence, and now listed as acting-Deputy Minister under Hon. Norman Rogers. He was rather much toward the front in the Bren gun inquiry and admittedly his conduct at that time was not of that variety which could have been termed frank and helpful in the pursuit of any inquiry for facts.

Major-General LaFleche was granted sick leave some time ago, and Ottawa reports him as being still in that condition, adding that this leave has been extended to enable him to go to his new post in France.

Never before has Canada had such attaches at the Paris legation or elsewhere. We are informed the duties of the new appointee will be to inform the National Defence Minister about military developments on the front and the French war effort.

It all looks too much like trying to make certain that the man is retained in government service. If he were considered a high-ranking public servant at Ottawa as Deputy Minister of Defence, it is reasonable to assume he would be retained right there. If his health is not good then it will not be improved by sending him to a post in Paris.

That Was Five Years Ago

George S. Henry, formerly premier of Ontario, now sitting as a private member in opposition, has had opportunity to observe much. One way or another he has been in the Legislature for something like 27 years, going there first as the result of a by-election in 1913.

He made a few observations recently on what difference a few years can make in the fortunes or standings of people who have entered the Legislature. He was thinking and speaking of the tie which used to bind Arthur Roebuck and M. F. Hepburn, but which binds them no more. Mr. Hepburn took Mr. Roebuck to pieces the other day, and accused him of everything from distorting justice to taking a "cut" from an insurance company in return for a license.

Mr. Henry harked back to the days when Ontario was getting ready to repudiate its Quebec power contracts, and Mr. Roebuck had been selected as the spear-head of the movement. That was when he made his famous speech on Hydro, and it has since been asserted that Lewis Duncan collected $16,000 for gathering together facts on which the address was based. That speech has been referred to as famous, and it attained that standing because it lasted for nine hours.

Mr. Henry recalls that was five years ago and Mr. Roebuck was loudly applauded and there were many Liberals patting him on the back, and among them was Mr. Hepburn. Mr. Henry remembers him as having been chief patter on that occasion. Undoubtedly a man who sits in an assembly for 27 years has a good seat from which to witness men as they pass from favor to disfavor, and from caresses to hisses.

Is There a Stalemate?

One well-informed British writer makes the plain statement that he believes the Allies and Germans are held in nothing short of a stalemate on the western front. "The Germans know they cannot break through the Maginot Line, and the Allies feel the same about the Siegfried Line."

His claim is that neither side is willing to make what would be regarded as a frontal attack, and the reason is there is so little hope of success and so certain to be a tremendous loss of troops.

It is explained these lines are not at all like the entrenchments which existed during the previous war. That was pretty much the beginning of trench warfare on an extended scale, but it was hurriedly done. That form of warfare will doubtless be used again, but it is entirely foreign to the design and extent of those opposing fortifications in France and Germany. They have taken years in the making; there was no undue haste in their construction; when military engineers found something that was better it was incorporated. Even with the known strength of these positions provision has been made in case an opposing army did break through at first. The defensive work, the traps in the rear, the extent of mines, are beyond belief. They have been tested by experimental bombing and can stand any amount of it, nor will they wither or break under shell fire.

The writer in Britain says that is why this war has settled down to one of waiting on land, and has caused intense activity at sea, because the sea means food and supplies. It is process of trying to wear down the ability of a nation to live and feed and support its people. At the moment the British navy is bearing the full brunt of that war. The idea of a complete stalemate is not entirely new. It has been advanced before and more has been heard of it in recent days. People who are fond of uttering that rather foolish plea about "let us get on with the war" have probably never seen those two opposing lines between France and Germany.

Should Never Be Done

The affairs of the Lake Sulphide Co. were discussed by a special committee of the Ontario Legislature. Had the company succeeded we take it there would have been no reason for an inquiry, but the venture collapsed. And rather badly.

Col. George Drew wanted Hon. Peter Heenan to furnish the names of the men who assured him they had something like two and a-half million dollars to put into the project. Mr. Heenan, as Minister of Lands and Forests, said he preferred not to give the names as they had been furnished to him in confidence. He did not consider the names of these men important, but agreed that if the ruling of the chairman was that the names be divulged then he would abide by that ruling.

That is hardly good enough. Not frank enough. When Hon. Peter Heenan was making a deal which involved the use of even one acre of the timber wealth of Ontario he was transacting public business. We can think of no good reason why the names of the people who wanted to do business with the people of Ontario through their Minister of Lands and Forests should not be made known, and it ought not to be necessary to urge that such names be placed before a committee of the Legislature.

Mr. Heenan has seen a good deal of public life, and he must know that the moment he hedges on giving out such information he is creating the impression that there is something he would like to cover up. Closing the door and whispering behind the hand is about the poorest way possible for dealing with public business.

Evidence Of Murder

When Vatican City reports on the way Germany is treating the people in Poland we are inclined to believe it. The method of securing information there is thorough; they know the priests and others in Poland; know exactly where they are—or were—stationed. Poland is just one part of the large world parish over which the Vatican maintains care and supervision.

When the Vatican furnishes a list of priests who have been shot by the Germans we believe it.

When the Vatican says at Bydgoszcz several hundred Poles were put to death, while at another point on market day five young people were shot before the eyes of the crowd there is no reason to believe it is not the truth. At Koscian the local curate and 48 representatives of the Polish people were shot in the mraket place.

The Abbot and fourteen children were shot in the market place at Zablocki. At another place 123 Polish students, some of whom were 12 to 13 years of age, were placed before a firing squad.

That is the German method of dealing with a people who are for the present conquered. The purpose is to impress upon them fear of doing anything which might displease their conquerors. It has been German policy in all the territory invaded. It was the same in Austria and the same in Czecho-Slovakia. It is the working out of the same policy or state of mind which caused Hitler in the earlier days of his Nazi regime to purge his ranks of followers and leaders with whom he did not agree.

The whole business explains as well as can anything why the Allies are at war today with Germany. Even the lives of children are not safe and that is one of the first laws of civilization. The carefully secured and verified evidence in possession of the Vatican is sufficient to prove to any reasonable individual that there is a form of uniformed murder in existence today, and with it the decent section of the world cannot live in safety.

NOTE AND COMMENT

At a civic banquet in St. Thomas the new flying school there was toasted. That's the same school which was roasted by Mr. Hepburn a few days ago.

J. A. McLeod, president of the Bank of Nova Scotia, said a great deal in a few words: "There is no easy way to finance war."

This year's best snow drift story goes to the writer at Goderich who tells of a farmer buried in a drift while standing on top of a load of hay.

Toronto expects a two-mills increase in the tax rate, and at election time Toronto was so busy talking about communists and the assessment of the Mayor's home that the size of the anticipated tax rate never got a hearing.

SILENCED

(By A.R.K.)

¶ In zero time I think of days, when sun like heated brass would blaze, and when there was no breeze; I used to long for winter then, although I'd join with feeble men, who'd shiver much and sneeze.

¶ At night I'd kick the covers off, and at the heated air I'd scoff, say things I shouldn't ought; and my remarks were much the same, I'd always bellow and complain, that I was much too hot.

¶ I sat beneath my basswood tree, exhausted as a man could be, yearned for a change quite soon; if I began quite fresh in morn, to hill my spuds and hoe the corn, why I'd be bushed by noon.

¶ I was not grateful for the heat, that shoved along the things I'd eat, did nothing but complain; I used to wonder in the morn, if soon there'd come a thunder storm, and bring a cooling rain.

¶ I said I'd welcome winter time, laugh at the blast that smote my spine, I'd romp in banks of snow; I'd feel as frisky as a pup, in morning time when I'd get up, and I'd be set to go.

¶ And so when I freeze up my nose, feel zero winds sift through my clothes, and shiver quite a bit; I can't complain of ice and snow, 'cause all the folk around well know—I really asked for it.

FIVE YEARS AGO

THE Ottawa Journal has either a good memory or a good clipping and filing service. We quote:

How easily Premier Hepburn can change his mind. In 1935 at Port Arthur he said in a speech

"We want men at the helm who have vision, statesmanship, and all those qualities that we need so badly today. Canada needs King! I SAY THAT BECAUSE I SAT UNDER HIM FOR EIGHT YEARS. I KNOW THE CALIBRE OF MAN HE IS."

On Thursday last in the Legislature Mr. Hepburn said:

"Mackenzie King has not done his duty by his country, and he never will. IT ISN'T IN HIM. I sat with him at Ottawa for eight years, and I know him."

Getting Food To Germany

FORTRA is the name of the new German organization operating in United States to send food supplies to Germany. The extent of its operations has not been previously revealed in full. Previously mail service had been used, but so much of the goods fell into the hands of the British sea patron that this was abandoned. Now they have devised a clever radio system of sending supplies into Germany which as worked so well that it is now said to be a $1,000,000 a year business.

This new organization in the United States is named "Fortra." Operators of Fortra, who have "cheerfully revealed their identity," according to a story in The New York Times, are officials detached for the purpose from the staffs of the Hamburg-America and the North German Lloyd Steamship Lines, with head offices in New York. The slogan of this organization, according to President T. E. Kessemeier, is "Butter by Wireless."

So well is it working, that an announcement comes from London that the ministry of economic warfare has "formed a plan to halt German-American sympathizers cabling United States dollars to the Netherlands for food purchases to be shipped into Germany. The ministry states that food takes about one-quarter of the money sent across and that the remainder goes into Germany's foreign exchange reserve. Details of the plan were not revealed.

According again, to Mr. Kessemeier, resident manager of the Lloyd-Hapag at Philadelphia, and the vice-president, H. Mullenbrock, general American passenger agent of Lloyd-Hapag, Fortra has agencies in New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Atlanta, Cincinnati, Cleveland, St. Louis, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Seattle, Council Bluffs, Detroit, Buffalo. This, they said, was merely the nucleus of what the organization would be.

Under the Fortra system packages of foodstuffs may be purchased in the United States, the orders radioed to the Netherlands where the food is bought and then shipped into Germany. Here are the two most popular packages: Four pounds of butter, three pounds of Holland cheese, a pound of evaporated milk, half a pound of coffee, half a pound of cocoa. The price of this parcel is $8.50. The second parcel contains four pounds of butter, two pounds of Holland cheese, a pound of evaporated milk. The price is $6.70. For this price Fortra undertakes to pay all costs of cabling, duties, handling and mailing, plus all overhead.

The receiver has nothing to do but sign a receipt. Under special orders issued by Hitler these packages may not be sent to soldiers (because it would create distinctions among them) and only one such parcel may be sent to a German resident per month "for fear of the effect it would have on his less fortunate neighbors."

Under special Nazi provisions receipt of these parcels does not reduce the amount of food a German resident receives on his ration cards.

"Humanitarian Job"

PRESIDENT KESSEMEIER explained to The New York Times this was "a humanitarian job," for the nourishment of the civil population. No member of the staff of Fortra is paid any higher salary than he was getting as a member of the staff of the North German Lloyd or the Hamburg-America Lines.

Commenting on the success of his organization the president stated that to date 30,000 parcels had been "laid down in Germany." Fortra was, he said, collecting American dollars in all its branches, in payment for these packages. All the butter, cheese, cocoa and coffee is bought actually in Holland "or some other adjacent neutral country." The food packages are never in the mails so that there is some point to President Kessemeier's remark: "That's why it is so foolish for Mr. Churchill to interfere with the United States mails ...."

On payment in America, the beneficiary's name and address and style of package is wirelessed to Germany. Then Fortra's purchasing agents in Holland get busy, buy the foods wholesale and ship them to Bremen. At Bremen the packages are individually addressed and put in the German mails. Officials of the organization, obviously pleased with the success of their work, predicted it would rapidly expand and indicated it was doing a good deal to ease the situation in Germany.

All of this explains why the British ministry of economic warfare is concerned about this new food "racket" in contraband. Of what use is the sea blockade unless the leaks can be stopped? The same sort of think took place in the last war, only in those days the food was actually shipped across the Atlantic into Dutch ports. Eventually the British risked the displeasure of all neutrals and seized this contraband. Germany's unrestricted warfare was a sequence to this tightening of the British blockade. The eventual conclusion was intervention by the United States.

• Another Big Bertha On The Way?

AT THE END of March, 1918, baffling explosions took place in Paris. Those who lived in the French capital during that time have recorded the bewildering experience. At first there seemed to be no logical explanation of the bursts. The Germans were a long way from the city and planes were not dropping bombs.

Cause of the trouble was "Big Bertha," a gun developed by Krupp that hurled shells from the forest of Coucy into Paris, a distance of 76 miles. Well camouflaged by trees, and set on railway equipment, this giant piece of artillery opened up on March 23. For over 140 days it fired, killing 256 people.

The damages to morale was slight after the first day, but on Good Friday, March 29, 156 persons were killed or wounded in the Church of St. Gervais. The Germans heard about it, ceased firing until the funeral of the victims was over.

"Big Bertha" is now recalled by the rumor that the Germans are developing long-range artillery with which they not only hope to shatter the Magmot Line, but, if they can cut through to the channel ports, bombard Britain.

This gun may, it is rumored, fire 100 miles. As yet there is no substantiation of it, and, like the other "secret" weapons, it is not giving the Allied morale any serious jolt.—Hamilton Spectator.

NOTHING DONE

WHERE is a more utterly wasted life than that of Henry Scrivens—a man who has spent 44 of his 78 years behind the grey walls of the South Carolina Penitentiary? The humblest of free men can look back at things accomplished, even if it is only ditches dug or streets swept clean. No matter how ill the world has rewarded them, such men can look upon the face of the earth and say "Here are the marks of the labor of my hands." That is something. Many believe it is everything. But the Scrivenses, thousands of them, have cheated themselves of the soundest satisfaction life offers. Therein lies their tragedy.—Victoria Times.

NAZI TRIBUTE

WHAT can hardly be appreciated by the friends and admirers of the late Senator Borah, is the tribute paid to his memory by the Nazi press of Germany. He is remembered as a friend of the Nazis and one who often upheld the German point of view. The Nazi news agency goes out of its way to pay tribute to Senator Borah, who, it will be remembered, bitterly opposed changing the neutrality law of the United States so that the cash-and-carry system might be instituted by the British and French. It is not to be wondered at that he held the admiration of the Nazis. Fostering the isolationist sentiment in the United States is part and parcel of the Nazi game and strategy.—St. Catharines Standard.

Unfortunate

Moran—Say, how did you get that scar under your eye.

Van—I got that for kissing the bride after the ceremony.

Van—Yeah....but this was two years after the ceremony.

A Bit of Nonsense

Why Not?

Little Dora, aged seven, is extremely precocious for her years. She is, also inordinately fond of her maternal grandfather, who resides with her parents.

"Mummy," she said, when a fashionable wedding was being discussed, "when I've grown up I shall marry grand-dad."

Her mother told her that such a union would be illegal and finished up by saying: "Well, in any case, I couldn't allow you to marry my father."

"Wh not, mum?" queried the precocious one. "You married mine, didn't you?"

Absolute Accuracy

Traveller: "How do you know their exact age?"

Guide: "A geologist studied them four months ago and he told me they were 2,000,000 years old then."

Embarrassing

The lesson was on the power and effect of wind.

"As I was coming to school today," said the very pretty teacher, "the bus door opened, and something came softly in and kissed me on the cheek. Can you tell me what it was?"

"The conductor!" came the prompt and unanimous reply.

A Bible Message For Today . . . .

When Jesus came into the coasts of Caesarea Philippi, he asked his disciples, saying, Whom do men say that I the Son of man am? And they said, Some say that thou art John the Baptist; some, Elias, and others, Jeremias, or one of the prophets. He saith unto them, But whom say ye that I am?

And Simon Peter answered and said, Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God. And Jesus answered and said unto him, Blessed art thou, Simon Bar-jona: for flesh and blood hath not revealed it unto thee, but my Father which is in heaven. And I say also unto thee, That thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build my church; and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it.—Matt. xvi, 13-18.

IS THE WAR STILL ON?

THE OTHER DAY, a young man marched into the Calgary recruiting office, intent on joining the army. Already, in his mind's eye, he was wearing battle dress. But he could not join the army. They had no place for him; they had no place for thousands more like him in Alberta. "Oh!" he said, in a burst of disappointment, "is the war still on?"

There are a lot of disappointed young men in Alberta. There are between 4,000 and 5,000 young men in this province who are desperately anxious to join up. And there are as many more who are willing to join, and are only waiting for the call.

Every day, they walk into the recruiting office, only to get turned back. Some say: "That's a funny thing!" And others, stung to bitterness: "Maybe when they want me, they won't get me!"—Calgary Herald.

SENSIBLE RULING

THE Supreme Court of Canada has ruled that it is within the right of the Parliament of Canada to abolish appeals to the Privy Council—traditional "foot of the Throne."

The news columns have reported the legal argument and the reasons for the decision. It is sufficient here to say that the law as interpreted by the majority of the court conforms with common sense.

If our Parliament were to ask the the Imperial Parliament for an amendment to the British North America Act in the matter of Privy Council appeals it would be granted as a matter of course. What this decision means is that the red tape of such an application can be cut. The Canadian Parliament can make its own decision in this question of purely domestic concern, and that is as it should be.—Ottawa Journal.

Even M.P. Called In To Help Award Caretaker's Job In Millbrook

MILLBROOK, Jan. 27.—(ENS)—The contract for caretaker of the new Post Office, which it is expected will be ready for occupation by the end of March, has been awarded to Albert Muspratt, who took over his now duties this week, at a salary of $430.00 per year.

There were 16 applications for the post, and the Liberal committee, consisting of W. T. Wood, chairman, H. C. Lord, C. B. Sutton, secretary, B. Raper and J. L. Byam, held more than one meeting before final decision was reached and even Frank Rickard, M.P. for Durham, was in the village more than once, meeting the committee in connection with the choice of caretaker.

Mr. Muspratt has for some time had one of the rural mail routes, and since Lloyd Peel's enlistment, had taken over the drawing of His Majesty's mail to and from the trains each day.

Mrs. Alex Miller Hostess

Mrs. Alex Miller was hostess for the January meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of Grace Presbyterian church, held at her home on Thursday at 3 p.m., with the president, Mrs. J. R. Thompson, in the chair.

The leader opened with a poem, "Another Year", and all repeated in unison Psalm 103, after which Mrs. Thompson led in prayer, and the roll was answered with "Some new ideas and suggestions for making money in our society this year."

It was decided to continue the use of the 'holiday bags' and the treasurer reported total for 1939, $601.76; expenditures $411.09; balance in bank $196.67. Visiting committees were appointed, including Mrs. S. E. Eakins for the west end of the village, and Mrs. W. C. Thorndyke, east.

Committees for the year are: Property, Mrs. R. J. McMahon; knives and forks, Mrs. J. R. Thompson; spoons; Mrs. A. Coyte; Manse, Mrs. S. E. Eakins, Mrs. Thorndyke and Mrs. Miller. An Irish supper will be held on Wednesday, March 13, the seventeenth coming on Sunday this year.

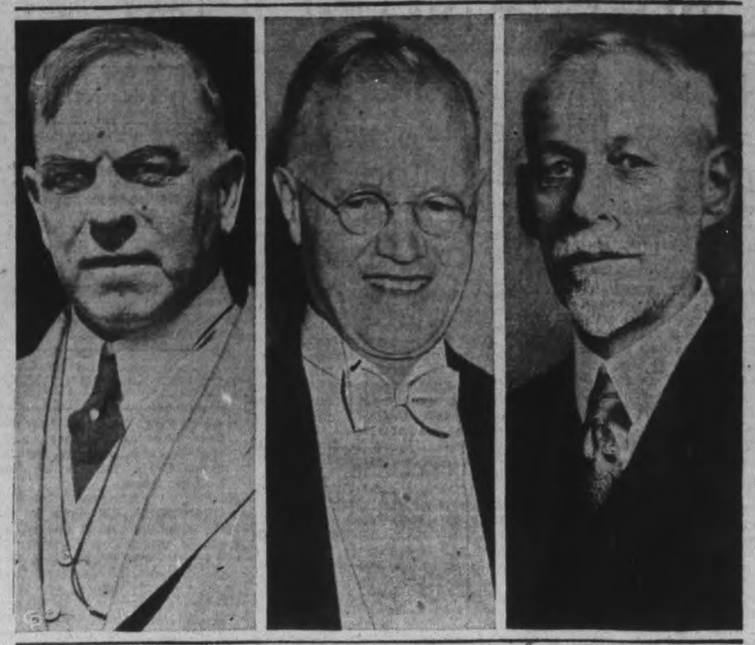
Friends of Mrs. R. H. Edmunds, Sr., will regret to learn that she had the misfortune to fall while coming down stairs in her home on Monday morning, breaking her left ankle.

The Millbrook Agricultural Society will hold its annual meeting on Wednesday, January 31, in the Town Hall, at 2 p.m., at the call of the president and secretary, L. W. Larmer, and J. N. McGill, respectively.

Samples of articles to be made are on display at the work rooms, and there is plenty of wool on hand for the knitters. A statement that the Red Cross sells its socks is emphatically denied.

Bitter Campaign Expected As Parliament Dissolved



MACKENZIE KING R. J. MANION J. S. WOODSWORTH

History was made in Ottawa when the sixth session of the eighteenth parliament of Canada was dissolved four hours after its opening, and the political parties of the Dominion are preparing for what may be one of the bitterest election campaigns in the history of Canada. Although Premier King announced that he proposed to call an immediate election before the end of March, the immediate order of dissolution came as a distinct shock to the capital. Conservative Leader Manion and C.C.F. Leader Woodsworth bitterly assailed the Premier for his decision of calling an immediate election. Dr. Manion charged Mr. King with engineering "a political trick that is just a disgraceful sneering at the traditions of Canada and British Empire.

Roof Blown Off

London, Jan. 27 (CP)

A terrific explosion at the power station at Iriam, Lancashire, today cut off power of the townships of Irlam and Cadishead. Officials said they had no suspicion of sabotage.

The entire roof of the building, 60 by 45 feet, was blown away by the blast and debris blocked a nearby railway. Fire followed the explosion. No casualties were reported.

Police said the explosion may have been caused by faulty electrical apparatus.

Relations Report May Be Upsetting

OTTAWA, Jan. 27 — (CP).—The disposition of the report of the Royal Commission on Dominion-Provincial relations, likely to be in the hands of the government about the middle of February, is just one of the problems raised by sudden dissolution of Parliament.

The government was understood to have intended placing the report in the hands of mmbers of Parliament and the Provincial governments preliminary to discussion of its many recommendations. Now there are many pros and cons raised on the question of subjecting the report to the storms of a bitter election campaign.

If the report is withheld until after an election it might be given more considered treatment, it is suggested on one hand. On the other, the Government might be accused of suppressing a possibly embarassing document if it did not release the report as soon as received.

'Cheerful Nun' Dies

TORONTO, Jan. 27. — (CP) — Mother M. Wilfreda, 74, widely-known as the "Cheerful Nun," died at Loretta College here yesterday following a stroke suffered a few days ago. She entered religious life in 1886 and specialized in music, teaching students in convents at Niagara Falls, Ont., Stratford, Quelph, Chicago and Joliette.

He Won't Marry Even For Million

OKANAGAN FALLS, B.C., Jan. 27.—(CP).—Major Hugh N. Fraser, Interior British Columbia rancher and heir to nearly $1,500,000, would rather remain single than marry in order to collect the money.

He said his father, John Burns Fraser, a former president of the Bank of Nova Scotia who died at Ottawa Nov. 2, left half his estate, valued at nearly $3,000,000, to Major Fraser in trust until he marries. If he dies a bachelor, his share goes to his brother, Lieut.-Col. John D. Fraser, the other principal beneficiary under the will.

Interviewed to-day, Major Fraser, widely known as "the Squire of Okanagan Falls," said he has no intention of leaving here, and "will try and not marry." He said he will receive the income from his share of the estate.

Major Fraser joined the Governor-General's Foot Guards shortly after the outbreak of the last war and served one year with the Second Battalion. He was a prisoner of war for two years and in 1919 came here. He operates a 1,000-acre ranch.

155-Mile Bertha Taken Calmly

LONDON, Jan. 27—(CP Cable).—Under the heading, "Germans invent bigger Bertha," the Daily Telegraph reported today that the Nazis have a gun capable of firing a 66-pound projectile 155 miles.

If such a super-gun actually has been developed and if the Germans could seize one of the Dutch islands in the Scheldt River estuary, they might be able to bombard London and other parts of the United Kingdom.

Militarists here were not perturbed by the report which came from the newspaper's Brussels correspondent. They pointed out that the life of such a gun is extremely short and would be extremely costly to manufacture. It would be difficult to transport and could be fired only with approximate accuracy.

The correspondent said the superbig Bertha's barrel is 115 to 118 feet long and fires shells with an initial velocity of 5,905.5 feet per second.

The mammoth projectile would reach an altitude of 37 miles and travel 12 miles into the stratosphere before falling to earth.

Stenographers' Jobs Start, End Same Day In Bewildering Hello-Goodbye Session

They hung up their hats in the sessional stenographers' pool yesterday morning. They sat down at their typewriters and prepared to answer summons from members to take care of parliamentary correspondence for at least three months.

But their jobs began and ended the same day.

Rather than lose their standing on the sessional list many of the girls resigned their jobs to come from all parts of Canada to Ottawa. The salary is from $4 to $5 a day, depending on the number of sessions the girl has worked. Normally it is worthwhile for a girl to give up a small-salaried position for the several months" work at the House of Commons.

There were varied discussions among those "out-of-work" as they chatted among themselves over morning coffee. Few had any future plans after the sudden "Hello-and-Goodbye" day on Parliament Hill.

When the House of Commons met in an emergency six-day session last Fall, stenographers were called in only from Ottawa and towns nearby. But this being a regular session, stenographers, many of them for the first time, were signed from the Pacific and Atlantic and the Prairie provinces.

Girls were affected in the Senate stenographers' pool too. Since the Senate adjourned immediately following the speech from the throne, most girls finished their jobs without starting.

Seventeen unemployed girls are left in the Hansard reporters' rooms. Several of these girls are from Toronto and one of the sessional workers cut a holiday short in California to return for the session.

Officials say in former years when adjournment of the House has cut sessions unnaturally short, recognition has been made for the "out-of-pocket" expenses. No decision of this sort has yet been made for this occasion.

Convalescing After Sickness

After many severe illnesses, or serious operations, the patient is very often left in an extremely weak, nervous, run down and exhausted condition.

To all those convalescents who need some kind of a tonic to strengthen and build up the weakened system we would recommend Milburn's Health and Nerve Pills to assist them back to the full enjoyment of their previous robust health.

These Pills supply the very elements so necessary to build up the shattered nervous system, and bring back bodily strength and vigor.

Why Use A "Sissy" Laxative?

Chronic constipation has to do with the colon or large intestine. Unless the large bowel is thoroughly emptied from time to time you become a victim of chronic constipation and poisoning of the system which results in colitis or other serious diseases.

Mild or "sissy" laxatives merely cause a movement of the bowels without effecting a thorough cleaning out of the colon or large bowel. For this reason you are misled into thinking that you are doing all you can to overcome a constipated and poisoned condition of the system.

Those who know Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills appreciate the value of a real medicine which not only effects a thorough cleansing of the colon or large bowel but also arouses the liver and kidneys to activity in filtering poisons from the blood.

Once you have proven the merits of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills you will never return to the use of "sissy" laxatives. Used regularly once a week this medicine ensures pure blood and freedom from constipation and the pains, aches and serious diseases which accompany it.

Mrs. Roy Laing Honored By W. A.

The home of Mrs. Janet Foster on Wolfe Street was the scene of a happy gathering on Thursday evening, when forty members of the Women's Association of Knox Church met to do honor to one of their number, Mrs. Roy Laing, who is retiring from the office of treasurer, which she has held for the past ten years.

Mrs. Laing was taken very much by surprise when Mrs. Foster read an address expressing the deep appreciation of the members for the years of service so faithfully and cheerfully given in her office as treasurer, and stressing the fact that Mrs. Laing, when "asked to go a mile, was always willing to go two." A handsome occasional chair was presented to Mrs. Laing on behalf of the members by Mrs. (Rev.) V. E. R. Zufelt. Mrs. Laing expressed her thanks to the members, and told of the pleasure she had experienced in thus being able to serve her church and fellow members, and asked for her successor, Mrs. J. Londerville, the same co-operation she had always received.

Games of Chinese checkers were played by some of the members, while others were busy with knitting needles and socks.

Tea was poured by Mrs. H. Trotter. The table was lovely with a lace cloth and a silver basket filled with daffodils.

"Ministers' Night" Is Novel Program Feature

"Ministers' Night" is a novel annual feature of St. James' United Church Auxiliary, introduced by Mrs. W. Rose, the progressive and wide-awake president, and arranged co-operatively by the pastor, Rev. F. W. Craik. Last year saw the inception of this interesting and unusual program.

Rev. Mr. Craik presided as chairman, and led the worship service. Mrs. Craik read the Scripture lesson. The aim of such a program is quite obvious, as all stories of successful achievement must be an influence for good especially with a missionary-inclined audience and in view of present world conditions.

The speakers last night included Mrs. (Adjutant) Buckley of the Salvation Army, who told an appealing message of her early training and preparation for Christian service, of which her present post and sphere of activity is confirmation.

Rev. C. C. Boyter of Park Street Baptist Church and Rev. M. C. Parr of George Street United Church told the eloquent and moving story of their call to the ministry, each in his own inimitable and persuasive manner. In both cases their successful careers bear testimony of the reality of the call and of the power of Christ in the human life.

An extract from a letter from Rev. Charles Kitney of Northern British Columbia completed the messages on this "Ministers' Night."

A fine musical program complemented the splendid addresses and included the duet, "Have You Been in the Garden With Jesus?" by Mrs. G. Batley and Mrs. C. Corbett, of Park Street Baptist Church, while Mrs. R. C. Braund, of the Salvation Army, sang in sweet voice, "Living Near the Cross," and in a piano solo, Mrs. M. C. Parr played the ever wonderful "Glory Song."

The appreciation of the local W.M.S. workers was expressed to the visiting speakers and musicians by Mrs. F. McAdam.

Mrs. H. F. Doig was the accompanist for the evening, which came to a successful conclusion with prayer offered by the president, Mrs. W. Rose.

Refreshments were served in the dining room, where the table was covered with a lace cloth and centred with a graceful arrangement of cut flowers in a crystal bowl. Green tapers in silver holders were used. Mrs. M. Weir was in charge of refreshments and was assisted in serving by Mrs. J. Lush, Mrs. C. Morrow, Miss E. McCormick, Mrs. Wishart, Mrs. Brethour, Mrs. Gilmour and Mrs. Rattenbury.

Mr. Fred Skitch was in charge of community singing, with Mr. Gilmour at the piano. Prizes were presented by Mrs. E. W. Young as follows: 1st, Mr. F. Skitch (skip), Mrs.

Nicholls Hospital Marks Golden Jubilee In Its Present Building

One of the most interesting ceremonies ever performed in Peterborough took place fifty years ago tomorrow on January 28, 1890, when the then Nicholls Hospital building was formally handed over to the City of Peterborough, coupled with the munificent gift of $36,000, by Mrs. Charlotte Jane Nicholls. In the daily Examiner of that date it was described as "a magnificent structure with its complete equipment and appliance for the relief of the afflicted and the healing of the sick."

The day the hospital was opened was beautifully bright and pleasant, and the files of fifty years ago tell us that streets were lined with equipages as almost the entire town turned out for the ceremony. The hospital building itself was "in festal attire, with flags floating brightly from different salient points."

"Mr. Richard Hall, chairman of the Hospital Trust, escorted Mrs. Nicholls into a room at the hospital which contained a company, including the several ministers of the town; the trustees of the hospital; several of the physicians; the members of Parliament, Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., and Mr. Jas. Stevenson, M.P., represented by His Honor, Judge Weller, who, after announcing that he had been requested by Mrs. Nicholls to preside on the occasion, called upon Rev. P. Clifton Parker, who opened the proceedings with prayer. A series of brief addresses were given by Rev. Mr. Bell, Rev. J. C. Davidson, Rev. Mr. Shorey, Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., Dr. Pife and Dr. J. T. S. Halliday."

One striking feature of the new hospital was the magnificent memorial window in the main entrance, erected by the trustees of the hospital in memory of the late Robt. Nicholls and in honor of his wife, the donor of the hospital building and grounds. The size of the window is 4 feet in breadth and 7 feet in height, and the subject of the beautiful picture that composes the window is our Lord's pathetic parable of the Good Samaritan.

The first superintendent of the hospital was Miss H. Dalby, a graduate of Dr. Mack's hospital at St. Catharines, which was the first training shool in Canada. Members of the first graduating class, containing the imposing number of four, were Miss V. Dixon, Miss Boyle, Miss Praunde and Miss William.

On the Hospital Medical staff in 1890 were Dr. Fife, Dr. Kincaid, Dr. King, Dr. Bell, Dr. J. T. S. Halliday, Dr. R. P. Boucher, Dr. Pidgeon.

The first trustees, appointed by Charlotte Jane Nicholls, were representatives of each of the city's churches, Richard Hall, chairman, and Mrs. Robt. S. Davidson, representative of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church; Wm. Manson and John McLelland, St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church; George A. Cox, Charlotte Street Methodist; James Stratton, Murray Street Baptist Church; Alfred P. Poussett, honorary secretary, St. John's Church; ames A. Stevenson, appointed as Mayor of the town of Peterborough.

Generous as this gift appeared at the time, however, hospital requirements have continued to grow with the city, and fifty years later it has become imperative that a new wing be added within the next year or two if Nicholls Hospital is to continue adequately serving the ever-increasing needs of Peterborough.

St. Joseph's Hospital Ball Among Season's Gayest Parties

One of the gayest of the season's parties was the annual ball of St. Joseph's Hospital Alumnae Friday night in the Canadian Legion Hall. Decking the ball room were streamers of red, white and blue, and bright gowns of pretty girls against the formal black attire of their escorts made an interesting pattern of color as couples whirled to the music of Jimmie Duffus' orchestra. Coffee was served at midnight, and afterwards noisemakers, streamers, amusing paper hats and myriads of colored balloons gave the party a "New Year's eve" atmosphere. A spot dance was won by Miss Kathleen Killoran and "Curly" Donoghue, and Mrs. James McCormick won the birthday dance.

Patrons and patronesses were Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Fitzpatrick, Dr. and Mrs. C. M. Scott, Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Honey, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. LeBlanc, Mr. and Mrs. C. Wolff and Mrs. D. J. Fitzgerald.

Art Club Members Hear Of The Art of Weaving

Weaving, an art with a beginning that is lost in antiquity, was the fascinating subject of an informal talk given by Mrs. Dawson Kennedy of Toronto before members of the Women's Art Association Friday afternoon in the Y. W. C. A. Green Room, during a demonstration on various types of looms. Mrs. Kennedy was assisted by Miss Norah Clarry of Toronto, a niece of Miss Mabel Clarry of this city.

Generally speaking, we have assumed that the first weaving was probably done with rushes, and later with twisted wool, Mrs. Kennedy explained. She described weaving as a natural instinct, "Give a child the materials and he will instinctively commence to plait or weave," she said.

Too many people think of weaving as a type of hobby—weaving is not a subject we can discard as a hobby, but an amazing art, the speaker remarked as she described the treatmarked as she described the treatment of wool from the time it left looms and became the subject of a thousand marvelous designs.

Interesting things that can be done with combinations of thread, such as a silk background and a cashmere top, giving the softness of cashmere but the strength of silk, or a linen background and wool top, were demonstrated by several beautiful hand-woven pieces.

Mrs. Kennedy believes that weaving in the schools is one of the most character forming subjects there are. It requires a great deal of patience; the child achieves something for his work and teaches him appreciation of fabrics, which will help him to know to look for when he has a home of his own. The Scandinavians, she said, which are the most forward race on the face of the earth, teach weaving in their schools and subsidize it in their homes.

Mrs. Kennedy was presented by Mrs. Fred Hooper, president of the Art Association. Mr. W. H. Howard is scheduled to speak on Interior Decorating at the next meeting on February 9, at which hostesses will be members of the Home Arts Guild.

Branch Notes

ST. JOHN'S BRANCH.

The regular meeting of St. John's branch on Wednesday night was called a "literary" evening. The meeting opened with prayers and a hymn and thereafter followed a long and heated series of discussions. Dispensing with what little business there was. The formation of another A. Y. P. U. branch at St. John's, for older members, was thoroughly and carefully discussed. Finally a committee of three was appointed to attend the coming meeting of the senior branch, in order to find out in what ways the two branches could assist one another in their development. Following this several contests were played in which a great deal of enthusiasm was shown by all.

ST. LUKES BRANCH.

About twenty five members were present at Thursday night's meeting which was opened with prayer by the Rev. G. J. Bousfield and a hymn.

Rita Butler read the 23rd Psalm and Pansy Forbes gave a very interesting reading on it.

Miss Jessie Bell was in charge of the devotional period and afterwards games were led by Bo Pammett.

An executive meeting is called for Wednesday evening, January 31 at 8 p.m. at the home of Bo Pammett, 182 Hunter Street east. All members are asked to try and attend corporate communion on Sunday.

It Is All Right To Marry Your First Love Provided You Are Sure It Will Be Your Last Love, But Prudence Urges You To Do Some Looking About.

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a young man, a sophomore in college, and I am in love with a girl two years my senior. We are planning to be married when I graduate. My mother objects because the girl is my first and only love. She thinks I should look around before making my decision. The girl is my ideal of what a wife should be and suits me to a T. What do you think about marrying your first love? Is it a prerequisite to a happy and successful marriage that a young man conduct a shopping tour in the matrimonial market?—UP-IN-THE-AIR.

ANSWER:

Well, it isn't absolutely necessary that a youth should look over the rosebud garden of girls before he picks out the flower he wants to wear through life, but it is a lot safer plan. It sort of makes assurance doubly sure, because after he has given them all the onceover he knows he is going to be satisfied with his choice.

If you were buying an automobile, for instance, you wouldn't purchase the first one you saw in the window without ever looking at another. You would inspect all of the various makes and consider their individual defects and advantages before you finally decided on the one whose mechanism and lines and paint and gadgets most appealed to you and seemed most nearly to fit your need in a car.

Why, then, is it not wise to use the same technique in selecting a wife whom you can't trade in for a new model if you find out after you are married to her that she doesn't suit you after all?

Personally, I am convinced that one of the reasons why marriage is so often a failure is because men don't take the trouble to search until they find the kind of wives they want. They are poor shoppers in marriage and take the first feminine thing who tries to sell herself to them. They marry the boarding-house keeper's daughters, or the girls who work at the deck next to theirs, or the girls they spend a week-end with at a house party, not because they are their dream girls, but because they happen to be the first girls with whom they ever got acquainted. And then when men get their bargains home and find out that they don't like them they chuck them into the divorce courts.

Nothing can ever take the gamble entirely out of marriage, but it would lessen the risks for men to have a large acquaintance among women and thus a chance to contrast them with each other. Then they would find out that while some women are petty and mean, other women are broad-minded and generous; that while there are feminine fools, there are also intelligent women; that while there are selfish women who only love themselves, there are other women who can love grandly and selflessly. And they could take their choice between them.

I do not decry first love. It is a fine thing for a man to marry his first love, provided she is also his last love, and that after seeing all the thirty-seven different varieties of women she is still the one that he desires. Sometimes this happens and a man feels that he is blessed beyond his deserts if he marries his first love. Sometimes when he doesn't marry her and he meets his first love after years of absence he thanks heaven on his knees for what he escaped. And sometimes, alas, after he has married his first love he meets the woman he should have married, and then life is dust and ashes in his teeth.

So I think a man shows only common prudence when he looks 'em all over before he takes his pick.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—Recently I met a fine man who asked me to marry him, but I don't know whether to do so or not because my parents have been separated for years and my sister is getting a divorce. This man and I are of the same faith and our religion permits divorce. But I love him and wouldn't make him unhappy for the world, and he might not want to marry into a family that doesn't seem able to pull off a happy marriage. My friend does not know about the matrimonial unhappiness in my family. Shall I tell him? — A READER.

ANSWER:

Divorce isn't a hereditary complaint, and there is no reason why you should be afflicted with it because your parents and your sister are.

Of course, all of us are influenced by the example set us by our parents, but just as often they are an awful warning to us as they are a pattern to imitate, and many of the most bitter opponents of divorce are the children who have been the victims of their fathers' and mothers' inability to get along together.

All children know that it was their father's infidelity or their mother's jealousy, or the father's drinking or the mother's extravagance and laziness, or the senseless quarreling over nothing that broke up their homes. And so, nine times out of ten, they make a far greater effort to be good husbands and wives than do the men and women who have not had to suffer for their parents' sins.

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a boy 20, deeply in love with a girl of 18 who is divorced and has a 9-month-old baby. I have a nice job and go to business college at night, as my ambition is to study law, and I am going to do it, or die trying. What I want to know is if I marry this girl won't it speed me up in my ambition, as I will have so much more to work for? It may take me longer to achieve my goal, but I believe it will be worth it. What do you think?—J. A.

ANSWER:

If at 20 you marry a girl with a ready-made family you will certainly have plenty to work for, so much that I think you will have small chance of ever being able to study law.

Make Lovely Draperies to Dress Up Home

Pleats Are Smart and Simple

A novel drapery style—and so simple to make when you know how!

Both the draperies and little valance are richly pleated and the effect is all the more striking because valance and draperies are stitched together, making them seem one continuous piece.

For material choose sateen or a similar lustrous fabric. Ideal colors if your room needs brightening are gold and apricot. Both are lovely, luminous. Line your draperies too for added richness.

To make the box pleats, fold and stitch each one as our diagram shows, press and attach curtain ring at back.

And how trim and professional draperies and curtains will look if you know the principles followed by decorators. Let linings hang loose. Run weighted tapes along bottom hems of draperies.

If your glass curtain fabric isn't pre-shrunk, make a 2-inch tuck beneath the heading. Take out before laundering.

For Sunday, January 28.

Sunday's horoscope is a very interesting and eventful one, showing unusual if not drastic activities, mainly in the realm of the mental or spiritual faculties and forces. Much is to be gained by dealing with fraternal, political or other large issues, using finesse and tact rather than direct methods in dealings.

Those whose birthday it is are assured a very lively, enterprising and successful year. Important issues are at stake in connection with large corporations or diplomatic, political, and fraternal organizations. Legal and literary matters should flourish, with the mind pitched to highly-constructive lines of a scientific trend. Much may be accomplished by correspondence.

A child born on this day may have an astute and versatile mentality, with its talents and ambitions trending to high achievements in a literary, scientific or academic field of action. It may have much creative ability.

For Monday, January 29.

Monday's astrological forecast is for a most auspicious and productive state of affairs with the ambitions under high stimuli for achievement. Intellectual or creative writing of fine order may prove lucrative and bring much gratification if care is taken to avert disputes, strife and useless argument or bickering.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year in which promotion, preferment and much of a substantial nature may be gained from those in high places. The bent may be in journalistic, literary, or other creative lines. It would be wise to curb an argumentative and wrangling nature, even though the temperament may be kindly and peaceful. However, shun strife and litigation.

A child born on this day may have a keen, clever, ambitious and magnanimous disposition despite tendencies to disputes. It should enjoy the favors and support of superiors, elders and others in prestige and power.

Threatened fuel shortage caused a ten-day postponement of turning on central heating in Rome, Italy this winter.

To Relieve Bad Cough Quickly, Mix This at Home

Does the Work in a Hurry. Saves Money. Easily Mixed.

Here's an old home remedy your mother probably used, and, for real results, it is still a very dependable thing for distressing coughs. Try it once, and you'll swear by it.

It's no trouble at all. Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments until dissolved. No cooking is needed—a child could do it.

Now put 2½ ounces of Pinex into a 16 oz. bottle, and add your syrup. This gives you 16 ounces of really splendid cough remedy—more than you could buy for four times the money. It keeps perfectly, tastes fine, and lasts a family a long time.

This splendid home mixture has a three-fold action. You can feel it take hold at once. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and helps clear the air passages. This explains why it gives such prompt, pleasing results.

Pinex is a compound containing Norway Pine and palatable guaiacol, in concentrated form, well known for its prompt action on throat membranes. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

Pupils Prefer Comic Page Reporter Finds

They say that children are the most honest of all humans and if that is the case, then without apologies they've put the editor in the dog house.

Yesterday a reporter from the Examiner tried to tell a class at Confederation school how to run their paper. It was a unique experience because he was attending something by invitation and was on the talking end of the deal instead of the pencil end. But to cap the talk he asked the pupils, all around 10 or 11 years of age, to tell what each liked best about a paper. He had just finished telling them what the duties of a newspaper are and what each person working on one does. And he must have libelled the editor for he came straggling far behind in popularity—he polled only six votes.

Perhaps evidence of the honesty of children lay in the fact that the comic section headed the entire list with 35 votes, while war news got a meagre 15. And perhaps evidence of intelligence lay in the fact that the sports department lagged back in second last place with only eight fans.

"I like the funnies because they are funny," wrote one embryo Gertrude Stein, Victor Raymond Buck by name, and that seemed to be the feeling of the majority.

The glamour of a sports writer's life was too much for one boy in the class, Kenneth Bailey. He liked sports scribes "because they go to a hockey game, or anything, and get in free. They get home about three o'clock in the morning and they got to be at work at 8 o'clock," the hardy fellow related.

Most frank declaration was by one youngster who said, "I like anything about myself or someone I know." His name is John A. Pilling, so he should like today's paper. His declaration had more than a little pungency and a good deal more honesty than is usually found by newspapermen in regard to that subject—for it is an old axiom that names make news."

One choice sounded like a bit of a nasty crack at the editor. "I like the funnies and the editorial page best. Gloria Wilson, Lillian Styles, Wilma Floyd and Asa Hawley all wrote. It seemed to be all one thought.

Nola P. came out even more bluntly. "I like the funnies in the Examiner editorial page," she wrote.

Others at random were: "I like the sports page best in the Examiner. It has all the hockey about Peterborough teams, and the boxing," wrote sports fan Bill Holland.

"The most thing I like about the Examiner is the funnies, they're so comical and funny and you have fun reading them. Mostly I like Blondie and Donald Duck." That was the choice of Donald Fuller.

Then there was one from Joan Me that seemed to have something: "I like the grins and the comics because it is funny frinsy Henry and Donald Duck."

It remained for the editor of the school paper, Edgar Naish to set the serious note in the best tradition of editorship: "I like the editorials and war news best," he wrote.

Dire Revenge Is Promised By Kiwanians On Past President Richardson's "Gyp"

The sun had scare dipped over the western horizon last night before a mighty, united howl tore the silence of Peterborough to shreds. It was the combined agony of gypped Kiwanians, swearing revenge on Bill Richardson.

There'll be banshees about his door tonight, and skelpins and elves and all the tiny folk of the hills and he will know fear, o, little hunter, he will know fear. For not all the combined charms he has worn since he was a boy eight years old will save him from the wrath of Kiwanians and a downtrodden reporter.

The sun was slanting its last rays across the tops of the trees last night when 38 Kiwanians and a reporter dug into their pockets to draw out a charm they had each paid Bill Richardson forty cents in silver to cherish. He had made vague promises that it was to be a silver ship like the one he had in front of him. The one he had in front of him when he spoke was a grand affair and he conjured up visions of tiny models he was offering for forty cents, but he warned that the luck of the charm would be broken if the packages were opened before sundown.

With curiosity whipped to its keenest edge by the five-hour wait, Kiwanians opened their package at sundown and found—a dime! On its face was a picture of the King, and on its back—a silver ship.

A dime for forty cents. The reporter brought a beer with his dime and drank it moodily. It should have been four beers because it cost him forty cents. Banshees indeed, Bill Richardson, he grumbled. There will be dire revenge.

First Ticket To "Movie" Show Sold By Former Peterboro Boy Secretary To Thomas A. Edison

Only an incident in the glowing career of Alfred O. Tate, born on Park street, 1863, and now living in Brooklyn, N.Y. recalls the scene of his boyhood in his book, "Edison's Open Door."

The first ticket for admission to the first commercial exhibition of moving pictures was sold by a young man who was born in Peterborough, was educated here, and then went forth into the world as a boy in his teens to an amazing career as private secretary to the late Thomas Alva Edison.

On that day and in that lightly regarded event a new medium of public entertainment came into being, ultimately to silence the theatre, except in its metropolitan strongholds, until it became vocal again with the development of the talking pictures of to-day.

That day, too, saw the beginning of the line up of "movie" patrons, now estimated at 220,000,000 persons a week, reaching into cosmic figures and space, if it could be extended in an unbroken file.

If one could trace that almost infinite line back to its head, through the years that have seen its vast lengthening, he would there meet at the cash till the former Peterborough boy who sold the first ticket to the first showing of the "movies" for which an admission charge was made.

April 14, 1894.

The young man, then thirty-one years old, who counted the first day's receipts of the fabulous motion picture industry, a mere one hundred and twenty dollars, was Alfred O. Tate, who once lived on upper Park Street in Peterborough, and now resides at 176 St. James Place, Brooklyn, New York. The date of that epochal event was April 14, 1894, and the place was in a small store that had been used as a retail shoe shop at No. 1155 Broadway, on the west side near Twenty-seventh Street, New York.

Alfred O. Tate returns to the excusably envious interest of this community of his boyhood in the pages of his book, "Edison's Open Door," published by E. P. Dutton & Company of New York. His modest references to himself are merely incidental to his story of Edison who, as inventor of the incandescent lamp, the phonograph, the telephone transmitter, which he sold to Bell, and the kinetoscope, forerunner of the modern motion picture projection machine, is assured of a high place among the great scientists of the ages. But, the reflections of the Tate personality, especially throughout his earlier chapters, introduce him ingratiatingly to the present citizens of Peterborough, of whom probably few, if any, remember him as the school boy for whom destiny had much in store.

"This Is—My Native Land."

In the very first chapter Mr. Tate discloses an affection for the old town of his birth that draws a local reader close to him from the outset, sharing with him memories which are vitalized by his racy, fluent style, and a fine gift of reminiscence. A forgotten period involving Peterborough and Lindsay, even Bethany and Kinmount, and the early days of the Grand Trunk Railway, lives again in the recollections of the boy who was Alfred O. Tate. A manly, winsome boy he must have been, a boy who was strongly attached to his family, and who quickly gained the confidence of others as indicated by the ways that were opened to him as soon as he turned his back on his Peterborough school, and set foot, when he was only fifteen years old, into a world of nascent wonders that was waiting for just such eager, gifted boys as he must have been.

The Examiner has received permission from E. P. Dutton & Company to quote at will from Mr. Tate's book, "Edison's Open Door," and had also obtained from the author certain other biographical material relating to himself and his family which will be abridged into several instalments. But for his complete story of Edison and his own experiences and travels as an associate of genius the book should be read in its entirety.

Canada in 1863.

Mr. Tate begins his memoirs with a glimpse of his native land in 1863. Canada was prospering through the agency of a trade agreement with the United States. Lumbering was then her most important and remunerative industry. Confederation had not yet been accomplished.

"But it was a Fool's Paradise. At least so it seemed a few short years later when the United States Senate denounced the trade treaty between the two countries, closed the American markets, and brought Canada, forthwith, to the verge of bankruptcy. Her harassed but intrepid statesmen, evolving a plan which required the assent and co-operation of the British Government, were advised in Downing Street that their best move would be to seek annexation to the United States. Scorning this advice, they proceeded to knit together the disjointed members of their sprawling country, and from the ashes of defeat arose the searing Phoenix which now spreads its wings over a vast continental area washed on its eastern and western shores by two great oceans and stretching north from the line of the Great Lakes to the frozen wastes beyond the Arctic Circle—the Dominion of Canada."

Civil war was raging in the United States. On New Year's Day President Lincoln proclaimed the abolition of slavery. It was the year of the Battles of Gettysburg and Chancellorsville, and of the establishment of the National Banking System.

Memory of Peterborough.

Mr. Tate closes his first chapter with this description of his birthplace which assumes striking identification even to-day.

"But it was only the wandering echoes of this strife that disturbed the tranquillity of the little inland town of Peterborough in the Province of Ontario, thirty miles north of Port Hope, the Great Lake town which was the birthplace of Admiral Sims (U.S. Navy).

"Nestling in a flowered cup whose rim was adorned by a circlet of emerald hills, and cooling her feet in the rippling waters of the Otonabee River, nothing ever disturbed her tranquility except an invasion from the adjacent countryside every Saturday by a small army of farmers and their wives to sell the produce of their farms and dairies. It was amidst these peaceful and picturesque surroundings that an event occurred on the twenty-second day of the month of April in this eventful year, which was far more important to me than the annihilation of forests, the perplexities of harassed statesmen, of the reverberating echoes of the throbbing drum of war: I was born."

An English Family.

Several succeeding chapters have their locale in Peterborough, Lindsay and Kinmount, prefaced by a brief family sketch. Mr. Tate's grandfather, a civil engineer, left his home in Alnwick, Northumberland, England, where the family had been settled for more than two centuries, and with his wife and two small children came in 1817 to St. Lawrence County, New York, which had not yet been surveyed. He laid it out in townships, founded and owned the town of Waddington, and became the first civil engineer of Ogdensburg. "His sons, grown to manhood, followed his profession, and these three built the first railroads in that county.

"In 1852, the elder son, my father, built a large section of the pioneer Grand Trunk Railway in Canada. He died before I had reached my fifth year, but in the first decade of my life three of my older brothers had been absorbed by the railroad, which passed through my birthplace (Peterborough). Thus I grew up in a railroad atmosphere."

Glimpse of Lindsay.

"In the spring of 1878, a few weeks before my fifteenth birthday, one of my brothers who was agent for the Midland Railway in Lindsay, a town some twenty miles distant, invited me to spend my Easter holidays with him. Lindsay was a bustling little community built back from the shore of the Scugog River, a wandering stream that pursued its placid course for a time between lush green banks to a wide estuary of drowned land, a watery cemetery where rows of ghostly stumps, monuments to the memory of a noble forest, raised their grey heads accusingly, and then buried themselves in seeming shame in the depths of Sturgeon Lake, a point which tradition asserts was reached by the great pioneer Champlain in one of his exploratory expeditions. This little town swaggered in the pride of possession of three railway systems, one of which, the Victoria Railway, originating in the town itself, ran north to the village of Kinmount, distant forty-six miles."

Getting His First Job.

Young Tate learned that the telegraph operator in the train-despatching office of the Victoria Railroad had resigned and was vacating his position on the first of May. To the boy from Peterborough this was the beckoning of a glorious opportunity. He was not a telegraph operator, but he had learned the Morse code. He sought the job from the superintendent, E. H. Brennan, "stipulating that I did not want him to tell my brother at that time because I wanted to give him a joyful surprise when he learned of my success after, but not before, I was installed....The idea of having me give a practical demonstration of my ability did not occur to Mr. Brennan. Knowing my brother, and that I came from a family of railroaders, my statement in that regard was accepted at its face value."

Mr. Tate suspects that Brennan saw through part of the scheme, but at any rate he agreed saying: "All right, Tate, you can have the job."

Some of the operators in those days still used the original tape method of receiving messages which were spelled out on narrow paper moving through the machine. The operators who read by sound were the elite of their craft.

Intensive Study.

"For the next several weeks from early morning to late at night I glued myself to a stool in front of the telegraph instruments in my brother's office copying, or attempting to copy, everything that came over the wire. Fortunately I was gifted with a "good ear for sound," and on the first day of May reported for duty at the office of the Victoria Railroad. I was not proficient, but soon became so."

Then came a climax and family showdown. One day early in May the older brother asked Alfred when he was going back to school at Peterborough. The answer was, "I'm not going back to school. I have a job." "A job!" he exclaimed incredulously. "What kind of a job?" "I'm train despatcher on the Victoria Railroad," I announced proudly. The hell you are," he roared. "I'll see about that," and barged out to find his friend Brennan.

The upshot was a family council. "My mother and an older brother came to Lindsay and convened it. The arguments they advanced are obvious but, I was adamant. I was a train despatcher on the Victoria Railroad. I was a personage I amounted to something."

And so the boy of fifteen was on his way to a colorful, eventful career, and the school at Peterborough knew him no more.

Jim Lean, One Of Guides Of Wolf Hunt Finds Wolf Caught In Trap Near Apsley

WHO SAID there are no wolves around Apsley where Charlie Kingan and Herb Mason were hunting last week?

Let him take back his words now, for today came news that Jim Lean, one of the guides on that wolf hunt and a brother of Norman Lean, reeve of Burleigh and Anstruther, had caught a 75-pound wolf in a trap a scant three miles from the scene of the first day's hunt last week. Jim Lean visited his trap line yesterday and found the big wolf dead in one of those traps. He believes it was caught last week during the very time the hunt was going on.

True, this is the first wolf bagged in Apsley district this winter, but that only proves Charlie Kingan's claim that they are wily fellows and that a big party of hunters is needed to get them. The wolf was trapped about seven miles south of the village of Apsley.

M. A. Jamieson Dies In City

Less than two days after his wife's funeral and largely as a result of shock caused by her death, Matthew Adam Jamieson, widely known resident of this city, died early Saturday morning at his home, 252 London street. He was in his 78th year.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Jamieson developed colds a short time ago, but they did not consider they were in ill health. Then on Tuesday Mrs. Jamieson died unexpectedly. Because he was suffering from a cold and aggravation was feared, Mr. Jamieson was prevailed on not to attend his wife's funeral. But he was only slightly ill and his death to-day came as a great shock.

Mr. Jamieson had been living in retirement for the past 15 years or more. Prior to that time he had been employed for many years as accountant for the Burns Lumber Company of Shellrake, Michigan. He was away from Peterborough at his work for ten months each year, but maintained a residence here during all that time. He was a member of George Street United church and of the Canadian Order of Foresters, Court Langton. He was secretary of the Court for ten years.

Mr. Jamieson was born in Manvers township, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jamieson and came to Peterborough from Millbrook 69 years ago. Surviving are one son, Thomas George Melville Jamieson, of Peterborough, uptown agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway company here; one brother, Robert Jamieson, of Peterborough, and three sisters, Mrs. Isabella Keenan of Peterborough, Mrs. John Mein of Picton, and Mrs. Margaret Tennyson, of Toronto.

The funeral will be held on Monday afternoon at two o'clock from the Funeral Home of A. Comstock and Sons, 305 Water street, Rev. M. C. Parr of George Street United church, officiating. Interment will be at Little Lake cemetery.

LONDON.—(CP).—The Admiralty announced to-day that the number lost in the sinking of the destroyer Exmouth was 188—15 officers and 173 men. The destroyer flotilla leader sank with all hands within 24 hours of the destroyer Grenville with 76 dead.

Announcement that the Exmouth had been sunk—either by a torpedo or mine—was made last Wednesday.

Bombs, Gas Held Up?

HELSINGFORS.—(AP).— Finnish officials expressed the belief to-day that a recent let-up in air raids indicated the Russians were experiencing difficulties in transporting bombs and gasoline to their Estonian naval bases.

An official statement yesterday said such activity was "relatively weak" and limited to Northern Finland, where about 140 bombs were dropped on eight communities. One person was killed and three wounded, the Finns reported.

ROME.—(AP).— German sources indicated to-day Dr. Karl Clodius, German financial expert, was discussing with Italians the possibility of increasing German coal shipments to Italy.

Before the war, Italy was largely dependent on Germany and Great Britain for coal. Sea shipments from both countries, particularly Germany, were understood to have slumped because of the blockade and other difficulties. High freight rates and obtaining sufficient freight cars are problems in getting German coal overland.

LONDON, Jan. 27 — (CP).—The bacon ration is being doubled from next Monday, because "bacon supplies are again coming in well from Denmark and in increasing quantities from Canada," the Daily Mail said to-day. The newspaper saw this as "proof of the Navy's ability to keep the sea routes open."

LONDON — (CP). — Authorized sources to-day denied a German assertion that two British steamships in convoy were sunk on Thursday. They said the records showed no British ships were sunk that day, although an unidentified French craft was sunk off Oporto, Portugal.

HELSINGFORS — (CP-Havas). —The first class of Finnish Territorials men born in 1898, were called up for army service to-day by white placards placed throughout the country. Men of this class were ordered to appear at recruiting centres on February 1.

Policemen Elect Inspector Reid

Inspector James F. Reid was elected president of the local Police Benevolent Association at the annual meeting of that body held on Friday night.

Other officers elected were as follows:

Vice-President, W. E. Wigg.

Secretary-treasurer, W. R. Piercy.

Auditors Archie Menzies and Percy Sexsmith.

Outside of the passing of accounts, the election of officers was the only business on the agenda.

Six Elk Placed In Government Game Reserve

A new species of animal made its appearance today in the world of Peterborough county's game preserve. It was the fleet-footed, wide-antlered elk, most beautiful of all wild life accustomed to some.

Six full-grown elk, four cows and two bulls, arrived in Peterborough last night en route to their new sanctuary. They were given to the care of the Peterborough Fish and Game Protective Association by D. J. Taylor, deputy Minister of Game and Fisheries for Ontario. Today President Charlie Kingan escorted them to Jack's Lake, where they were loosed from their cramped quarters in a big truck after two days' captivity.

On the shore of the lake a big stack of hay had been placed to assure them of feed for their first while in this district, until they become accustomed to the lay of the land. It was sub-zero weather that greeted the newcomers, but they seemed not to mind.

Largest of the elk weighed more than 300 pounds and the cows were well over the size of a good deer. They attracted wide attention this morning when they were on view in front of Kingan's hardware store on Simcoe Street before leaving for the North.

COLTS COP DECISION OVER MIDGETS IN HECTIC LINDSAY GAME

Locals On Top By 4 To 2 In Junior Tilt

LINDSAY, Jan. 27.—(ENS)—Older hockey fans of Lindsay went back 20 years here tonight when Peterborough Colts defeated Lindsay Midgets in a smashing Junior 'B' tilt. The most hectic game in Lindsay in years was productive of 16 penalties, five of them majors and Referee Max Board in trouble avoiding threatened riots. Fans recalled the fiery tilts of years ago between Peterborough and Lindsay as the parade to the penalty box continued throughout the game.

The scoring was all confined to the third period when the Petes rattled in three goals before the Midgets replied.

Pammett took Wade's pass in the first of the third to open the scoring and was followed a moment later by Wade who converted Beggs' assist. Rochetta and Craig then combined to score.

Opens Scoring

English fought his way through the defence to open the scoring for the Midgets and 15 seconds later scored again on a pass from Owen. Lindsay ganged with both team a man short and Foster broke away to skate in on Nicholls for the final goal.

From the beginning of the game, when Brennan and McDonald tangled, it was a rough game. Both teams seemed inclined to put on a display that lacked good hockey but was action-filled. Most of the time one or both teams played a man short; at one time the Midgets were two short.

Varsity's checking and steady defense play smothered the Tricolor attack, and the Kingston collegians only had a few good scoring chances. In the first period, Queen's only got three shots on the Varsity goaler, and the losers were limited to five in the last frame.

Nicholls in the nets, English, Brennan and Warrian were best for Lindsay. Wade, Foster and Cournyea were best for the Petes.

Fights were a dime a dozen. Brennan and McDonald and Foster, and Brennan and Craig pushed each other around in the first period. Elliot and Foster tangled in the nets and both teams started swinging fists, the pair took majors. Elliot and Foster again started pushing each other and a minor and a major were passed out.

In the final period fireworks didn't start until the last few minutes. English planted an elbow in McDonald's face and the Peterborough boy retaliated. Result, a major apiece. Craig objected too strenuously to the referee and took a minor.

At one stage of the game it was feared the fans would go over the boards. English, a member of the 45th Battery here, was involved in a battle and it looked as if about 75 of his pals in the militia would join the scrap.

OAKWOOD vs. LAKEFIELD
INTERMEDIATE "B" HOCKEY GAME
Monday, Jan. 29
LAKEFIELD RINK

His First Injury

Boston, Jan. 27 (AP)

THEY SAY you'll get it if you stick long enough. To which Paul Guibord, former Dartmouth hockey star agrees.

He has played 11 seasons of stiff hockey, three in high school, four at Dartmouth and four more with the burly Boston Olympics, the only American member of the rugged Quebec Provincial senior League, without an injury. He suffered his first one, a deep scalp wound, during last night's Olympics-Shawinigan Falls game at the Boston Garden.

Guibord was cut early in the first period. After submitting to two stitches, which closed his wound, he came back for the second period and played the remainder of the game, which his team lost, 2-1.

Varsity Team Blanks Queens

KINGSTON, Jan. 27.—Varsity took undisputed lead in the International Intercollegiate Hockey League here last night with a 4 to 0 win over Queen's. The Blues were much the better, especially in close to the Tricolor cage, giving the Kingston goaler no chance on the shots that beat him.

Varsity's checking and steady defense play smothered the Tricolor attack, and the Kingston collegians only had a few good scoring chances. In the first period, Queen's only got three shots on the Varsity goaler, and the losers were limited to five in the last frame.

Jack Quigley paced the Toronto attack with two goals. MacIlquham and Stephenson were the other Toronto scorers.

Queen's — Goal, Musgrove; defense, J. Neilson, McGill; centre, M. Williamson; wings, N. Williamson, R. Neilson; subs, Carter, Mable, Lane, Hood, Osborne.

'Y' Gym, Orfuns And Quakers Win Girls' Frays

"Y" Gym, Orfuns and Quaker Aces were victors in the weekly Ladies' Basketball League games at the Y.W.C.A. last night, these teams triumphing over St. John's Quaker Debs and Westclox while St. Paul's gained a 35-30 win over St. John's in a good exhibition men's game put on as an added attraction.

A good crowd saw "Y" Gym and Orfuns win fairly easily to maintain their lead over the rest of the league while Quaker Aces stayed in the running, strengthening their hold on third place

"Y" Gym had a small edge over St. John's in both halves to win 13-9 in a closely contested opening game, leading 7-6 at the half and adding 3 points to their margin in the hard-fought last half. Close checking and rather poor shooting by both teams kept the score down.

Although they held the league-leading scorer, Ruth Dalliday, to 5 points St. John's own attack bogged down. R. Dalliday and L. Wesley stood out for the winners with E. Gynane and H. Harte-Maxwell best for St. John's. The teams:

"Y" Gym 13: B. DeMaio (2), B. Flynn (1), S. Zakos, R. Dalliday (5), S. Zacks, L. Wesley (5), B. Pomeroy, I. Young, R. Sullivan, P. Craig.

St. John's 9: T. Laws (1), D. Groombridge, E. Clark, H. Harte-Maxwell (3), E. Gynane (2), H. Douglas (2), A. Bowler, E. Foster, E. Harte-Maxwell, F. Gynane.

Referee—H. McDonald; umpire, W. Thirnbeck.

Cop Neat Win

Orfuns had a good margin over the luckless Quaker Debs to run up another sizeable score and even 26-12 in a well-played game. Led by R. Thompson, the winners had good combination and worked the ball in close to the basket to score most of their points. They led 11-7 at the half and had a good edge in the last period to run it up.

Orfuns (26)—A. Craig, B. Blade (5), G. Mortimer (4), R. Thompson (15), A. Livingstone, D. Ackford, M. Ferguson, M. Clarke, M. Hawthorne (2), M. Wood.

Quaker Debs (1): H. White (7), B. Fenner, J. Metcalfe (1), G. Allen (2), D. Smith, H. Grant, A. Laing, H. Tighe, D. Gibbs (2).

Referee—W. Thirnbeck.

Although outscored 11-4 in the last half Quaker Aces had enough left to fight off Westclox's closing rally and win 19-16 in a good battle. The winners led 10-5 at the half but Westclox began to go in the final period and rallied to tie it up at 16-all with a few minutes to play. However D. Weese scored a free throw and A. Rutter a field goal to pull it out of the fire. The losers missed many chances to pull into the lead after tieing it up but poor passing to players around the basket and only fair shooting cost them the game. Aces had a fair margin in the play the first half but from then on were outplayed by the losers. Aces made 2 in 6 free throws and the losers only 2 in their 12 chances. D. Weese led the winners with 12 points and B. Saunders and J. Hair went well for the Westclox. The teams:

Quaker Aces (19): D. Weese (12), P. Lawless (2), M. Hooten, I. Fowler (1), G. Alexander, M. Duncan (2), V. Wood, E. Kirn, A. Grady, M. Sullivan, H. Rutter (2).

Westclox (16): A. Flynn (2), J. Hair (2), J. Crowe (2), M. McFadden, D. Dawson (1), B. Saunders (6), C. Metcalfe (2), M. Goldie (1), I. Vivash, V. Britnell, P. Wolstenholme.

Referee—H. Smith.

St. Paul's gained a 12-8 margin in the opening half and then after the losers had rallied to go into a 1-point lead, scored several quick baskets near the finish to pull out a 35-30 win in a fast exhibition men's contest. The winner jumped into a four-point lead near the end of the first period after trailing most of the half and stayed in front until St. John's rallied midway in the last half to pull ahead. Near the finish however the winners had the best of a flurry of quick baskets and gained a good lead. Both teams kept the ball moving nicely but both missed plenty of shots around the basket to spoil good passing plays. The winners had a definite edge in the rather slow first half but from then on it was about even, the teams practically exchanging baskets. St. John's had a good average in free throws scoring 9 out 11 while the winners made 3 in their 8 chances. Thorburn McArthur and McIntyre were outstanding for St. Paul's and Dyer, Stewart and Thomas starred for St. John's. The teams:

St. John's 30: Centre, Craig (6), forwards, Dyer (10), Stewart (7); guards, Gillespie (3), Ascott (2); subs, Thomas (1), Currie (1).

St. Paul's 35: Centre, McArthur (10); forwards, Thorburn (16), Ward (3); guards, Sedgewick (2), Marsh; subs, McIntyre, Gemmell (4).

Digging Up the Local Dirt With the Odd Chuckle or Two

By CEC. PERDUE

A ball item from the Falls concerns Ed Bush—whom the Petes played against—and Knotty Lee, ex-coach here: "Whether it was the sound shellackings which Stratford administered in last season's O.B.A. final series that caused the Leafs' management to sour on Eddie Bush, Danforth Aces' righthander, is hard to guess, but we hear they've passed up the elongated fellow and permitted Knotty Lee to sign him for a Can.-Am. league club. Eddie looked impressive against T.B.A. opposition and had little difficulty handcuffing the Falls in semi-finals, but failed to hold the spell when opposing the provincial champs. Being two years off the voting age, he should make headway. The lanky kid was due for a letdown in the finals and toiling among the 'D' leaguers may come into his own and cause Leaf bosses to regret their snap decision."

Next game in the Omemee District Puck Loop will be early next week in Lindsay, the Lock Co. Eagles tackling the Lindsay Battery. On Thursday, it'll be Lindsay vs. the Hawks in Omemee. The teams are playing a single schedule, followed by a general playoff serial. The second and third teams have a two-in-three semi-final series, winner then taking on the top-place squad in three out of five. Winnah has a bye into O.H.A. intermediate "B" playdowns, if the club wants it. This is a good circuit with plenty of smart puckists on each team.

* * * * * *

Oi, What A Score!

That 19-5 score for the Petes over Belleville here last night was a shame. Because it didn't represent the true strength of the two teams. The Redmen, with Hastie and Gow—two top scorers all season for Gananoque—and the full squad here would have given the Petes a battle. Though, we're confident the locals would have won. Well, Hastie and Gow were taken from the Redmen at the start of the season—after hoisting the Thomasites into the VanHorne Cup semi-finals in Kingston—and awarded to Gananoque. And the Redmen weren't so hot after that. But last night, they were even worse, coming here without Storms, the two Jackson brothers and a few more. Just a pickup team, which knew it was out of the running.

* * * * * *

Now, we're not criticizing the boys who came here, nossub. We admire a game guy anytime, and the bunch who came knew they were in for a cold trip, with no dough coming to 'em and not a ghost of a chance of the playoffs. So they came, with Coach Speedy St. Louis in charge. And they went down battling, playing clean hockey and trying right to the finish. But the gees who passed up the trip and the setup in Bella Villa which disrupted the squad deserves plenty of censure. We don't know the inside of it all, but there's something there that smells no sweeter than a cat, on the garbage pile, that died two weeks ago!

* * * * * *

Only A So-So Crowd

The fans didn't turn out any too well for this one, evidently figuring the Redmen would prove no match for the speedy loop leaders. At least, it was a wide-open game with lots of action and plenty of scoring. And surprisingly clean for a tilt betwixt these teams—though, of course, several Belleville scrappers didn't come up. All the Petes did well, piling up a big margin and having a regular practice session. Heal looked fine, and so did Jack Jopling, while Blewett was flying in the third. And Tompkins, Coughlin and Kingdon were right in there too. The defence had a fairly easy night and Harding wasn't too busy in the home cage. Eddie Starr was out with a cold. Yeah, they did okay against the patched-up Bellevillains — who were pretty sore about the score and threaten reprisals in Bella Villa. St. Louis, Howie, Barriage and Ronski were about the pick of the losers.

* * * * * *

Just like old times in Lindsay last night as the Colts fought their way through the scrappy Midgets for a 4-2 junior win. A rousing, bruising sockeroo of a game with 16 penalties passed out—including five majors. All the puckists on the ice were swinging fists at one time or another and some army guys thought seriously of going over the top to aid one of their buddies, English, in a brawl. All the scoring came in the hectic third heat, but every period bristled with battles. Pammett, Wade, Rochetta and Foster rattled the twine for the Weir-Wilgar "wave of warriors," with Wade, Beggs and Craig each earning an assist. English sparked the Midgets' attack for two tallies, Owen aiding once. Neis Foster—almost a reformed man recently—busted a New Year's resolution (and maybe a beezer or two) to draw two major sentences in the sin box during the wild-and-woolly second stanza. It took fans back to the gory and glorious old Lindsay-Petes' puck feuds.

Till The Wee Hours

Four squads took part in a hockey tourney last night at Omemee, Kinmount, Kirkfield, Omemee Hawks and the local Lock Co. Eagles. Omemee trimmed Kinmount in the first fray 8-2, Eagles 7-1'd Kirkfield in the next joust, and then the O's won the Frost Cup in the final with an 8-6 decision over Ed Prete's pack from Peterborough. A typical tournament, with the lads dragging their weary limbs off the ice a few hours before sunup—somewhere around two a.m., we believe. Eagles go to Lindsay on Tuesday in their next tilt.

Nearly a ton of lively basketball unloaded last eve at the Y.W. gym, with some exciting struggles staged. The "Y" Gym lasses kept flying with a close 13-9 nod over St. John's, Orfuns did it again with a 26-12 smirk o'er the gallant but luckless Debs, and Aces copped a nice 19-16 win from Westclox in a good duel. The exhibition affair was keen enough near the finish, the St. Paul's champs just taking a 35-30 victory from St. John's, the stringy hoopsters swapping back and forth like horse-traders in the late stages. Up at P.C.I. gym, three strong Bowmanville squads made it plenty interesting for the locals. The junior P.C.I.-ers won 16-15, the gals' teams went to a 22-all draw, and P.C.I. senior lads lost a 30-26 decision. Tonight at the "Y", these men's melees are on: Dominions vs. C.G.E. at 7.15, Zephyrs vs. Quakers at 8.15.

PRO PUCK PERSONALITIES

DAVE KERR
Rangers

(By Central Press Canadian)

Goalkeeper of the year in the National League is Dave Kerr, the agile, ever-young guardian of Rangers' goal, who hasnt missed a game since he joined the team just after the start of the 1934 - 35 season, and who this year appears to be headed for possession of the Vezina trophy for fewest goals against. Born at Toronto 30 years ago, Dave had a tough row to hoe to attain his present heights in the hockey world. His amateur days reached perfection with Montreal A.A.A. in the spring of 1930 when that team won the Allan cup. Dave accepted the terms of Maroons, but didn't fare so well, and spent the next couple of seasons communting between them and the minors, first battling Normie Smith and then the great Aleck Connell for a place in the N.H.L. sun. When Andy Aitkenhead, now in the Pacific Coast league, cracked in Rangers' goal Lester Patrick produced $10,000 that moved Dave into the spot he now occupies. Since then he has been consistently brilliant and for the past three seasons has been runner-up for the trophy he hopes to win at last this March. Exceptionally fast with both hands and feet, he provides one of the best shows in the league while handling his assignment. Favors a hot cup of tea just before game time, a mellow pipe when it's all over.

Cobourg Squad Cops A Win In Lakefield

LAKEFIELD, Jan. 27.—(ENS)—In an O.H.A. Junior B game here last night the Cobourg Bees defeated the Lakefield Cubs in a clean and fast tussle, the final score being Cobourg 5, Lakefield 3. The visitors, only after a hard-fought game, managed to outscore the local team in the final frame.

The first period ended with J. Stewart, one of the locals' best men, putting the Lakefield team in the lead. Penalties in this period were handed out to McMana for Cobourg and J. Stewart for Lakefield.

With both teams fighting hard and the locals having an edge over the play the second period ended with score still 1-0 for the home team. Chappell and Calhoun received penalties in this period for tripping.

Heavy Scoring

Coogan for Cobourg, in the final period, tied the score. Then one a fast power-play A. Stewart for Lakefield managed to tally on an assist from Jewell, giving them a one-point lead again. Cobourg immediately let loose and three goals were scored by Coogan, Maker and Caullen, making the score 4-2 for the visiting team.

After numerous power attacks by the Lakefield team Connelly managed to score to make it 4-3. With two second to play Maher ended the scoring for the Cobourg team.

Coogan, Maher and Caullen all played first class hockey with G. Cane downing many Lakefield attempts to score. J. Stewart, Giardino and Connelly played well for the Lakefield team being aided greatly by the goalie, Lomax, who played a swell game in the nets. The lineups:

Pardon Us if We Snicker at Winter!

The model illustrated is the McLAUGHLIN-BUICK ROADMASTER four-door touring sedan.

SOMEWHERE, probably, numb-fingered drivers are bucking vainly at piled-up snow heaps, jolting miserably over frozen roads, snow-packed and rutted until every turn of the wheel means a jar.

But you, lucky fellow—what does winter mean to you in that sleek-lined honey of a 1940 McLaughlin-Buick?

It means simply the sweet purr of a hundred-plus horsepower Dynaflash straight-eight with the pull to master any going. It means micropoise-balanced smoothness to keep you forever free of vibration's annoyance.

It means taking the choppiest, worst-rutted roads in stride, while soft coil springs on all four wheels soak up the jars before they ever reach you.

It means travelling in snug, weather-tight Body-by-Fisher comfort no matter what's on the weatherman's bill of fare.

So pardon us if we laugh at winter—and especially at the old idea that no one buys cars until the spring buds show.

In McLaughlin-Buick you've got an all-season car—the kind of car you ought to be handling right now!

When are you going to do something about getting one?

PETES SWAMP BELLEVILLE REDMEN TO CLIMB INTO FIRST PLACE

Locals Run Wild To Get Victory In One-Sided Struggle Against Patched-Up Opponents

Fattening up their batting averages and clinching first place in their O. H. A. intermediate "A" group standing, the Petes swamped Belleville Redmen here by a 19-5 score last night before a slim crowd of fans. The visitors, out of the running, brought a patched-up team and proved far from a match for the speedy locals.

It was a clean, fast contest but too one-sided to be very interesting. At that, it was wide-open and the crowd of 500 or so remained to the end. The Petes had a field day and piled up the count in a good showing as the short-handed Redmen battled back gamely but vainly. It was 5-0 in the first and the homesters had an 11-2 edge going into the third.

Heal, Blewett, Coughlin, J. Jopling, Tompkins and Kingdon were all in heavily on the scoring, playing a fine game on the attack, and the rest of the crew showed up well, too. Against weak opposition, the Buckland bunch tried fancy passing and their superior speed made it a joke at times. The Redmen, however, kept battling back, and earned two goals in the second frame and three more in the third, though hopelessly outclassed. St. Louis, Howie, Barriage and Ronski went best for them.

Scores Early.

Kingdon scored within the first minute and the Petes had a good margin through the initial inning. Blewett got the second on J. Jopling's passout, and then Gardner got a neat one on a return pass from Kingdon. They made it 4-0 when Heal rapped home Tompkins' pass, and later Heal tallied again, aided by Tompkins and Kingdon. Tompkins went off for holding and the Petes held their own till all were back, the locals pressing at the finish.

Early in the second Heal tallied from Tompkins, but Lavesque came back to sink one for the Redmen. J. Jopling got it right back on F. Jopling's pass in close, and then St. Louis tore in to tally with play up and down and wideopen all the way. Heal pulled a fine rush around the net but was blocked. He came right back to counter on a sweet forward pass in close from Tompkins. Heal got another with Tompkins and Gardner assisting as the Petes put on a power play and again Heal scored with a fine play on Kingdon's pass. Coughlin got the final one of the period with J. Jopling making the play.

Crowe Is Off.

Crowe was gated for accidental boarding in the third and the Petes responded with two goals. J. Jopling got the first on an assist by Coughlin and Heal scored again with Coughlin passing to him. With all back, Ronski tore in to tally on St. Louis' assist, and they pressed to counter another, Howie banging home St. Louis' rebound. But Blewett began to crowd in around Goalie Hinton's cage and he scored three in a row with some fine work, Coughlin assisting on two and J. Jopling being in on one, as Joe got the last one alone. It was wide-open, fast and exciting despite the score. Belleville got one back on a trick in-close play, Howie rapping home the disc with Yates and Barriage aiding. Tompkins tallied right away at close range on Kingdon's assist and then went in for another on passes from Heal and Kingdon. The final goal came near the finish with Heal netting the rubber on a pass from Tompkins.

The teams:

Belleville: Goal, Hinton; defence, St. Louis and Yates; centre, Barriage; wings, Howie and Windsor; alternate, Ronski, Rowbotham, Lavesqua and Pringle.

Petes: Goal, Harding; defence, Ellis and Gardner; centre, Kingdon; wings, Tompkins and Burton; alternates, Crowe, F. Jopling, J. Jopling, Blewett, Coughlin and Heal.

Referee, Hay Day of Toronto.

Paging Hollywood

It looks as if Carl Pojello is rapidly assuming the consistency of a commodity that resembles his name. For Mr. Pojello, although junior heavyweight champion of the world at the game of wrestling, is playing underdog to the befurred matman known simply, but misleadingly, an 'Angel.' 'Angel' is a Russian who speaks French with a Limehouse accent. He is working out in New York for an invasion of South America, having run out of opponents in Europe. If Hollywood ever decides to make the "Step-father of Frankenstein"—well here's an idea.

Tweed Terriers Win 7-4 Over Campbellford

TWEED, Jan. 27—(ENS). — In their first meeting of the season at the local arena on Friday night, Tweed lived up to the Terrier reputation and handed the Trent Valley League headers from Campbellford a 7-4 drubbing. The fastest game of the season was put on with sixteen penalties handed out, both sides faring alike.

In the first period, Tweed tallied a quick goal when Wagar rapped home a pass from Orr. However late in the first canto, Henry tallied for Campbellford. Wagar, Couch and MacElrath went to the cooler for tripping.

In the second period, the players staged a parade to the penalty box with nine penalties being handed out. The Terriers took a one-goal lead in this period, with Elsbury scoring on a solo rush for the first count of the period, and Tummon taking a three-way pass from Storms and Elsbury to put the locals two up. Robinson took a drive and narrowed the lead down to one goal.

The Terriers went to town in the last period, and the penalties they received only acted as a boomerang, with two penalties to them resulting in the locals tallying four of their five goals of the period. Storms on a lone rush tallied the first goal of the period, with Tummon scoring on a similar play. Campbellford scored one, when Blake counted from a scramble in front of the nets. Storms took a pass from Wagar to give the locals a 6-3 lead, and a few seconds later, Elsbury crashed through the hard pressing visitors, to gain a clean sweep on Jewell and increase the lead by four goals. In the closing minutes of the game, Robinson tallied the last goal. The line-up:

Tweed: Goal, J. Reeves; defence, Orr, Tummon; centre, Wagar; wings, Elsbury, Storms; subs.: Arber, Marsh, Long, A. Courneyea, Wood-

Norwood Outfit Wins 3-2 In Overtime Play

NORWOOD, Jan. 27.—(ENS)—Climaxing a wild overtime session in which the Norwood Hornets managed to squeeze out a narrow 3 to 2 decision over Marmora, players of both teams and a few spectators engaged in a general brawl at mid-ice as the timer's gong announced the finish of last night's all-important T.V.L. tilt at the Norwood arena. Unbeaten in their last seven starts, the Hornets picked up four points by last night's victory and with Tweed's win over Campbellford, also last night, are on top of the closely-contested Trent Valley League race.

Ike O'Leary was the hero of the game as far as Norwood was concerned, topping off a brilliant performance throughout by tallying the winning marker unassisted after 7 minutes of overtime. O'Leary also scored the initial goal of the game at the eight-minute mark in the first period, with "Mickey" Puffer assisting. Pandemonium practically let lose among the large gathering of enthusiastic Hornet supporters, as Ike valiantly fought his way out from behind the Marmora cage, circled in front and let go a blazing backhand at the unprotected Callery.

Plenty Of Fight

The winning goal was the signal for hostilities, which had started in the final stanza, to break out anew with Kerr and Rothwell pairing off this time for battle. Both were given majors, and Johnson and Hill were awarded minors for their part in the fracas. Fourteen penalties evenly divided among the two squads were handed out during the match by officials Ennis and Cousins. The first and second periods progressed quite smoothly with only a few slight incidents, but trouble started in earnest about half-way through the third, when "Pep" Rogers and M. O'Neill were each banished five minutes for fighting. None of the other players took part in this first squabble, but a few took a hand in the overtime set-to and most everyone was in there swinging as a general mix-up took place after the final bell. There was excitement aplenty before Provincial Constable J. A. Rogers of Havelock and Chief Constable Baker of Norwood were able to disperse the crowd.

Although the brand of hockey displayed was certainly not of the best, the game was fast and produced plenty in the way of action and thrills for the fans. The first period saw one of the wildest bombardments ever witnessed in the Norwood arena, on the occasion when the visitors were short-handed, with Kerr on the sidelines for tripping Brady. Callery, the Marmora goalie, performed a regular jitterbug act at this time, blocking drives from every angle as the Hornets practically swarmed around his cage. Norwood had already taken the lead earlier in the stanza when O'Leary combined with B. Puffer for the opening score. The play was almost continually in Marmora territory and before the end of the session, Hill took a nice pass from Gordie Puffer to notch the Hornets' second goal.

Marmora's attacking forces were much more effective in the middle frame, although they failed to score when Rothwell and Aboud of the homesters drew successive penalties. Three-quarters of the period had gone before Gus Leonard, left uncovered for an instant in front of the Norwood net, notched their first counter.

The visitors had the better of the play going into the final period, the Hornets at times becoming awfully disorganized. There were frequent pile-ups at the Norwood net, with McMaster managing to hold off the Marmora attackers, until E. Leonard combined with brother Gus for the tying goal near the halfway mark. A penalty to Richardson while Rogers and O'Neill were serving majors, gave the homesters a chance to display a stout defensive, with McMaster exceptionally good.

With the count tied 2-all, Aboud almost blew the game for the Hornets, when he drew a penalty for boarding Buskard heavily, early in the overtime. Apparently the Hornets had recovered their early game form however, and they again began to dominate the play. On Aboud's return they once more took the lead on O'Leary's solo effort.

Overshadowed only by O'Leary's performance, was the standout work of Bobbie McMaster in the Norwood cage. McMaster, whose right brow was adorned with a huge patch, covering an injury from his last game, made some remarkable saves during the evening. Honours among the rest of the Hornet squad were fairly evenly divided.

Marmora's first string line of G. Leonard, E. Leonard and Reynolds, notched both of the visitors' goals, and were the most potent of their attacking forces. Callery turned in a smart effort in the Marmora net, and C. O'Neill, Kerr and Buskard were also outstanding.

The teams:

Marmora—Goal, Callery; defense, N. O'Neill, C. O'Neill; centre, G Leonard; wings, E. Leonard, Reynolds; alternates, Kerr, Johnson, Buskard, Smith.

Norwood—Goal, McMaster; defense, Webb, Rothwell; centre, G Pugger; wings, Hill, N. Rogers; alternates, B. Puffer, O'Leary, Aboud, Brady, Richardson.

Referees—T. Cousins, Marmora; R. Ennis, Norwood.

Zion Irishmen Whip Ivanhoe; Foxes Beat Ross

TWEED, Jan. 27 (NNS).—In the opener on Thursday night, Ivanhoe playing without their hustling centre, Dan Cook, lost 2-1 to the "Fighting Irish" from Zion.

After nine minutes of a fairly even period the Irish took the lead when Simms scored on a pass from G. Tummon.

There was no score in the middle period, which found the Easterners on the offensive, and Gifford plenty busy.

Tummon scored Zion's second goal early in the last period and the best play of the evening was made when Kirby and Reid combined on a passing play that beat Gifford for their only counter. Brough, Thomlinson, and Simms served the only penalties of the game which featured plenty of heavy checking.

The teams:

Zion Hill—Goal, Gifford; defence, Dickey, Bedford; centre, Brough; wings, Simms, Ketcheson; subs., Tummon, J. Gay.

Ivanhoe — Goal, Delve; defence, Reid, Thomlinson; centre, Kirby; wings, Thompson, Wright; subs., Woods, Murphy, Fleming and Downey.

Foxboro Wins.

The second game of the Thursday evening double-header was the most thrilling of the season, when Glen Ross minus the services of Martin were whipped 3-2 by Foxboro. They had the lead twice, holding the Foxes scoreless for two periods, in which Hagerman was brilliant in the nets.

Armstrong netted the only counter of the first two periods, taking a pass from Fyear after six minutes of the last period. Elder tied the count with Thompson getting the assist. G. Fyear put the Riversides in the lead again, batting in a nice pass from R. Fyear.

Then came the crackup. Jack Armstrong drew a penalty for a trip, only two minutes, but it meant two goals, and the game. The Foxes swarmed in, feeding each other for lightning shots at Hagerman. Elder clicked twice just before the curtain fell on the game.

The teams:

Foxboro — Goal, Guay; defence, Noley Guay; G. Walt; centre, Elder; wings, Spencer, Thompson; subs., Gordon Gay, Gough, Dafoe, Halliwell, J. Guay.

Glen Ross — Goal, Hagerman; defence, Fraser and Brown; centre, Armstrong; wings, G. Fyear, R. Fyear; subs., MacDonald, Brooks.

Referee—Conley Ackers.

Detroit Tigers Are Planning To Use Greenburg And York In Every Battle

DETROIT, Jan. 27. — (AP) — The Detroit Tigers' three-year-old "Solomon's problem" anent keeping slugger Rudy York at steady work is up for solution in another manner, with slugger Hank Greenberg helping out.

In one more effort to capitalize to the fullest on the two powerful home-run manufacturers, the Tigers are moving Greenberg off first base, his post for seven years, and putting him in the outfield York goes to first.

This strategy, latest in a long series of moves to insure the presence of York's lusty bat in every battle, was disclosed yesterday when Greenberg signed his 1940 contract.

"Club officials," he said, "Feel that the club will be strengthened if I play one of the out-field positions."

York, ever since being brought up from the minors three years ago, has given the Tiger management grey hairs. He could swat the ball a country mile, but never found himself at home in the field.

Third base was bad for him and he failed to get the hang of outfielding. He served passably as a catcher—some experts held great hope for him—but that meant that George (Birdie) Tebbetts, a classy receiver, had to ride the bench.

Together, Greenberg and York smashed out 53 homers last year, Hank getting 33. The 1938 season was the big one. Hank hit 58, missing Babe Ruth's record by two, and Rudy, playing in fewer games, got 33.

"TELL BILL GOODBYE"

By Marie Blizard

CHAPTER TWENTY-SIX

FOUR BIG town cars rolled up in quick succession before St. Thomas' church and the bridal party hurriedly left while police held curious sidewalk crowds back from the velvet ropes.

Ellen Chapman and Bill Mallory were among the first to follow and stood waiting for the last of the bridal party to enter the waiting motor.

Fabienne, a long white robe over her blue organza gown, passed down the steps on the arm of her Uncle Mark and got into the car.

Ellen said, "Come on, Bill. You can have a long look at her at the house. By the way, did you look at the bride at all?"

"Was it as bad as that?" he asked, giving her a shame-faced, sidelong look.

"Obvious, you mean," she answered, getting into the cab that was to take them to the reception at Gertrude de Ligne's apartment.

She stole a worried glance at him. He looked so happy! For a little while during the winter weeks, she had thought that Fabienne was attracted to Bill. And too, during the time that she was ill, she had been dependent on him. Ellen had deliberately stayed away, giving them time to be alone with each other. But suddenly Fabienne had changed.

Well, she thought, Fabienne had an environment that was not easy to break away from. Reared in the lap of luxury, it was not unlikely that she was afraid to fall in love out of her own circle. Or, again, perhaps it was only the brief story of the patient-physician relationship, pleasant, dependent and over when that dependence was over.

And there was Nicky. Perhaps, after all, Fabienne was in love with Nicky and reluctant to admit it. She had seen Nicky at the wedding—remembering him from the one time she had seen him that first day with Fabienne at the settlement house—and he looked very handsome. Not big and rugged like Bill, but delicately boned, aristocratic and a trifle sad. The kind of man Ellen liked.

Nicky and Fabienne belonged to the same background. She and Bill were outsiders. She'd never let herself fall in love with a man like Nicky. But men never felt the things a girl did and she feared for Bill.

Her thoughts ran a swift, troubled current during the drive down Fifth avenue and across Twenty-second street.

"Does my nose need powdering?" Bill asked humorously at the door, which was immediately opened by a butler.

"No, but I wish I'd hired a costume," Ellen whispered, looking about at the crush of handsomely gowned women. She rather wished they hadn't come, but Dick had dropped in to thank her and Bill for what they'de done to Fabienne and been most insistent about them appearing. And now here they were with not a familiar face in sight.

Then she saw Nicky, and Nicky was coming toward them.

"Hello," he said, holding out his hand to her. "I expect you don't know me, but I remember you. I'm Nicky Bartlett, friend of the family. You're Miss Chapman, aren't you? I saw you one day when I drove Fab down to Willoughby house."

Pink brushed Ellen's cheecks because he said he remembered her. And Ellen was very pretty when that pinkness came into her face. She said shyly. "I do remember you, of course."

Bill had turned along with the tide of incoming guests and was talking to Fabienne.

"I must see Fabienne," she said.

"I'll get you in the line and then we'll get you some champagne. I want to talk to you."

Imagine his wanting to talk to her! To plain Ellen Chapman, who wore a dark blue reefer and a simple little quilled Scotch cap, when the rooms were filled with beautifully gowned girls.

Moving toward the line, with Nicky's hand at her elbow, Ellen found that Fabienne was leaving the line. She saw her face for a moment.

"Stay right here. I'll catch one of these boys with trays," Nicky said.

He was lost in the crowd of people and Ellen wandered away. There had been something in Fabienne's crumbling face that she had seen.

She went through the door when Fabienne had disappeared and found herself in a long corridor. Doors opened to the right and to the left. She looked into them, not finding her, and came to a closed door. She put her head to it. Inside the sound of muffled crying was very low.

Ellen turned the knob softly.

Fabienne lay on her bed, the folds of her blue bridesmaid gown, spread about her, her cornsilk hair spread over the pillow. She looked like a doll that had been thrown there. Only her shoulders moved, rising and falling with deep sobs.

Ellen moved across the room and drew the sobbing girl toward her.

"Too much excitement for our invalid," she said, offering her handkerchief. Fabienne's square of priceless lace was a wet crumbled ball.

Fabienne dabbed at her swollen eye, not meeting Ellen's eye. "That's it, I guess," he said. "Lovely, wasn't it?"

"Lovely," Ellen said, casting her eye about and seeing a bath beyond. "Come wash you eyes in cold water. I always cry at weddings, too. But you've got to make an appearance."

"I—I can't, Ellen."

"Oh, yes, you can. Just a few minutes and then you can slip away for good. If you don't, I'll believe you are ill and send Bill in to you."

Fabienne sat up then. "No, I don't want Bill in here today," Fabienne said firmly.

She followed Ellen into the bathroom and alowed her to put cold compresses on her eyes. "You're right, Ellen, one always does cry at weddings," she said tentatively, wondering if Ellen had guessed why she was crying.

For once Ellen had not known.

She said, "I've met your Nicky. He was very nice to me. Took me in hand at once."

"Nicky is nice. He's sweet. Did you have some champagne?"

"He was getting it for me, but I came to look for you. You and I'll both have some." Nicky was probably giving her champagne to one of the glamorous girls. Briefly, Ellen wished that she had a little glamor; or was a few inches taller and very light and gay and knew the right laughing things to say to young men who said they remembered her.

"There's food in the dining room if you care for some. We're having a little family dinner at Pierre's," Fabienne said, restored to some of her former aplomb. She patted powder over the fading pink of her nose. "Horrible things, family dinners."

Fabienne brushed her hair, set her dutch cap back on her head and gave a last look in the mirror.

The girls were about to go out when the door opened and Gertrude, in yellow lace with sable bands, came in, fluttering, animated and beautiful, as usual, exclaiming, "Fab. You simply can't disappoint this way. Darling, I've asked your Dr. Mallory—he's simply divine, my dear! to come to dinner with us."

"Mother, you didn't!" Fabienne said angrily.

Ellen's heart went down into her shoes. Poor Bill, she thought.

Fabienne, with the look of anger still on her face, whirled to Ellen. "Then you must come, too," she said firmly, "There'll be Nicky for me and you for Bill."

Ellen's heart beat more unevenly than it ever had before, but she said calmly, "I'd love to."

LOOK TO THE FUTURE

IT IS much more important to manage to tell your partner about the fact that you have two suits, than it is to indicate the exact length of them. Starting with a lower rank suit of five cards and later showing a higher one of four cards will aid him in getting an exact picture of your distribution. But suppose you begin with that td [illegible]nd later find you cannot afto[illegible] come in with the higher-ranking suit. You have then told him only half of your main story, because of your too extreme desire originally to tell him too much.

The difference between starting right and wrong was clearly illustrated on this duplicate deal. At one table South opened expertly with 1-Heart. West bid 1-Spade, East 2-Clubs, South 2-Diamonds, West 3-Clubs and North 3-Hearts, which West doubled. It was set only one trick, for an East-West score of 100.

East and West made 110—an important difference in duplicate—at the other table, where South started by bidding 1-Diamond because the suit was stronger and longer. West then bid 1-Spade, East 2-Clubs and South didn't dare bid 2-Hearts, which would show much greater strength than he had because he would push his partner to the three level in order to show diamond preference. So he satisfied himself with 2-Diamonds. When West bid 3-Clubs, the bidding was over, for North couldn't come in without ever having heard about his partner's hearts. The 3-Club contract was made right on the nose, with the loss of three tricks in diamonds and one in hearts.

MILLBROOK, Jan. 27—(ENS).—The W.A. of St. Thomas' Church held its initial meeting of the new year at the home of Mrs. C. M. Westmacott on Monday at 8 p.m., Mrs. William Simpson reading the lesson, and the hostess, who is also president, taking the prayers of the W.A. Litany.

Reports for 1939 were presented and were uniformly gratifying in character. Mrs. J. E. Allen gave the report for the finances, showing all pledges fully met, all extra expenses paid, and a substantial balance on hand for the current year's beginning.

Miss Bella McCorry gave an outline of the work among the junior girls, all pledges in this society also being paid up, and a balance on hand after expenses had been met. For the Dorcas work, Mrs. H. J. Russell reported the annual bale sent in the spring; quilts and other supplies sent for distribution in Northern Ontario, and a supply of second-hand clothing shipped to a point in Haliburton county.

In loving memory of the late Miss Annie Armstrong, for several years the faithful and efficient Dorcas secretary of the Auxiliary, all stood for two minutes' silence, after the president had feelingly voiced the appreciation of Miss Armstrong's services and the loss sustained by her death.

Announcement was made of the World Day of Prayer on the first Friday in Lent, and arrangements were partially made for the Anglican Auixiliary's participation, the event to be held this year in Grace Presbyterian Church. An account of the Diocesan W.A. Board meeting in Toronto was read by the secretary, and discussion of problems followed, as they affect the individual society. A letter from the society's "prayer partner" who conducts a "Sunday School by Post" in Saskatchewan, was read and much appreciated for its interesting information.

Following the hymn and the National Anthem, Mrs. Westmacott and Miss Macnamara served a dainty lunch and a social hour was enjoyed.

Mrs. L. M. Bonneville, who has recently returned after a two months' visit with Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Bonneville in Montreal, will be the supper hostess for the February meeting.

Y.P.A. Session.

The Young People's Union this week was under the Christian Cultural convener, Miss Jean Fisher, and her committee, the worship theme being taken from the King's Christmas message, beginning: "I said to a man who stood at the gate of the year, Give me a light that I may tread safely into the unknown . . ." The leader giving the talk, and those assisting being Phyllis Kidd, Patricia Moyles and Jack Kidd. The topic was: "The difference between the time of the Apostle Paul and our own day," with Jean Fisher covering the necessary information.

Guest speaker for the evening was Mr. F. L. Edworthy, who gave a comprehensive and informative talk on "Our Parliament, Why and How." The recreational period and the National Anthem closed the meeting.

Party For Ken Little.

Previous to Ken Little's departure for British Columbia this week a party in his honor was held at the home of Mrs. J. Moyles, with about thirty of the young folk of the community in attendance.

The early part of the evening was spent in playing progressive euchre, with seven tables in use, the winners for high score being Ada Peers, and the guest of honor, Ken Little. Dancing followed the card games, and after the service of lunch, Earl Edworthy and William Kerr presented Kenneth with a handsome travelling set, in black alligator case.

The recipient of the gift made suitable acknowledgment, and when all had sung "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow," the happy party was shortly afterward brought to a close. The guests included: Misses Dorothy Harker, Mary Eakins, Leitha Edworthy, Laureen and Mary Handley, Ada Peers, Jean Fisher, Ruth Richards, Velma Thornton, Annabelle McNeil, Mary Smith, Marjorie McDowell, Eleanor Bigelow, Patricia Moyles, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Foster, and Messrs. Loading Up Prior To Taking Off On Patrol Flight

Passed by the British censor, this picture shows Royal Air Force mechanics loading a chain of machine-gun bullets into the guns of a Spitfire pursuit plane, just prior to the Spitfire taking off on a regular patrol of the British coast. These speedy planes have proved more than a match for Germany's highly touted Messerschmidts. This picture was transmitted from New York by phonephoto.

Fine For Leaving Key In Car

Second reading was given to a bill of Dr. A. S. Duncan (Lib. London) to make it an offence to leave the ignition key in an unattended, unlocked motor vehicle on any street in an urban municipality. Dr. Duncan said the bill would remove temptation from the path of many youths. Penalties of $1 to $10 are provided.

Provincial Secretary Harry Nixon looked with favor on the bill and it was passed on to municipal bills committee. There it is likely to be amended to exempt delivery trucks from its provisions, it being argued that it would be impractical to require a delivery truck to be locked every time the driver left it.

Also scheduled for debate in committee is an amendment to the Highway Traffic Act to permit motor buses with a maximum overall length of 35 feet to use Ontario highways. Present permitted maximum is 33 feet. Notes to the bill said the change would legalize operation of the most modern type of buses.

Leopold Macaulay (Con. York South) said any change should be toward shortening the permitted length.

U.S.-Japan Treaty Expires Tonight

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27—(AP).—Expiration of the Japanese-American commercial treaty at midnight tonight opens the way for the United States congress to place an embargo on shipments of raw materials or take other action to hinder Tokyo's war on China.

Whether any steps actually will be taken apparently depends on Japan. The treaty's termination places commercial relations between the two countries on a day-to-day basis, although customs duties remain unchanged.

American abrogation of the pact is believed in many quarters here to have been prompted by congressional agitation for an embargo on materials which Japan needs for her military campaigns.

Bills pending in the Senate would stop exports to Tokyo on the ground that Japan has violated the nine-power treaty respecting the territorial integrity of China.

Commerce between Japan and the United States approaches $400,000,000 a year. Japan has sought unsuccessfully to obtain a new treaty or some stop-gap arrangement to continue present commercial relations.

Parasite Army Gaining On Sawflies

MONTREAL, Jan. 27 — (CP). — More than 200,000,000 parasites were released in the forest of five Canadian provinces last year to combat the dread spruce sawfly, A. B. Baird of the Dominion parasite laboratory at Belleville, Ont., reported in an address prepared for delivery today at the annual meeting of the woodlands section of the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association.

More than half the number were spread through Quebec, where in 1932 ravages of the sawfly in the Gaspe Peninsula brought attention to the insect's menace to spruce forests, and almost as many were released in New Brunswick. The comparatively small remaining number of parasites went to Ontario, Nova Scotia and Manitoba.

"For the first time since the campaign against the European spruce sawfly was started," said Mr. Baird, "we can discuss the parasite situation in a somewhat more optimistic vein."

He said two species of parasites imported to Canada and now particularly has "in some areas destroyed millions of the sawfly pest giving us reason to hope that our great spruce forests may yet be spared the disaster that appeared imminent in 1932."

"It would of course be folly to think the victory was won," Mr. Baird added, "but it gives us encouragement to press forward the attack with renewed vigor."

Navy Prize Cash Plans Unfixed

LONDON, Jan. 27—(CP).—Men of the Royal Navy are wondering of the Admiralty will continue in this war the traditional practice of awarding prize money and special bounty.

Officials are deliberating whether to give prize money for captured German ships and cargoes and special bounty for German warships destroyed. They have not made up their minds yet.

At the end of the First Great War part of the value of all seized German ships and goods was distributed among all navy men. The money was divided on a proportionate basis, according to rank and length of service at sea.

In the old days prize money went exclusively to the crew of the ship which made the capture. But most of the fleet was occupied in 1914-18 in bottling up the German Navy. Authorities decided it would be unfair for all the benefit to go to the few ships engaged in hunting down enemy shipping.

When an enemy warship was destroyed in the last war a bounty of £25 was paid for every sailor aboard the enemy ship. This was distributed proportionately according to rank and length of service amongst the crew of the British warship or warships responsible.

If this bounty is awarded in this war, the crews of the cruisers Exeter, Ajax and Achilles will get it for the destruction of the German pocket battleship Admiral Graf Spee. Many destroyers' crews would be rewarded for sinking submarines.

Even if it is decided to resume prize money and bounty awards the method of distribution may be changed. Official quarters emphasized the whole matter is up in the air at present.

Asks $7,000 Damages For Change In Road

MONTREAL, Jan. 27 — (CP). — Mr. Justice Lefebvre took under advisement yesterday Joseph Lefebvre's $7,000 suit against the town of Rigaud for damages he claimed his hardware and foundry business suffered following diversion of Ottawa-Montreal motor traffic from the street on which his business establishments are situated.

His action was taken on the grounds that diversion of the Ottawa-Montreal highway to connect a new bridge over the Rigaud River had been approved by the town's council. In defence the town argued alteration of the route had been made by the Provincial Roads Department.

Allies Fly 25 Experts To Rumania

Beat German Group By Few Hours As Oil War Peps Up

BUCHAREST, Jan. 29—(AP).—The struggle for control of Rumania's oil resources was intensified today with arrival by plane of a 25-member British-French mission followed shortly by a new group of German negotiators who came by train.

Arrival of the delegations followed a statement by a highly-placed person that Britain and France have indicated they may break off economic relations with Rumania unless the question of oil for Germany is settled satisfactorily.

Commenting on the situation, the newspaper Curentul declared Britain and France "can buy as much oil as they want from Rumania but have no right to oppose others getting their share."

The basis of the reported Allied representations is the Rumanian "oil dictatorship" under which Britain and France fear their concerns in Rumania will be forced to furnish oil for the German war machine.

(Informed sources in London termed the reported threat to break off economic relations as "extremely unlikely.")

Germans Do Some Warning.

Meanwhile, Germany is said to have warned Rumania that she will be forced to take "other measures," if she doesn't get larger quantities of Rumanian oil. To underline this need, it is reported, Germany told Bucharest oil is a matter of life or death for the Reich.

There are unconfirmed rumors the British and French-controlled oil companies in Rumania are considering a campaign of passive resistance in their plants against any Rumanian attempts to require shipment of their product to Germany.

The British and French concerns along with United States companies control the bulk of Rumania's petroleum production.

In reply to the reported Allied representations, the Rumanian Cabinet is said to have argued that this country could not drop "economic co-operation" with Germany because more than 40 per cent of her entire Change Needed?

New York, Jan. 29 (AP)

THE Mother-in-law Association rose up today, declared it didn't like the hyphenated word and said that, with the help of dictionary man Wilfred Funk, something would be done about it.

Funk himself said he would be glad to help the association in its search for a word to replace "mother-in-law" and said he would put it into the dictionary "if a really new and usable synonym can be found."

The publisher was named one of the judges to select a word which the association hopes can be found by the time it holds its second annual meeting Feb. 6.

OTTAWA, Jan. 29. — (CP) —A net operating surplus of $357,454 for the year ending March 31, 1939, is shown in the annual report of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation released by the Board of Governors of the C. B. C. today.

Fixed assets of the corporation were increased ny $346,561, due largely to the construction of new transmitters in the Maritimes and in the Prairies. These transmitters, CBA at Sackville, N. B., and CBK at Watrous, Sask., incomplete at the end of March, 1939, cost approximately $500,000 and were financed out of the Government loan already voted.

The Corporation paid $50,000 off the first Government loan. The income for the fiscal year, derived from the sale of licenses and a limited amount of commercial revenue, totalled $3,311,440.

The production of programs and the improvement and upkeep of facilities are the only uses made of revenue by the Corporation. Operating

Few Campaign Trips Out Of Ottawa For King, Cabinet

OTTAWA, Jan. 29—(CP).—Political parties hurriedly started to reorganize their election machinery today for a strange, wartime campaign for votes in the general election next March 26.

The national offices of the major parties practically folded up when war was declared and a political truce tacitly agreed upon. But the fireworks set off by the calling of the election and the hectic, four-hour parliamentary session have resulted in a rejuvenation of political life in the capital.

Headquarters of the Liberal and Conservative parties are active again laying plans for the campaign and the National Executive of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation completed a lengthy meeting during the week-end.

It won't be a hustings fight for the Government but rather the Cabinet will endeavor to lay the administration's case before the electorate through the newspapers and over the radio.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King told newsmen at a press conference Saturday that the election will be held March 26, the earliest possible date under the present electoral law, but he and his colleagues will make

Finn Baron Chief Out To Capture Leningrad And Restore The Romanoff Dynasty Moscow's Press Informs Its Red Public

MOSCOW, Jan. 29 — (AP). — Russians received scant official reports to-day of war activity and an unofficial allegation that the Finnish command contemplates conquest of Leningrad and restoration of the Romanoffs.

The Leningrad headquarters communique on the war with Finland said:

"Jan. 28—Nothing of importance took place on the Western front."

Field-Marshal Baron Mannerheim, comander-in-chief of the Finnish army, was accused by the newspaper Trud of believing his "historical mission is the conquest of Leningrad and restoration of the Romanoff Dynasty."

"Trud, organ of Soviet trade unions, added that the Finns "dream of annexing Northern Norway and Northern Sweden."

It charged that the Finnish Government oppressed minorities, especially Lapps and Swedes.

The Soviet news agency, Tass, said yesterday it had been authorized by "responsible quarters" to deny reports that there are German troops in the Russian-occupied part of Poland.

In the hope of saving about 1,000,000 tons of gasoline a year, Russia was reported speeding up the manufacture of automobiles propelled by gas from burning wood or coal.

"Wood burning" automobiles already have been operated successfully in timber districts, it was said.

Bank Raid, Chase Gets Pastor Nabbed In Error

LONDON, Ont., Jan. 29 — (CP). —City and Provincial Police Departments east to Toronto have been asked to search for the lone bandit who held up the Rectory Street branch of th Dominion Bank this afternoon and escaped under a hail of bullets with more than $1,000

The original licence number broadcast by police caused the temporary "arrest" of Rev. William Brewing of Toronto, when he was stopped by Ingersoll police who had received a flash that the bandit's car was bearing his number. Mr. Brewing was released immediately he established his identity.

A note scrawled on a blank cheque saying "This is a holdup, act natural, and don't put your hands up," was the gunman's introduction to the robbery. He thrust the note through the teller's cage into Nash's hand. Then he told him to hand over the $20 bills.

Then he ordered $10, $5, and $2 bills, but scorning a big handful of $1 bills, he turned and hurriedly departed.

Nash said that he carried one revolver in his left hand, partly

Ontario Making List Of All Skilled Labor

TORONTO, Jan. 29—(CP).—Hon. Norman Hipel, Labor Minister, announced today that at the request of the Federal Government, the Provincial employment service will register skilled and semi-skilled workers for civilian employment in wartime industries in Ontario.

"There is a great possibility, amounting almost to positive assurance, that within the next few months the demand for suitably competent workers for civilian employment in wartime industrial establishments and in connection with the prosecution of the British Empire air training plans in Canada, will be most pronounced and will call for the engagement of the services of thousands of suitably skilled and semi-skilled workers," Mr. Hipel's statement said.

Residents of localities in which there are no Provincial employment offices may obtain forms from the municipal clerk or by writing to Queen's Park.

While this special registration is limited those with industrial skill it is hoped that all unskilled workers

Attacks Ranging From Tay In North To Kent Beaten Off By R.A.F. With Little Loss; Finns Slay 1,200 Russians In 2 Battles

7 Bombs In Tyneside Are All Misses; Eight Ships Escape

LONDON, Jan. 29 — (CP). — German bombers were reported to have attacked British shipping along 400 miles of the East Coast to-day in the most widespread raids on shipping yet attempted.

British fighter planes drove off the bombers, an official statement said.

Attacks on vessels were reported from the mouth of the River Tay in the north to the Kent Coast in the south. They continued from shortly after 9 a.m. to mid-day.

Anti-aircraft guns went into action in the Tyneside area.

Air raid warnings sounded in a number of north-east coast districts. Ships reporting attacks were listed as the British Officer, Atholl Monarch, Danny Bryn, Stanburn, Otterpool, Knitsley, and Wellpark. Also the Imperial Monarch, 5,831 tons, reported that bombers flying near her were driven off by British fighters.

Seven bombs were dropped near the Llanwern in the Tyneside, without a hit.

Raiders over the Shetland Islands dropped small bombs, but no reports of damage were received in London.

Japanese Taking Vengeance Out On Tientsin

TIENTSIN, China, Jan. 29 (AP) —Only the barest food supplies were on hand in the British and French concessions today as housewives and servants crowded markets to buy up provisions at doubled prices amid fear of the worst shortage in more than seven months of Japanese blockade.

Import of all food for the foreign-controlled areas was banned as the Japanese again electrified the blockade barriers and retightened other measures which first went into effect June 14, but gradually had been relaxed.

Fighting Near Ladoga Waxes Fierce As Reds Get Desperate

HELSINGFORS, Jan. 29 — (AP). —The Finnish high command reported to-day that its troops had killed more than 1,250 Russians in two battles in which the invaders were driven back on the Eastern Front.

"About 800" Russian troops were killed and 160 taken prisoner northeast of Lake Ladoga, the army reported, and in the Aittojoki sector to the south "the enemy left over 450 dead on the field."

The fighting north-east of Lake Ladoga "became very fierce in character," the army communique said. "Our troops repulsed all the enemy's attacks and captured a few enemy strong points."

Soviet Russian field guns were reported today to be pumping thousands of shells into Finland's Karelin Isthmus defences, apparently to relieve the hard-pressed fragments of four Red divisions on the Lake Ladoga front.

On the basis of Finnish advices from the wilderness of snow and ice north of Lake Ladoga, the Russian offensive aimed at Finland's main defences on the Isthmus' Mannerheim line appeared to be faltering and shaping into a retreat with extremely heavy losses.

The Finnish head-quarters communique last night said Russian attacks in the Ladoga region were "weaker" Saturday although "the enemy's losses in killed mounted in the course of the day to some hundreds."

Military quarters interpreted the Russian attacks as rearguard action to permit reorganization of forces in the hope of making a stronger stand with arrival of supplies and reinforcements.

Heavy artillery attacks on the Isthmus line were seen as a possible attempt to draw Finnish forces from the Ladoga front to bolster the Isthmus defenders.

"A considerable range of existing blends will still be available," he added. "There will not be a standard blend o ftea. There is no suggestion of a national tea at all."

He said the date of rationing would be announced soon. A further announcement was that beginning Feb. 5 margarine would be vitamized to make it equal in vitamin content to butter.

Jobless Uprising Is Hinted Looming In U.S.

COLUMBUS, Jan. 29. —(AP) — Philip Murray, John L. Lewis' first assistant, warned today that "uprisings might develop from people seeking a right to live" unless the unemployment is solved.

Speaking in favor of a resolution urging a White House Conference, among labor, business, agriculture and Government, Murray vice president of the United States Mine Workers and chairman of the Steel Workers' Organizing Committee, told the U. M. W. convention:—

"The Federal administration in Washington has evidenced no desire to cure unemployment. In Pennsylvania, which has 10,000,000 citizens, 1,000,000 are idle, and they represent 3,000,000 people.

"Of this 1,000,000, only 333,000 are receiving relief. There are 666,000 left to shift for themselves—starving to death.

"If present conditions continue, an uprising might develop from people seeking a right to live."

Murray said he had appealed twice to President Roosevelt for a conference on unemployment, but Mr. Roosevelt "is fearful of disagreement, fearful that business leaders

Ontario In Role Of Indirect Party To Seaway

TORONTO, Jan. 29. — (CP).— While Canada and the United States are negotiating an agreement on the St. Larence seaway, questions are being asked about it in the Ontario Legislature. Ontario, through its interest in power development, will be an indirect party to the international agreement.

George Challies (Con. Grenville-Dundas) expressed alarm in the House last week over the reported agreement on a single-stage development which would, he said, require the flooding of 20,000 more acres in Eastern Ontario than would the originally-projected two-stage development.

Premier Mitchell Hepburn said he would not answer question concerning the engineering aspects of the problem. But on the order paper of the House to-day appeared the following resolutions in Mr. Challies' name:

That there be laid before the House a return showing all surveys and minutes of meetings of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission relative to or involved in the proposed development of the international section of the St. Lawrence river since Oct. 1, 1937.

Gestapo Out To Exterminate All Catholic Poles Charges Of Atrocity Claim

VATICAN CITY, Jan. 29 — (AP) —The Polish Embassy at the Holy See has made public a report charging the Gestapo—the Nazi secret police—and other authorities of the German-occupied section of Poland with persecution and atrocities which were said to be aimed at "extermination" of Catholic Polish inhabitants.

The report, issued as a pamphlet which Embassy officials indicated was based on information from priests, charged the Gestapo with shooting at least 14 priests and being responsible for the deaths of five others by maltreatment; with closing churches and driving the Catholic religion underground; with beating, humiliating, and imprisoning clergymen; and with forcing a mass migration of Poles from the archdioceses of Poznan and Gniezno.

Admit Priests Shot

(German authorities in Berlin declined to comment on the specific charge that 14 priests had been shot, but they admitted that priests were shot as "snipers" when arms were found in their homes. Authorized German sources denied there was persecution of Catholics in Poland and stated that churches were open for worship as usual.)

The Polish report charged that persons expelled from their homes were left in the open country to shift for themselves and that boys and girls of 14 and younger were deported to Germany to be brought up under Nazi doctrines.

Polish embassy officials said that the report was read by Pope Pius and August Cardinal Hlond, primate of Poland.

In charging that the Germans sought to exterminate the Catholic Polish inhabitants, the report said: "It is a real extermination, conceived with diabolic malice and carried out with unequalled cruelty."

It described the deportation of thousands of Poles, including priests, in cattle cars from their homes to that part of Poland known as "general government" Poland, with reports that many died on the trips.

(This referred to the section of Poland under German control but not joined to Germany under "permanent" annexation.)

Churches and buildings of religious orders of priests and nuns were confiscated by the Gestapo along with other property, the report charged, and the altars of churches and convents allegedly were profaned.

Perri Conspiracy May Reach Supreme Court

WINDSOR, Ont., Jan. 29—(CP)— Possibility that the conspiracy trials of Rocco Perri of Hamilton, Ont., Mrs. Anne Newman and four suspended Windsor customs officers might go to the Supreme Court of Ontario jury late today was seen at the conclusion of a brief morning session.

Wilfred Fletcher and Norman Lepain, two of the accused customs officers, followed the trend adopted by Ed Mansell and Carl Gough last week when they took the stand and denied ever having passed merchandise knowingly without charging any duties payable, or having ever conspired with anybody to do so.

Both officers denied that they had ever given or accepted a bribe and otherwise refuted the evidence given by David Armaly, 32, discharged customs officer and chief crown witness who declared that through connivance with the officers, he had passed thousands of gallons of alcohol for Mrs. Newman and Perri without payment of any duties.

All Characters Good

James Mossman, senior customs officer, was the only other witness heard today and told of customs inspections. He said that the character of the four customs officers was good, as far as he knew. In cross-examination, he declared that it was possible, he believed, for junior officers to pass goods through the customs by connivance without the knowledge of senior officers.

Defence counsel indicated they had only one or two further witnesses to call before resting the case and the Crown was not expected to have many witnesses in reply. Paul Martin, K.C., counsel for Mrs. Newman, criticized Crown Prosecutor Thomas Phelan for not calling

New Sub Wave Launched In 2-Week Drive

PARIS, Jan. 29.—(AP)—A "new wave" of German submarines is reported to have taken to the seas to war on merchant shipping. The submarine foray was reported yesterday by the French high command, and observers estimated the submarine force was about one-third of the 75 to 80 submarines Germany is believed to have in commission.

Beyond saying that depth mines had produced results against the undersea raiders, the high command gave no details of the anti-submarine campaign.

Observers said the new submarine force put to sea about a week ago and would rove shipping lanes two weeks before returning to bases.

The torpedoing of two French freighters in one convoy, the 2,769-ton Tourny and the 3,810-ton Alsacien, was reported yesterday when 28 of the Tourny's 36 crewmen were landed at Vigo, Spain.

The Tourny's survivors did not know what happened to the 25 to 30 men aboard the Alsacien.

Churchill's Hint Of Million Women Needed For War Jobs, Stirs Press

LONDON, Jan. 29—(CP).—Newspapers commenting today on the speech at Manchester Saturday by Winston Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty, showed particular interest in his statement that 1,000,000 women may be recruited for war jobs.

"When Mr. Churchill speaks," The Daily Mail said, "he always says something worth hearing. We wish more British ministers would combine, as he does, the gifts of oratory and pugnacity.

"He tells us that before long another 1,000,000 women of Britain will be needed to take a personal part in the war effort, mainly in munitions factories. That shows the world in vivid terms the extent of our determination and the resources we are developing."

The News-Chronicle said: "Mr. Churchill's remarks during the week-end on the recruitment of women gave an indication of what in due course will certainly be needed. But his call to 1,000,000 women was rather misleading, for it sounded almost as though he wanted them at once.

"We should be very happy to think that our war effort is so far advanced as to make the employment of 1,000,000 women necessary right now, but that is very far from being the case. If the women 'come boldly forward' now in response to Mr. Churchill, they are bound to be disappointed."

Need Explaining

"Mr. Churchill's word need supplementing. The government should be in a position to foresee the requirements of female labor and make public a rough timetable showing the time at which women are likely to be wanted. Meanwhile, training should go forward as fast as possible."

The Daily Herald obesrved: "The demand for more skilled men can be mainly met from the ranks of skilled men still unemployed. It can be assisted by inducing the return from other industries of men who left the engineering and associated trades during the depression. We are a long way yet from the need for 'dilution' by placing either men or women into occupations hitherto recognized as those of skilled craftsmen."

The Daily Telegraph said: "Let us to the task! To battle an dtoil!" That is the call in Mr. Churchill's speech which came to willing hearts. He said well that nothing in our long history of danger defied and defeated, of bold ventures making the cause of freedom and of other nations one with our own, will be more remarked in years to come than the unity of eagerness to 'encounter the Size Of Modern Home Seen Forcing Lovers To Pop Most Of Proposals In Some Car

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 29.—(AP) —By far the most marriage proposals are now made outside the girl's home, probably in some automobile, the Institute of Family Relations deduces from a study of 1,181 proposals.

Dr. Paul Popenoe, general director of the Institute, concluded:

"Modern homes are small or lack privacy. The automobile gives the couple a chance to be alone. Hence 25 per cent of the proposals were made in the car and only 23 per cent in the girl's home."

Besides the automobile proposals were listed these others outside the home:

20 per cent in streets, parks, campuses, restaurants or other public places.

13 per cent on vacation or while travelling.

10 per cent at parties, dinners, dances.

6 per cent by letter or wire.

3 per cent miscellaneous.

Dr. Popenoe contended the average man's proposal technique is disgraceful:

"A common performance, it appears, is for the young couple to be looking into a furniture store window when the man inquires, 'How about you and me fixing up a little love nest, huh?'"

Trains Lost, Traffic Snowed Under, Worst Tieup Of Britain's History

LONDON, Jan. 29.—(CP Cable.) —Britain's biggest road and rail tie-up in history continued to-day as the war office announced home leaves for the British Expeditionary Force had been temporarily postponed owing to "intensely severe weather conditions."

Food freight and mail trains were delayed anything from 11 to 24 hours, and many trains in the north of England and Scotland were completely "lost." In London there was general chaos, the confusion extending even to the underground system.

Nearly 400 passengers in two express trains stranded near Chorley, Lancashire, spent the night in the compartments or made their way to a nearby school.

Transport officials struggled to get the services going. To millions of Londoners late for work this morning they cautiously announced it was "hoped service woud be running normally" by the time of the evening rush through the blackout. Thousands who walked to work prepared to journey home the same way.

Any Londoner who reached his office on time to-day must have lived just around the corner.

But despite the big slow-up on land, there was no slackening in the air, with the R.A.F. ready and alert for action—as was proved when enemy aircraft approached the north-east coast this morning.

With services heavily curtained, thousands of London workers walked to work. Many offices and stores opened late because their clerks were delayed in suburban train tie-ups. Mails were undelivered in many parts of the country.

The Passenger Transport Board office announced that tram service in the outer districts of London was severely curtailed. Thousands of office workers were late as a result of difficulties in road and rail traffic. Many shops were unable to open.

In trains that ran compartments designed for 10 persons often carried as many as 22.

Trains were not running between Carlisle and Edinburgh, Naywick and St. Margaret's, Glendouglas and Whistlefield, Maryhill and Kelvin Valley, and at many other points.

Britain's most severe cold spell in 50 years, which froze seven rivers, began early this month.

The thermometer fell below zero in many cases. Even the sea froze as it lapped the shore at Felpham, near Bognor Regis, Sussex. Hundreds of people went to see this phenomenon, with a line of ice stretching along the coast for 300 yards.

Scottish lochs were frozen over. There was skating for the first time in 11 years on Rydal Water and other lakes in Westmoreland.

Farmers Review First Year Of Organization

Members of the Peterborough County Chamber of Agriculture at their first annual meeting Saturday afternoon reviewed their year of endeavor as the trail-blazing, pioneering unit for the rest of Canada, and their only disappointment was the fact that the movement has not broadened out at the base of the agricultural community of the Dominion as rapidly as they had hoped.

There are now six county organizations in Ontario, with 12 others in process of formation, but in this central area of the province Peterborough farmers still find themselves out in a lonely salient with no support yet forthcoming from Hastings, Northumberland, Durham, Victoria and Ontario.

Meanwhile, the Canadian Chamber of Agriculture is on the march, Reeve James Gifford of Ennismore, chairman, reported at Saturday's meeting, and while its main course and purposes are being charted the essential problem of enlisting the active support of the farmers of Canada by means of information and organization remains a drag on the whole program as it has been studied

Home Destroyed Near Menie

CAMPBELLFORD, Jan. 29. — (ENS) — Fire did close to $3,000.00 damage at the farm owned by Mrs. George S. Hay, near Menie, seven miles east of here, on Saturday.

The blaze broke out in midafternoon and was first noticed by a neighbor who gave the alarm to Mrs. Hay. The main portion of the two storey stone house was completely gutted but volunteer firemen succeeded in saving a kitchen and wood shed on the north east side of the building. The comparatively slow progress made by the fire as it worked its way down from the attic gave the occupants time to save practically all of the furniture and were in the process of removing doors when heat drove them from the building. It was due to the work of neighbours with snow and water that the loss was confined to the main part of the house. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

Priests are beginning to say mass and administer the sacraments cladestinely in private houses, the report said.

General Hugh S. Johnson, here to address the convention, described Lewis' break with the new deal as clever political strategy.

John L. Lewis, describing Labor Secretary Frances Perkins as "woozy in the head," expressed contempt for persons "who refuse to raise their hands to relieve the distress of the jobless."

Addressing the convention, Lewis recalled he had made repeated efforts to get Secretary Perkins and President Roosevelt to call a conference of labor, business and government officials to study unemployment problems.

Two weeks ago, the U.M.W. president said, he sent four labor men to discuss the situation with Miss Perkins, but she told them she did not think the problem was serious and to give the Democratic party time and everything would be worked out.

"After three hours they went away woozy in the head just like the good woman who is Secretary of labor," Lewis asserted.

But the relief unit itself was said by Finns to be blocked 20 miles from its destination. Railway communication there had been cut.

A reliable source said an officer captured when a Russian plane made a forced landing near Kiteba disclosed that the plane had been sent to rescue the Commander of Russian units in that sector.

Nine Russian planes tried to bomb Vibourg (Viipuri), Finland's second largest city, yesterday but were turned back by Finnish planes. The Russian planes appeared to have come from Estonian bases.

Foreign correspondents at Vibourg were shown several Russian prisoners fresh from the Isthmus front. They appeared better-equipped and trained than prisoners taken earlier in the war.

Mr. Justice George McFarland said that if Martin wished to have evidence from the witness, they could subpoena him and Phelan answered defence counsel that if he had been told in time, he would gladly have called the witness. For himself, Phelan said that he had questioned the witness and found that no purpose would have been served by his evidence and it would have served only to delay the case.

An air ministry communique said no enemy aircraft crossed the coast.

When the raiders were sighted off the northeast coast about 9 a.m. (4 a.m. EST), it said, air raid warnings were sounded, Royal Air Force fighter aircraft were sent up, and anti-aircraft guns opened fire in the Tyne district, on the Scottish north east coast.

The public calmly took shelter at one undisclosed inland Yorkshire town when observers reported what they believed were a number of German bombers. Air raid precaution organizations went to their posts.

In one town, bus and rail traffic continued running.

All-clear signals ended the alarm throughout the area at short intervals.

CoughlinMarked For Inquiry

NEW YORK, Jan. 29. —(AP) — Rev. Charles E. Coughlin has been marked for investigation "in due course" by the Department of Justice following the filing of formal complaints against the Michigan radio priests by the Jewish peoples committee.

This was confirmed by O. John Rogge, assistant United States Attorney General, before he left last night for Minneapolis and Chicago to gather evidence in an inquiry stemming from the arrest of 17 Christian front members here on charges of seditious conspiracy to overthrow the Government.

Father Coughlin, in his regular Sunday broadcast from Detroit, said he would welcome "with graciousness' an investigation of his activities.

No Federal Seat For Hepburn

TORONTO, Jan. 29 — (CP). — Members of the Ontario Government speculated to-day on what Premier Mitchell Hepburn will say in the Legislature concerning possible participation in the Federal election campaign. Mr. Hepburn would not give a hint as to what he might speak of, and it was learned he is not consulting the Cabinet.

Authoritatively, it was said that condemnation of the Federal Government will continue to-day with Col. George Drew, Conservative Leader, to speak first and be followed by Mr. Hepburn.

The Premier, asked concerning a rumor he might resign as Premier and contest the Elgin riding in the Federal election on March 26 as an Independent Liberal, said there was "nothing to it."

"I have no ambitions to return to Ottawa where I was for eight years," he said. "It holds no fascination for me."

The gunman carried out his robbery so cooly and with such apparent planning, that the second of the two-man staff in the bank at the time, didn't know a holdup had taken place until after the gunman had left.

Then the two bank employees, Teller A. J. Nash, and J. S. Carpenter, ledgerkeeper, caught up revolvers and commenced to fire. Nash ran onto the street while Carpenter fired through the bank window.

The robber was at least six feet tall, Nash said. He declared he was thin, dark and in need of a shave. He said he wore a cap similar to that worn by taxi drivers, but with the badge missing.

Firemen Jack Alexander, and Alfred Leeson, were driving east on Dundas street in McDonald's car, at the same moment the bandit ran out of the bank. The bandit jumped into a car parked 30 feet from the bank, and speeded westward. The firemen swung around and set out in hot pursuit.

The bandit's car was out of sight by the time the firemen turned around. They soon overtook a 1936 automobile, going about 70 miles an hour, which they believed may have been the bandit car.

They thought, at one time, that a second person, possibly a woman was sitting or lying low down in the car. They took a licence number and telephoned it ahead to Ingersoll.

When it was all over, the car the firemen had been using, driven by Leonard McDonald of 1579 Dundas street, had a bullet hole in the radiator grille. No one could be found who saw the bandit shoot at any time.

Lakefield Girls Given Tips On Entertaining

LAKEFIELD, Jan. 29. —(ENS) — Miss Minnie Charlton was hostess for the fifth meeting of the Kawartha Kins Klub held at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Charlton on Friday evening.

Twelve members answered the roll call of "My Favorite Sanwich Filling" including egg, pepper paste Honey and peanut butter mixture and ham fillings.

The duties of a hostess at a party were explained by the leaders, Misses Eva Higgins and Hazel Northey. Before dressing she should have the chairs arranged and the rooms in readiness, greet the guests cordially at the door and show them where to leave their wraps.

To plan decorations for a party, flowers should be used whenever they may be obtained. A suitable centrepiece for the dining room table may consist of a bowl of red rosy apples with sprays of cedar or pine among the apples. Lighted candles also make a pleasing effect.

The making of place cards was demonstrated. One type could be made by folding plain white paper, open edges on table, sitting these upright, coloring with a watercolor and leaving a space where the name may be written.

The duties of a houseguest were given by the leader some of these proving to be, once the invitation is accepted, it is the guest's duty to be present unless illness prevents. she should be punctual, cheerful and also cultivate friendship with the other guests, especially a new comer or a shy girl. Enjoy the entertainment and if necessary assist the hostess in serving.

How to give introductions and receive them was another part of the evening lesson. The words of an introduction should be simple and direct. Always introduce a gentleman to a lady; a younger person to an older person, unmarried lady to a married lady unless unmarried person is much older, child to an older person, a less distinguished person to a more distinguished person. When replying to an introduction best to say, How do you do, add a smile and a direct glance to the person. A girl rises to meet an older woman, a man or boy always rises to meet an older person, a girl does not rise to meet another girl or boy. A child should be taught to rise on being introduced.

The making and decorating of cup cakes was demonstrated by Eva Higgins and Muriel Bullock showed the correct method of making cocoa.

Dainty refreshments were served by th hostess and her mother assited by members of the club.

Sample Market Hits Boom

It provides only lean pickings for Swiss merchants, but every little bit helps in the drive to compensate for war-lost trade.

Italy, for example, not only rations coffee but places heavy import duty on it. Germany has similar duties on foodstuffs. And the Swiss themselves have an effective import-export control system.

A way through the strict regulations has been found in the "sample" trickle—the mailing of "samples" from friend to friend without exchanging cash.

The 150,000 German nationals living in Switzerland and many others were relatives or friends in Germany are the best customers of the "sample" business.

They buy most of the grey cardboard boxes stamped "sample—no value" which Zurich department stores will fill with the 250 grams (about half a pound) of butter, chocolate, cocoa or sugar allowed to go out without an export permit.

A Great System.

Nor is the sending of "asmples" limited to food. The story is told of how a customs guard decided the number of shoes for the left foot passing through his post was decidedly suspicious.

Delightful Piano Recital Is Heard

A delightful piano recital was given in the Y.W.C.A. Green Room Friday evening from seven to eight o'clock by pupils of Isobel M. Brain. Taking part were students from the second half of the class, the others having made their debut earlier in the season. Jack Sutcliffe, violin pupil of Mr. Roy Rome, was assisting artist.

The young artists played with a technique that was evidence of careful training. Because the program was not extended to a tiresome length, the young folk enjoyed their part in the program almost as much as their enthusiastic audience, and were not too tired to give of their best.

The program was as follows:

FASHIONS

Be sure that your slip fits as well as your dress. This is good advice because your slip is the foundation upon which your new frocks will be seen. A dark slip for a dark dress is a good rule to follow as you are always sure of feeling well dressed. Pleating or ruffing at the hem line of this well cut design is an addition you will love. Darts at the waistline make this slip fit like a dream and ensure a perfect fit for that dress with the tiny waist, as well as others. Be sure to have several of these lovely slips, in various colors so that when you start wearing your new frocks, you will be beautifully groomed.

Style No. 3133 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44. Size 36 requires 2¼ yards of 40-inch material.

Enthusiastic letters regarding the work done by various sub-divisions in connection with Red Cross work were unanimously received. A motion was made by Mrs. Conlin and seconded by Miss M. The annual convention was discussed, although final arrangements were left over until a further meeting. Various scholarships were also discussed, and the matter referred to the convener of scholarships. After a successful meeting, Mrs. E. Crowe moved an adjournment.

...That a well-known furrier predicts capes will be preferred to jackets by style-conscious women for spring.

✧ ✧ ✧

...Capes for spring will be military in feeling, he says. The shoulders will be fashioned like those of a man's suit—broad, but not exaggerated and flat.

✧ ✧ ✧

...The favored lengths will vary from 24 to 30 inches. Circular flare will be a feature of these smooth-shouldered capes. It will start either from the shoulders or from yokes.

By All The Rules Of Economics The Girl Trained For Business Should Make a Better Wife, But There Are Many Things For Her To Guard Against.

NOWADAYS when the great majority of girls fit themselves to follow some trade or profession and go from the schoolroom to the counting room it raises the very interesting question of what sort of preparation business is for wifehood.

Much is to be said on both sides of the subject. At first glance it would seem that a business training was almost a MUST requirement for a girl for matrimony, and would produce a wife whose price is above rubies. She would, for instance, in the stern discipline of an office have had drilled into her habits of accuracy, promptness and efficiency whose lack in their mates drives so many husbands to drink and profanity.

Sally, who has learned to punch the time-clock on the dot, would not keep her husband waiting twenty minutes while she put on her hat. Nor would Mable, who was a crackerjack bookkeeper, do her cooking by guess and trust to luck for the results. Then the girl who has been through the business mill and whose job has depended upon her getting along with a cantankerous boss should know how to smooth the fur of her husband the right way and keep him eating out of her hand. She has learned to take criticism without getting in a huff or bursting into tears; to accept blame for the things she didn't do; to give the soft answer that turneth away wrath. This is the technique that keeps a marriage from going on the rocks.

Business should also teach a woman the sympathy and understanding of her husband that only those can have who have shared a common experience. She knows the Tired Business Man is no myth because she also has come home so tired from a hard day's work that she felt that there was nothing on earth she wanted so much as to flop on a couch, and that she would scream if anybody spoke to her. Hence she does not drag an exhausted man around to parties that last until 2 A.M. Nor does she expect him to be a gay and brilliant conversationalist. She simply lets him alone, and her husband blesses heaven for her.

Finally a business training teaches a woman how to handle money. No woman who has earned her own living ever looks at a dollar with the same eyes as the one who has had everything given to her. To the one it is something to throw at the birds. To the other it is something that has been wrought out of one's very life blood, that is made up of strain and weariness, but the only thing that stands between one and want and beggary, and that is to be used wisely and well. Hence the business wife is nearly always a good economist.

But, on the other hand, the business girl rarely knows anything whatever about domesticity, and the intrepid youth who intrusts whatever about domesticity, and the intrepid youth who intrusts his digestion to her keeping only too often finds that love's young dream has been blighted by dyspepsia.

Another disadvantage of the business girl is that she knows too much about men and their little ways. She has telephoned too often to her boss' wife that he had to stay down town at night for an important conference when he was going to play poker, for her husband to ever put over any such alibi on her. Also, having had her own pay envelope, she knows what her services are worth in the household and demands a fair share of the family income. She does not take kindly to having quarters doled out to her and having to fib about the cost of her new frock.

Still another drawback to the business wife is that she is too independent to suit the man who believes that a wife should be meek and humble and subservient to her lord and master and take whatever language and conduct he chooses to bestow upon her. The woman who has a good trade at her fingers' end and whose former employer is always bemoaning her loss, can put on her hat and walk out if she doesn't like the way she is treated.

And possibly the only real way in which business unfits a girl for wifehood is that after the first thrill of being married and having her own home and her own new furniture has worn off, she finds domesticity dull and boring. She is used to working in crowds, to people coming and going all the time, to hearing and seeing new things, to being a cog in a big machine, and it seems flat and tame to spend her days alone in a little house, with nothin more exciting to do than to go to market.

So there you are, and whether a young man choose the girl who has a business training or one who hasn't for a wife, he will probably get more than he deserves.

DEAR MISS DIX—I am in the unusual position of having a husband who notices what I have on; who observes when I have polished the silver; who actually tells me to go out and buy clothes; who never fails to appreciate and admire what I do and be sympathetic over my failures, and who constantly reiterates his conviction that he is the luckiest guy in the world and nobody could be as wonderful or so much fun to live with as I am. Do you think that I am married to the ONLY perfect man? — YOUNG WIFE.

ANSWER:

Certainly sounds that way. Anyway, you must be the favorite daughter of Lady Luck.

DOROTHY DIX.

Teachers Meet To Discuss Problems

A mid-winter dinner meeting of the Northern zone, Secondary School Teachers' Federation of Ontario, attended by fifty-five teachers from Lindsay, Norwood, Havelock, Campbellford, Port Hope, Millbrook and Peterborough, was held Friday evening at the Empress Hotel. Mr. H. H. Kerr of the Oshawa Collegiate staff was chairman, and speakers included Mr. S. H. Henry of the Central School of Commerce, Toronto, who spoke of Federation activities, and referred to the amicable relations existing generally between teachers and Boards of the Province, and Mr. A. E. O'Neill, principal of Oshawa Collegiate, who spoke briefly.

One of the topics which received considerable attention was that of the teachers' superannuation scheme, which at the present time is far from satisfactory. Recommendations were passed, and will be sent in to the Superannuation Commission.

Make Matching Chairs With Trim Slip Covers

Pair Lend Balance to Room

Give your living-room new fireside interest with a pair of chairs —dressed up in richly patterned covers you can make yourself.

Or you could have rayon damask in tawny gold with a self-colored pattern.

You make these slip covers by the simple pin on method. First remove cushions. Beginning at top of back, smooth material down over seat. Pin every 3 inches, as shown in picture. Leave 4-inch tuck-in between seat and back—to ease strain. Cut 1½ inches outside pins to allow for seams.

In the same way fit and cut arms, apron, sides, and back. Paper patterns will help you fit fronts of arms and cushions exactly.

Now you baste, try on and fit, and remove for final stitching. The ruffled flounce you add last of all.

Step-by-step directions and easy-to-follow diagrams for all kinds of slip covers are given in our 32-page booklet. Tells how to estimate material, cut, finish and trim. Suggests smart color schemes.

Send 15c in coins or stamps for your copy of HOW TO MAKE SLIP COVERS to Examiner, Home Service, Peterborough. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, and the NAME of booklet.

Abuse Not Welcome

One report from Ottawa carries the information that anything which may have looked like a political truce is now off, and the prediction is made that the election campaign will be bitter. It was not at all necessary to wait for such word to come from Ottawa. There was a letter received at the Examiner office today and its tone and content were bitter as could be. We publish here one extract:

"...such a cowardly thing for King to do, the tactics of a man who would run away at any time rather than stand up and fight. A traitor and a betrayer could do no worse."

The letter in its full text is not being published, and it might be well at the start of the campaign that it be plainly understood that the columns of this paper are not open for abuse. There is no need for this campaign to be any more bitter than any other.

There is plenty of room for sane argument as to whether Premier King did a cowardly thing. Our belief is he did an unwise thing. It would have been better for him to have held parliament until there could have been a cleaning up of all the charges which have been made regarding patronage.

But being cowardly in a political sense is another matter. Looking at the situation by way of party advantage Mr. King was in power with a tremendous majority behind him. If he had desired patronage he could have continued in office until October in a time when the placing of orders is bound to be on a scale not known in days of peace.

Instead of doing that he decided to dump the whole thing and appeal to the electors for a mandate to carry on during the days of war. We do not agree that the vote of censure in the Ontario Legislature was sufficient to force him to go to the country. He took that too seriously.

But going to the country as quickly as possible can hardly be termed cowardly. It looks more like the reasoning of one who is prepared to stake his political future and that of his party and abide by the consequences. What the campaigners may say in days to come or what letter writers may say at the moment does not change the situation in the least. Mr. King and his cabinet have the power to say there shall be an election, and that has been said. The Montreal Star has an editorial with a heading which tells the story well enough. Just this: "Cut the Cackle and Let the People Decide."

Uncomfortably Dangerous

The Examiner believes it correct to say that as a rule people in Canada are not particularly interested in what takes place in South Africa even if it is part of the British Empire. What we at times refer to as bonds of Empire do not extend to arousing or maintaining a person's interest. But when there is a vote taken in the South African House of Assembly on a proposal to negotiate for a separate peace with Germany, then we are interested.

General Hertzog was for 15 years Prime Minister of South Africa, but was defeated due to his attitude to the war when it came. The premiership was taken over by General Jan Smuts on September 6. Hertzog remained in the House and brought in a resolution calling for a separate peace between Germany and South Africa. That motion has been debated for days. And bitterly.

When the division was called the resolution was defeated by 81 to 59. That was a majority, but in view of the size of the issue involved it was disappointing. It means that 57.8 per cent. of the members were opposed to negotiating with Germany for peace, and it also means that 42.2 per cent. were in favor of opening and carrying on such negotiations, and it also means that the 42.2 per cent. of the membership of the South African parliament were actually in favor of voting their country out of the British Empire.

We do not believe any good purpose is to be served in seeking to disguise the seriousness of such a situation because it is serious. It may be the present parliament does not accurately represent the feeling of the people of South Africa. That we do not know, but we do know the vote on that peace with Germany resolution was uncomfortably dangerous.

Churchill's Good Speech

A speech by Winston Churchill, First Lord of the British Admiralty, is a better speech in war-time than otherwise. The seriousness and the hazard of war seems to have entered into the man, and made his sentences more solid and formidable. Churchill as a political sharpshooter is good at any time, but in his most recent address there was an absence of gun play and a turning toward factual presentation. He did not even take time out to blister a heckler who sought to interrupt him.

Going through the Churchill speech one does find facts. Not for a moment does Churchill seek to diminish the strength of the enemy, nor does he waste time in prophesy, but he did say he believed the Germany of 1914 was stronger than the Germany of today.

He admitted the British navy was paying a hard toll for its supremacy at sea, and he admitted openly that the mine situation was serious. But on the other side of that balance sheet he placed the statement that the menace of mines was something which would be reduced to the vanishing point.

We read of vessels which have been torpedoed or mined, but we do not see much in print about German vessels which have been captured or new British craft which are being finished and put into service. Mr. Churchill said that the ships captured added to those which had been built were almost equal to the number which had been destroyed.

We hear much of the convoy system of the British navy, but it remained for the First Lord to show something definite in the way of results which people could understand. He put it this way: The chance of a vessel which is convoyed and obeys the rules of the navy coming through safely are 500 to 1. And admittedly those are tremendously large odds on the side of safe passage and safe arrival.

It was the factual part of the Churchill address which made it interesting and useful. He did not try to scare people nor was he attempting to make them unduly optimistic. It was the ideal plain-spoken utterance for the times through which we are passing.

They'd Never Be Citizens

The largest interned alien camp is at Petawawa, and with few exceptions the people there are Germans whom our authorities do not consider should be allowed any degree of liberty in this country. There are a number of others in various localities who are at liberty, but they are not considered dangerous. The police know where they are and what they are doing.

But those who are interned are positively no good to this country and they never will be because their chief interest and concern is elsewhere. In Germany to be exact. We may in time be able to exchange some of them for good Canadians who are held in Germany, but when the war is over we should ship every last one of them out of the country.

Nor is that all. Our country should be rigidly careful about the immigration it permits from anti-democratic states because it has been amply demonstrated that when these people come here to make their homes they are not citizens in the full meaning of the word. Their names and addresses, ages and occupations are all registered abroad. They have been pledged to loyalty to another nation and their pledge is so binding that the mere taking out of some new papers in this land is not sufficiently forceful to break it. They may appear to be with us in times of peace, but in days of war and danger we know they are not with us. In a large country like ours and with a small and much-scattered population, we cannot afford to take chances on this variety of citizen.

The manner in which these enemy aliens were rounded up is something to which much publicity has never been given, but it was—and is—a fine tribute to the thoroughness with which the R.C.M.P. does its work. Some of the foreigners possibly thought they had covered their tracks well, and it may have come as a rule surprise to find that the R.C.M.P. knew exactly when and how to lay a hand on them when needed.

All In One Volume

It has long been the custom of libraries, many newspaper offices and of other interested individuals to secure bound volumes of the House of Commons Debates—frequently referred to as Hansard. Very interesting and convenient to look back and find what a member said ten years ago and compare it with what he is saying today. And so on.

There is on the desk today one lone booklet, No. 1 of the Sixth Session of the Eighteenth Parliament. The date is January 25, 1940. We learn in measured words that this parliament met at Ottawa for the dispatch of business. Then we read what has already been reported in the papers, and near the end: "At six o'clock the House took recess."

There are no great headlines in this little paper, and it is all told in these few last lines: "The eighteenth parliament was dissolved on Thursday, January 25, 1940, by proclamation of His Excellency, the Governor-General."

On the back page there is an official notice in which it is stated: "Hansard is available to the public by subscription. The rate for the session is three dollars." And this one lone report would be all the subscriber would get for his three dollars. So it is somewhat of a curiosity, an entire session of parliament reported in one volume. Possibly we should put it away for safe keeping.

Farmers Have a Good Way

We have referred at other times to the way in which farmers look after their neighbors. They will put in the seed or they will cut the crop or do the plowing if there has been sickness or misfortune in a neighbor's home.

Our correspondent at Roseneath tells of another case where there was sickness, and some thirty farm neighbors had a bee and cut and hauled the year's wood supply for the family. That is one of the jobs which is always attended to in the winter.

So why keep on referring to it? It has been done for years and will be done again as occasion demands. The only reason we refer to it again is in the hope the idea may grow. We know quite well that in the city we have no acres to plow or seed to cut, and we have no wood lot where friends can gather and give us a hand. But we have the equivalent in other ways.

We have sick people, we have folk who are finding the going hard, we have strangers who have come to town and they hardly know a soul in the place and they are as lonely as can be. You don't know what these people need until you go around and try and find out.

Remember too that in the case of the farmers it is not necessary for the man or family in trouble to start telling his neighbors he would like them to gather together and give him a hand. It's not done that way. We think this business of farmers getting together and helping the unfortunate neighbor is simply magnificent. It's so good that cities ought to reach out and take the idea and bring it to town.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Col. Drew said he had never seen "an act of such abject cowardice" as when Mr. King dissolved parliament. We expected something like that, but could not well guess in advance the exact wording.

At a Burns' night dinner in London one speaker bemoaned the fact that only 28 per cent. of the people had turned out to vote on election night. Some person is always lugging in a bit of grief when folk gather together for a good time.

William Donald MacNeil, 10 years old, does second year high school work in Montreal with perfect ranking, but informed a reporter he would never marry as it would be too expensive. A good many smart boys know more at 10 years than they do at 30.

Every nation has the tendency which causes many people to become huddled together in centre of population. We are starting it in Canada, and the Montreal Star, in an advertisement which it inserted in Financial Post, began with this statement: "One-tenth of Canada's population lives on the compact Island of Montreal."

James H. R. Cromwell, U.S. minister to Canada, said he and his wife desired to be known only as Mr. and Mrs. Cromwell, and asked correspondents to forget the stuff about Mrs. Cromwell being the richest girl in the world. We can quite believe that husband and wife are sick and tired of seeing that in print and the wonder is that it was necessary to ask the correspondents to lay off.

REASON

(By A. R. K.)

¶ When Cousin Ezra calls for me, and offers transportation free, I sit right down by him; when I get seated in his hack, I never like it in the back, I value much my skin.

¶ No matter if some more are there, going out to sniff the winter air, or if it is in spring; I always manage so I'll sit, no matter if I tightly fit, near where he runs the thing.

¶ For Ezra is a hound for speed, much faster than there's any need, he likes to pound the gas; if there's another car in sight, then Ezra things it isn't right, it's one for him to pass.

¶ When he gets on some open space, it's something like a Roman race, he sort of sways and leans; and all the speed traps ever laid, or all the speed laws even made, get smashed to smithereens.

¶ That's why I pick the front seat there, when Ezra blasts her through the air, because I prize my skin; for I can warn him good and plain, and tell of other who were slain, can holler out at him.

¶ And if he cuts me cold and dead, insists on barging right ahead, that front seat's still all right; I can prepare to act right quick, I gaze ahead so I can pick—a fair good place to light.

James Curran Wants To Know Size Of A Wolf

JIM CURRAN of the Sault Ste. Marie Star is going to write a book about wolves, and he wants to know how large a nice average wolf ought to be. He is under the impression a wolf always looks much larger than it really is possibly for the same reason that when a man is being held up and looks into the muzzle of a gun he is ready to declare it was as large as a stove pipe. The editor at the Sault makes his appeal this way:

How much does a full grown timber wolf weigh? How high is it at the shoulder? How long is it?

Mr. George Phillips, the flyer, reported these happenings to The Star:

Mr. L. G. Smith, crown timber agent of Bruce Mines saw a female wolf which was killed in Harrow township. Weighed on Farmer Milne's scales, it went 73½ pounds. This wolf was not attentiated, Mr. Phillips said it was in excellent condition and appeared well fed, with plump body and good legs.

At Camp 17 on the Mississauga River wolves killed a deer. They were apparently about the same size as the Harrow wolf.

At Camp 26, south west of Aubrey Falls, a wolf "about 30 inches high" was killed this winter. It had front paws 4 x 5½ inches in size by Mr. L. G. Smith's rule. This wolf had a broken hind foot probably injured in a trap which its tracks showed. It thus could not hunt and was so hungry that it boldly went to a place where men had dinner and devoured the scraps, perhaps returning several times as its journeyings in the snow had made a trail.

Mr. Harold Green, chief forestry ranger at Ranger Lake, saw two wolves kill and eat a doe. There was a buck with it which escaped. The snow was tramped down "clean" for an area 15 or 20 yards wide where the doe fought off the two wolves, who ate practically all of it only a few bones being left,—"hardly a mouthful" remaining. The contents of the stomach were not eaten, a new feature as it has been generally held that wolves particularly liked that part of a deer's body.

Driven away from the carcass the two wolves moved off a couple of hundred yards, one to the right and the other to the left, and set up a howl "that would make your hair stand on end." Apparently they felt resentful about not being left alone to pick the bones. A wolf is like a gull,—it never knows when it has had enough. Uncertain meals undoubtedly accounts for its propensity to stuf fitself when it has the chance.

If two wolves can eat the whole body of a deer this may explain the weight of a pair of wolves weighed by the Sioux Lookout forestry office near Allanwater which is close by. These scaled 140 and 141 pounds. They were killed by Boomer Lee, a trapper when eating a moose. "They were full of moose" when shot,—stuffed to the limit apparently.

MR. DAN McDONALD tells The Star he saw a full grown wolf weighed on the scales in A. D. Jackson's store, Bruce Mines. It was exactly 82 pounds. He believes it was 36 inches high when alive, a figure Jack McDonald also likes for a maximum size.

Wolves got a cow moose on the Abinadong River. The struggle covered a wide area and the cow put up a gallant fight. Fred Kinahan of Ranger Lake forestry patrol has a good photo of the remains.

Mac Boissineau is reported to have killed a wolf weighing 200 pounds on the Abinadong but Mr. Boissineau could not be reached today for confirmation of the weight. Wolf stories seem to grow like fish yarns.

The Enyclopedia Britannica does not give the weight of wolves, but contents itself with the statement that northern wolves are larger than others, and that the wolf is the largest of the canis family except some breeds of domesticated dogs,—apparently the St. Bernard, Great Dane, etc. Gus O'Reilly's St. Bernard is stated to weigh 225 pounds and Roy Grundy's Newfoundland 122 pounds. Domesticated dogs do not have to run off flesh in the hunt for food.

Local guesses as to the weight of wolves run from 75 pounds to as high as 200; as to height at the shoulders from 27 inches to 36; as to length from nose to tip of tail 6 to 7 feet. Lynn Hollingsworth thinks around 80 pounds, 28-29 inches in height and six feet long.

This writer leans to these figures for mature animals: 75 to 90 pounds, normal weight; height at shoulder about 28 inches; length about 6½ feet.

Readers of The Star are asked to give their own views on these figures and particularly to report actual scale weights and length measurements. What size was the largest wolf you ever saw and weighed or taped?

• The Kind Of A Man She Wants

EVERY WOMAN knows the kind of man she would choose to share her life, and I am no exception.

To me, physical appearance is relatively unimportant. The Don Juans of this world leave me cold. My man may have red hair and a nose that is frankly pug; he may have big feet—even freckles. But he must be healthy and wholesome-looking and immaculately clean. I could forgive pug nose and floppy ears, but I could not tolerate careless grooming. I should like him to dress well but conservatively. He should not balk at a dress suit, but he should be able to help with the picnic steak without mourning the cressing in his trousers.

He must be at least my equal in education and my superior in intelligence. I want a man whose judgment I can respect and whose judgment I can trust. I prefer one who is well read and interested in something more than best sellers. I should like him to share my interest in music and enjoy a symphony orchestra and a good swing band. I would want him to be friendly and courteous and able to adapt himself to any group.

He need not be rich, but he must be able to support a home and children. I would be happy to do all my own housework, but I would prefer to go out my door without stepping over the wolf. I don't want a spendthrift, but should like him to appreciate small luxuries and occasional extravagances.

He may smoke, he may drink, but he must not get drunk. He may enjoy an occasional night with the boys, but he must also enjoy his home and recreations with his family.

I want a healthy, dependable, intelligent and faithful family man.—Letter in Chicago Daily News.

• Is a Death Ray A Possibility?

IS THERE a Death Ray? With a war on, and all that sort of thing, this makes an interesting and appropriate question to resurrect. Down the years, since the last war and before, have come all kinds of weird stories, mostly fiction we suspect, about "secret" inventions of this type. Not long ago the telegraph wires carried a yarn about a professor chap who had developed such a ray, sure enough, and then destroyed his formula because of a dawning horror over what the thing could do.

Frankly we think the yarn and not the death ray was the invention in that case.

On such matters we have little right to a direct opinion, so we checked up to find out who, in authority, had said anything about the subject. To our satisfaction we ascertained that Professor J. B. S. Haldane, F.R.S., had lately written on the topic.

Now Dr. Haldane, although one of England's best scientists, does not think himself above expressing his views in ordinary everyday English. An intensely practical man, he says he wishes the tales about the death ray were true and such a thing had been turned out—by our side, of course.

"A death ray," he wrote in a recent issue of The War Weekly, a Newnes publication, "is just the thing to bring down bombers. Here is the reason. A searchlight operator may catch an airplane on his beam, but it does not follow that an anti-aircraft gunner will hit it. If the bomber is two miles away, the light from the searchlight takes one-hundred-thousandth of a second to reach him; during which time the bomber, if it is going at three hundred miles per hour, has moved one twentieth of an inch. So the bomber can no more hope to escape the searchlight by mere speed than a snail can escape from a greyhound."

Now take the case of the anti-aircraft gunner. He tries a shot at the enemy flyer. Suppose the average speed of the shell is half a mile a second, which means a muzzle velocity well above this; the shell would take four seconds to reach the plane. During those four seconds the plane has moved six hundred yards. To score a hit, therefore, the gunner has to do a lot of correct estimating and some lucky guessing.

"Even if the shell passes within a foot of the plane," Professor Haldane tells us, "it won't hurt it unless it bursts at the right height, which means very careful work with the time fuse."

Very well: now imagine that, in place of the searchlight beam, the lads below had a death ray which, the moment it touched the plane would set it on fire, cripple its works, kill its pilot or something drastic like that. All you'd have to do would be to pick up the pieces.

An entrancing field for the imagination of researchers—to say nothing of writers for the popular periodicals.

Such a ray would come in very handy on land, too—always provided you, and not the enemy, had it! And probably Winston Churchill could think up a couple of uses for it in the Royal Navy.—Brantford Expositor.

WAS LOCKED OUT

DURING the recent Australian tour of Marcel Dupre, distinguished French organist, he gave a free recital in Sydney. Long before the advertised time for starting, the Town Hall was packed to overflowing and the doors were closed.

Five minutes before the recital, M. Dupre arrived at the main door, but the attendant firmly refused him admittance, saying it was a full house. Even when he pleaded, "S'il vous plait, monsieur; I give the recital," the attendant remained adamant, merely replying, "You'll have to wait in the queue, and if a seat becomes vacant I'll let you in," and closed the door.

In despair, as it was then time for the recital to begin, M. Dupre went to the side door and thumped loudly; much to the amusement of the crowd who had recognized him. The attendant opened the door about half an inch, and warned the now thoroughly exasperted organist, "The fire brigades people won't let us take any more."

M. Dupre, refusing to take "no" for an answer, forced his way in, and finally was able to convince the astonished attendant, that he was being locked out of his own recital. —Christian Science Monitor.

After it was over the judge received a letter from her asking that she be allowed to return to the witness stand to correct false testimony and so relieve her conscience. Arrangements were made and she duly appeared again before the judge. He asked her what testimony it was she wished to correct. She replied:

"Your honor, when I was giving evidence the other day I was so flustered I gave my bust measurement instead of my age."—Financial Post.

The Canadian Almanac for 1940 (93rd annual issue) contains 705 pages. In addition to the customary complete revision with the necessary thousands of changes, the war situation is reflected in lists of the Canadian War Boards, British Emergency Departments, and a brief description of Britain's auxiliary war services. Articles also appear in connection with Britain's position in the war, Canada and the war and the British and Canadian Active Services. Three general elections were held in 1939, in New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island and Quebec; and effect is given to the resulting changes. A most valuable book of reference is the Canadian Almanac.

Florida Losses In Millions As Cold Lifts

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 29.—(AP)—Florida's coldest weather in a quarter of a century left the state's citrus and vegetable growers facing a multi-million dollar loss today as sunshine lifted winter's bitter 10-day siege across the United States southland and middle west.

Early reported indicated an almost complete loss of truck crops in deep South Florida, and many growers made ready for replanting. The citrus crop was damaged heavily and fear was held for the state's sugar cane crop.

Vegetable crop losses around Miami were estimated at between $7,000,000 and $10,000,000, while in Broward county, planters said their damage might reach $5,000,000.

A cold wave was climaxed Sunday when temperatures ranged from 10 above zero at Deland, 17 degrees in cultivated portions of the Everglades to 42 degress at Key West.

Florida contributed at least, six deaths to the country's toll of 158 attributed to the current cold wave. Weather-connected deaths neared the 400 mark for the past three weeks.

The cubs then demonstrated the cub motto. At red flower a new Indian song was learned, Jack Sutcliffe, Don Grant and Howard Hempstead gave recitations. The Green six won the knot board in the Six competition; the White six receiving a picture of Shere Khan as consolation prize.

After the meeting Mrs. Kelsey, president of St. John's Mothers' Auxiliary and Skipper G. Groombridge talked to parents on auxiliary work, and Mrs. L. A. Grant was appointed chairman of a committee with the object of forming a Murray street Mothers' Auxiliary. All cub and scout mothers are asked to meet next Thursday at 8.30 p.m.

On Friday, February 2, the Bortherhood of the church is sponsoring a cub night. On Sunday morning and evening the cubs attended church in uniform, distributing invitation to the cub night to all the men of the church.

The cubs were sorry indeed to learn of the accident to their old Akela, Miss Iris Whaleff, and hope that she will have a speedy recovery to full health again.

Two new chums were accepted into the pack. They were Bobby Green and John Green.

With St. John's

The pack enjoyed another splendid meeting and according to report the tickets for the cub concert next Monday night are going over well. The concert is called "Cubs Ou Parade," and will be held in St. John's Parish Hall at 8 p.m. The games of Bag Throwing relay, Tenderpad Tim and Aunt Margaret's Dead help to bring the evening to a close.

The final practice for the concert will be held on Wednesday night of this week at 6.30 p.m. Every cub should be present and on time.

The Troop.

Boxing was the highlight of the evening, when A.S.M. Ken Brown brought along the gloves.

The Crew

A discussion on the true work of rover scouting took up a greater part of the evening. Owing to school examinations very few boys were out. It is requested that every member will endeavor to be on hand tomorrow evening.

Rover Council

A joint meeting of the rover council and both crews was held in All Saints on Wednesday. Owing to unforeseen circumstances, not one neawly-elected member of the council was on hand at the time of opening and after review of past work it was decided to hold another meeting of council and both crews on Tuesday, February 6, in the local association headquarters, when the new officers of the council will be chosen.

The ladies of All Saints' Mothers' Auxiliary served refreshments.

Scouters' Club.

All group officers and asisstants are reminded that the Scouters' Club meet on Thursday, February 8, at 8 p.m., and are requested to reserve that date.

Best Wishes

The best wishes of all cubs, scouts, rovers, and officers go to our friend, Miss Iris Whalen in the hope that she will have a steady recovery to complete health.

Thre funeral was held on Friday afternoon at two o'clock from the residence of his niece, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Clark, Lot 1, Concession 5, Ennismore.

Owing to the condition of the roads and weather the funeral was not as large as it would have been.

The services both at the house and graveside were conducted by Rev. G. H. Johnson of St. James' Anglican Church.

Interment took place in Emily Cemetery. The floral tributes were many and beautiful.

Lewis, chieftain of the C.I.O., was addressing the United Mine Workers' convention in Columbus, the flag of the Soviet Union, hammer and sickle on a red background, suddenly unfurled over his head. Mr. Lewis promptly denounced the deed, and those who had perpetrated the trick, saying there were no reds in the U.M.W.

Many of the older men are still shaking their heads and wondering if Walter is willing to prove his ability.

Greets the Day

After healthful sleep

Sleep is the great restorative of the nerves. It is only during sleep that the nerve force wasted during the day, in the act of living, can be replenished.

If the nervous system is exhausted, and you toss about restlessly, at night, thinking and worrying about a thousand different things, it is necessary for you to use restorative treatment such as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Why Dr. Chase's Nerve Food? Simply because this food treatment has proven its value over a considerable number of years, and is freely recognized by most people as a most effective means of restoring vigor to the nervous system. Ask your doctor. Ask your druggist. Ask your friends and neighbors. In almost every home, there is someone who has been benefited by its use.

Rev. H. Mellow Heads School

BELLEVILLE, Jan. 29. — The Rev. H. Mellow, Gore's Landing was president of the Bay of Quinte Conference Winter School here last week. Jack Garnett of Port Hope was vice-president, George Greer, Wellington, secretary treasurer; Rev. R. A. McRae, Hilton, book steward; Rev. Andrew McLauchlan, Havelock, historical reporter and Rev. A. H. Rickard, Colborne, dean.

The Conference opened Monday in a five day session when despite bad roads, eighty delegates were reported by Mrs. D. Daxter, Registrar, to be in attendance for Young Peoples Societies in Hastings, Prince Edward, Northumberland and Durham and Lennox and Addington Counties. The staff and officers make the attendance over one hundred, the largest school for years. Dean of Studies, Rev. Roy H. Rickard of Colborne, conducted the opening worship period and Acting-President, Rev. H. A. Mellow of Gores Landing, welcomed the delegates.

Two 'method' courses began work Monday afternoon: 'Recreation' by Miss Loretta McDougall, and 'Young People's Work' by Rev. Gordon S. Maxwell of Campbellford. Both these leaders are newcomers on the staff. Miss McDougall is Recreational Leader at George Street church, Peterborough and for that Presbytery as well as for the Conference Young People's Union, and at Oak Lake Summer School last summer was elected, "Torch-Bearer," the highest honor in the camp.

Assistance of Groups.

Nearly all the promoters of local Chamber were present at the meeting the county council chamber Saturday. Mr. Gifford spoke of the fact that the aims of the Canadian Chamber of Agriculture had appealed to the agricultural commodity groups in this county, that they have appointed representatives to the county Chamber, and that its present bank credit from group contributions amounts to $197.

"We had been sitting here year after year doing all that we could to influence government, and yet farmers were still in great difficulties," Mr. Anderson said. "Back in the first years of the depression I was urged to try to do something for our own township. At that time Otonabee was paying $44,000 a year into the county treasury. Last year we paid $22,000. In other words Otonabee's county tax was practically cut in two from 1931 to 1939. But we had exhausted our effort, and so we had the resolution of the county council to see, if by organizing you can do something as a group."

Reeve Gifford opened the meeting with a report of a conference of the Canadian Chamber in Ottawa last week. The Members of Parliament from 35 Ontario constituencies that were entirely or partly rural were invited and nine attended. One of them who was a doctor, Mr. Gifford said, expressed the opinion that the trouble with farming today was that "too many fellows are going to the agricultural colleges", and otherwise expressed adverse sentiment in his remarks.

Reeve Anderson closed his account of the genesis of the Peterborough county branch by saying, "I don't feel so badly about some doctor saying that, but I feel that it is too bad when you hear some farmers saying the same thing. That is one of the causes that has brought us to the position we are in today. The farmers of Canada could pay the cost of maintaining an office at Ottawa to represent them by a contribution of only three cents each a year."

Known In The West

Mr. Gifford gave a rather extensive report of the recent Ottawa conference which did not fail to take account of the war "and the fact that we have got to pay for it." The leadership given by Peterboro and some other eastern counties had reached into the western provinces.

H. B. Cowan said that some of the outstanding leaders of agricultural commodity groups in Canada were present at the Ottawa meeting. He mentioned a number of them including the presidents of the Saskatchewan and Manitoba grain growers, and a director of the Alberta organization. These three men represented organizations that market 200,000,000 bushels of wheat. Men from farmers' livestock abattoirs and other groups were unanimous in recognizing the need of the marketing program the Canadian Chamber of Agriculture is seeking.

J. J. Duffus spoke briefly of his impressions of the Ottawa meeting, and Mr. Gifford said that the Member from this county displayed far more understanding of the Chambers' aims than nearly all the others because of the fact that he was a member of the Peterboro Chamber and had gained an understanding of the movement from that connection.

Act Through Chamber.

A resolution by Reeve W. A. Anderson, seconded by George Elliott of Norwood, proposed an amendment to the constitution asking all associate commodity groups to report their memberships to the Chamber.

The constituent bodies are also urged to adopt a general policy of directing their actions, such as appeals, petitions and representations, through the Chamber of Agriculture, as a means of developing its concerted usefulness.

Warden John McColl asked to be relieved of the chairmanship of the swine committee this year because of extra responsibility of the Wardenship. He agreed to call the first meeting of the committee at an early date.

The directors of last year were re-elected subject to any changes resulting from the appointments of representatives made by various commodity groups.

porting large numbers of shoes similarly marked "samples" going through to the same address in Germany.

"They must be samples, though," he was told. "They're all for the right foot."

Nonetheless swiss frontier control guards have orders to watch particularly packages labelled "Sample—No Value" which contain other than foodstuffs.

Frequently what may look like a harmless powder in a 250-gram box may prove to be a chemical concentrate which will serve tons of war materials with a necessary content.

Sometimes such "samples" are returned to the sender in the hands of a Swiss detective. Sometimes they are held at the border until their quantity warrants a fine on the sender.

Wait Hepburn Move.

The Legislature awaited today an anticipated statement from Premier Mitchell Hepburn on the part, if any, he will take in the federal election campaign. The Premier said Friday he would think things over during the week-end at his farm home near St. Thomas.

The Premier said last night that plans for recessing the House have been abandoned, but he still could not forecast the date of the budget speech.

"I can't say at this time when the budget will be ready," he said, "but we are working overtime on it now."

It was understood the Conservative leader, Lieut.-Col. George A. Drew, might reply today to statements made in the House of Commons regarding the part he played in the Legislature's vote criticizing the Dominion Government war effort.

Officiated At Historical Opening

few election trips out of Ottawa.

"The present administration has to carry on until April, doing all it can to further Canada's war effort and prepare to meet parliament if returned," he said.

"I cannot conceive how, with the great responsibility resting upon myself and my colleagues, we can carry on a campaign as we would in other days. Myself and most of my colleagues must spend the greater part of our time right here."

The Prime Minister said he had been ready to give parliament an opportunity to review the war record of the Government but the censure of the Ontario Legislature and the tone of speeches made by Conservative Leader Manion and J. S. Woodsworth, C.C.F. leader, in the Commons following the Throne speech convinced him such a course would be useless.

So parliament was dissolved and probably will meet again early in May and continue into the summer. The Royal Commission report on Dominion-Provincial relations will not be made public until the next session and will not be available to any party during the campaign.

The Prime Minister also outlined the procedure to be followed in taking the soldiers' vote. The troops overseas will vote from March 14 to 23 and troops in Canada from March 16 to 23 inclusive.

For the military vote there will be four divisions of territory—the Maritime Provinces with headquarters at Halifax; Ontario, Quebec and Manitoba with headquarters at Ottawa; Saskatchewan, Alberta, British Columbia and the Yukon with headquarters at London. John Thompson of Ottawa, former Dominion franchise commissioner, has been appointed supervisor of the soldiers' vote overseas.

clamped down following British seizure of 21 German seamen from a Japanese liner, Japanese said it was due to "activities of anti-Japanese elements within the concessions."

To help meet the situation, the British council rescinded a regulation fixing the price of flour. Holders of flour had refused to sell at the fixed prices because their stock replacements would have cost double.

As a result, flour again was available, but British and French concession authorities were fearful supplies of other foodstuffs, already selling at 100 per cent price increases, might be exhausted.

Another Protest.

TOKYO, Jan. 29.—(AP). —Japan prepared a second protest to Great Britain to-day on the seizure of 21 German seamen from the Japanese liner Asama Maru as the case approached the proportions of a major political and international issue.

A foreign office spokesman said the new protest might demand formally that the Germans be returned. The Japanese interpretation of international law in such cases holds that only persons active in fighting services are liable to seizure from neutral ships. The Germans were all seamen of military age.

The unpublished British reply to the first note over the incident Jan. 24 when a British warship fired a warning shot across the Asama Maru's bow 35 miles off Yokohama, stopped here and took off the Germans, was called "inadequate."

Dissatisfaction with the British stand was widespread and there were indications that Rightists might make capital of the case during the session of parliament which opens Thursday. They may demand that Premier Mitsumasa Yonai's government obtain satisfactory redress or resign.

Japan has taken the view that the seizure was a "serious unfriendly act" and an admiralty spokesman said last week her navy was "making preparations to prevent such incidents in the near future." This source held that Japan would refuse to debate legal questions, declaring "national feelings are more important than questions of law."

The newspaper Kokumin saw the possibility that the United States might increase economic pressure on Japan if Japan failed to obtain complete satisfaction from Britain.

Hundreds of menacing letters, meanwhile, reached Captain Yoshisada Watanabe, dismissed from command of the Asama Maru on charges of misconduct in connection with the halting of his ship. Many of the threats accused him of being an accessory to a national insult.

His children have stayed away from school and the family has remained indoors to avoid street incidents.

170 Japs Perish In Train Wreck

TOKYO, Jan. 29.—(AP).— Between 170 and 200 factory workers were burned to death to-day when a two-car suburban train was derailed and burst into flames on the outskirts of Osaka. About 466 others were injured.

The chief of the Osaka Railway Bureau said an investigation had failed to show the cause of the accident. Earlier reports had said the train rammed a string of gasoline tank cars.

The screams of the men, tightpacked inside the wrecked coaches, could be heard over the roar of the fire. Rescuers weer thwarted by the intense heat and successive explosions of the fuel tanks.

Isaac Elliott Of Smith Dies Aged 86

One of Smith's township's oldest residents died Sunday evening. He was Isaac Elliott, 86, and he lived with his son, Clarence Elliott, Lot 22, Concession 11, Smith, where death occurred Sunday. Mr. Elliott had been in failing health for some time but had been able to be at the table for his meals until a few days ago. A grand old man, he lived an active life and even to the end he was able to care for himself, never became a burden to others.

Mr. Elliott was born and lived all his life in this district. The old homestead that he farmed for many years in Smith, is now carried on by his son, William Elliott. It was one of the late E. F. Mason's proud boasts that Mr. Elliott had been his customer for 60 years, coming from his home west of Selwyn to make his purchases each week. He was Mr. Mason's oldest customer.

A former elder in Selwyn United church, he was an active church goer, and one of its most staunch supporters.

His wife died in 1931. Surviving are eight children, Mrs. Fred McConkey of Selwyn, Alex Elliott of Smith, Mrs. Gordon Fitzgerald of Smith, William Elliott of Smith, Mrs. Howard Sanderson of Smith, Miss Emma Elliott of Peterborough, Mrs. Stuart Sanderson of Smith, and Clarence Elliott of Smith, also a sister, Mrs. Fred Dobson of Peterborough.

The funeral will be held on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence of his son, Clarence Elliott, Lot 22, Concession 11, Smith township, Rev. J. R. Trumpour officiating. Interment will be at Little Lake cemetery.

Farmer Shoots Blackmailer

PAULDING, O., Jan. 29. —(AP)— Farmer Oscar Ball's carefully aimed rifle shot from a second-story window ended the life of a man holding Ball's 19-year-old son, Richard at gunpoint to force payment of "blackmail" money, Police Chief Frank Wallar reported yesterday.

The 22-calibre rifle bullet, fired 200 feet, struck Louis Strake, 33, in the forehead.

The dying assailant squeezed the trigger of his revolver, pointed at Richard, but the shot went wild.

Wallar quoted young Ball as saying he was forced to accompany Strake to the Ball farm house under Strake's threat to "kill your father."

Driving into the barnyard at the side of the house, Strake shouted to the youth's father, "Come out of the house," Wallar said. Ball appeared on the porch but his son motioned him back.

Strake drew his pistol, pointed it at Richard, and yelled to the father that he would kill his son unless paid "plenty of money."

Strake, watching for Ball to reappear on the porch, did not see the father taking aim from a second-floor window.

"I kept pleading with him (Strake) not to shoot," young Ball told Wallar. "Suddenly I heard the crack of the rifle and saw him fall. He fired his pistol at the same time."

Wallar said Strake, a farm laborer of near-by Ney, had sought several times to exort money from Ball on a "sort of blackmail,' but had not attempted violence prior to Saturday's occurence.

Authorites called the Balls to a hearing on Monday at this Northwestern Ohio county seat, but no charges were filed. The officers, meanwhile, sought an unidentified companion of Strake who had accompanied Richard Ball to the Ball home previously while the farmer and his wife were on a shopping trip.

Mounties Probe Man Being Held

Fritz Mueller, the German who was arrested here a week ago Saturday when it was discovered that he was a native-born citizen of the Reich who had failed to register since the war broke out, appeared before Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., in police court this morning and was again remanded on a charge of vagrancy.

"Are the mounties looking after this man?" asked Magistrate Langley.

"Yes," sid the Crown Attorney.

Mueller told the magistrate he had been living in Kitchener and had come to Peterborough from Lindsay.

"What were you doing in Lindsay?"—"Looking for work."

Mueller said in answer to a question from the court that he did not know what "vagrancy" meant.

"I think if you remand him until Friday everything will be cleared up by then," said Crown Attorney McElderry and the court acceded to the crown's request.

Since Mueller has been in custody he has been interviewed by R.C.M.P. officers and by Inspector McKay of the criminal investigation bureau of the provincial police. The latter is interested in Mueller's recent activities.

New Ford Tractor Is Now On Display

Farmers of the Peterborough district will have an opportunity of seeing the new Ford tractor with Ferguson wheelless implements today. This revolutionary new power farming unit is displayed here by Hood and Cumming Motors, local Ford dealer.

Describing the new tractor, Mr. Hood pointed out that it combines light weight with great strength of construction and power. It weighs approximately 2,000 pounds and handles two 14-inch ploughs in average soils. Compact and versatile, it provides power for all types of farm work such as ploughing, tillage, row-crop cultivation, belt work and the operation of combines and other machines from a power take-off.

"The unique coupling of the implements creates the necessary traction. The hydraulic mechanism is controlled, by a handy lever which is used to raise or lower the implements and to keep them in the soil at a predetermined depth while working. Remarkable results have been achieved with an average fuel consumption of only one gallon of gasoline an hour while ploughing and doing other heavy work," said Mr. Hood.

Waits Long Hours For Buyers

The case of the farmers at the ends of the market hall, who complain that customers never reach them on Saturdays, was proved on Saturday when these pictures were taken. The hour was noon and the rest of the building was crowded, yet not a customer walked down the end aisle. Vernon Oliver, R.R. No. 4, Peterborough, was just one of the many who had a complaint to make. His produce was still waiting a buyer at noon as can be seen by this picture. That's why he's downcast. Thorough Job Is Usually Made When Governments Gotten To Act

"If you give governments a foot they take a mile," declared Ralph Standish in addressing the members of the Peterborough Rotary Club at their weekly luncheon at the Empress Hotel to-day on the subject, "The Growing Paternalism of Governments."

Mr. Standish, remarking that people got just the kind of government they voted for and just the kind of legislation they clamored for, pointed out that under a democracy folk were supposed to be kindly and considerate and co-operative If they were there would be no need of governments stepping in and doing the things that people should be doing for themselves. It was because they forget to be conservative and co-operative that a clamor was set up for government action. The trouble was that when governments did act in such cases they made a thorough job of it and usually went a lot further than nthere was any demand for them to go.

Quotes Example.

Mr. Standish briefly dealt with five pieces of recent legislation to illustrate the point he was making. He first mentioned the moratorium, which he said would not have been necessary if creditors had been more considerate when the depression came. The Farmers Creditors' Arrangement Act was another case in point; it, too, would not have been required if more consideration had been given to rural debtors when the slump eventuated. The Companies Promotion Act was the third bit of legislation referred to by the speaker. It had been set up because there had been unscrupulous promotors who had defrauded the public. The Women's Compensation Act had come into being because there were employers who had not dealt kindly or justly with injured workers and finally there was the expensive Old-Age Pensions Act placed on the statute books because people neglected to provide for their old-age and children failed to take care of their aged parents.

In conclusion Mr. Standish gave a couple of examples of the extremes to which paternal government legislation could go. One was taken from a section of the Liquor Control Act which gave police officers the right to search at any time without a warrant, vehicles, boats, and other means of transportation in search of liquor that they suspected might be there. "Better keep in with Chief Newhall and the boys," advised the speaker, "or you may find yourself a victim of that section."

The other was from the Mental Hospitals Act and showed the power of police magistrates to commit persons to such institutions.

Mr. Standish said that it was time people realized the danger of running to governments for things they were quite capable of looking after for themselves.

The speaker was introduced by Rotarian Mac Gordon and a vote of thanks was proposed by Rotarian V. J. McElderry, K.C.

E. L. Sackville, president of the club, who was in the chair, expressed the sympathy of the Rotary Club to Rotarian S. C. Warne for the loss he had sustained in the death of his brother, and to Rotarian T. G. M. Jamieson in the death of his father and mother during the past week.

Police Beat Doctor And Ambulance To Call And Rush Supposedly Dead Man To Lock Up

While a doctor and ambulance driver were looking around Monaghan Road early Sunday morning for a supposedly badly injured man, the "accident victim" was in a police car headed for the station to be booked on a charge of drunkenness.

At 1.30 o'clock, the police had received a call that there was a dead man on Monaghan Road evidently the victim of a hit-and-run accident. Sergt. W. E. Wigg and Constable C. J. McGillen hurried to the scene to find that the man was far from dead but was simply suffering from an overdose of liquor. Accordingly they took him in charge and headed for the station. Meanwhile, a woman had telephoned to say that a doctor and ambulance were needed and both reported to find no signs of an injured man.

This morning the individual who had caused all the excitement appeared before Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., in police court and pleaded guilty to having been drunk on October 2.

It was explained that he had been arrested on a drunk charge at that time and was allowed out to appear later on and had failed to come back. Sunday morning was the first time the police had laid eyes on him since.

Magistrate Langley fined the man, who said that he was a farm laborer and had been working for the same farmer in Otonabee for nine years, $10 and $4.50 costs or seven days in jail.

Port Hope Cars Are In Crash In Peterborough

Two Port Hope cars, the occupants of which did not know each other although they both hailed from the same town, were badly damaged in a traffic accident on Water street between Dublin and Edinburgh streets at 3.20 Sunday afternoon.

H. L. Acorn, Port Hope had turned on to Water from Edinburgh street and was driving south on that street when his car and that of O. Simmonsen of Port Hope who was travelling north met in collision.

There was no one injured but the automobiles suffered considerably from the impact, each having a wheel broken and having fenders and bumpers badly damaged.

A short time previous cars driven by Miss Margaret McLeod, 120 Hunter street east and Bruce Parker, 241 Reid street had come together at the intersection of George and Edinburgh street and both were damaged to some extent as a result.

Sunday morning a car driven by Jesse Boggan, Akron, O., one of the troupe of colored singers visiting Peterborough at the present time skidded in making a turn on to Princess street after travelling south on George street and collided with a machine headed west on Princess street and driven by Frank Sullivan, R.R. 8, Peterborough. Sullivan had stopped at the stop sign just before the impact. Both cars showed the effects of the crash, although the damage was not extensive.

Jack Sackville, 204 Birdsall street was driving west on Charlotte street Saturday and turned out to pass another car driven by Garnet Dunsford met in collision. Dunsford was towing another machine out of a laneway at the time. The damage was not great and no one was hurt.

Concert Given By Boys' Band

The Prince of Wales Rangers Boys' Band scored instantaneous popularity when they held their first concert Sunday night in the Legion Hall. A splendid turn-out was on hand to listen to these young musicians on their first public appearance and their applause left no doubt as to the success of the venture.

The youngsters played the entire program themselves and were encored time and again. The opening number was an evening hmyn, Abide With Me, which they use as a theme song, to be played at the opening of every concert. The hymn is dedicated as a prayer for the King and Queen, and during the second verse two boys stood with framed pictures of Their Majesties, facing the audience. A clarinet duet with band accompaniment, played by a boy of 10 and a boy of 12 years, was enjoyed. The band's popular number, Little Sir Echo, and its serenade, The Little Grey Church, by full band, received enthusiastic applause.

A clarinet solo by 10-year-old Billie Edgar, An Evening Prayer, was a revelation as to the musical possibilities of these youngsters. Harmonica and Guitar selections by bandsmen Don Denoble were encored with enthusiasm. Jack Taylor's trombone solo, I passed by your Window, was played with style and lovely tone. A difficult number was Remembrance, played by H. Robinson, B. Edgar (clarinets), G. Cridland (cornet), G. Parnell (horn) and J. Taylor (trombone). Bobbie Milburn augmented the five with his cornet in the number, Return of Spring.

Smoke Blamed For Accident

Smoke from a locomotive passing under the Hunter street bridge is blamed as a factor in a traffic accident on the bridge Saturday evening in which Edward T. Adair, 537 Armour Road sustained a strained back and a possible fracture of the left elbow.

Adair was riding a bicycle east across the bridge and following was a truck driven by Fred J. Mapes, 434 Mark street. A locomotive was beneath the bridge and Mapes told police that the smoke that bellowed up from below prevented him from seeing the bicyclist until the truck had struck Adair and knocked him from his wheel. The bicycle was badly damaged by the impact and the rider sustained injuries to his back and arm.

143 Enumerators To Start Out On February 5

Enumeration of electors in the city and county sections of the riding of Peterboro for the federal elections on March 26 will begin next Monday, February 5, and must be completed by Monday February 12.

Vincent Eastwood electoral returning officer for this constituency, told the Examiner this morning that he has already appointed all but a few of the one hundred and forty-three enomerators who will undertake preliminary work of preparing the local voters' list. He has taken the offices in the Bank of Commerce building formerly occupied by Dr. J. E. Middleton, and already has the details of his duties so far advanced that he is almost ready for action.

The responsibility of the staff of enumerators is to list the names of all persons in the riding who are qualified to vote in the federal election. They draw up a preliminary list which is subject to revision for which announcement will be made later.

The general conditions of qualification are that every man or woman in Canada is qualified to vote and is entitled to have his or her name included in the list of electors provided he or she (a) is of the full age of twenty-one years or will attain the full age of twenty-one years on or before polling day, March 26; (b) is a British subject by birth or naturalization; (c) has been ordinarily a resident in Canada for the twelve months immediately preceding polling day; and (d) was ordinarily resident in the electoral district at the date of the issue of the writ for the pending election.

With virtually all the enumerators for Peterboro riding engaged, Mr. Eastwood has now to supervise their instructions and also their supply with prescribed materials for their work.

FOUR C.G.E. SHOP HOCKEY LEAGUE CONTESTS STAGED AT BROCK

Zephyrs Win In Cage Loop; Dominions Win

Zephyrs ran their victory streak to four straight and ended their part of the first half undefeated when they came from behind to edge Quakers 24-21 in a thrilling battle for first place that featured Saturday night's Senior City League cage bill at the Y.M.C.A. Dominions handed C. G. E. their third straight set-back and broke into the win column themselves by beating the Electrics 35-26 in a good opening game.

Zephyrs who have gone through four contests without tasting defeat cannot now be headed prior to the opening of the second half because each of the other teams has dropped at least one game.

As the race begins to settle down the scoring leadership once more rests in the hands of the perennial champion Jim Thorburn of the third place Bees, who has 33 points. Not far behind are two members of the leading Zephyrs, Joe Stewart and Gord McIntyre each with 27, but Thorburn has a definite edge in this department as his team has one game left to play while the league-leaders are idle next week. Standing to date:—

	W.	L.	F.	A.
Zephyrs	4	0	118	79
Quakers	2	1	82	64
Bees	1	2	71	77
Dominions	1	2	66	103
C. G. E.	0	3	73	105

After being badly out-played in the first half C. G. E. made a strong come-back in the last to out-score Dominions 20-18 but they went down to their third straight loss. The winners got away to a flying start and had a commanding lead early in the game which they never relinquished, as C. G. E.'s shooting was poor in the opening half. The losers put on a strong rally in the last half, holding a big edge, as both teams went on a scoring spree, but their first half lapse was too big a handicap. Dominions especially unleashed a much more potent scoring punch than at any time this year. Harry Currie led the winners offensively with 13 points with big Harry Marsh playing a good game at guard. Jack Gemmell and Al Holmes stood out for the C. G. E. team. The winners made 3 in 8 free throws and C.G.E. 2 in 6 tries. The teams:

Dominion (35):—Centre, Weese 9; forwards, Dundas 2, Currie 13, guards, Grose 2, Marsh 5; sub, Wolstenholme, Csumrick 5.

C. G. E.: (26)— Centre, Dundas 5; forwards, Gemmell 6, Holmes 6; Guards, Archibald 5, Broadley 4.

Referee: Curly Krug. Scorer, R. Rogow.

Early Lead.

Quakers took an early lead from Zephyrs and were in front through the first half, leading at the midway mark 12-10 and staying in the lead until the winners came from behind to tie it up with 5 minutes to go and then go on to win. Quakers had a small edge through the first half as both teams found passing plays too tough in the thick going, but the winners' good passing attack began to go after the half way mark and Quakers long shooting was not paying off. Zephyrs made 8 in their 16 free throws and Quakers dropped in 9 of their 14 efforts, both teams having a good average. McIntyre and Sedgewick were the main cogs in Zephyrs' victory, both starring defensively as well as gathering 14 points between them. Jackafby and Thomas were outstanding in Quakers' losing effort. The teams:

Zephyrs (24)—Centre, Stewart 4; forwards, Dyer 3, Dougherty 2; guards, West 1, McIntyre 9; sub, Sedgewick 5.

Quakers (21)— Centre, Murray 2; forwards, Jakafby 5, Ward 6; guards, Thomas 4, Gillespie 1; subs, Patterson, Galley 3.

Referee: Curly Krug. Scorer, R. Rogow.

Six Major Clubs Bidding For Benny McCoy

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Jan. 29.—(AP) Baseball's battle of dollars for the services of 23-year-old Benny McCoy is scheduled to end before sundown with the former Detroit Tiger infielder affixing his signature to a contract with one of six major league clubs seeking his services.

McCoy, declared a free agent recently by Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis along with 90 other Tiger chattels, could have signed a contract at midnight Sunday, but he delayed until this afernoon to give all bidders a chance to submit final offers.

"I'll be glad to get it over with," McCoy said. "I have had hardly any rest since I got the good news that I was a free agent."

Clubs named by McCoy as still being interested in acquiring his services are Boston, Pittsburg, Brooklyn and Cincinnati of the National League and Philadelphia and Washington of the American circuit.

Leading in the bidding as Auctioneer McCoy prepared to bring down the gavel with a cry of "going-going-gone" were the Athletics with an offer of $40,000 in cash and a two-year playing contract at $10,000 a season. The Pittsburg Pirates were next with a $35,000 bid.

Champions Outskate Entire U.S. Field

LA CROSSE, Wis., Jan. 29 — (AP). — There's little doubt of the supremacy of Leo Freisinger of Chicago, and Madeline (Maddy) Horn, of Beaver Dam, Wis., among the nation's ice skating racers.

They outskated the field by overwhelming margins in the national outdoor speed championships here during the week-end. Miss Horn winning the senior women's title for the fourth time.

Freisinger piled up 130 points against 60 each for his three nearest rivals, including the defending champion, Ken Bartholomew of Minneapolis. Freisinger won the 220, 440, and 880 yard events and the mile, dropping out of the five-mile only after he had clinched the senior men's crown.

Miss Horn, Olympic champion, amassed 140 points to 50 for her closest rival, Louise Herou of Minneapolis. Maddy won the mile, 440 and 880 after finishing second in the 220.

Badminton Club Plays Kingston

Members of the Peterborough Badminton Club played the Kingston Club in doubles competition Saturday in Kingston. The visitors held their own 3-all in men's doubles, but lost in ladies' doubles 4-2 and fell before the home players 9 to 3 in mixed doubles. Peterborough ladies and men report being royally entertained in the friendly competition, and the Kingston Club will play here at a later date.

The visiting contingent included: Mrs. Jas. Matthews, Mrs. M. Preston and Misses Florence Adams, Marg. Donoghue, Leona Magee, Ethel Brownley, Ruth McKee, Mary Cathcart, Maxine Troke, Betsy Scott, and Jean Howsen. Men players were: Grant Henry, A. Drynan, G. Tollington, H. Shields, R. Baker, R. Macdonald, B. Scarlett, W. Preston and J. Steacy.

Tight School Tilt Goes To Queen Alex

Queen Alex just nosed out a 1-0 decision over a vastly-improved King George team Saturday at All Saints' ring in a nifty School Hockey League tilt. The losers, beaten before by big scores, clicked in fine style to crowd the Queen Alex crew all the way. Revoy scored the only goal of a close-checking contest in the 2nd frame, there being no outstanding stars in this tussle for either side, though the rival goalies went fine. Tha teams:

King George: Goal, Clark; defence, Andrus, Moserop; centre, D. Simpson; wings, V. Simpson, Barrie; subs, Smith, Rainer, Withers.

Digging Up the Local Dirt With the Odd Chuckle or Two

By CEC PERDUE

The C.G.E.-ers ran off another batch of hockey at the Rue de Brock on Saturday, four games being played. And pretty fair jousts, too, for the most part. The first fray wound up in a 1-1 draw, Dips and Buffs holding the Drafting gang even. Machine Shop 'A" got rolling and rapped home a 4-2 decision over the Cabinets in a very neat struggle. The Wiremen were hotter than overheated pipes and 9-2'd Switchgears, but the latter had a good-sized hunk of the play, too, though Ray Harding was a tough guy to park the black cookie behind in this session. In the final roundup of the aft, Machine Shop "B" busted the Porcelains for a 6-2 verdict. Another four-star edition by this loop next Saturday.

* * * * * *

Also on Saturday, the School Hockey League saw its weekly action with a triple-header at All Saints' outdoor ice emporium. King Edward copped a 3-0 win over Queen Mary, Queen Alex just got a 1-0 nod o'er King George, and Prince of Wales applied a 4-1 chore on Central. The surprise of the day was the way King George players fought back to make it closerthanthis in their tilt. The luckless Armour Hill lads ran into a coupla one-sided reverses in previous games but it didn't seem to dishearten 'em any more than another loss at sea bothers the British Navy. They kept battling and did fine. Max Williamson handled the refereeing job in okay style.

Off To Fight Fliers

The intermediate Petes—who have lined up Owen Sound Trappers for an exhibition fray here Friday—are off tonight to tackle the Fliers in Bella Villa. While these teams will be in group playoffs, the argument now is which club will finish first and have choice of rinks in the money series. Jim Ellis had his leg injury aggravated last game and may be absent, and Eddie Starr's cold is bothering him yet. But the Petes hope to bring back a win. 'Twas hoped to have Dit Clapper for referee here Friday but the Hastings' husky is returning to the Bruins early this week, after being laid up with an injury. Ellis and Starr ought to be okay in a day or two.

* * * * * *

Owing to Friday's exhibition tilt, the junior "B" game betwixt Lakefield Cubs and the local Colts will be moved ahead. It is listed for tomorrow (Tuesday) e'en at 8.30 in the Brock. The Cubs have several local lads aboard and —since their addition—have been going good. They gave the Colts a real scrap in Lakefield a week ago and will be out to set 'em back on their heels here, too, if possible. We like the Weir squad's chances, but imagine it'll be a right heated junior joust as both clubs fight it out (with the schedule nearing a close) for a "B" or "C" playoff berth in group finals.

It Wasn't So Funny

This from Belleville: "We didn't think it was at all funny to have the Petes rub it into the Redmen to the tune of 19-5 Friday. Coach Buckland and his charges might have appreciated the fact that a few of the local players rounded up what material was available merely to assure the Petes of a home gate. It looks like poor appreciation. On the other hand, it was regrettable that some of the members of the Redmen failed to make the trip to Peterborough, some of the same players who the week previous had signified their willingness to finish out the season if the Redmen were placed under new management. Sandy Burrows returned from an O.H.A. meeting to say there was no chance of Belleville being relegated to intermediate 'B'. In fact, another year the O.H.A. is going to clamp down on centres the size of Belleville importing players from a radius of 40 miles around."

* * * * * *

So maybe Greater Belleville will have to foster more minor hockey or else fold up in the puck game same as in baseball, lacrosse, football, etc. As for the Petes rubbing it in here, well they certainly scored plenty against weak opposition. But then what could they do? It wasn't their fault that the Redmen brought down half a squad, and the locals couldn't go laying down and stalling — what would the home fans have thought (and said) about such tactics? Nope, it's always too bad to see a very one-sided struggle, but it's utterly wrong to try to ease up to give the other guy a chance, especially in a speedy game like hockey. You've got to consider the fans first. Maybe we're calloused, but we never noticed any squad pulling punches against the local Orfuns in senior O.R.F.U. competition!

The Saints Are Set

St. Peter's and the Grads had expected to open their O.J.H.A. (juvenile) schedule here tomorrow eve in the Brock, but that's out now, owing to the Lakefield-Colts' junior melee. Dunno when they'll open it, just yet, but St. Peter's go to Norwood on Friday. Pete Vitarelli is pilot of the Saints, who have some ex-Monarchs and former O.J.H.A. puckists aboard, along with some good kids up from minor loops. Bob Hatton and Tony Mattucci are available for goal, with Russ Scriver, Ab Chimenti, Clint Curtis and Bob Griffin for defence; forwards include Red Eason, Earl Routley, Ray Garvey, Jack Mortimer, Bill Huard, Ron Horton and Don Robinson. There's been quite a player scramble by the Grads and Saints, and the clubs' rivalry won't be at all imaginary.

Church hockey tonight: George St. vs. Knox Bantams at six, George St. Juveniles vs. St. Andrew's at seven, George St. Juniors vs. Mark St. at eight, and All Saints vs. Park St. Juniors at nine. If All Saints Juveniles will play two nights in a row, they will play Trinity at seven Wednesday e'en. The Ministerial Assoc. trophy for the C.H.L. player combining ability and sportsmanship and church activity to the greatest extent this season is on display now at Warne's. It is a fine trophy 20 inches high. Canon J. D. Paterson and Rev. V. E. R. Grove Outfit Tie St. Andrew's In Hockey Tilt

GROVE's third team tied St. Andrew's, 3-3 at Macdonald House, Aurora, Saturday in a good exhibition of hockey. St. Andrew's led 1-0 in the first, but the visitors tied it in the second on McLeans effort. In the third, Grove counted early Harris taking Onorato's pass. They deflected a rolling puck into their own cage, and McLeod scored a nice one for St. Andrew's', but Harris on a solo play evened it up before the finish. O'Brian was brilliant in St. Andrew's goal, while MacBrien in the visitors' net also shone. Harris, McLean and Onorato were most effective for Grove. The teams:

Prince Of Wales Defeats Central

Prince of Wales defeated Central, 4 to 1, Saturday at All Saints' rink in a lively School Hockey League contest. The winners pushed home two markers in the second and two more in the third, with the uptown squad netting the disc once in the third. Maudsley, Hill and McDougall were the Wales' scorers, as Millen counted for the other side. The latter and Clarke went best for Central; while Maudsley and McDougall stood out for the victors in a good game. The teams:

Prince of Wales: Goal, Dorsett; defence, Batley, Maudsley; centre, Pammett; wings, Murduff, Hill; subs, Darling, McDougall, Plunkett.

Referee: M. Williaimson.

King Edward Wins Over Queen Mary

King Edward of the School Hockey League took a 3-0 win at All Saints' rink Saturday over Queen Mary by a 3-0 count. All tallies came in the third period of a good game, Close counting twice and Harris once. This pair, with Gardner and Anderson stood out, the K.E. boys having an edge on play but being held scoreless for two frames by the scrappy Queen Mary squad. Play was lively all the way. The teams:

King Edward: Goal, Welch; defence, Anderson, Woodcock; centre, Langton; wings, Close, Harris; subs, Byers, Foster, Dugan.

By HERB MARTIN

By the score of 60-48 seven mixed rinks from our club defeated seven mixed rinks from Lakefield Saturday evening. The visitors motored down around seven-thirty o'clock and enjoyed a friendly 8 end game with the local players. This is just one of the many social affairs that are being arranged by the ladies' social committee. After the games all curlers were the guests of the Peterborough ladies in the club parlors.

Saturday afternoon's attendance fell off somewhat last week-end. Maybe it was due to the bonspiel Wednesday last and with so many double headers. Anyway the boys who did come out had a good time and put in a fine exhibition of curling. The winning skips were: W. Harvey, D. Carlisle and Fred Green.

Overheard on No. 8, the other morning: says one lady curler:—"You know I think this curling business is divided into two classes. Those who look at the skip's broom and then don't take it and those who don't look at all."

NEW YORK, Jan. 29 — (AP). — The East may see Al Hostak, the N.B.A. middleweight champ, in action soon in an over-weight bout with Ken Overlin of Richmond.... When a Southern sports editor wired Judge W. G. Boston papers are panning Art Ross & Co. for trading Eddie Shore to New York Americans.

What next?

They're going to play Hank Greenberg in the outfield, and stars throughout the majors fear the worst. Don't be surprised if Jimmy Foxx is shifted to the pitcher's box, or if you find Carl Hubbell playing first.

Hunt Lost Baby

EUREKA, Calif., Jan. 29 (AP)—Nearly 200 men searched the desolate mountain wilderness 25 miles east of here today in the faint hope of finding a two-year-old boy alive after two bitter-cold nights. Robert McGaughey, Jr., disappeared at 9 a.m. Saturday. The area is one of the wildest sections of California.

Lively Action Displayed In Shop Frays

Four C. G. E. Shop Hockey League fixtures were staged before a fair-sized Saturday afternoon crowd at the Brock St. rink. On good ice, play was fast and quite tight at times. The Dip and Buff squad fought Drafting Room to a 1-1 tie, Machine Shops "A" took a 4-2 decision over Cabinets, Wire Dept. swamped the Switchgears by a 9-2 score, and Macine Shop "B" beat Porcelains 6 to 2.

The first game was tight all the way, marked by nice goaltending and close checking between well-matched outfits. Prout and Padgett stood out for the Dip and Buff gang while Woods and Palmer were brilliant for the Drafting. The goals were counted by Campbell and Rooke on neat efforts.

Machine Shop "A" got untracked this time to beat Cabinets. It was a lively, open fray with the winners having an edge on the attack. Both Pammett and Nicholls netted a pair of goals for them, as Brown and Wade counted for the other crew. Jones, Pammett, Nicholls and Mortimer were best for Machine Shop; and White, Flint, Brown and Wade all shone for the Cabinets. The teams:

Machine Shop "A": Goal, Jones; defence, Armour, Curtin; centre, Pammett; wings, Mortimer, Nicholls; subs, Mortimer, Langton, Riel, Charlton, Reid.

A Big Score.

The third game was fast and a bit one-sided as Wire Dept. continued their winning streak by slapping over the Switchgear. Heal again led the procession goal-ward with four counters and Pryde was right with him with three neat markers. Tompkins tallied both for the Switchgear. Harding, Heal and Pryde shared honors for the winners, as Tompkins Weir, and MacDonald went best for the losers—who kept trying all the way and made it tighter than the score sounds on play. Teams:

Wire: Goal, Harding; defence, Hoag, White; centre, Heal; wings, Pryde, Batten; sub, Ferguson.

Switchgears: Goal, Mowry, Weir, centre, Tompkins; wings, McDonald, Leggitt; subs, Abraham, Jobe, Mackey, Archibald.

Machine Shop Bees took the last game from Porcelain in a fair battle. Collins starred with three goals, Young, Walker and Gordon getting the others. For the losers, Mason and Elliott bulged the twine. The goal-scorers were about the pick of the players in this fray. Shrimp McDougall and Tommy Miller were referees.

DETROIT RED WINGS DEFEAT BRUINS—LEAFS WHIP CANADIENS

Detroit Used Skilful Power Play; Ross Puts Out Six Forwards In Dying Minutes Of The Game

By JACK CALDER
(Canadian Press Staff Writer.)

Any time Detroit Red Wings whip one of the National Hockey League leaders today, it's a wonder. When Jack Adams tremendous reconstruction program begins to take full effect a year or two from now, though, no Red Wing victory will be an upset.

Adams' fast-moving team stopped Boston Bruins 4-2 at Detroit last night and dropped the Bears five points off the furious pace being set by New York Rangers. Inasmuch as Detroit hasn't lost in its last four starts, there's a hint in the air that the building program already is taking effect as the youngsters gain experience.

Adams and owner James J. Norris, Sr., learned a terrific lesson when the Red Wings tumbled from the heights two years ago after two world championship seasons. They didn't reach the play-offs in 1938.

Determined that nothing like that ever should happen again, the Detroit management went out to strengthen an already extensive farm system. This year Omaha and Indianapolis became adjuncts to the major league club and chief scout Carson Cooper started to look at and talk to more amateurs than any N. H. L. club ever had scouted.

Paying Dividends.

No one expected the network to start paying big dividends this year. But a week ago the Wings whipped the third-place Toronto Maple Leafs and last night they made the Bruins like it. Considering the fact that they can perform wonders on their home ice. The Red Wings might cause complications in the playoffs.

The beating of the Bruins was achieved on a power play as skilful as any the Red Wings of the championship days ever pulled. While Johnny Crawford of the visitors served a penalty, Alex Motter scored after seven minutes of the third period with the aid of Captain Ebbie Goodfellow and Eddie Wares to give Detroit a 3-2 advantage.

Manager Art Ross pulled out goalie Frank Brimsek to insert six Bruin attackers in the last minute and Ken Kilrea broke away from them to score.

Sid Abel and Syd Howe gave Detroit a two-goal lead in the early minutes but Milt Schmidt reduced the margin after 12 minutes of play. The score stayed at 2-1 until Bobby Bauer tied it with one minute of the third period gone.

The Rangers, meanwhile, widened their margin through a 4-2 victory over their fellow-townsmen, the Americans, before 14,000 customers in a wild affair at Madison Square Garden.

Stuck with only two defencemen because of an injury to Al Murray, the Americans battled so gamely they held a 2-1 lead going into the third period as a result of goals by Charlie Conacher and Johnny Gagnon, against one by Phil Watson. Along the way Hooley Smith and Watson staged a gory fist-fight, drawing match sentences.

Then Clint Smith fired the tying goal seven minutes into the final chapter and despite the fact they were short-handed both times, the Rangers registered their fifth straigth victory on counters by Neil Colville and Bryan Hextall. It was that up-the-ice Ranger method of offsetting penalties clicking again.

Canadiens Drop Two.

Everything happened to Montreal Canadiens. The Maple Leafs beat them 3-1 at Toronto Saturday and the Black Hawks swarmed over them to an 8-1 success at Chicago last night. To cap it all, coach Pit Lepine missed both games because of an infected foot that confined him to his Toronto hotel room.

Syl Apps returned to the Toronto lineup to electrify 10,030 fans again, getting an assist as Gordon Drillon fired the first goal with Doug Young of the Canadiens serving a first-period penalty. Ray Getliffe levelled the score in that period but Sweeney Schriner fired the winning goal in the second. Gus Marker made the win certain in the third.

It was a field night for the Hawks, although they were able to gain nothing better than 2-0 advantage in the first two periods. Les Cunningham got the third goal as the third stanza started and he bagged another goal and two assists before it was over.

Hector (Toe) Blake, the ever-willing worker, scored for the hapless Habitants midway through that third-period slaughter.

Shore Leads Indians To Double Win

(By The Canadian Press.)

The old man may not be the hockey player he used to be, but as an inspiration he still has no equal.

The old man is Eddie Shore, who returned to active hockey during the week-end and sparked his Springfield Indians to a pair of victories.

Shore, expected to resume National Hockey League warfare on Tuesday when his new club, New York Americans, play Montreal Canadiens, got in a bit of practice on Saturday and Sunday, and his presence was just about all Springfield needed to gain the only double victory of the International-American week-end.

The Edmonton veteran was an inspiration on the defence and on the attack on Saturday as the Indians blanked Cleveland Barons 3-0. Shore figured in two goals in addition to playing a bang-up game on the defence.

Against Indianapolis last night, Shore did not figure in the goals, but his inspiration was evident as the Indians twice fought from behind, finally gaining victory on Joe Lamb's goal in the third period.

In other week-end games Providence tied New Haven for the Eastern Division lead by beating Syracuse 4-1 last night after tieing Pittsburg 4-4 on Saturday. The Eagles meantime dropped a 2-1 decision to Philadelphia on Saturday and edged out Pittsburg 4-3 last night.

Syracuse beat Hershey 3-2 on Saturday in the only other game.

Seven Major Baseball Clubs Have Approved Of Landis Plan–Wide-Open Split Feared

CHICAGO, Jan. 29 —(AP)—Baseball's battle lines are being drawn up for one of the most spectacular off-the-diamond conflicts in the 100-year-old history of the game.

Years ago baseball's persistent Kenesaw Mountain Landis told the clubs he did not like chain-store operations, contending such a set-up encouraged rules violations in handling players and that the players were not given an even break.

But when the commissioner raised his voice against farm systems its adherents described them as the "saviour" of minor league baseball.

Landis answered them three days ago — with a revolutionary plan. Briefly, the plan would do away with farm systems by prohibiting a club from optioning players out and by requiring them to obtain players only by outright possession. It also provided for annual subsidies to Classes "B," "C" and "D" league clubs.

Reactions to his suggestion have been many and varied. Some have criticized its severely, but others have indicated they think highly of it and would back Landis in an effort to install the system, an admittedly long and involved undertaking.

Landis has solid backing by many big league teams and probably more in the larger major league outfits. Already seven major league clubs—Chicago White Sox and Cubs, Philadephia Phillies and Athletics, Boston Red Sox, Cleveland, and St. Louis Browns— have approved the idea.

W. C. Tuttle, Pacific Coast League president, is one of its strongest supporters in the minors. Tuttle said he "wholeheartedly favored the aims of the Landis plan," and added:

"I am in favor of breaking up the chains. They too frequently 'freeze' young players and keep them in classifications below where they belong."

President Leo T. Miller of the Indianapolis American Association club said: "The thing that discounts it in my mind is that its operation would be bound to meet with plenty of discord among individual operators."

Manager Tommy Thomas of the Baltimore club and a spokesman for the Buffalo club, both in the International League, said the plan would be beneficial to players. Thomas added it also would give clubs a wider selection of players.

O'Connor Wins Boston Hurdle

BOSTON, Jan. 29.—(CP)—Canada sent two of her track stars to the Prout Memorial track meet Saturday at the Boston Garden, one won in his specialty, the other placed third.

Larry O'Connor of the University of Toronto captured the 45-yard high hurdles in 5.8 seconds to defeat Eddie Dugger, Tufts College, Medford, Mass., negro, with Allan Tomlich of Detroit third, and Walter Hall of Tufts fourth. O'Connor flashed over the hurdles in exactly the same taime in winning his semi-heat.

Bill Fritz, Queen's University, Kingston, Ont., half-miler, led until the final lap in the 600 yards, a feature of the meet, but placed third to Charley Beetham of Columbus, Ohio, and Hal Cagle of Oklahoma City.

Ed Oliver Wins

DEL MAR, Calif., Jan. 29—(AP)—With a newcomer, study Ed Oliver of Hornell, N.Y., installed as winner of the fourth annual $3,000 Bing Crosby golf tournament, the touring brigade of professionals swung east today.

Oliver repeated his sub-par Saturday performance yesterday and led the field with a 36-hole card of 68-67—135 to capture his first major tournament. He was nine strokes under par for the regulation 72 at Rancho Santa Fe Country Club.

North Dummer Wins First Half Of League

WARSAW, Jan. 29. —(ENS). — North Dummer clinched a play-off berth in the Warsaw Hockey League by defeating the lowly Oaks 6-4. It was a clean, hard-fought game before a good crowd on splendid ice and was even closer than the score indicates.

For the first period and a half the old guard back-checked the speedy Stoney Lakers to a standstill, but their defense cracked for a scant five minutes midway through the middle frame and the Northerners poured through the breach to net three goals. The balance of the game was a ding-dong fray with Munro and Davis leading the attack for the Greybeards, while Ramsay and R. Whetung did Trojan work on the other side.

Broomball Game.

Before the hockey game a broomball match was staged between two local teams. All Stars and Dandruff Removers, in which the barbers managed to hold their rough and ready opponents to a 1-1 tie.

The hockey line-ups:

Oaks — Goal, Payne; defense, Thompson, Drain; centre, Munro; wings, Hamlin, Davis; subs, Sharp, Edo.

North Dummer—Goal, B. Payne; defense, L. Whetung, Crowe; centre, A. Whetung; wngs, Ramsay, R. Whetung; subs, Ivey, Coppaway, Puffer.

Referee—M. Lonsberry.

Record Intact.

On Friday night the Dandruff Removers Club played their annual hockey game and kept their 5 year record of successive defeats intact by taking a plastering from the Warsaw Ladies, the count being 2-1.

The ladies had a slight edge on the play, as some of their players could skate, but the Barbers played their usual game on hands and knees and horizontally, the sweeping plays of Wright and Wilkinson being especially graceful.

For the ladies D. Darling starred by keeping the Barbers' goal-tender in conversation throughout, while E. Selkirk carried the puck through the wobbly defence of the opposition. The refereeing was abominable. The teams:

Warsaw Ladies—E. Thompson, E. Selkirk, J. Payne, D. Darling, A. Watts, E. Darling, Dorothy Payne, Donny Payne, J. Watts, S. Lloyd, J. Digweed.

Dandruff Removers—G. Moore, V. Jackson, A. Payne, J. Wilkinson, C Tighe, W. Wright, F. Sidey, G. Hawkins.

Referee—H. Munro.

Douro Defeated.

In the feature game of the Friday night double-header, School defeated Douro by 7-4, thereby bringing the first half of the league schedule to a finish.

Douro, as usual, worked hard, and their forwards skated miles, but they lacked the team play of the local lads, W. and J. Moher did the Douro scoring. Dan Bell tallied three for the School, with G. Clements, G. and E. Payne getting the rest.

School— Goal, E. Clements; defence, F. Bell, G. Cooper; centre, D. Bell; wings, G. Clements, R. Payne; subs, E. Payne, G. Payne, L. Lonsberry.

Douro—Goal, Coughlin; defence, Joe Hayes, Walsh; centre, W. Moher; wings, J. Moher, J. Leahy; subs, G. Delaney, F. Moher, John Hayes, J. Healy, B. Delaney.

Exhibition Game.

On Wednesday night the Warsaw Hockey Club made their season's debut by taking a rather easy victory from Canadians of Peterborough, the score being 10-5.

Warsaw's speedy forwards had the visitors groggy for the first two periods, Ivan Watts setting the pace as the locals poured in 9 counters to their opponents' 1, but the Canadains made a fine comeback in the final frame and had much the better of the play. The teams:

Warsaw—Goal, Digweed; defence, J. Payne, Drain; centre, I. Watts; wings, A. Watts, J. Watts; subs, Sharpe, T. Watts, E. Bell, Bowen, Morgan.

Referee—H. Munro.

Lakefield plays the Colts here tomorrow (Tuesday) night at 8.30 in the Brock in an O.H.A. junior "B" game, moved ahead from Friday. It is the first appearance of the Lakefield team here this season, the northerners having got off to a poor start but playing fine hockey since they added several local puckists —former Monarchs—to the club. It should be a lively junior fray as both clubs battle for play-off spots in the "B" and "C" final group series next month.

Burk Refuses To Meet Pearce

NEW YORK, Jan. 29—(AP) — Henry Penn Burke, President of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen, told the association's meeting Saturday night that Joe Burk, the world's outstanding amateur sculler, has no intention of rowing Bobby Pearce, the Hamilton, Ont., professional, in a match race.

"Burk told me not to take the matter up with the N.A.A.O. executive committee," said Burke.

"Joe is anxious to do nothing which would in any way jeopardize his amateur standing. Joe feels that he has at least five years of rowing ahead of him, and he wants to remain an amateur. There is consequently nothing to the matter but newspaper talk emanating from Canada."

The association tentatively set the 1940 United States championship regatta for Red Bank, N. J., July 20, 21.

The Canadian Henley regatta will be held as scheduled—July 25, 26, 27 at St. Catharines, Ont.—Michael J. Broderick of Buffalo told the meeting. The N.A.A.O. adopted a resolution urging all United States clubs to support that regatta.

Grove School Wins

PORT HOPE, Jan. 29. — Grove School, Lakefield, maintained a strong attack on Trinity College School Saturday afternoon and won an interschool hockey game 15-5. Frewer, the winners' captain, scored five goals. St. Remy 3, Langmuir, Potts and Roberts each 2, and Carson 1. For T.C.S. Dugan II, scored three goals, Caldwell and Finley each one.

"TELL BILL GOODBYE"

WRITTEN FOR AND RELEASED BY CENTRAL PRESS ASSOCIATION

By Marie Blizard

CHAPTER TWENTY-SEVEN

THE WEDDING reception was over. Dick and his bride departed amid the usual confetti, rice and congratulations a little after eight. In less than a half hour, the crush of guests had thinned out and now they were only 10 in the flower-filled drawing room. Already porters were clearing away the debris and Gertrude, with a long gold coat over her yellow lace gown, was still organizing.

"We've only two cars. How shall we divide ourselves?" she asked vaguely, knowing that she'd manage the whole thing. "Mr. Haviland, will you take Mark and Edna? I'll take Fabienne and Nicky in my car. There's room for five, you know, so I can take Miss—er Chapman and Dr. Mallory. Oh, dear, that leaves Mr. and Mrs. McHenry. Can you manage another two, Mr. Haviland?"

Nicky said, "My roadster's downstairs. I can take Miss Chapman. You wouldn't mind, would you?" he said, turning to her. "You've both a warm coat and a hat."

"Of course not," Ellen agreed.

"That's splendid, Nicky, darling. I'll seat you next to Fabienne at the table. Well, I guess that fixes everything," she said, leading the way to the elevator.

"It certainly does," Fabienne said begrudgingly. Mother'd fixed everything so that she'd have to sit beside Bill all the way uptown while poor Ellen had to ride with Nicky, who probably wouldn't know what to say to her.

She pulled the hood of her furlined wrap over her head and glared at the chauffeur's back, prepared to glare all the way to their destination.

"How're you feeling," Bill said professionally.

"Swell," she said glumly.

"Some show," he tried again.

"Wasn't it? The Seymours always give big shows."

"I was wondering how you'd look walking down that long aisle."

"Scared, probably."

"I wouldn't blame you. It's a long chance you take."

"Is that why you aren't married, Bill?"

"Me? No, I take chances. If I thought I had anything to offer the girl I—I—But I'm only a poor, struggling surgeon.

"Maybe it wouldn't matter — to her, Bill."

"Maybe. I hope not. Someday, when she gives me some indication of how she feels, I'm going to find out."

Fabienne's fingers played with the pearl-beaded bag in her lap and she wished that she could paint a permanent smile on her face with a lipstick. It was all a little too much for her to sit beside Bill tonight and talk about Ellen, to hear him say that one day he was going to ask her to marry him. That's what it al lamounted to.

"Well, good luck when you do!" she said, managing a bright, impersonal smile.

Her mother broke off her conversation with the father of the bride. "What are you two talking about?" she asked.

"The price of rubber in Puerto Rico," her daughter said, without any rudeness in her tone.

"Really? What a waste of time. I always find surgeons the most interesting conversationalists. You must come to dinner with us next week, Dr. Mallory, Fabienne, remind me to find what evening we are not engaged and get the doctor's telephone number."

"Bill isn't social, mother. He's too hard working to fit his social program to ours. Aren't you, Bill?"

Bill's face had gone suddenly cool. He was hurt by the bright acidity in her voice, and puzzled by it. He said nothing.

"Of course he's hard working," said Gertrude. All bright, interesting young men are hard working, but I mean to see more of him."

Fabienne wondered how Nicky and Ellen had got on. They'd probably arrived a quarter of an hour before.

Nicky, a block away, was saying, "I'll let you out and then park the car."

"I'll come with you," Ellen answered, "If you like to have me."

"Like to? Say, I wish we didn't have to go to this dinner. You're the first interesting girl I've talked to since I can remember."

"Fabienne is interesting," Ellen said quickly. "She's not only the prettiest girl I've ever seen, but she is a most interesting, talented, charming and sincere person."

"You bet!" he agreed enthusiastically. "Guess young Mallory appreciates her—her attractions, eh?"

"Bill? Yes, he does. He likes her very much, but she—she—I mean they're just good friends." Nicky mustn't get the idea that Fabienne and Bill were romantic about each other, however Bill felt. It wouldn't be fair to Nicky to let him believe anything like that.

Anyway, she wasn't sure how Fabienne felt about any man. She'd said she was fond of Nicky. And in spite of her one protestation that she would not marry Nicky, Ellen couldn't see how she could resist him.

Also, it was odd that Fabienne said Nicky wasn't interested in anything but flying, polo and hunting. Nicky'd been talking to her enthusiastically about the Bartlett tobacco business. He'd answered all her questions with eagerness.

They parked the car and walked back to the hotel.

"I might stay around for a few days," he said as they went into the brihtly lighted lobby. "Any chance of seeing you again?"

There it was again—that swift brush of pink that made her dark eyes sparkle. "I—I don't know."

"I like to talk to you. What are you doing tomorrow night?"

Still she didn't say anything. She couldn't very well have a date with Fabienne's beau.

"You have some mighty interesting ideas about marketing. You could help me if you wanted to. How about it?"

If she could help him—that was different. She said, "In that case, I'd be delighted."

"I'll pick you up for dinner about eight. I'm sure glad you came to this shindig."

They passed the florist's booth. "Wait a minute. You ought to have some flowers," Nicky told her.

She caught his arm and shook her head. "No, please," she said.

"Why not?"

She could only smile and continue to shake her head. What would Fabienne think if she came in with Nicky and wore flowers only Nicky could have bought?

"Some other time," she told him.

"All right," he said, giving in. "You ought to have a special kind of flower. White violets, or purple-black pansies. Something demure like yourself.

Bill and Fabienne looked up when Ellen and Nicky came in.

In a low voice, Fabienne said, "I never knew Ellen was so pretty before."

"Didn't you?" Bill said. "I've seen Ellen's face when it looked like an angel's."

She looked full at him then, thinking of how his face looked to her. "I know," she said, complete renunciation in her tone.

Gertrude said, "There you are, children. We thought we'd go on to a night club after dinner. Weddings let one down so. What do you think?"

Two sets of aunts and uncles beamed and said they thought it a fine idea. Neither Fabienne and Ellen nor Nicky and Bill said anything. Their silence was heavy.

"The Authority on Authorities"

DON'T DO IT TOO EARLY

DOUBLING a low opponent's bid, with the idea of trying to collect a nice big penalty score for setting him, is one of the marks of a good competitor. But there is such a thing as a premature double, one which is made when it is quite likely, from your own distribution, that the enemy has another suit to show and you also have another suit which might be well to proclaim to your partner. Doubling at such a time may merely give your opponent a chance to tell his story to his partner while beating yourself out of a chance to tell your story to your mate.

(Dealer: South. Both sides vulnerable.)

Four real experts had a great post-mortem after this deal, played in a recent national tournament. Charles Lochridge opened in the South with 1-Club. Herbert D. Lent in the West bid 1-Spade, and John Rau in the North made a business double. This passed to West, who then bid 2-Diamonds. Travers LeGros in the East was pleased and passed this.

Mr. Lochridge in the South feared properly that his side couldn't beat that contract, so bid 2-No Trumps on the strength of his apparent diamond stopper, plus his partner's spade double. Mr. Rau then showed his hearts for the first time at 3-Hearts, whereupon Mr. Lochridge bid 3-No Trumps. East's preferential pass of diamonds caused Mr. Lent to lead that suit, so it was run, plus the spade A, for a two-trick set.

In the post-mortem, all hands, including Mr. Rau, agreed that if he had bid his hearts on his first turn, then rebid them on his second chance, Mr. Lochridge would have been justified in putting the side into 4-Hearts, which could not be stopped.

Belmont 'Phone Deficit Laid To Cyclone

HAVELOCK, Jan. 29 (ENS). — Chairman W. J. Peoples and Commissioners W. G. Barrie and E. W. Steenburgh, Jr., of the Belmont Municipal Telephone System were all re-elected to office as the annual meeting was held on Saturday afternoon in the Havelock Council Chamber. Although both Mr. Peoples and Mr. Barrie expressed a desire to be relieved of their duties, they were finally persuaded by the subscribers to carry on for another year.

Mr. Barrie consented to continue to act as Commissioner if the extra duties of secretary-treasurer were removed. Accordingly Mrs. W. G. Barrie will be officially appointed to that position.

The system has enjoyed a good year, stated Chairman W. J. Peoples, in a few introductory remarks to the larger than usual attendance of subscribers. A steadily decreasing surplus fund, he said, will, however, make it necessary in the near future to raise the maintenance rates. He asked that a vote be taken on this matter, adding that the lines and poles, growing older each year, were now especially in need of repair.

The cyclone which struck this district last fall was a serious blow to the system, he said, resulting in a damage toll amounting to about $230 on the lines. It was due to this extraordinary expenditure that the system actually operated at a slight deficit last year. It is for such emergencies along with the regular upkeep that the surplus fund is required.

After a prolonged discussion on this and other matters, the meeting finally voted in favor of raising the yearly rate from $8.60 to $10.00.

The question of quarterly payments also went to a vote, with the subscribers deciding in favor of this system, rather than the old method of collecting in the taxes. W. G. Barrie and the other Commissioners spoke favorably of the quarterly system of payment. Collection for long distance telephone calls was always a source of trouble when payment was made through the taxes, stated Commissioner Barrie, who said that there was no law in the Municipal Act enforcing the payment of such.

Percy Sexsmith, who has been acting as linesman since the resignation of W. Longmuir at the first of the year, received the appointment to this position at the same salary as the latter.

W. G. Barrie, as secretary-treasurer presented the system's annual financial report, which was duly signed by auditors Grant H. Dafoe and John Ruttan. Both auditors were re-appointed for next year.

Report Figures.

The annual report read as follows: Total number of telephones, January 1, 1939, 141; total number of telephones, December 31, 1939, 144; miles of poles January 1, 1939, 50; miles of poles December 31, 1939, 49; miles of single wire January 1, 1939, 145; miles of single wire, December 31, 1939, 143.

Operating account — Revenue: Subscribers' levies in 1939 for principal, interest and maintenance, collected (toll $779.79 not included), $1,061.11; subscribers' levies, etc., uncollected, $223.77; non-subscribers' rentals, collected, $15; non-subscribers' rentals, uncollected, $5.00; miscellaneous receipts, $29.52; total revenue, $1,334.40; Expenses: Annual switching fees paid to "Bell," $600.76; maintenance, repairs-wages, $506.36; maintenance or repairs-supplies, $107.95; commissioners' salaries, $30; secretary's and treasurer's salaries, $90; other salaries (auditors, etc.) $15; rent, heat, and light, $5.03; stationery, printing and postage, $44.75; insurance, and workmen's compensation, $32.17; sundries, $32.17; total operating expenses, $1,464.04; gross deficit, $129.64. Mayors Cancel Annual Rally

TORONTO, Jan. 29—(CP).—Postscheduled for March was made Saturday by the executive committee ponement of the annual convention of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities due to the Federal election.

"It was thought unwise to hold the conference at a time which probably would conflict with the election period," said Mayor Stanley Lewis of Ottawa, president of the Federation. "The conference will be convened in Ottawa two to three weeks after the next parliament is convened."

The first act of the new parliament should be the tabling of the report of the Royal Commission on Dominion-Provincial relations, according to a resolution approved by the committee.

"Before any effort is made to implement the commission's findings representations should be received from the Canadian Federation of Mayors on behalf of member municipalities on those matters affecting municipal relationships and problems," the committee added.

A change in the collection of the eight per cent sales tax on domestic electricity and illuminating gas was urged. The committee said the tax should be applied "on a kilowatt cubic foot or other usage basis, rather than on the amount of the bills as presently prevails."

Fraserville Enjoys Crokinole Party

FRASERVILLE, Jan. 29—(ENS).—A social evening was held on Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. A. Wood when old and young folk of the Fraserville church spent a pleasant evening playing crokinole and Chinese checkers.

The young people played progressive crokinole with Doris Horton and Ray Bothwell taking home the first prizes and Dorothy Moffatt and Jack Darling the consolation prizes.

Mrs. Pue, Mrs. Waterman and Mrs. Horton were the ladies in charge of the evening. There were over forty present with receipts of $6.50.

Luncheon was served and folks departed near the midnight hour.

The young people held their weekly meeting in the church on Thursday evening with the president in charge.

A lengthy business discussion followed on preparations for a chicken supper to be held in February.

Kenneth Pinnington, citizenship convenor was in charge of the remainder of the meeting. Dorothy Moffatt led in a worship period. Kenneth gave an intresting topic on Good Citizens of Our Country. A short contest was enjoyed and the meeting closed with a hymn and the league benediction.

Exchange Puzzle Stumps Ottawa

OTTAWA, Jan. 29 — (CP). — The Ottawa School Board Finance Committee is wrestling with an exchange problem so puzzling that E. Stanley Higman, one of the members, suggested on Friday it be turned over to the pupils to figure out.

Clarence Storr, an Ottawa teacher, went to New Zealand in exchange for A. L. Gilmour. While he was there, the New Zealand Board of Education paid Storr's salary in New Zealand pounds. The Ottawa Board paid Gilmour's in Canadian dollars.

Now the New Zealand Education Board claims nine pounds from the Ottawa Board, charging that, taking the value of the pound prior to exchange fluctuations, they had paid Storr's salary on a higher valuation than Ottawa had paid Gilmour's. They wanted the difference.

The Ottawa Board paid Gilmour at the exchange rate of $4.86 2-3 to the pound.

But tracing back the claim the committee found Storr brought back with him 175 pounds, and that because of the difference in exchange he was $208 short of what he would have if he were paid in Canadian money.

The Board decided to wait and let New Zealand sue and it looks as though Storr holds the short end of the stick.

Potatoes Bring $1.40 Per Bag On Small Market

Potatoes selling up to $1.40 for the 75-pound bag provided the feature of Saturday's benumbed outdoor market. The attendance of both buyers and sellers was the smallest in perhaps the last twelve months, and the fruit and vegetable men were driven to their own expedients of protection to keep their stock from becoming nipped by the frost.

The exclusively potato group was reduced to two men with slim supplies in many-miled two-door automobiles. One of them was sitting in his car beside a flaming lantern as a means of giving the frost an argument, and the other with only one bag unsold had his offering covered with extra empties.

Green Mountains were quoted at $1.25 a bag and White Stars were $1.40, and apparently all of them sold.

The weather was a severe obstruction to the producers of perishable stuff, but it seemed to be an ally of the meat men, and they could have done with ten or fifteen fewer degrees of frost in winter's accommodation of natural refrigeration.

Harry Gill quoted beef at 12 and 14 cents for front and hind quarters respectively, pork was 13 and 15 cents, and lamb 18, 20 and 22 cents. Meat trucks were loaded, and business was reported better than average. George Mullen's prices were 12 and 14 cents a pound for beef and pork 13 and 15 cents.

Ben Isaac was up from Warkworth with a stock of apples wrapped in wool coverings. His best Spies were $1.50 a hamper, McIntosh Reds, 35 and 40 cents; Snows, 25 cents a six-quart basket. Norman Moncrief brought in a covered truck load with an oil stove engaging the sharp frost. His No. 1 Spies were 40 cents a peck with others at 30 cents; Baldwins and Greenings, 30 cents; McIntosh Reds, 40 cents, and Talman Sweets, 30 cents.

Most of the vegetable men were missing from their accustomed places, and Herb Doig had moved his stand to the upstairs hall, where he was selling onions at 25c a peck, carrots and parsnips 25c, cabbage and turnips, five cents each.

Eggs 22 to 25 Cents

The indoor market was fairly brisk in spite of the weather that made travel from the country a chilly drive. Butter was 29 and 30 cents, eggs 22 to 25 cents, chickens 18 to 20 cents, and there was one turkey at 22 cents a pound.

Several members of the city council with Alderman Herb McCannan, chairman of the property and market committee, visited the upstairs market to see for themselves the effect of the changes in the arrangement of the tables. Their attendance was in response to a petition from farmers asking the council to restore the aisles to the north-south direction instead of the new east-west lay out. They intend to return next Saturday, when the tables will all be laid noth-south except at each end. Possibly mid-winter conditions do not present a sample of the average marketing business in the hall, but the committee decided to make the inspection at once.

For the information of producers who sell on the market it may be pointed out as information that there are now three groups who presumably will give the market conditions some attention: the city council's committee, the county council's committee and the small committee appointed some weeks ago by a producers' group who met in Frank Paterson's office. It may be that some effort will be made to bring them altogether, although nothing definite has yet been announced in regard to a joint conference.

For the further information of producers it may also be stated that there is some opinion that is heard from time to time, echoes of it not far from the city hall, that the market should not be left to drift along as it has done with indifferent official supervision for many years. Some members of the city council are in favor of attempting to make some forward step. Management of the market is directly in their hands, but producers should realize that any suggestions on their part would probably be welcomed by the local committee.

It's An Old Trick After All

Contrary to general belief, the stunt made famous by the Finns of employing white shrouds over the uniform as camouflage is not new. And here is the proof. The photo, made 25 years ago during the World War, shows British snipers, dressed to blend with the snow, going over the top of their trench in the Arleux sector on a manhunt. Even in summer this white camouflage was used in certain areas where a great portion of the terrain was of white clay—the kind used in the manufacture of pottery and clay pipes.

$42,000 Blaze Hits Village

CORNWALL, Ont., Jan. 29—(CP) —A general store and a three-family house were burned to the ground early to-day in the village of Maxville, 25 miles north of her. Loss was estimated at 42,000, in the village's worst fire in five years.

The blaze broke out in the rear of G. H. McDougall's store and Mr. and Mrs. McDougall, whose apartment is over the store, were forced to flee thinly-clad into zero weather.

Nothing was saved from the stock of the store but families in an adjoining house had time to carry out their personal possessions and a good deal of furniture before their home caught fire. For a time the flames menaced a United church next to the house, but bucket brigades, aided by a small pumper from a nearby village were able to save it.

In a $70,000 blaze five years ago which gutted several buildings in the business section of the village, Mr. McDougall lost a warehouse.

Cause of this morning's fire is not known.

Another Balcony

NEW YORK, Jan. 27—(CP).—The Metropolitan Opera Association, as one of its first steps in its announced transformation of the Opera House, plans to abandon the grand tier boxes and replace them with banks of "comfortable numbered seats," George Sloan announced in a curtain speech at last night's performance of "Aida."

Under the new plan the grand tier horseshoe, situated two levels above the orchestra and immediately above the parterre boxes of the "diamond horseshoe," would become merely another balcony, adding nearly 200 seats to the capacity of the house.

Shoots His Brother While Testing Gun

STRATFORD, Ont., Jan. 29. — (CP)—Struck between the eyes by a bullet accidentally fired from a .22-calibre high velocity automatic rifle in the hands of his brother, 14-year-old Andrew Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson of St. Mary's, R.R. 7, was fatally injured Friday. He died in Stratford General Hospital, two hours after the shooting.

Andrew and his 17-year-old brother, Roy, were cleaning rifles and guns in their home. After the .22-calibre rifle and been oiled and cleaned the older brother shoved the magazine part way into place, he told provincial officer John M. Douglas of Stratford.

Officer Douglas quoted the youth as saying that he thought the magazine was not in place and that the rifle would not fire. He pointed the rifle at his brother's head and pulled the trigger. The bullet entered the boy's head between the eyes. He was above five feet from the rifle when it was fired.

Coroner Dr. J. G. Grieve said he had not decided whether an inquest would be necessary.

Educational Talk Is Given Belmont W.I.

HAVELOCK, Jan. 29. —(ENS) — "Influence of education in the home" was the topic upon which Mrs. (Dr). A. S. Thompson of Havelock, addressed the members of the Belmont Branch Women's Institute as they assembled for their January meeting on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George Smith. There was an attendance of forty present, all responding to the roll call with a "book and its author."

The usual opening was conducted by the president, Miss Iva Smith, following which a short business period was held. The Institute decided to subscribe 5c a member to the Central War Charities Fund.

Several interesting numbers were presented on the afternoon's program of which Mrs. H. L. Scott was the convener. The memery poem, "The Two Glasses" was given by Mrs. William Harris, and Mrs. Agnes Brunton gave a reading entitled, "The Satisfying Home."

Speaking on education in the home, Mrs. Thompson dwelt upon adult education, showing how facilities for such, were so much greater than in previous year. One should not think, said Mrs. Thompson that because you have left school that the period of learning has ended. Points upon which she touched were correct speech, refined and gentle manners, sound standards of taste, power and habit of reflection, and power to translate thought into efficiency. She concluded her remarks with some quotations from a book by Mrs. Dorothy Canfield Fisher, entitled "Why Stop Learning."

Lucrative Jobs For "Old Dogs"

This conclusion came today from W. E. Reynolds, president of Chicago's "men over 40 club" on the first anniversary of its founding.

"The conclusion is based," Reynolds said in an interview, "on the fact that 50 per cent of our members who have found new jobs have landed positions entirely foreign to the professions or businesses they followed before they had to start looking for new ones."

Each member is required to pool his ideas and problems with his fellow members to "sell" them—and not himself— to prospective employers. Any job clues uncovered during interviews with employers are referred to the club's placement committee. Only men who formerly earned no less than $4,000 a year are eligible.

'GERMANY CRUSHED BY ENGLAND SINCE 1919' –Hitler

Nazi Bomber Downed On Ship Raid

British Fighters Busy On Whole Coast Pursuing Invaders

LONDON, Jan. 30—(CP).—Germany today renewed widespread air attacks on shipping along the east coast of the British Isles and Britain announced one of the raiders had been shot down.

Shore watchers saw one British patrol vessel attacked and escape unharmed. Jets of water rose from either side as she zigzagged to dodge two bombs dropped from a low-flying plane.

British fighters then chased the invader into the clouds where the pursuit continued. Fighters were in action against other German planes over several east coast towns.

The attacks on shipping were preceded by scouting flight which were fended off.

Radio listeners heard an SOS from an unidentified steamship saying "We are being attacked by enemy aircraft."

The heaviest attacks seemed to be centred on the east coast near Yarmouth.

14 Ships Attacked

Additional reports from shipping disclosed the extent of yesterday's raids on at least 14 larger vessels and numerous trawlers.

Two men were killed, one each on the trawlers Rigoletto and Durrant, by machine-gunning from a low-flying raider. The 1,487-ton British steamship Eston was missing in the North Sea with a crew of 18 men.

Results "are not yet known," said the Air Ministry's first announcement as a raider attacked shipping today. The attacker was pursued by a Royal Air Force fighter plane and coastal patrol machines.

In addition to a continuation of the war on shipping—it was estimated that from 15 to 20 German planes took part yesterday, attacking 14 vessels with bombs and machine-gun fire—German planes flew low over British coastal towns today.

Plane Skims Rooftops

Two machines reconnoitred the northeast coast of Scotland while a third twice circled a Kentish coast town, in southeast England, at a height of less than 100 feet.

A boatman of the Kentish town said of the invader:

"We heard a roar overhead and saw a greyish silver monoplane swooping down towards the harbor. It banked steeply around the lighthouse and went off along the sea front.

R. B. Bennett "J.P."

Dorking, Surrey, England, Jan. 30 (CP Cable)

RT. HON. R. B. BENNETT today was appointed a Justice of the Peace for Surrey and will be attached to the Dorking Bench.

It was understood the title would be purely honorary in Mr. Bennett's case although justices of the peace frequently rule on minor offences in Britain.

The former Canadian prime minister's residence is at nearby Mickleham. Record searchers said it was believed to be th first time that a former prime minister of any dominion had been appointed a justice of the peace in Britain.

Heenan Reveals Names Of Timber Backers

TORONTO, Jan. 30 — (CP). — Hon. Peter Heenan, Ontario Minister of Lands and Forests, today revealed the names of backers of the non-bankrupt Lake Sulphite Pulp Company, Limited.

As the inquiry into Ontario's timber resources proceeded at the Legislature today, Mr. Heenan said the backers were J. W. McConnell, Montreal financier; the Bronfman Brothers, distillery executives; Joseph Simard, Montreal; John Sadler, an engineer; D. M. Hogarth; R. O. Sweezey, Montreal financier; Hanson Bros. and McLeod, Young and Weir, financial firms; E. E. Johnston, Fort William and F. M. Connell, a mining man.

Request for the names of the company backers was made at a timber probe session last week by Conservative Leader George Drew, and Mr. Heenan at that time said he would ask Mr. Sweezey for permission to reveal the names which the minister said had been given to him by Sweezey during discussions surrounding the leasing of government-owned property.

Yarning Between Battles In Finland

Two Finnish soldiers lie on the straw of the barn in which they are billeted between battles and tell each other of their experiences in fighting the Red Russian invaders. They laugh and joke about their adventures at the front, but behind the laughter is the grim determination to die rather than see the banner of the hammer and sickle over Finland.

Halifax, Jan. 300 (CP)

MEMBERS of the Royal Canadian Artillery Sergeant's Mess at Halifax were playing hosts to visiting Royal Navy men.

Introductions were being made. Quartermaster Sergeant C. F. Collicott of the Royal Canadian Ordinance Corps, was introduced to Petty Officer Ralph Collicott of the Royal Navy.

The two men looked at one another hesitantly.

"I say," queried the naval man, "you wouldn't happen to be my brother, would you?"

"Gosh, I believe I am," said the quartermaster sergeant.

And he was. The men hadn't saw each other for 30 years.

21 Soviet Planes Bagged In Day By Finn Gunners

HELSINGFORS, Jan. 30—(AP).—The Finnish high command announced today that Finnish planes and anti-aircraft batteries downed 21 Russian planes during yesterday's widespread raids over southern Finland.

It was declared that Finnish planes had bombed "a certain harbor and vessels lying there"—and informed circles here assumed this meant the Russian naval base of Kronstadt near Leningrad.

The Finnish command said one Finnish plane was lost.

The Soviet air force has been particularly active during the past 24 hours, trying to disrupt Finnish troop and supply movements but apparently with little effect.

One Russian patrol of 30 men attempted to cross the ice of Lake Muola but were killed by Finnish machine-gunners.

The attempted destruction of a hospital train by Russian fliers was described by an officer just returned from the Lake Ladoga front. He said that nurses and doctors remained aboard the train, reassuring their several, hundred patients. The bombs missed the train, the doctor said, but some cars were struck by machine-gun bullets.

Back Your Choice Hepburn Tells Cohorts

HAMILTON, Ont., Jan. 30 (30)—Liberal members of the Ontario Legislature have been informed by Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn that they can support candidates in the forthcoming Federal election as they see fit, John P. Mackay, provincial member for East Hamilton, said in a telephone interview from Toronto today. He and George Bethune, M.L.A. for Wentworth, announced that they would give unqualified support to Mackenzie King Federal Liberal candidates but explained that this had no significance so far as their provincial status was concerned.

"We have been given the blessing of our chief, Premier Hepburn, to do what we please in the election," Mr. Mackay declared, "he has given all members that privilege. That is the way I am acting on it."

"I am going to give complete support to the Liberal candidate who gets the convention," said Mr. Bethune. "That doesn't have any bearing on provincial politics."

Mr. Mackay further clarified his position in regard to the forthcoming election by declaring that provincial and federal Liberal organ-

Manion Sticks To Charge Troops Sick

Prefers Doctors' Word To Rogers; Blames Clothes, Boots

OTTAWA, Jan. 30 (CP)—Conservative Leader Manion, in a press statement today, repeated his charge that many of those who enlisted in the Canadian Active Service Force became ill "because they had not proper boots, woollen clothing and blankets," but he said he would not divulge the names of officers who gave him this information.

In the House of Commons last Thursday Dr. Manion made a similar charge with particular reference to British Columbia troops. Defence Minister Rogers took this to mean the Seaforth Highlanders, as the only British Columbia unit to cross Canada for embarkation with the First Division, and in a statement to the press, gave unit sick records to deny the charge.

Dr. Manion's statement today criticised the defence minister and said "The trouble with Mr. Rogers is that he knows as little about his present department as he did about the Labor department when he presided over it."

The statement follows:

In yesterday's statement by the minister of national defence he says I stated that many members of the Seaforth Highlanders had to go to hospital on their way overseas. I not only did not say that, but I did not mention the Seaforth Highlanders, as Hansard report will bear me out.

Reports from Doctors

Hansard clearly shows my meaning, namely: That information came to me "from doctors in charge of Militia regiments" that many of their men were sick, and that large numbers had been sent to hospital because the men who enlisted had not proper boots, woollen clothing and blankets, due to the lack of preparation by this Government, despite its huge expenditures on defence.

Charges Most Of Wars Waged By UK

Always Fought For God Not Material Gain Proclaims Dictator

BERLIN, Jan. 30 (AP)—(Via Radio)—Adolf Hitler, accusing Great Britain of having waged "most of the wars of this world," today pictured Germany as the victim of oppression since the Versailles Treaty was signed.

In a surprise address on the seventh anniversary of his chancellorship, Hitler said the Allies now were repeating all the "glowing promises" they made in 1918.

"It was the Treaty of Versailles which was to have accomplished all of these improvements," he said. "It was a treaty of innumerable clauses all of which accomplished just nothing."

For a long time Germany "begged and entreated" her western neighbors for justice, he said.

"But after all, these entries proved themselves to be in vain. Then, and then only, did National Socialism originate."

What happened, he said, was that the Allies "soon set about chopping Europe into small pieces."

"A crazy system of reparations was invented and no people experienced the results more than the Germans," Hitler said, drawing his now-familiar picture of post-war Germany bowed under the Versailles Treaty.

Germany's One Voice.

He was introduced in the Berlin Sports Palace amid thunderous "Heils" by Joseph Goebbels, Propaganda Minister, as "the one voice" of Germany.

"On this January 30, it is the sign of the union of the German nation," said Goebbels, "and our thanks will not be empty words but battle."

Hitler's first remark, as unofficially translated into English, was a reference to his seven years at the end of the Reich and a declaration that they had "seemed longer than many decades of the past."

"We hear much to-day about democratic ideals," Hitler said, "England has waged most of the wars of this world. A new Europe is supposed to arise and there should be general disarmament, and this disarmament is then supposed to begin the economic prosperity of Europe, especially free trade.

The Golden Age

"Under this free trade civilization is to flourish," he went on, apparently referring to Britain's "peace objectives."

"In one word," he said sardonically, "the golden age is to begin. This golden age has been skipped several times."

Arctic's Blasts Unbalancing World Weather

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30—(AP)—The world's weather has gone off balance.

While Canadians and Americans may think they have been having a severe spell of cold weather, it has not been as disagreeable as they might have expected, judging from past weather performances.

The people of Northern Europe have been having their coldest storms in half a century. Ordinarily when severe cold strikes that part of the globe, similar conditions prevail in the northern section of North America, according to R. H. Weightman, official forecaster of the United States Weather Bureau.

Even the bitter cold experienced here has not equalled the record set by the cold spell in Europe. The northeast has been having comparatively mild weather.

Both North America and Europe get most of their cold weather from the winds which whistle down out of the Arctic and sub-Arctic. Most of the storms over the British Isles, such as those of the last week, eightman explained, come from low pressure areas arising in the vicinity of Iceland.

Usually the icy temperatures of the winds are greatly modified in sweeping over North Atlantic seas, and the blasts, reaching England and Northern France, cause the foggy weather of London. However,

BERLIN, Jan. 30—(AP).—Diego Von Bergen, German Ambassador to the Holy See, has called attention of the Papal Secretary of State to what he termed "prejudiced broadcasts, insulting to the Reich" on Polish conditions, informed sources said today.

Wilhelmstrasse circles said the German diplomat's stand amounted to a "demarche"—a formal diplomatic move.

(The Vatican radio station last week broadcast accounts critical of German treatment of the civil and clerical population in the conquered areas of Poland, and the Polish Embassy at the Vatican has issued similar charges. Vatican officials have withheld comment, and their newspaper, L'Osservatore Romano, has not carried the stories.)

Icebreaker Drifts For 27 Months In Arctic Icefloes Before Rescue

MOSCOW, Jan. 30 — (AP) — A saga of the perpetual Arctic ice ended on a note of triumph to-day as the Northern Sea Route Administration reported to Joseph Stalin that the icebreaker Sedoff, blasted from the grip of Polar floes, had been brought safely home after drifting at the top of the world 27 months.

The rescue was accomplished by the 11,000-ton icebreaker Joseph Stalin, after the Sedoff was carried within 300 miles of the North Pole, a new record for ships, and then drifted slightly southward.

The Sedoff, in tow of the Joseph Stalin, came back to Murmansk last night, to a flood-lighted wharf where relatives waited to greet the crew of 16, whom they had not seen since the voyage began on June 15, 1937.

Since October 23, 1937, the Sedoff had been helpless in the ice with a broken propeller. Supplied with food and fuel, Captain K. S. Badigan and his crew engaged in scientific observations and had hoped to drift across the Pole.

When perverse ice currents prevented this, the Joseph Stalin went on a voyage of rescue, the Soviet news agency Tass reported.

Commander Ivan Papanin, head of the Northern Sea Route Administration said:

"The sea met the icebreaker (Joseph tSalin) with a gale raging for several days.

Sighted at Last

"We confined ourselves to deep reconnoitring, and proceeded to Bartensburg, where we bunkered and again sailed northward. On January 3, the Sedoff crew saw the beams of our searchlights. Two days

Emperor Of Reich, King Of Poland, Britain Said Birthday Gift Hitler Plans In April

PARIS, Jan. 30 (CP-Havas)—Adolf Hitler will celebrate his 51st birthday April 20 by proclaiming himself emperor of the Reich and of Austria, King of Poland, King of Great Britain—with Field Marshal Hermann Goering as viceroy—according to a Zurich dispatch published today in Le Journal.

The correspondent, George Blum, said Great Britain would be administered after a Nazi victory by three statthalters, one each for England, Scotland and Wales. They would be assisted by 96 gauleiters. All appointments already have been made, it was said.

(A statthalter is an official of the Reich government serving as governor of the federated provinces of which Germany is composed. He is the link between national and local governments. A gauleiter is a regional leader of the Nazi party. The two offices are often held by the same man.)

"In Berlin Nazi party agents go about nowadays saying a terrific offensive will be launched as soon as weather conditions permit," the correspondent said. "They predict that in three months Great Britain will have been brought to her knees."

Hitler Branded Destroyer, Germans Slaves

French artillery, however, was active in the Vosges mountains and along the Rhine, military sources said, shelling German labor battalions which apparently were strengthening the Siegfried Line fortifications.

Characterizing Adolf Hitler as a destroyer and Germans as slaves, Premier Edouard Daladier warned the French nation last night that total war with Germany "cannot be long in breaking." His broadcast address, on the eve of the seventh anniversary of Hitler's rise to power in Germany, was "one of the most terrible indictments of any man ever muttered," said the continental edition of the London Daily Mail.

Daladier said, "Germany is seeking to establish a domination of the world which is absolutely different from all that history has known so far.

"Hitler the conqueror does not deal with nations he has reduced to submission—he destroys them."

The Premier described German workers and peasants as slaves of their Nazi masters. "Both worker and peasant of Bohemia and Poland have become in turn the slaves of these slaves." "How can the world do otherwise than shudder before this initial realization of insane dreams?"

Equality of Sacrifice

Daladier followed this with an appeal "in candid and even brutal

However, it was added that the Cabinet council meets again on Wednesday, and that the remaining vacancies in the Senate may be dealt with then.

1,000 Red Bombs Rained Upon Six Finn Cities

HELSINGFORS, Jan. 30.—(AP)—Mass air attacks deep within Finland were viewed by Finns today as Soviet Russian strategy to offset reverses on the land fronts.

A half dozen cities dug out from the wreckage of the war's heaviest aerial assault in which more than 1,000 bombs were dropped yesterday on southern areas.

At least 53 persons were known to be dead and casualties were expected to go higher. Thirty persons died at Abo (Turku), target of a three-hour bombing.

A field hospital behind the Finnish lines at the Karelian Isthmus front was wrecked by a bomb and four women and 19 wounded soldiers and hospital attendants killed.

Scot Train Lost For 48 Hours

LONDON, Jan. 30 — (CP). — A "lost" train arrived from Scotland 28 hours late to-day as Britain was bogged down by the worst winter storm in 46 years. The Government warned people to use coal, gas and electricity sparingly.

Although railway companies reported that conditions on the main lines were slightly better than yesterday, when the tie-up was described as the worst in Britain's history, the transport system remained partially paralyzed by the freak weather.

Train schedules in most London suburban areas were near normal, although it was said that in some sections traffic conditions had "deteriorated."

Buses, taxicabs and subway trains in London were running almost normally.

Left For Dead, Youth Rides Bombed Wreck To Safety Of English East Coast Beach

LONDON, Jan. 30 (CP)—The bombed hulk of the Latvian steamship Tautmila, victim of German aerial attacks in the North Sea yesterday, floated ashore near an east coast city today.

Watchers along the shore were astonished a few minutes later when a strange figure clambered down the hull and came toward them. It was a young man dressed, apparently, in every stitch of clothing he owned. He had on pajamas, two shirts, overalls, and an overcoat. Around his head a napkin had been wrapped like a turban and another encircled his waist in lieu of a belt.

Standing before a warm fire, he gave his name as Bruno Adlers, his age as 23, and said he was a Latvian. Yesterday at about 9 a.m. the vessel was bombed by German planes and four missiles fell directly on the ship's deck. Adlers was knocked unconscious. When he awoke he was alone in the drifting hulk.

Fifteen survivors of the Tautmila, including the skipper and his wife were landed at a British port last night. Seven others were believed lost.

Young Adlers simply waited while the ship moved slowly toward shore and this morning when its keel crunched on sand, he let himself safely down to the feel of ground beneath his feet.

Use U.S. Riches For Crushing Weapons To Defend Wealth Advises Naval Chief

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—(AP)—Charles Edison, secretary of the United States navy, advocating approval of the navy's proposed $1,300,000,000 fleet expansion program, told Congress today that in view of dangerous conditions abroad he believed in providing "crushing weapons with our wealth to protect our wealth."

Testifying before a congressional naval committee, Edison declared that even the expansion which the navy recommends would provide only "a fair degree of security."

"War is not a sporting event between evenly matched opponents," the secretary said. "Its aim is to crush the enemy quickly and with minimum loss to ourselves. So I believe in providing crushing weapons with our wealth to protect our wealth.

"But even predatory nations will think twice before risking conflict with a strong and prepared United States," he said. "The program I recommend, if authorized, will serve forceful notice on all possible aggressor nations that the United States intends to protect itself and its intresets powerfully and effectively."

The $1,300,000,000 expansion bill recommended by the navy would authorize construction of 77 new warships as well as additional airplanes and auxiliary vessels.

Six Vacancies Filled In Senate

Four Liberal Members Prairie Farmer Doctor Are Elevated

OTTAWA, Jan. 30.—(CP)—Four Liberal members of Parliament, a prairie farmer and a doctor have been elevated to the Senate. Four vacancies in Quebec and three in Ontario still remain unfilled.

Prime Minister MacKenzie King announced last night that the six new senators are J. Fernand Fafard, Quebec; Hon. J. C. Elliott, Ontario; Arthur L. Beaubien, Manitoba; Donald MacLennan, Nova Scotia; John J. Stevenson, Saskatchewan; and Dr. Aristide Blais, Alberta.

Other appointments probably will be made before the March 26 general election to bring the upper house up to its full membership of 96. Liberals now have 38 members and Conservatives 51.

Mr. Elliott, member for Middlesex West, was Postmaster General from 1935 until a year ago when ill health forced him to drop the portfolio. The Prime Minister said in the announcement, however, that "in the 12 months since his release from the arduous duties of office his health has been almost wholly restored."

Long Public Career

Senator Elliott has had a long public career going back to 1908 when he was elected first to the Ontario Legislature.

Mr. Fafard has been member for Montmagny-l'Islet for more than 22 years and served for many years as president of the Liberal caucus. He is a land surveyor.

later the lights of the Sedoff gleamed.

"Next day the ice conditions changed, and on January 13 we approached the Sedoff."

But freeing the trapped vessel was an even greater task, he related.

"The Sedoff," he said, "was frozen into a cup of ice weighing several thousand tons. But by heating the hull and blowing up the ice, we gradually freed the ship of part of the ice.

"With great difficulty the flagship forced its way toward the edge of the ice. Thick towlines could not stand the unbearable strain, and burst one after another.

"The ice cup finally was torn off only on our way to Barentsburg."

Hamilton Young Men's Christian Association will have confirmed fixed assessment of $1,000 for business tax and $25,000 for all other rates and taxation until 1950 when the fixed assessments may be varied by city council, under the terms of a private bill approved today.

The association will also be given power to hold property outside Hamilton for the operation of camps or similar projects.

MacNamara, who died in the House of Providence, Peterborough, Sunday, was one of the last of the hardy pioneer lumbermen who started a lumber drive north of Haliburton and took it all the way to Quebec. He was 95 years of age. He worked for over 70 years in Ontario lumber camps and worked from the lowest position to the highest, that of camp foreman. He was born in Lindsay and only in recent years did he move to the House of Providence.

It was his proud boast that, while his fellow lumberjacks spent their money wildly he saved enough "to live on and pay my way into the cemetery."

on what grounds Mr. Heenan based his assertion that Mr. Sweezey had shown evidence of a "sufficiency of capital to assure full realization of the project."

Today's probe session was told by R. D. Prettie, operator of a wood preserving plant at Port Arthur, that he had lost out on prospective orders because he was not sure of supplies of timber.

"I can't get any timber around Port Arthur," he said. He said he never had had a concession from the Crown but he was negotiating for one at present.

The department of mines and forests didn't appear to want to issue permits except by public tender, he testified.

If he got the timber he could employ 60 more men.

Col. Drew said the committee ought to find a "way out" for Mr. Prettie. Mr. Heenan said if Mr. Prettie got timber by order-in-council others would claim the timber was worth twice as much and that the government was defrauded. Vestry Reports At St. George's Show Good Year

The annual meeting of St. George's Anglican church was held on Monday evening and was very well attended. The meeting opened with prayer by the rector, Rev. T. H. Floyd, who was the chairman.

Mrs Jack McWilliams was appointed vestry clerk.

Rev. Floyd in his report mentioned some outstanding accomplishments of the year. First the cantata by the choir in Holy Week; second the new stained windows in the church; some of these were given by different organizations and others by individuals; the new prayer seat, the steel girders placed in the church basement, and removing of posts which all agreed is a great improvement. New hymn markers were also given by two members of the choir and lastly work of the Sunday school which now has reached the high peak of over one hundred scholars. The Lenten boxes last year were also mentioned, the collections from them being the highest brought in for a long period of time. "I would like to thank each and every one of you personally for the co-operation and support given me during the past year. I feel that each organization should be heartily congratulated on their splendid work. It is to be hoped that the coming year will be just as profitable and that each and every one of us are prepared for another year of hard work," the rector said.

The financial report was presented by A. G. Knott, rector's warden, in the absence of W. G. Ray, people's warden, who unfortunately was unable to attend. This report was most encouraging and showed a very substantial balance for the coming year. A. G. Knott in his genial manner, presented the budget for 1940 and expressed the hope that on his retirement as rector's warden that the same co-operation and support be given to the incoming one. The budget is a little higher than last year. All were asked to dig in pockets. Mr. Floyd appointed O. Heap as his warden for the coming year. Mr. Heap in a few remarks assured the vestry that he would do his utmost to try and fill Mr. Knott's place, but realized that this was going to be a hard task. All I can say is I will do my best and trust you will all give me the support you have given Mr. Knott.

The people's warden, chosen by the vestry, was Wilfred Davies.

Sidesmen elected were as follows: Messrs. E. Adkinson, R. Pilling, R. King, A. Busby, K. Gibson, A. G. Knott, A. Cuff, A. Sims, H. Bradley, F.Dorrell, A. Cole, L. Watkiss.

Lay delegates to the General Synod elected were A. G. Knott and Jack Branson.

Auditors re-elected were: A. Cuff and J. Branson.

Advisory Board—A. G. Knott, J. Branson, F. Dorrell, A. Sims, L. Watkiss, Mrs. R. King, Mrs. W. Andrews, Mrs. W. G. Ray and one representative from each organization of the church.

Financial reports of the various organizations were presented and read as follows: Women's Auxiliary, Mrs. R. King; Junior W.A., Mrs. W. Farr; Little Helpers, Mrs. W. Farr; Afternoon Guild, Mrs. R. King; Evening Guild, Mrs. H. Bradley; Sunday school, Mrs. F. Dorrell; Choir, Mrs. R. Pilling; Men's Club, Mr. A. Sims; A.Y.P.A., Miss B. Curtis; Girl Guides, Mrs. J. Douglas; Brownies, Mrs. F. White; Mothers' Auxiliary Girl Guides, Mrs. J. Douglas; Scout and Club Mothers' Auxiliary, Mrs. Littlefair.

Mrs. Langhorne, in the explanation of there not being reports on either Scouts or Cubs, expressed regret for them having to disband. The scouts disbanded some time ago and cubs on Friday night last, by headquarters.

A. Cuff, treasurer of the centennial fund, gave a very encouraging report on donation received to date. A. Heap, newly appointed rector's warden, suggested an election of an envelope secretary and thought that perhaps an envelope drive in the parish might be a good idea.

Elected to the office of secretary was L. Watkiss, who asked that his assistant might be F. Dorrell.

The Scout and Cub disbandment, which was chiefly due to lack of proper accommodation, was another item of discussion in the general business. It was felt that something must be done to bring the boys back again, and this is to be discussed and decision reached at the next advisory board meeting, which will be held in the very near future.

Votes of thanks by Mrs. W. Andrews were given to the choir for their splendid work during the year. Mr. J. Branson offered his personal vote of thanks to Mrs. King for her support and loyal services to the choir. Mr. L. Watkiss thanked A. G. Knott, also W. G. Ray, retiring warden for their commendable work in the church during the past year.

Dainty refreshments were served by the Afternoon Guild, assisted by members of the Evening Guild.

New South Wales Wins By 177 Runs

SYDNEY, Jan. 30 (CP Cable)—New South Wales regained the Sheffield Shield, lost to South Australia last year, defeating Victoria by 177 runs here today. The shield is Aussies' chief trophy.

In a high-scoring game New South Wales compiled totals of 309 and 492 runs for five wickets, declared, Victoria replying with 298 and 326.

A. L. Hassett made a great effort to rally the Victorians by scoring 122 runs in each innings. In the first he hit 16 fours and in the second got the ball to the ropes 13 times. Sidney Barnes turned in 135 not out for the winning team and Stanley McCabe, 114.

Fit As A Fiddle

Washington, Jan. 30 (AP)

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT is 58 years old today, and "fit as a fiddle" for either another hard political campaign or the tapering off of a spectacular career in the United States' highest public office.

Which course he will choose remains a mystery. Whatever the decision may be, his physician, Rear Admiral Ross McIntire, says that Mr. Roosevelt is in as "perfect condition as any man of his age could be" for the years ahead.

Mr. Roosevelt celebrated his birthday anniversary in a quiet and traditional manner. Throughout the nation, however, the day was observed with parties and programs to raise funds for a campaign to fight infantile paralysis. The president was taking recognition of that campaign, in a brief broadcast address tonight.

Worse Than Spee Says Hepburn Of King's Move

TORONTO, Jan. 30 — (CP). — Debate on the two-year term for Municipally-elected bodies will be resumed in the Ontario Legislature today. The bill, which provides the term will be effective February 1, 1941, unless a municipality votes itself out of its provisions, is in committee stage, where it has met determined Conservative opposition.

As the House rose yesterday, Premier Hepburn announced the measure would be called again today. When it is disposed of the House will proceed with committee work on the legislation to amend the Succession Duty Act. The amending bill passed second reading yesterday without division.

The Government has announced its determination to see its two-year municipal term bill go through without major changes. The bill in its present form is acceptable to Liberal caucus, and when it was last debated in the House, Provincial Secretary Harry Nixon said the Government was not disposed to accept any opposition-sponsored changes.

That statement is absolutely true. My information comes from military and medical officers of a number of battalions in whom I have very much more confidence than I have in the Minister of Defence.

Even Mr. Rogers must know that men who are insufficiently clothed and who have little or no night covering in our cold winter climate will have colds, influenza, bronchitis, and intestinal troubles, and some of them will have their health permanently affected. This is especially true of young men who have been for months or years unemployed and so are under-nourished, even debilitated.

Many thousands of our enlisted men were out of that group—young chaps who loyally enlisted though they had been out of work for long periods, through no fault of their own, but in large measure because the same Mr. Rogers, as Minister of Labor, did nothing whatsoever to solve our grave unemployment problem, thus, through his supreme incompetence, doing more than his share to earn the title "do nothing" for the King Government.

Source Of Trouble.

The trouble with Mr. Rogers is that he knows as little about his present Department as he did about the Labor Department when he presided over it.

To save him challenging me to give names of officers, let me say I shall give no names as I have no intention of placing these officers in the hands of the government for petty political revenge.

Mr. Rogers also suggests that my statement will give comfort to the enemy. Well, if the enemy wants real comfort it has only to ponder on the strange, almost unbelievable, fact that the same gentleman who made such a miserable failure of the Labor Department is now, as Minister of National Defence, in charge of all Canada's governmental war efforts.

Perhaps since the electors will hear much from Mr. Rogers during the election—though I think very little afterwards—they should know something of him.

1. He is the gentleman who persisted throughout his Labor Ministry in publishing wholly misleading unemployment statistics, though he could have used—as we repeatedly urged—proper ones from our capable statistics branch.

2. He is one of the gentlemen who accused the Premier of Ontario of being in a conspiracy—a criminal charge—but who, when challenged to give any proof, took refuge in deep silence.

3. He is the gentleman who, as Minister of Defence, refused to give allowances to the thousands of mothers of enlisted men for many months—in fact, until most of the press of Canada was deploring the scandal, and until some time after I put out two appeals asking the government to remove this disgrace on Canada's war effort. There are still very large numbers who have not yet received justice.

If this gentleman must use his literary talents, let him answer these questions:

(a) Why did he, as one of the Ministers in this inefficient government, not insist on at least some preparation being made by the government in case of war?

(b) Why has he not stopped the patronage, favoritism and extravagance of the Defence Department over which he now presides?

(c) Why did he sit still in 1937 or 1938 while Mr. King refused to permit the British Government, at their own expense to establish air training schools for their pilots here in Canada, at a time when Britain was in sore need, because of congestion, fogs, lack of open spaces, and large number of air accidents; and at a time when Britain was in great national danger from the overwhelming air power of Germany?

(d) Finally, why did he remain silent while his leader torpedoed the parliament to which the said leader has all his life been paying lip-service?

Canada is waiting for some answer to these burning questions. Had the session not been dissolved, the people's representatives could have secured, through parliament, the information which is now denied to them.

"All this was promised in 1918—the new justice and so forth. Already at that time there was a program of disarmament.

"It was expected that as a result of that disarmament in 1919 there would be universal prosperity.

"In not one single case did they (the Allies) ask the nations of Europe in the reorganization what their own wishes were.

"What had been formed through the centuries probably had been the better. Without any consideration for the self determination of peoples, Europe was chopped to pieces.

"They did not disarm, but they continued to arm. The disarmed people were not in a position to defend themselves. The economic depression hit not only the defeated but also the victors.

'Even Religion Shelved"

"Even religion stepped into the background and no Englishmen in the 15 years before I came to power had any recollection of religion.

"And this Treaty of Versailles was supported by the League of Nations—which was not a league of free nations. But they tried to force us to live up to the dictates of the Treaty.

"This democratic Germany (of the post war period) was the product of the Allies—and how they maltreated it!

"Those were years of economic disintegration and enslavement.

"In all these years Germany hoped and begged and protested in vain. But they (Allies) thought there were too many millions of Germans in this world. They were unooncerned about the sufferings of our agriculture and our industry.

"When all the pleading remained in vain, then the National Socialist party arose.

"When you no longer can beg and hope and protest, then something has to be done."

"Some placed their hopes on the Democratic nations, but finally we realized we could only do it through our own strength.

"This new rise of Germany did not in any way threaten England. A nation must help itself. They have to rely on their own efficiency and intelligence."

Only Rearmament Left

Hitler added that "in spite of years o. protest" there was "nothing to do except to leave the League of Nations and start rearmament."

"In 1938 we took over Austria, and in 1939 we protected ourselves against any dangers from the east," he went on.

"They have always fought for God, and never had any material aims.

"But England did not want to be alone . . the fighter for God . . but they have always induced other peoples to join with them."

Nazi Fliers Fail To Sink One In 13 Ship Raids

LONDON, Jan. 30.—(CP)—Two more German planes flew over the English coast today as Britons, confronted with an acceleration of German air raids, wondered if the Nazis were attempting "lightning war" against merchant ships.

One plane flew over a Kentish coastal town. No warning was sounded.

Another was chased out to sea from an east coast town by Royal Air Force fighter craft, and the sound of machine guns was heard.

Britons found proud comfort in the fact that yesterday, during the worst winter storm of nearly 50 years, the flying guardians of the coast still could fight off raiders when land traffic was almost paralyzed.

Informed sources estimates that 15 to 20 German planes took part in yesterday's onslaught—the broadest of the war—extending over 700 miles, from the Shetland Islands south to the Kentish coast.

None of the attackers penetrated inland and of 13 British merchant ships and one Latvian vessel bombed and machine-gunned, not one was sunk, although there were several casualties among crewmen. The Germans also were said to have struck at two lightships.

(The Nazi News Agency circulated a claim that seven "enemy-convoy-armed merchant ships and two patrol boats" were destroyed in yesterday's operations.)

Seven of the crew of the Latvian freighter Tautmila, 3,724-tons, were killed while the only known British fatality was the death of a man aboard the steamship Gripfast, 1,-109 tons. There were several wounded on these and other ships.

Warnings 40 Miles Inland.

On the northeast coast air raid warnings were sounded as far as 40 miles inland and thousands of persons entered raid shelters, emptying schools, factories and shipyards.

Low clouds enabled the German planes, mostly Heinkels, to escape

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 30 — (CP). — Lack of definite market news held wheat futures prices within a narrow range around previous closing levels on Winnipeg Grain Exchange today. Quotations drifted slowly throughout the dull session before closing ⅝ to ⅞ cent higher, May at 84⅝, July 85⅝, and October 86⅝ cents.

In the coarse grain pit exporters were credited with taking 250,000 bushels of barley, presumably in connection with sales to neutral European countries. In addition, there were suggestions of a small overseas business in oats.

Orpheus Music Club Honors Joyce Cribbis

An interesting meeting of the Orpheus Music Club was held at the Y.W.C.A., at which club members planned a shower for Miss Joyce Cribbis, a promising young artist. Miss Edna Wilson, the president, read a farewell message in which members expressed the wish that Miss Cribbis would continue with her music. A shower of dainty handkerchiefs was held in her honor.

A delightful program included a piano duet by Miss Barbara Gray and Miss Beatrice Fairbairn, and a fine paper on Micha Levitski, famous pianist, was presented by Miss Eleanore Chapman. A group of 'cello solos was played by Miss Pearl Trethewey, "The End of a Perfect Day" and "A Cottage Small by a Waterfall" with smooth bowing and lovely singing tone. Miss Wylma Lockie's singing was greatly enjoyed. She shows a marked improvement in volume and tonal quality, and sang "Early one Morning" by Healy Hillan, and "When Song is Sweet" by Sans Souci. Accompaniments for the young artists were played by Miss Marguerite Rome.

A quiz contest was held afterwards.

200 Attend Mother And Daughter Banquet

Over two hundred attended the Mother and Daughter banquet at All Saints' Sunday School hall Monday evening, sponsored by a group of girls who are members of the Wide-Awake Bible Class of the Church. Bowls of fruit, scarlet streamers, and tapers in silver holders were gay table decorations, and a dish of assorted cadies marked each place. Supper was provided by the Senior Women's Bible Class. Later the fruit was presented to Miss Peggy Houghton, a member of the girls' class who is ill.

Miss Birdie Dawson, class teacher, presided during the banquet. Toasts were proposed to the King; to the Church, proposed by Miss Isobel Connelly and responded to by Canon J. FASHIONS

A light weight woollen suit on young basque lines is most important in every school, college and career girl's wardrobe. Plaid or checked, and with a detachable white pique collar, nothing could be more useful or flattering. Button the jacket snugly all the way up to the chin and wear the suit as a dress while the weather is still cold. Later on sweaters and blouses complete these two pieces of chic to make the perfect suit. If you wish, and it is a good idea, make an extra skirt of plain fabric to blend with the jacket. It is just like having two entirely different suits and stretches your budget handsomely.

Style No. 3123 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20 years. Size 16 requires 2⅛ yards of 54-inch material for the jacket and skirt; ½ yard of contrasting.

The affair took place in the Chapter's rooms in the Ferris Block Monday evening and close to seventy attended. At the close a dainty lunch was served and prizes were awarded by the Regent, Mrs. G. A. Ironside, who expressed thanks to those present for helping the I.O.D.E. in its work. Mrs. R. Chauman, Queen Street, and Mr. A. C. Connor were winners of the lucky draw and the bridge prizes went to Mrs. Stuart Anderson and Mr. W. S. Wiggins.

We Noticed

....There was an atmosphere of the modern New York night club about the dance of the Junior Welfare League last night—there were beautiful gowns, gay music, small tables at which parties might sit and chat when not in the mood for dancing, and a floor show that was just a little extra-special.

✧ ✧ ✧

....Corsages of many varieties added a fragrant finishing touch to many of the frocks—particularly interesting was one gown of red silk with a faintly patterned background and simple lines that flowed smoothly from a bodice with a quaint ruffle at its strapless top —many gowns were in dainty pastels reminiscent of the tints of the first spring Mayflower, and several were of pure white.

Junior Welfare League Dance Has Smart Night Club Setting

In a smart night club setting at the Hotel Champlain, the annual Junior Welfare League dance of Monday evening was again one of the season's outstanding social affairs. There was dancing in the banquet hall and adjoining sunroom, where a profusion of blossoms in wall hangings and window boxes made an effective frame for the graceful gowns of lovely ladies. Bowls of golden popcorn were at each of the small tables bordering the dance floor, to which guests were ushered by members of the League.

A floor show included a delightfully executed waltz and polka by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fleming, a routine tap dance number by Mr. James Goselin, and a clever Royal Hawaiian military tap in a costume of cream satin trimmed with scarlet. Dr. R. C. Honey was the highlight of the show in an amusing presentation of "Little Albert" that brought round after round of applause. A spot dance was won by Dr. H. N. Young and Mrs. J. MacDonald. Mose Yokum's orchestra was in attendance.

Mrs. J. W. F. Blaiklock was convener of the entertainment committee. Other members of the League include Mrs. R. T. E. Hicks-Lyne, Mrs. J. Walton Stevenson, Mrs. D. A. McTavish, Mrs. D. T. Diplock, Mrs. T. T. Gentles, Miss Claire Mason, Mrs. W. R. L. Blackwell, Mrs. Keith G. Lech, Mrs. H. I. Bradburn, Mrs. Clare Collins, Mrs. J. A. Dewart, Mrs. R. P. Leeming, Mrs. W. A quick way of drying silk stockings in an emergency is to squeeze them as dry as possible and then roll tightly in a Turkish towel for five minutes. Then hang in an airy place and they will dry very quickly.

DOROTHY DIX

Women Take Greater Chances Than Men When They Enter Marriage, for They Have to Take What Is Offered Unless They Want to Remain Single — and Most Don't.

WOMEN are certainly the world's greatest optimists, at least where marriage is concerned, because every mother's daughter of them is firmly and unalterably convinced that her marriage can never be anything but a heaven on earth.

When she looks about her and takes note of the disgruntled wives of her acquaintance she is bound to perceive that a woman is just about as likely to draw a sweepstake prize as she is to get Prince Charming for a husband. But this doesn't dampen her enthusiasm for the holy estate a whit, because, no matter how many other women have failed in it, she just knows that she is going to be gloriously happy. The possibility that her marriage might also go on the rocks never even crosses her mind.

That is why girls are so anxious to marry. That is why they take the most hazardous chances in marriage and tie up with drunkards, roues and no-accounts. They are sold to the belief that immediately after marriage their husbands will change from examples of vice to models of virtue and that they will live blissfully together ever after. And it is why the women who do not marry always feel that they have been cheated in life and missed the best thing in it, regardless of what other blessings have been vouchsafed them.

The other day a woman of 40, who is good-looking, intelligent, popular and so successful in business that she makes far more than the average husband could give her, was making her moan to me because she isn't married.

"It is not," she said, "that I want a man to support me. I have always supported myself, and like it. But what frightens me is the thought of the years of emptiness and loneliness that I will have to go through if I have no husband. I long for companionship and having a husband upon whom I can depend to lean upon."

"Well," I said, "without doubt a good husband is a prize package, but what makes you so sure you would have gotten one? How many husbands do you know who are the light of the home instead of its extinguisher? How many husbands do you know who stay lovers after the honeymoon is over?

"How many married women do you know who have as much money to spend on themselves as has the working woman with a good job? How many women do you know whose husbands are fireside companions? How many married women do you know who sit up evenings by their lonesomes wondering what platinum blonde their husbands are entertaining? Believe me, sometimes marriage brings great happiness and sometimes it doesn't."

"I know my marriage would have been happy," said the woman. And that was that.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—Do you recall the old song, "Mother Takes in Washing," etc., etc., that ends with the refrain, "everybody works at our house but my old man?" Human nature doesn't change, and isn't it possible that the reason that Father so often quits working is because Mother has a job? I have known many men who at the first suggestion of their wives turning money-earners violently opposed it; then, after the wife had worked for a while, they would be impatiently waiting for Wife to come home with her pay envelope. Guess I belong to the old school, which believes that women should be protected and cared for by man, and that when a man loses that responsibility the greatest incentive for the creation and maintenance of home life is gone.—C. E. M.

ANSWER:

Undoubtedly you are correct. While the opening of the commercial world to women has brought them one of the greatest boons on earth, which is financial independence, it has weakened the moral fiber of many men. It is so easy to pass the buck and let Georgina do it that the men who were born with that tired feeling and who hate the sight of work, anyway, just slide from under the burden and let any woman who will shoulder it.

Formerly when a man married he expected to get up and hustle to support his wife. Nowadays only too often he slacks down because he knows that if he loses his job his wife will hold on to hers and provide him with bread and butter. In other days fathers expected to support their daughters. Now fathers expect their daughters to get to work when they are through high school and support them.

But, of course, whether it demoralizes a man for his wife to be the work horse in the domestic team depends upon the man. If he has the real spirit of manhood in him it spurs him on to make his greatest effort, because he wants to save her and to show his appreciation of her being willing to toil long hours to help him. And the other sort of man, the man who loafed in poolrooms or played golf while his wife ran a boarding house or took in sewing to support him has always existed. Nothing could weaken him, because he has no more backbone than a fishing worm to start with.

DEAR MISS DIX—I am engaged to a wonderful man who adores me and thinks I am everything that is good and upright, but in my early youth I make one mistake for which I am bitterly repentent. Would you advise me to risk my future happiness by telling my fiance of this or go on and say nothing?—BEVERLY.

ANSWER:

That is a question that you must settle for yourself, but I see no reason why a girl should rake up all of her past any more than why a man should. You may be very sure that your fiance will not tell you of all the follies of his youth, so why should you tell him of yours?

you true,
He had his own broncho
a-stutterin' too—"

Profits On War Orders

The All-Canadian Congress of Labor does not like the idea of profit being made out of supplying war material, and a memorandum to that fact has been delivered to the Government at Ottawa. The munitions industry was singled out as one which above others should be entirely in the hands of the nation. We have not the least doubt a good many others would feel the same. The idea of making profit out of war material is not popular.

Our own belief is that this idea is none too solid. We have seen one government erect a munitions plant not far from here—in Lindsay—and never make use of it. When governments changed there was another arsenal brought into existence at Valcartier in Quebec. And the good money of the people went to pay for both of them, and they have to be maintained and kept in order during the years when they are producing nothing at all. That is a clean waste which a private company would not tolerate because it couldn't do business that way and keep the bailiff from the door.

In this country we have a number of efficient plants. They are known by their day-to-day records as places where skill is demonstrated in the manufacture of reliable output. Their business is often secured on the basis of competitive tendering and excessive profits are out of the question.

A government would be safe dealing with such firms. Their plants are running every day, and if they need new or extra equipment to deal with war orders they know where to get it in a hurry. There is also a law in existence which says that profit on war orders shall be restricted to 5 per cent. of the capital involved in that order.

When a government goes into the manufacture of munitions it has to secure or erect properties and equip them; it has to engage skilled men. The place is not equipped or intended for any other purpose. When a war ends there is nothing more to do. The property has to remain idle and be kept in shape, and all the expense of doing that would amount to many times the amount paid in profits to private manufacturers.

When we purchase from a manufacturer we know exactly what the cost is going to be, and we can tell whether or not it is excessive by asking for competitive bids. When we start to nationalize such a business we do not know what our costs are going to be, and we also are at a loss to know what to do with the staff of men when there is nothing more for them to do. There is a pleasing sound to the idea of doing away with profits in war orders by having the government undertake the work, but that's about all there is to it. We would much prefer to see the government doing business with reliable firms with established reputations.

Russians In a Bad Way

Russia has persisted in keeping on with the campaign in Finland, and reports persist in saying it is not going well. No one seems to understand the reason for a campaign under unfavorable circumstances, but the blunt truth is that Russia has sent in tens of thousands. They have met with reverses and losses, and today the situation is worse than ever because needed supplies are not coming through, and the Finns are making it their business to see that supplies are cut off.

The attacks of this invading force are now described as being feeble; there is the suggestion that they are made in the hope of assistance being brought in; they are not actually offensive movements but rather an effort to defend a badly disorganized army. The exact number of men involved has not been stated recently, but the army is referred to as being "huge."

Some of the correspondents who have years of knowledge of the Russian mind claim that fear is now beginning to do its deadly work. The claim is that Russians are child-minded and are inclined to entertain superstitious beliefs. They begin to think there is something in Finland which they cannot understand and which they cannot overcome, and on that account they have no spirit for the task. They go because they have to go, but their fear goes with them and they are anticipating defeat before it actually comes. That may be only a theory, but there is something more stern than a theory facing the relief party recently despatched to Finland. Its mission was to rescue the remnants of divisions which met defeat earlier, and now the relief party finds itself cut off from its base and cut off from everything except the expectant Finns.

Finland of all places had never made any boast to the world about war or its ability to wage war. No chest thumping and loud speaking and no great parades. Its population is about the same as that of the province of Ontario, but so far it has cut to shreds each and every Russian division sent against it.

Session Of 10 Minutes

Canadians of this generation are not sufficiently well versed in the history of their own country or they never would have written or said that a session lasting four hours was the shortest on record. Dr. James H. Coyne, now in his 91st year, told the St. Thomas Times-Journal the present talk was all "poppycock." He spoke from memory and from a diary and went back to August 13, 1873, in the days when the Pacific scandal had the country by the ears.

It all began in the spring session of 1873 when a Liberal moved for an investigation of the charge that Sir John Macdonald had received certain sums from a Montreal financier who hoped to get the contract for building the Canadian Pacific. The request was voted down. Next day the Toronto Globe produced a picture of a cheque for $10,000 made payable to Sir John and signed by Sir Hugh Allen. There were several such cheques in existence. A committee of judges sifted evidence, but Sir John had seen to it that they were all favorable to him. They presented their report and it came before a session called on August 13, when Sir John after tabling the report explained that it contained evidence but the judges had voiced no opinion. Dr. Coyne recalls that between Liberals and Conservatives there were 96 members prepared to vote against Sir John.

Lord Dufferin was then Governor-General. He hurried through his speech and immediately gave the order for prorogation. Dr. Coyne says the turmoil in the country was almost of the revolutionary type, the feeling being that Sir John should have been dismissed from office.

Public feeling is somewhat of a fickle thing, for Sir John, driven from office on the Pacific Scandal, swept the country five years later with the National Policy.

When The Pump Froze

The weather recorder says there have been 11 nights this January when temperatures have been registered below the zero mark, down as low as 20 degrees, and a farmer who was in the office on Saturday remarked "the darned old pump in the well near the house has been froze still nine times."

They used to tell us on the Tenth Concession something about leaving the handle away up or away down—we forget which—but neither way seemed to make much difference. When the weather was cold enough the pump froze, and if there was not a pail of water in the house at the time there was bother enough getting the pump thawed out.

It was necessary to get the kitchen range started first and the tea kettle had to come to a boil before there was any way of tackling the pump. Then the boiling water had to be poured in at the top while some person kept on trying the pump handle to see if the thing was going to work.

People who get cold water out of one tap and hot water out of the other and who do not have to go and find a place to pitch it after they are through haven't much idea of how people have to work in places where there are no such arrangements. If our farmer friend thawed out his pump nine times during one month and managed to keep sweet in the meantime he deserves rather a high rating.

The Editor Is Handicapped

A member of the Examiner staff visited one of the schools the other day where the children were planning to get out a paper. Such laudable ambition seemed worthy of encouragement. The visitor turned the tables and sought to find out what the children preferred in a newspaper. And they up and voted for the funnies — just like we expected they would. It was a little tough to find they preferred the funnies to the editorial page.

But we were not at all surprised. The people in the funny page do the most remarkable things with which the editorial man could never hope to compete. We marvel at times at the exploits of Brick Bradford. He starts off an expedition to some desert stronghold, and there he enters; he rescues the maiden in distress, puts the king off the throne; gets shot at point blank but is never seriously injured.

Right now he is after the man who stole the patents and design for building a super robot, a great man of iron and steel which can walk through villages and cities and destroy them. The odds are all against him but we have a feeling that in the end he will have a rope around the neck of that great man of iron and will lead him back to town a captive; or else he will utterly destroy him. And Brick Bradford will survive. Truth is he has to or that particular strip would come to an end and the man who draws is would lose his meal ticket.

So in that way Brick Bradford has it over the editor like a tent. If we could always escape like Brick Bradford then some morning it might be possible to start out and call the Mayor a pinhead, refer to members of Parliament as foolish bumpkins, tell the manager of the bank he is a robber, and order the collector of taxes to go and cut a hole in the ice and drown himself. Do all that and walk home in safety for the evening meal and then to bed. But the editor is handicapped. He has no airplane and no gun and no orders to proceed to foreign lands where he will shatter dungeons and release fair ladies. For hours each day he sits on a chair and dabs away at a typewriter. Yes, Brick has us beaten before the day starts.

Fifty Years Ago

A half century ago the custom of holding debates was stronger than it is today. We read in the Brussels Post of a debate which was held 50 years ago in S.S. No. 10, Morris township, in Huron county, and the subject chosen was: "Resolved that there is more to be gained by pursuit of an object than by possession of it." The side favoring possession won the debate, so the advantages of possession may even then have been rather strongly entrenched in popular fancy.

We consider that subject for debate to have been well chosen. One has only to think for a few moments to see the possibilities of intelligent argument wrapped up in it. And that was one way in which people of fifty years ago were spending their evenings, and they would spend other evenings in preparation. They were providing their own helpful entertainment, something we are not doing to a similar extent today.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Some of the first Russian soldiers going to Finland said they did not know they were going to war. Those who escaped probably are painfully aware of that fact by now.

Proposal to have an airport near Kitchener has caused the price of farm lands to go up in the district. That's hard to understand as an airport will have its ups and downs the same as any other spot.

Holding an election on March 26 is not as unusual as might appear. Other cold weather dates;

1887	February 22
1891	March 5
1917	December 17
1921	December 6

The Board of Works has kept Peterborough's streets in good shape this winter and winter driving of cars has been comfortable and easy. Nor has our district been troubled to any extent with blocked roads. The winter is not over yet, but so far there has been no reason for having to put the car away and wait for improved conditions.

There was an auto smash on Water Street Sunday afternoon, when two cars from Port Hope emerged with considerable damage. Occupants from the same town had a chance to become acquainted, as previous to the accident the two Port Hope residents had not known each other. Just what they said to each other by way of greeting we do not know.

COUSIN EZRA

(By A.H.R.)

¶ My Cousin Ezra's restless now, and trouble's parked upon his brow, elections are in sight; and he gets itchy every day, when voters move to have their say, nor can he rest at night.

¶ For Ezra's cherished long the thought, that he's the man who should be sought, toward service he is bent; he worries till he's fit to stew, and he sees nothing else to do, but run for parliament.

¶ He draws up platforms now and then, I think he's showed me ten of them, he writes down what he'd do; he always starts out with his list, not once has Ezra ever missed, cut taxes clean in two.

¶ He's practiced speaking in his room, for audience a chair and broom, he always locks the door; and there he lets his talents flow, completely vivisects each foe, and lays him on the floor.

¶ When nomination day arrives, and Ezra starts again his drives, he'll sing a hymn of hate; and he will sit the meeting through, and he'll be looking black and blue, for none will nominate.

¶ But when election rooms are lit, my cousin finds a place to sit, in years he's never missed; afar off he will sniff the fight, and plug away there late at night —and check the voters' list.

Why Britain Declared War Against Hitler

BRITISH WHITE PAPER

WE ARE AT WAR. Why? Great Britain and France had undertaken to defend Poland against aggression. On September 1 German troops invaded Poland. Britain and France, therefore, were obliged by their pledges to declare war on the invaders.

But our guarantee to Poland was not the real cause of the war. We gave that guarantee in the interests, not of Poland alone, but of European civilisation as a whole. We gave it because Germany was trampling under foot all that we treasure most and because a halt had to be called if civilisation as we understand it was to survive.

We are, in consequence, at war because Nazism is the enemy of all that civilised men care for—social progress, learning and culture, freedom of the human spirit. If Nazism triumphs, these things will wither and die.

We are at war because the fate of Austria, Czecho-Slovakia and Poland —to say nothing of the German people themselves—has proved beyond all doubt that no nation is safe from the shadow of the Swastika and the tyranny of the Gestapo.

In the years following the Great War of 1914-1918, an effort was made to re-establish the unity of Europe on firm foundations. The League of Nations was formed to give the peoples of the world a way of settling their disputes by negotiation and arbitration, instead of by force.

Hitler from the first was opposed on principle to the ideas and practice of the League. He has shocked mankind by his disregard for fair and honourable dealing. He has trampled on the rights of his neighbours; just as he has trampled on the rights of the German people.

At Godesberg, in September, 1938, when the Nazi campaign of threats against the Czech Government was at its height, Hitler told Mr. Neville Chamberlain that the incorporation in the Reich of the German-speaking Sudetenland was his last territorial ambition.

"I assured the British Premier," said Hitler at the Berlin Sportpalast, at the end of September, 1938, "that when this problem is solved, Germany has no more territorial problems in Europe. We do not want any Czechs."

✧ ✧ ✧

IN VIEW of this hope — that the Sudetenland was really Germany's final territorial demand—the British and French Governments agreed at Munich, in September, 1938, to its incorporation in the German Reich.

At the same time Mr. Chamberlain realised that these hopes might be ill-founded. He therefore sounded a warning.

"If I were convinced," he said, "that any nation had made up its mind to dominate the world by fear of its force, I should feel that it must be resisted. Under such a domination life for people who believe in liberty would not be worth living."

In March, 1939, only six months after Hitler's statement hat the Sudetenland was his "last claim," German troops marched on Prague and the independent State of Czecho-Slovakia was destroyed.

No further evidence was needed to prove that all Hitler's pledges were utterly worthless. His real goal now stood nakedly revealed—the domination of the whole of Europe by Nazism.

Great Britain had therefore no alternative but to turn to the policy which British Governments have consistently pursued in face of the attempts of any Power to dominate Europe by force—a policy of resistance in common with other peace-loving Powers in defence of law and order and the independence of free nations.

The Peace Front was the answer of civilised Europe to the Nazi threat. The British Government, in the months immediately following the capture of Prague, made a defensive agreement with Poland, and also guaranteed the frontiers of Greece and Roumania. Moreover relations between Britain and Turkey were drawn steadily closer, a process destined to culminate after the outbreak of war in the conclusion of a defensive alliance. Hitler was warned again and again that any further act of aggression would be resisted by the combined forces of the Peace Front.

In spite of these warnings, Hitler prepared his forces for an attack on Poland—a nation with which he had signed a non-aggression pact as recently as January, 1934.

On September 1 German troops invaded Poland. Without any formal declaration of war, and brushing aside all attempts at peaceful negotiation, the Nazi dictator had set out to conquer and enslave yet another independent people.

This time the aggressor's challenge has been taken up. Britain, in common with other peace-loving nations, is determined to throw her whole weight into this struggle for world civilisation and the rights of small nations.

Ahem!

Bobby had just finished a big day. It was his ninth anniversary, and among the gifts was a $10 bill.

Uncle Fred, who was fond of his little joke, said:

"Well, Bobby, I suppose you are going to buy a nice new, shiny automobile with that money?"

"No, sir, I am going to give it to father, so as to help him pay the next instalment on his!"

NOW THAT'S ODD

"Have a cigarette, sir. That's funny—the packet's squashed quite flat."

• It's No Place For A Woman

By MARION MacINTOSH
Canadian Press Staff Writer

AN E ST COAST CANADIAN PORT —Well, if you really must know, I nearly froze. That is, during the first few minutes of a trip on a destroyer. The rest of the trip was spent in front of an electric grate below decks.

Not mind you, that the efforts of navy men to make the trip interesting were not appreciated. They did their best.

But the more I see of navy life, the more I think we should draw the line somewhere in this "complete equality for women" stuff. It gets awfully cold out there on the Atlantic!

The men are doing a great job with this navy business. But it's a man's world.

When our party of women reporters went aboard ship, the officers made it clear that we could ask any questions we wanted. Still, you couldn't help noticing their anguish at some of the queries.

There was, for instance, the girl who pertly inquired, after the gunnery officer had got through explaining how his pets operate: "And what happens if the shell misses the target?"

"Nothing," replied the officer, politely. War does bring out the true mettle of a man.

It was the same ashore. They wanted us to get the "women's angle" on the navy. But while an inside peek at the navy's side of the war turned up 1,000 facts, the one that really stood out was that the dockyard cat was named Min.

Then there was the sailor on the minesweeper, who explained he grew his luxuriant red beard because he had a cold.

Twenty-eight seamen, we were told, work the sweeper when she's out bombing the coastal approaches for enemy "eggs." They live in scant comfort, and life's a constant bore spiced only with the prospect of a run-in with sudden death. But they appeared to be having fun.

Their job is to keep the shipping lanes clear for the ocean-borne traffic that pours in and out of this port unceasingly. Almost as dangerous as the job of hunting for mines is that of getting aboard and off the sweepers. We negotiated a series of icy planks and rails of intervening ships at the expense of only our dignity and a pair of silk stockings, to arrive safely back on dry land head for the destroyer.

The kitchen—to us seagoing reporters, it's the galley now—drew us like a magnet. And even in the kitchen she's been trying so hard to get out of these many years, there seems to be no place for a woman aboard a navy ship.

I'd challenge any woman who could whip up a delectable three-course dinner in a well-anchored kitchen ashore to come aboard and prepare just one meal—soup, roast, vegetables and dessert. Menus are prepared a week in advance, but they've got to be scrapped for whatever the cook's ingenuity may dictate if the weather starts tossing you around.

• Putting Public Men On the Spot

WE OFTEN WONDER if public figures, who have a hard enough time as it is maintaining their dignity in a democracy, realize just what is being done to them by the movies and the radio. Somehow we feel they are oblivious to it all—just as very few people in the world can really believe that they have fearful voices or take appalling photographs; it is not human nature to accept such shortcomings, or to act accordingly. Not even for Prime Minister.

This is by no means to speak derogatively of the popular newsreel—which is, probably, the most consistently good thing on the screen today —or the efforts of Cabinet Ministers, reformers, sports commentators and the like to spin out their verbal torrents over the air waves. The point is that it seems grossly unfair to people like the Right Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Right Hon. R. B. Bennett, or Hon. C. D. Howe, to put them in the position of such discomfort as to be embarrassing even for the audience; for only one out of a hundred seems capable of saying anything intelligible or original or looking more self-confident than a school girl acting in her first pantomime.

In the old days the public man was relatively safe. He was heckled with gusto when he spoke, and pretty bad stories were whispered about his private life, but he at least did not have to go on public exhibition looking like a self-conscious bumpkin or a petty thief. And most people would never hear his voice; they would merely look at the very lengthy reports in the press, and even if they read them they would be saved from the final disillusionment.

Democracy has such a case of the jitters these days that it would appear that debunking had gone far enough. In dictatorships they keep their leaders as well-posed as a Hollywood actress for all occasions, and when they talk nonsense, as they usually do, it is dressed in such magnificent eloquence that the crowd works itself into a hysteria.

Why, then, do our leaders, who at the best of times are rarely more colorful or awesome than turnips, have to be further ridiculed when they do not—it seems that they simply cannot—realize what is being done to them. Why not if it must go on, have a little fanfare, a few rehearsals and some make-up? — Hamilton Spectator.

• Here's More Of This Peace Talk

THERE is a good deal of talk these days about the kind of peace France and Britain should make if they win the war.

Here is one suggestion:

Half of Germany would be completely and permanently occupied by French and British soldiers. Bayonets would rule. This half of Germany would be either divided, or administered jointly, by the victors. German mines and factories and important houses and estates would be seized and given to French and British nationals. French and British would become the official languages of the country. Prisoners of war would be held and worked as slaves. Whole masses of Germans would be moved out or pushed over to make room for Jewish or French and British immigrants. The rest of the population would be put on a starvation diet. And anyone who so much as whispered a protest would be thrown forthwith into a concentration camp.

As for the other half of Germany, it would be turned over to Russian terrorists to be first looted, then bolshevized, by the commissars, the secret police and the firing squad.

Does this seem too severe? No doubt. And we do not imagine for a moment that France and Britain will do anything of the kind. They are too humane, too civilized.

The suggestion, indeed, is not theirs, nor is it ours. On the contrary, it comes, by force of example, from the Nazis themselves. They decided it. They approve it. And despite the complaints against undue severity with which, for years, they have been filling the world, they cannot consistently expect anything better, for it is precisely the kind of peace that they themselves are enforcing right now, at point of the gun, in vanquished Poland.—Chicago Daily News.

CUTTING ESTIMATES

PREMIER Mitchell F. Hepburn's instruction to his Cabinet ministers to reduce by fifteen per cent the estimates for their respective departments is sensibly business-like. Government economy is imperative, in any event, in time of war, and the Premier no doubt had in mind, also the probability of Federal war-time levies having an effect on Provincial revenues.

As Mr. Hepburn pointed out, it will be necessary to await the bringing down of the Federal budget before the fiscal policy of the Province of Ontario can be determined, but his preliminary planning of economy will serve to good purpose and will be accepted by all affected as a necessary part of the war-winning effort.—Brantford Expositor.

SURPRISED REDCAP

IN THE hurrying throng of Grand Central terminal, a small, wrinkled and plainly but neatly-dressed woman weighted down by two heavy bags was being buffeted here and there.

Finally the attention of a red cap was attracted and he sprang to her assistance.

Having relieved her of her baggage and learned what train she was taking, he led her to a day coach and stowed away the bags in the rack. When he came back up the ramp he looked rather dazed.

"I didn't expect nothin'," he explained to a fellow worker. "I was just givin' her a hand 'cause she's old. But look here, boy, at what she gave me and she said it wasn't no mistake neither."

And the other porter whistled as he gazed at two big homemade cookies—and a new five-dollar bill!—New York Correspondent.

THE PET PROBLEM IN WAR

(Stratford Beacon-Herald)

The humane societies of England are facing a very serious problem about which we know nothing in this country. Multitudes of people, facing the possible horrors and destructions of war, have felt unable to keep their family pets, particularly dogs and cats, and a large number of these have been destroyed. Even many breeders of dogs have reduced the number in their kennels by giving them away, if they could find proper homes for them, to save expense. Humane societies have finally become unable to respond to calls to take animals away and put them humanely to sleep. They are doing everything in their power, however, to provide a painless death for those that are brought either to their clinics or to their inspectors.

A Bible Message For Today . . . .

After these things Jesus shewed himself again to the disciples at the sea of Tiberias....Then Jesus saith unto them, Children, have ye any meat? They answered him, No. And he said unto them, Cast the net on the right side of the ship and ye shall find. They cast therefore, and now they were not able to draw it for the multitude of fishes....

As soon then as they were come to land, they saw a fire of coals there, and fish laid thereon, and bread....Jesus saith unto them, Come and dine. And none of the disciples durst ask him, Who art thou? knowing that it was the Lord. Jesus then cometh, and taketh bread, and giveth them, and fish likewise.

This is now the third time that Jesus shewed himself to his disciples, after that he was risen from the dead.—John xxi, 1, 5, 6, 9, 12-14.

THAT'S THE POINT

(From the Hanover Post)

After all, Mr. Hepburn was elected to conduct the affairs of Ontario, not to tell Premier King what to do. The latter is answerable to the people of Canada, not to Mr. Hepburn personally.

Wrong Job

Joe got the job of unloading cattle at the docks. After only an hour down in the hold, he appeared on deck, covered with cuts and bruises.

"Give me my card," he cried to the foreman. "I'm a stevedore, not a toreador!"

Make All-Bran Muffins a "REGULAR" Habit

● Many women make it a point to have All-Bran muffins on the table at every breakfast, because so many people need just that much added "bulk" in their diet to keep "regular." Here's how to make:

BASIC BRAN MUFFIN RECIPE

2 tablespoons shortening	½ cup milk
¼ cup sugar	1 cup flour
1 egg	½ teaspoon salt
1 cup Kellogg's All-Bran	2½ teaspoons baking powder

Cream shortening and sugar thoroughly; add egg and beat until creamy. Stir in All-Bran and milk; let soak until most of moisture is taken up. Sift flour with salt and baking powder; add to first mixture and stir only until flour disappears. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full and bake in moderately hot oven (400°F.) about 30 minutes.

Yield: 8 large muffins (3 inches in diameter) or 12 small muffins (2½ inches in diameter).

Be sure you use Kellogg's All-Bran, because it has the right taste and texture to make delicious muffins. Also you know that it is an effective source of "bulk" and the intestinal tonic vitamin B₁.

Jap Industrial Centres Shut By Coal Famine

TOKYO, Jan. 30—(AP).—Industrial centres of Japan were virtually at a standstill today with a shutdown of electrical power caused by an acute shortage of coal.

Electrical service upon which scores of factories depended was shut off this morning in 14 prefectures including Osaka, Kobe and Kyoto.

The suspension, likely to continue 14 hours or possibly until tomorrow, was ordered by the Osaka Division of the Communications Industry.

The war-time burden of railway and shipping lines has caused the sarcity of coal in Japan for some time.

A three-months' drought that brought the water supply to a critical stage, was another factor in the suspension of Hydro-Electric power production.

Railways, telegraphic and telephone systems remained in operation as did factories engaged in "urgent" production of war materials.

In other industries, however, workers took their places at machines and then were told to return home. More than 3,000,000 were affected.

The Two Sides

Meanwhile, Japanese newspapers reported the Foreign Office had anticipated Britain's reply to Japan's protest against seizure of 21 Germans from the liner Asama Maru and said that publication of the British note, possibly today, would be accompanied by an outline of the Tokyo viewpoint.

It was expected the Foreign Office would contend that search of neutral vessels plying between neutral points is "quite unusual" under international law.

Tension increased in the blockaded British and French concessions at Tientsin, China, after Japanese military planes flew low over the area. Barbed wire around the concessions has been electrically charged since Sunday.

Food was short in the district. The Japanese had renewed a ban on importation of supplies after Anglo-Japanese relations became strained over the Asama Maru incident of January 21 but Japanese have denied any connection.

Seaway Report

OTTAWA, Jan. 30 — (CP). — An interim report on the negotiations between Washington and Ottawa experts on the St. Lawrence seaway development was presented to the Dominion Government today by Dr. O. D. Skelton, External Affairs Secretary who headed the Canadian delegation.

While the Government has not yet reached a decision, it is expected there will be no further steps in the present Government would hesitate to commit in advance to such an important decisions whatever party is successful at the polls.

The Peterborough Club will be well represented at the Provincial meet up at Huntsville this coming week-end. The team, as chosen by the Technical Board will be Karl Duffus, Jack Holland, George Cook, Seniors; and "Spike" Matthews, Junior, four every capable exponents. Best of luck to you all and keep your knees bent. The whole club is pulling for you.

A lot of good hickory was converted in tooth-picks on the run from the Chalet down to the start of the tow during the week-end. Casualties were Jack Holland, Gerry Dawson and Andy Rutter, broken skils, and Jack Richardson, Ken Weldon along with a good many other who ended up in many a sitzmark. A stiff Monday morning to you boys.

Toronto was well represented on the hill over the week-end by a large contingent of both the fair and the stronger sex, young and old.

Photographers and reporters from Toronto papers and a representative of the railroad were at Bethany taking dozens of pictures, names and studying the set-up in general. An opportune time it was too with well over three hundred rabid enthusiasts tearing up and down all day long. At times, the Chalet was so jammed it was next to impossible to get in or out, this condition existing however, only during lunch hour which time everyone seemed to decide on together.

For anyone going to Huntsville this week-end, the following information should be useful. The events are in senior ratings A and B only and junior class A only. Events are open to all amateur skiers as defined by the C.A.S.A., The U.S. National Ski Association and F.I.S. All entries are subject to approval of the C.A.S.A. All entrants must be in possession of a 1940 competitor's card. No entry by mail will be accepted without card number plainly marked on entry form with club rating signed by the secretary of the club represented. All entrants must pay entry fee at time of making entry. Draw for positions will be made Friday night at 9:00 p.m. Post entries will be accepted.

A special train will leave Union Station, Toronto, at 7.50 p.m. on Friday night, February 2nd for Hunsville. Returning from Huntsville at 7 p.m. Sunday. Round trip fare, $3.70.

A dance will be held after the arrival of the ski special on Friday night, skating carnival on Saturday night with another dance after it. Also, plenty of opportunity for recreational skiing.

To the local competitors going to Huntsville, please, please get in touch with the secretary at once about your entry forms and fees as these have to be mailed not later than Wednesday night, January 31st.

No Nazi Fanfare Anniversary Of Hitler's Rise

BERLIN, an. 30.—(AP)—It was announced today that Adolf Hitler would address the German people in a broadcast Tuesday at 8 p.m. (2 p.m. EST).

It has been the Fuehrer's custom to address the nation on the anniversary of his rise to power, but it had been expected that the event, like all other observations of the day would be cancelled owing to the war.

The anniversary was not a holiday as in other years. German workers went to offices and factories as usual. Resident were told not to hang out German flags.

Authorized sources meanwhile bitterly attacked French Premier Daladier's speech last night, terming it "more hysterical even than (Winston) Churchill's." These sources viewed Daladier's remarks as an effort to frighten neutrals to join the Allies.

They said his criticism of German treatment of conquered Poles came with ill grace from a nation which "showed decidedly sadistic tendencies in treatment of Germans during and after the first Great War."

No Time for Celebration.

Because of the war, the anniversary of Hitler's appointment as premier by the late President Paul von Hindenburg, Jan 30, 1933, was devoid of the celebrations which marked it in the past.

The newspapers recalled Hitler's appeal to the party seven years ago: "Overwhelming is the task before us. We must solve it and shall solve it."

Writing in Hitler's Voelkischer Beobachter, the editor, Dr. Alfred Rosenberg, described the situation as follows:

"An old, corrupt, but well-organized and militarily-strong world makes a last effort to put through against Germany, over and above all her rights in Europe, their so-called democratic principle, which in reality is the domination of brutal financial market speculations."

The customary annual promotions by the Fuehrer in the army, police and civil service were published.

Marmora

Word was received here on Wednesday of the death at Port Colborne of James Liddon, a former resident of Deloro.

R. J. Scott has accepted the office of People's Warden at St. Paul's for another term, the appointment being made by the rector who was thus authorized by the vestry through no election taking place at the vestry meeting.

Mr. James Lovelers of the R.C.A.F. Trenton, spent the week-end at his home in Deloro.

Miss Josephine McGrath, who has spent the past few months in Port Colborne has returned to her home here.

By HERB MARTIN

Within a day or two the ice committee intend, as far as possible to have all the stones re-numbered. This will enable the curlers to recognize their stones more readily and it will also eliminate the trouble that is caused every night, that of putting wrong stones in wrong boxes.

Furhermore the stones will be weighed and the weight of the stones stamped on an outside corner of the box.

This is a funny old game. Here's Fred Green who has been sailing along, having no trouble with his opponents, and has won six games in a row, and up until last night was the only undefeated rnk in the club; he runs into Jack Sedgewick, who by the way has won only two schedule games this season, and Jack hands him his first defeat of the schedule season. Yes, it's a very slippery game and also very uncertain.

A number of the lady curlers are motoring to Bobcaygeon on Friday afternoon for a friendly game with the ladies of that club.

Ray Bacon is the hard luck skip of the club. Up to date he holds the club record for losing out on extra ends. On Jan. 10th he lost out to C. Westbrooke 8-7. On Jan. 25th W. Widdess won the overtime game from him by 12-10, and then last night D. Grant won the extra end by 8-7. He came close, but they don't pay off any second money in this game.

First Mate Aids Heiress Spy On Fourth

NEW YORK, Jan. 30 — (AP). — How "madcap" Merry Fahrney took her first husband along to check up on the behavior of her fourth was told yesterday in Supreme Court, where the comely heiress is seeking a divorce from Count Oleg Cassini.

Merry is the young woman who inherited a Chicago patent medicine fortune, and who once said: "I don't even know what medicine it was. I just know my grandfather made lots and lots of money with it."

She accuses Count Cassini, her second titled husband, of infidelity. An automobile salesman, who said he was helping her "purely out of friendship," told of peering through a hotel room window at 3.30 a.m. one day last year with her and her first husband, Hugh Parker Pickering.

From the window, said the witness, Robert S. Boyland, they could see into the bedroom of the suite Merry had rented for the count at the count's request, because he didn't like to live in her twelve-room apartment on Fifth Avenue.

What they saw led Merry to say: "This is enough for me"; for there were the count and a Broadway showgirl, continued Boyland, sipping anisette and vodka, and there was an amorous scene. Whereupon Merry said:

"This is all I wanted to know."

Merry, in a trim navy blue crepe suit, white kid gloves and flower-trimmed turban, testified that Pickering still managed her business affairs. He is the father of her 7-year-old son Peter.

The heiress and Count Cassini, a 26-year-old Russian dress designer, were married in September, 1938, at Elkton, Md., after an elopement by plane. He is the son of Countess Margaret Cassini, a prominent figure in Washington society during President Theodore Roosevelt's administration.

Merry testified that the count had never paid her anything since their marriage, and sometimes telephoned her collect from Washington asking for money.

The count, who seeks dismissal of her complaint, has threatened to name six co-respondents to her one.

George St. Wins Over St. Andrew's

George Street Juveniles of the Church League copped a 7-1 win from St. Andrew's at All Saints' rink last night. Ridyard tallied for the other crew. The winners kept in the playoff hunt with this verdict. The teams:

St. Andrew's.—Goal, Richardson; defence, Wall, Johnson; centre, Harris; wings, Ridyard, Murphy; sub., McDonald.

bitrary valuations placed on various items in an estate by the treasurer, are removed from the jurisdiction of any court.

"We should add to the bill that the Legislature of Ontario hereby rescinds Magna Charta and the Bill of Right," said Col. Drew.

Attorney-general Conant said he yielded to none in his abhorence of bureaucracy. Yet were all the decisions of various boards, commissions and officials subject to review by the courts, the result would be a morass of costly litigation.

"The cost of litigation to the poor man has become absolutely prohibitive," said Mr. Conant. "It is beyond all reason or justice. The poor man can't enter the courts to prosecute his rights with any idea of when finality is to be reached."

Worse Than Spee Scuttling.

Action of the commander of the German pocket battleship, Graf Spee, in scuttling his ship rather than face three British warships was more reputable than of Mr. King in dissolving parliament rather than face Conservative Leader Manion and his 38 followers in the House of Commons, said, Mr. Hepburn.

"His conduct is shameful and I rise to protest it," he said.

Col. Fraser Hunter (Lib. Toronto-St. Patricks) justified his action in walking out on the division in the legislature last week when a resolution was passed condemning the federal government for its "so little effort" in prosecuting the war.

"I was sure the resolution would give Mackenzie King the opportunity to betray Canada and I was proved right," said Col. Hunter. "The chief business of the Legislature is to get on with winning the war. I'll follow any leader who will devote every energy to that purpose."

In placing the onus for the federal election on the Ontario legislature because of the resolution, Mr. King betrayed the first principle of the democracy for which Canada is at war, Col. Hunter said.

Col. Drew rose to a question of privilege to introduce discussion of Canada's War effort. He said that Prime Minister King gave as the first of his reasons for refusing to face Parliament an alleged political campaign against him in the Ontario Legislature.

"Untrue Charges"

In so doing, Col. Drew said, Mr. King attributed to him the seconding of the Ontario censure resolution. This was untrue.

"I had no intimation of any kind that such a resolution was to be introduced until it was read by the Premier," he said. Equally untrue was Mr. King's statement that Col. Drew had called for an immediate election. He had not called for a vote right away. Instead he had said it wasn't necessary to wait for an election to adopt the slogan "King Must Go."

"I wish to place it on record in this house that those two hastily invented excuses of Mr. King's for not facing Parliament were without any color or shadow of truth," Col. Drew said.

Col. Drew recalled that a committee specially named by the legislature went to Ottawa to discuss with the Federal Government the organization of Ontario's resources for war. If it was the opinion then of the Prime Minister that discussions of war measures were out of place in Ontario, he should have said so before receiving the delegation.

"When he thought it might serve his purpose, he welcomed our discussion of every phase of Canada's war effort," he said. "When we reported to this house the unpleasant fact that the Dominion Government had failed to offer your committee any opportunity of co-operation whatever, then for the first time Mr. King made the startling discovery that we had no right to discuss the very subjects he had asked us to discuss."

Outlined Contracts.

Col. Drew said he had refrained from public criticism of Canada's war effort until the Legislature met, though he wrote to the Prime Minister "outlining a number of scandalous contracts with the most minute detail."

"He stated in reply that he was referring these matters to those charged with the responsibility for dealing with them," continued Col. Drew. "He said that he would be prepared to deal with them in the House of Commons. Nothing has been done to remedy the situation in any case, and the abuses still continue. Mr. King has had exact and complete details. He has had that information for three months while I refrained from comment in hope he would act."

Premier Hepburn said he had been indicted along with Col. Drew despite the fact that both had a perfect right to speak their minds in the Legislature and that the House itself had a perfect right to petition the Federal Government.

The Legislature on several occasions had passed resolutions and petitions for the Federal Government. The fact Ottawa ignored them didn't deprive Ontario of her rights to pass them.

A Tip Back in 1939.

If the Federal Government had taken cognizance of the Ontario Legislature resolution of March 23, 1939, calling for a mobilization of resources for war, Canada to-day wouldn't have half-clad soldiers and she might be producing munitions, said Mr. Hepburn.

The Premier discounted Mr. King's statement that the Ontario censure resolution was one of the reasons for calling an early election. From the lips of Mr. King's ministers had come the statement that just as soon as Dr. Manion "opened his mouth" there would be dissolution of Parliament.

Dr. Manion had been accorded "shameful treatment" during the Royal tour of Canada, said Mr. Hepburn.

"If ever a man prostituted his post, it was Mr. King during the Royal tour. He stuck his head out like a mud turtle every time. To look at Their Majesties, you had to look at him."

How could Dr. Manion level any indictment against the conduct of the war by the King administration, if he is not permitted to get the evidence in Parliament, asked Mr. Hepburn. Dissolution of Parliament throttled all possibility of getting the information to which Dr. Manion and the country were entitled.

Beyond all this was the latest Ottawa announcement that political radio speeches were to be censored, said Mr. Hepburn.

Arthur Greiser, German Governor of Poznan, Polish district annexed by Germany, claimed Poles are "much happier under German rule than they ever were under the Polish regime."

So long as they do not meddle in politics, priests have not been molested, he said, and only one priest has been shot in the district, this execution following a court martial.

The priest mentioned by Greiser was identified as the vicar of the Cathedral at Gnesen, formerly Gniesno. A military court found him guilty of inciting other Poles to sniping.

Jewish leaders reported that since January 6 they had received 465 urns containing the ashes of Polish Jews from the Buchenwald concentration camp.

Since the total of Polish Jews in this camp was estimated at 1,500, this indicates a death rate of 30 per cent.

(Reuters News Agency said 50 persons were killed and 200 injured in a raid on the Finnish naval base of Hangoe).

Fires flared in a half dozen cities, including Hangoe. Casualties were reported in raids on Tammersfors (Tampere), industrial centre north of the capital, Borga (Porvoo) and other centres.

Five Planes Downed.

The Finns reported five of 50 planes were brought down over Abo, and one at Helsingfors, where the raiders were beaten off four times by pursuit ships and anti-aircraft fire.

The known dead of yesterday already exceeded the total reported by the Finnish high command killed in enemy raids last week. In a review of last week's air raids, the Finns said 24 persons were killed and 56 wounded. The review charged that eight hospitals "clearly marked with the international emblem" (Red Cross) were attacked with bombs and machine-guns.

(The Russian high command in a report of yesterday's activities said "seven enemy planes were brought down in various districts" and that "Soviet aviation made reconnoitring and bombing flights.") the British fighters. Germany apparently gambled that low ceilings and cold would keep defence airmen on the ground.

From Captain Driesmann of the Latvian freighter came a graphic account of the attack. He said a direct hit shattered the Tautmila's engines and another bomb struck "almost on top" of a lifeboat being lowered from the stricken ship, killing several men and hurling others into the sea.

Still another bomb "fell right on top of the cook," the captain said. Fifteen other men, including the captain and his wife, escaped injury.

The captain of the 4,867-ton Otterpool, one of the 13 British merchant ships, said his vessel was machine-gunned after 10 bombs fell nearby. Two of the crew were reported wounded. The captain said he met the machine-gun attack with rifle fire, lying on his back on the bridge to fire at one bomber. Three British fighters appeared quickly and put the bomber to flight.

On official account said that "in spite of the severe weather conditions and poor visibility Royal Air Force aircraft were able to engage and drive off the enemy at many points."

The Times called yesterday's raids, along with submarine and mine warfare, an "unmistakable answer" to those who ask "what are we fighting for."

Nice Easy Marks

The Times said that the lightships attacked were "attractive to the Nazi no doubt because they are motionless and defenceless, but they are beyond all dispute noncombatant."

The Daily Express, citing the raids in a plea for aid to Finland, said "Britain's defences save us from the fate of Finland. Hitler's bombers only nibble at our coast."

Royal Air Force fighters took to the air in weather so severe that one train was 28 hours late on a 400-mile trip, and the government cautioned householders to use coal, gas and electricity sparingly.

Transportation was severely disrupted in the worst January storm in 46 years. Thousands of Londoners walked to work yesterday, many of them hours tardy.

The latest report of mine warfare came from the 298-ton Netherlands ship Nora, towed ashore by a salvage tug. Her stern had been blasted away.

The Daily Telegraph said that when Germany announced the intention to restore to unrestricted warfare at sea, "she was in effect declaring war on all seafaring nations."

"In effect, Germany designed to deny the seas indiscriminately to all seaborne commerce, whether bound for British ports or neutral," the paper said. "She has attempted to carry out this piratical campaign by dropping mines wholesale outside of territorial waters, and by torpedoing every ship moving within range of her U-boats.

"To wreak her wrath more effectually, she has been entirely contemptuous of the international agreements to which she is a party —agreements which forbid sinking of non-belligerent vessels and for warning and making provision for the safety of the crew."

The Daily Express said the nation should not allow its senses to be numbed by the repetition of U-boat attacks on neutral ships and defenceless lightships. "Every one calls for atonement, every one reminds us of the ruthlessness of our enemy.

"But remember always that Nazi barbarians are not the same as the German people."

In much the same way Canada and the United States get most of their snow and freezing weather from air sucked in through the giant funnel of the Mackenzie River basin in Canada's northwest territories. The weather of the two continents frequently balances as the Arctic air masses sweep southward.

"These storms over North America seem to break out of the Mackenzie basin as the pressure of air increases throughout that area," Weightman explained. "Then they sweep southward, sometimes as far as Alabama and Mississippi, as they did in recent weeks."

The recent extreme cold which has aided Finland in its defence against Russian invasion is probably due to northeast winds sweeping down from the Arctic, Weightman said.

"It is essential that those of the interior succeed in making themselves respected by those at the front through work, renunciation and discipline."

It would be "criminal," he said, to underestimate Germany's formidable military strength, and he urged increased arms production.

"We will win, but we must carry off also a victory far exceeding an armed victory."

Disseminators of German or Russian propaganda will be dealt with mercilessly, Daladier promised.

The Communist party was dissolved in France, he said, because "the men of Moscow placed themselves at the orders of Berlin."

Wages Claimed For Work Done Hauling Wood

A charge against Joseph Robertson, under the Master and Servants" Act, before Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., in police court this morning only partially succeeded.

Melville Taylor, Curve Lake, claimed that Robertson owed him $40.10 as wages for work done as a teamster at Robertson's wood camp in Cavendish township. He was represented by W. R. Philp, while John A. Bradshaw appeared for Robertson.

Taylor testified that he had entered into an agreement to work as teamster for Robertson starting on November 6 last, and that he had worked until January 18, when he said Robertson "fired" him because the horse had run away. He testified that the arrangement was that he was to be paid $35 a month and that he had only been paid $38 of the amount owed him.

In cross-examination he said that he had been working for Robertson for several weeks cutting wood, before being engaged as teamster and that he had been paid at the rate of $2 per cord while so engaged. In explaining what had happened on January 18, he said that Robertson had claimed that he was working at the rate of $26 a month and that the defendant also took off $20 which he said was for an old car he claimed Taylor had bought from him.

Taylor said that there had been some discussion about the car, but he had not agreed to take it.

Robertson's story of the affair was that Taylor was to be paid $26 a month as teamster if he quite or was discharged during the winter, and $35 a month if he remained until the spring. He said that Taylor had bought the car for $20 and had told Robertson to take it out of his wages. Witness was to obtain a pinion for the car and Taylor was to do his own repairs. Robertson said that in his opinion he did not owe Taylor anything.

In cross-examination he said that he had not yet secured the pinion for the car and the latter was still in his possession.

Russell Moore and Pierce Nicholson, two other employees of Robertson corroborated the defendant's evidence as to the arrangement that had been made with Taylor and also in regard to the deal for the car.

Magistrate Langley said that in view of the fact three witnesses had sworn to the $26 a month arrangement Taylor had failed to satisfy the court that he wa sentitled to be paid at $35 a month. In regard to the car transaction, however, he ruled that the deal had never been completed and thus Robertson was not entitled to keep $20 from Taylor's wages. He ordered that amount to be paid Taylor, allowing no costs in the cases.

Trucks Damaged On Icy Streets

Two trucks were damaged in a traffic accident on Charlotte Street Monday in which the slippery condition of the street was given as a reason for the collision.

Joseph DeNoble, 472 Parnell Street, at the wheel of a truck owned by A. Anthony, Charlott and George Streets, was driving east on Charlotte Street and was making a left turn on to St. Joseph Street when a truck owned by the Kraft Cheese Company of Toronto and driven by J. C. Maffre, 347 Runnymede Street, Toronto, that had been following behind, collided with the rear end of the local truck.

Maffre told the police that when he applied his brakes his truck skidded on the icy roadway. The front of his machine was damaged, while the Anthony machine suffered damage to the tail light, reflector and the left hand corner of the body.

"Wolf" Kingan Reigns Supreme

Word of the failure of Charlie Kingan to bag a wolf in a three-day hunt must have travelled into the inner council of wolf headquarters in the far north, according to this picture. For it purports to show a good-sized wolf apparently eating from "Wolf" Kingan's hat with supreme disdain for its life, confident it is in no danger. Harvey and Ken Sanderson took the picture on the day they carried a truckload of elk to the game preserve. If there's a catch in the picture they're the ones to ask about it.

Increase Is Shown In Air Mail Letters

Air mail out of Peterborough is steadily increasing, Postmaster Lacheur reported this morning. The number of letters sent from the city during the last two weeks was 610 to East and West Canadian points and also across the border into the United States.

"It isn't necessary to buy air mail stamps for this delivery," Mr. Lacheur said. "A letter must carry six cents in postage and should be marked "air mail" on the envelope. Letters to New York and Chicago mailed here in the afternoon catch the first deliveries the next morning in those cities."

Air mail delivery not only provides the fastest service the Postal Department has developed, but it is also an essential contribution to the air wing of the Department and a means of building up an increasing company of expert airmen in this country.

With Cobourg Battery

Signaller Elmer Richardson, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Richardson of Percy township who was the first farmers' son in the Hastings district to enlist. He enlisted with the 14th Field Battery of Cobourg three days after the outbreak of war.

Registration Of All Workers Is Planned By Employment Bureau

Peterborough workers now have a chance to do something concrete for their country in its war effort. For to-day came a request from the Dominion government that all skilled and semi-skilled persons, both male and female, who will be available for work on war orders expected to be placed shortly with firms across Canada, make registration with the local Employment Service branch on King street.

This registration is not for military or enlistment purposes, but is wholly for civil employment, it was stressed.

Following is a list of the workers most eligible for war work: Blacksmiths, boiler makers, buffers and polishers, cabinet makers, carpenters, chemists, coremakers, die makers and die sinkers, draughtsmen, drill press operators, electricians, engineers (professional), lathe hands, machinists, mechanics, moulders, pattern makers, plumbers and pipe fitters, punch press operators, riveters and chippers, sheet metal workers, steel sharpeners, structural steel and iron workers, tailors and cutters (clothing) tinsmiths, tool makers, welders and cutters (metal).

Registration will start immediately, Superintendent Bill Mellis said to-day. He asked that applicants call in the afternoon, as mornings will be taken up with routine work. All men desirous of entering on war order work, regardless of whether they are now employed, are asked to call at his office to fill out the necessary form. Any applicants who are unable to call because they are employed, or because they live at too great a distance from the office—for the registration will include any person living in this entire district—are asked to write to the Employment Service of Canada, 165 King street. Registration forms will be forwarded in cases where it is clear applicants are unable to make a personal appearance. But it is stressed that wherever possible, the application should be made in person.

Type of Persons to be Registered.

The department of labour has set forth a complete summary of the type of persons to be registered, which is quoted here in its entirety: "Persons, either male or female, who may reasonably be considered either skilled or semi-skilled are to be registered, regardless of whether they are employed or unemployed at the time of registering (are eligible). Special effort will be made to secure registrations from persons previously employed, or skilled, in occupations in the metal industries (including, of course, iron and steel), the textile industry and the construction industry. Special efforts will be made to receive registrations from persons employed on munition manufacture in the last war, or since that time. Clerical and other office employees need not be registered unless they have some particular training in connection with industries likely to be affected by war orders, such as cost accounting experience, etc."

Begin To Wonder

Apsley, Jan. 30 (ENS)

THE half dozen elk that were shipped to Apsley on Saturday caused a lot of interest by the men of the community. It was ascertained that two of them were seen on the farm of Mr. Hubert James more than a half a mile from the Jacks Lake road before night fall on Saturday.

Hospital Board Asks Increase

Mayor Hamilton will probably have to call a special meeting of the council to strike the tax rate, according to reports on the progress of the estimates at the city hall.

Prospects of a cut in the tax rate are fairly bright, especially if the Hepburn government comes through with the expected contribution equivalent to one mill as compensation for income tax diverted to the government.

The Board of Works will deal with its expenditures tonight in laying out a program of work for the year. It is reported that Relief Committee is convinced that it can make a substantial reduction in its requirements in a year that is likely to see a big gain in employment. The Nicholls Hospital Board is asking for an increase, the Fire Department's account will likely be higher as a consequence of the recommended purchase of a new pumper.

Some members of the council have been looking toward the promise of a lower tax rate not only as an advantage to property owners in general but also as a material assistance to the city's industries and to others that might be looking for an Ontario location.

Syl Apps To Discuss His Political Future With Officers Of Conservative Association

TORONTO, Jan. 30 — (CP). — Hockey player and budding politician, Syl Apps said today his future plans will be discussed tomorrow night at a meeting in Paris with officers of the Brant Conservative Association.

Star centre with Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League and nominated as Conservative candidate in Brant Riding in the Federal general election March 26, Apps admitted he was in a bit of a quandary.

"Right now I dont know how I'll play hockey and conduct an election campaign at the same time, but we're going to talk it all over in Paris tomorrow," he said.

And what if he were successful in the election?

"Well, I don't know about that either," Apps said. "I guess we'll discuss that phase in relation to hockey at the meeting too."

On the way to a practice at Maple Leaf Gardens with the Leafs, Apps said he had not heard a report that Conny Smythe, Leafs' manager, would accompany him to Paris for the meeting.

Smythe said yesterday that he believed Apps should run for the riding seat and that he should continue to play hockey.

"I believe Apps is the type of young man we need in politics," he added.

Set At Large In Peterboro Game Reserve

This big cow elk stopped long enough to have its picture taken before bounding off into the bush when it was loosed in Peterborough county's game preserve on Saturday. Same night they were reported to have travelled close to the village of Apsley, where residents saw them plainly.

Racing May Be Cut To Day At Fair

Trimming the horse racing program from three days to one, and substituting runners for the familiar pacers, is one of the proposals which the Exhibition Board is likely to discuss at an important meeting Friday night.

The number of directors has been reduced, but it is understood that the old guard will be invited to sit in at this meeting for the benefit of their advice. Changes are being directed not only at entertainment, but also at supervision, accommodation, exhibits and so on.

Arrangements have been made with Conklin Brothers to take charge of the midway again, it has been reported, and are probably far enough advanced to be reported to Friday night's meeting.

Because of war conditions, the directors are endeavoring to inject new ideas into the Exhibition, and make it more useful and attractive than ever.

ON CITY BUSINESS.

Mayor Hamilton and J. J. Duffus are in Ottawa today on city business.

HAD TO TAKE JAIL.

"I guess I will have to go to jail," said a local man in police court yesterday after he had pleaded guilty to an adjurned drunkenness charge and had been fined $10 and costs. Magistrate Langley made the jail sentence seven days.

A REASONABLE SUGGESTION.

"Before they start running this election on the radio," said a Main Streeter to-day, "they had better do something about chasing those Mexican stations off the wavelengths of CBL and CFRB. Election speeches are bad enough anytime without a Mexican obligato."

SENT TO INSTITUTION.

No evidence was offered in Police Court this morning in the case of the local man charged with drunkenness who had been remaded from yesterday. The magistrate was informed that the accused had been taken to a sanitarium for treatment.

55 MORE TELEPHONES.

A net increase of 55 was recorded in the number of telephones in Peterborough during 1939, accotding to C. B. Shaver, manager of The Bell Telephone Company of Canada here. On December 31st last, there were 6,051 telephones in service here as compared with 5,996 on December 31, 1938. If, as some authorities contend, the number of telephones in a community is an excellent barometer of general business, it would seem that Peterborough is continuing to progress economically.

PICTURES SHOWN CLUB.

Ian F. McRae, assistant works engineer at the Canadian General Electric Company's plant here, presented three reels of talking pictures on "Electrical Science Experiments" Monday night at the regular meeting of the Peterborough Lions' Club, held at the Kawartha Club. President Erroll Clarke presided and welcomed guests Jack Raine, E. J. Nicholls, S. Milburn, George Bradley, and Mr. McRae. Jim Dutton, Jr., gave a short talk on Lionism.

AT OSHAWA MEETING.

C. S. Kingan, Herb Routley, Wallace Harvey and E. A. Outram attended the annual meeting of the Oshawa Fish and Game Association in the Genosha Hotel last night. About two hundred men were present, and the representatives of the local Association were given a cordial reception. Mr. Kingan incidentally referred to the resources of fish and game in this county, and urged the Oshawa sportsmen to make more use of this area near home.

TOO MUCH SAND

Vehement protest is being made by downtown merchants these days over the amount of sand being used on George street by Board of Works employees. Some are considering carrying the matter to the city council. "I have a $400 investment in the floor covering here," said Ross Payne, "and the Board of Works couldn't do more harm than they are doing now if they were to send in a crew to work on my floor with sandpaper." Merchants complain that far too much sand is being used on the streets, and point out that so much has been used at intersections that the road is mud brown in color.

Six War Veterans Give Evidence Of Fund Thefts

REGINA, Jan. 30.—(CP)—Evidence of alleged thefts from the Saskatchewan canteen fund was given by six war veterans as the judicial inquiry into fund irregularities before Mr. Justice Donald Maclean of the Saskatchewan court of King's Bench completed the second day of its sittings here. The inquiry opened January 15 and after a two-week adjournment was resumed yesterday.

R. J. Rodgers, formerly of Virden, Man., testified he had received grants ranging from $2 to $4 from the fund in 1937, totalling $12.50. Twice he said he received payments in cash from A. H. White, one of the two trustees who have been named as being involved in irregularities.

Rodgers was shown a cheque for $210, made out in his name. "It's not my signature," he declared.

Similar evidence was given by James Kavanah, Regina, . David Hibbs, George Daborn, John Fraser, C. P. Beeching and Alex Chornenko. Hibbs said he applied for a grant once but had never received it. He examined three cheques made out to him, then declared:

"I never got a nickel from them."

Husband Leaves Note

The main witness was Mrs. John T. Nicolle, wife of a missing Regina bookkeeper sought as a material witness in connection with the investigation.

Mrs. Nicolle said that her husband disappeared last August 17 after he had left their home to keep an appointment with White, his former employer, and Dr. C. G. Cox, of Saskatoon, the second trustee said to be involved in the irregularities. He was to talk to them about getting his job back.

Mrs. Nicolle testified that her husband had left her a letter saying that he was in fear of his life and that if he were to meet an untimely end or to disappear, she was to get in touch with police. The letter directed her to a hiding place where she found an undated letter from Cox to White. The letters were read into evidence by H. E. Sampson, inquiry counsel.

Both Cox and White are dead now. Cox was killed by his own gun while hunting on the outskirts of Saskatoon last October 24. White died from self-administered poison, December 26.

Mrs. Ruby Kirkby, present secretary of the fund, testified that in the last two years cheques on the fund were issued without inquiry, without applications and often with no more authority than a telephone call from White.

Mrs. Kirkby said she received applications for every grant authorized by Col. A. G. Styles, the third trustee.

Often, she said, White passed a lot of applications between meetings of the trustees. Nothing was heard of them again.

"He would phone an order for a cheque. I would make it out and take it over to Mr. Styles' office to be signed, and to be picked up by White."

White had often left her a memo of names, with amounts, on her desk. "Sometimes I would get the application form, sometimes I wouldn't. I would ask for them but he (White) would say he had them in his desk and would bring them over. But I never got very many."

SPRING ON THE WAY

A breezy note arrived this morning from Perry Alexander of Pine Forest Inn, Summerville, S.C., conveying the news that although it has been unusually cold in Dixie of late, Spring is on the way north "and we will be watching the Chemong Bridge do its stuff."

Prices of food and clothing in Italy are mounting.

LAKEFIELD CLUB COPS PLAYOFF BERTH WITH NEAT 11-10 VICTORY

Beats Oakwood At Home In Lively Tilt

LAKEFIELD, Jan. 30.—(ENS)—In an O.H.A. intermediate "B" game here last night Lakefield intermediates defeated Oakwood 11-10. Lakefield's win clinches a playoff berth with Sutton. The homesters were a little more superior to the lads from Oakwood. It was a clean, hard-fought game on keen ice before a fair-sized crowd. Only three penalties were handed out, Lakefield drawing two.

Lakefield led in scoring throughout the game, Windsor in the home nets played a sensational game, drawing applause from the fans time and again on his saves. In the last period Chappell received a stiff body check and had to be carried off.

Play opened fast with Lakefield on the offensive till McDougall picked up a loose puck at his own blue line and scored from Oakwood's blue line. Deeth scored again 4 minutes later on a pass from Chappell from a scramble inside the defence. Cournyea went off for tripping, but Oakwood could take no advantage and on one of their power plays Chappell intercepted a pass to score again for Lakefield, while a man short. Oakwood received their only penalty when Heatlie got the gate for slashing but no goals were scored in his absence. After fifteen minutes of the first period McDougall scored again with Cournyea receiving the assist.

Starts Again

Mortimer started the scoring in the second period after two minutes of play. Oakwood claimed a disputed goal and after an argument the goal-judge was changed and Wakelin received credit for scoring. Oakwood counted again when Riche scored at the 10-minute mark. Deeth came right back with one for Lakefield the next minute, with Chappell receiving the assist. Oakwood started pressing and having the homesters a little disorganized scored twice, Hallward and Wakelin getting the goals. Chappell scored again from a neat pass from McDougall. Creighton added another one on a nice combination play with Cournyea. In the last seconds of the period Wickett got Oakwood's fifth goal with the period ending 8-5 for Lakefield.

The third was fast with McDougall scoring at the four-minute mark. Williamson came right back for Oakwood to beat Windsor two minutes later. McDougall scored again with Mortimer assisting. Then Cook took a neat pass from the corner to beat Windsor who was down in the corner of the net. Jewell carried the puck right through to score Lakefield's last goal. Cournyea was penalized for tripping and Oakwood began playing every man up, scoring two goals. Heatlie and Cook combined for one and Hallward got the next. Cook scored again in the last minute of play. The final score was 11-10 for Lakefield.

McCoy Is Bought For $45,000 By Connie Mack

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Jan. 30.—(AP)—Connie Mack's dream of one last great championship team may be realized in 1941, Earle Mack, son and assistant to the 77-year-old leader of the Philadelphia Athletics, predicted today.

In the younger Mack's pocket as he left for home was a contract signed by Benny McCoy, the free agent second baseman, obtained at a cost of a $45,000 bonus and an agreement for a $10,000 annual salary for 1940 and 1941.

McCoy signed for the record-breaking amount yesterday 15 days after Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis declared him a free agent along with 90 other Detroit Tiger chattels. The previous high amount paid a free agent was $25,000 that Catcher Rick Ferrell collected from St. Louis Browns in 1928. Assurances that he would play regularly was the factor that swung him to the A's, McCoy said.

Cincinnati Reds and Pittsburg Pirates, both of the National League were the other teams McCoy considered joining when a showdown was reached.

"Aquisition of McCoy completes what should be a grand young infield," said Earle Mack, "and we certainly should be pennant contenders by 1941."

At first base Philadelphia will have Dick Seibert; McCoy will hold down second while Bill Lillard, classy recruit from San Francisco, will be at shortstop, Mack said. Al Rubeling, for whom the Athletics paid Atlanta a health $35,000 is due to play third.

Shore In Debut Tonight With Americans

(By The Canadian Press.)

Venerable Eddie Shore, still hockey's greatest drawing card, joins the Americans to-night to make the turnstiles click for their game at New York with Montreal Canadiens.

Shore comes back to the National League, too, when the Americans need him badly. Deprived of Al Murray through injuries, the New York club is scheduled to play minus another defenceman, Hooley Smith, who is liable to a one-game suspension for drawng a match penalty Sunday night.

So old Eddie, still a great rushing defenceman and team leader, will play the first game he ever played for any National League club besides Boston Bruins, with whom he spent 13 seasons. If they lose to-night the Americans will tumble into last place behind the Canadiens, so Shore couldn't have arrived at a more opportune time.

Manager Red Dutton, who got Shore from the Bruins last week in a deal for Eddie Wiseman, managed yesterday to convince Maurice Podoloff, president of the International-American League, that Eddie should be in New York to-night. Shore was to have appeared as owner-manager-defenceman with the Indians at Springville in an Int.-Am. game with Pittsburg.

The Bruins will be involved in the night's other game, opposing Chicago Black Hawks at Boston. The home team can narrow the gap existing between itself and the league-leading New York Rangers to three points, while the Hawks seek to make their hold on fourth place more secure.

PRO PUCK PERSONALITIES

BOB DAVIDSON

Toronto Maple Leafs

(By Central Press Canadian)

Bob Davidson is the "unknown" member of the "Apps-Drillon line" with Toronto Maple Leafs, playing in the shadow of his two great teammates, although this year he has come into his own to a greater degree than in the past. "Rugged Robert," he is dubbed by hometown scribes, as he mixes in all types of play, game after game, in the dogged, determined way that a few other players in the league also do without getting their names in the headlines from day to day. He's a product of the city he is playing for and is going through his fourth complete season with the Leafs, after seeing part-time service in two previous seasons. He'll be 28 years old 11 days from to-day. Played all his amateur hockey in Toronto and on signing a pro contract went to Syracuse, then the Leafs' farm team. One of the most valued members of the team—the only one that hasn't missed a game this season. Looks after the left wing beat of the "Apps-Drillon line" and taken care of most of the back-checking, although his scoring punch has improved this winter. In a pinch he can hadle a defence assignment. Mathematical total for his career until the start of the present season: 19 goals, 38 assists for 57 points, with 162 minutes served in penalties.

All Saints' Juniors Cop A 4-1 Decision

All Saints' Juniors' superior manpower gave them a 4-1 win over Park Street in their Church Loop game last night at All Saints' rink. It was tied 1-1 going into the third on goals by L. Abraham and Campbell, but the Anglicans then ran in three, Deering tallying twice and Hill once. Park Street was tired out this stanza. Robinson, Jobe, Campbell and Prowt were the pick of the players. The teams:

Park Street.—Goal, Smith; defence, Campbell, Cox; centre, Jobe; wings, Kidd, Hodson.

All Saints. — Goal, Prout; detre, Deering; wings, Reid, Hill; subs., D. Abraham, Robinson, Spooner.

NORFOLK, Neb., Jan. 30—(AP)—A nine-year-old fright was credited by relatives today with killing August J. Tews, 37. They said Tews had suffered from heart trouble ever since the night two armed bandits trussed him up and threatened him while they robbed a theatre of which he was assistant manager.

Digging Up the Local Dirt With the Odd Chuckle or Two

By CEC PERDUE

With the local Colts playing Lakefield Cubs here tonight in an O.H.A. junior "B" joust—at 8.30 in the Brock—a little info on Lakefield might come in handy. The Cubs, after a shaky start, are rolling right along now. Beat Port Hope at home, lost by one goal to 'em in Port Hope, gave Lindsay a fine fight, and nearly knocked off the strong Colts last start. Yet the Lakefield lads have had more than their share of tough luck—including a slim following, the folks up that way evidently forgetting the speed and class of junior O.H.A. competition. Right now the squad faces two stiff doctor bills, Goalie Jack Morrison getting his nose smashed in a practice some time ago, and Bob Cauley—high-scoring forward—suffering a fractured wrist recently in play.

* * * * * *

The club, minus a regular coach up to date, plans to stage a benefit dance for the two injured players on Feb. 6th, and we hope local and Lakefield folks will patronize it generously. Junior hockey has been out in the village for a time, and the fans haven't got heated up about it yet, but they're missing some swell ice action by young puckists who hustle every minute every game. Lakefield boys are lighter than the Colts but they skated right with 'em last tilt and even mixed it up with the scrappy Colts, too. Besides Cauley, two other Peterboro' lads are doing right well with Lakefield, Connelly and Giardino. The former is fast and clever, and Giardino is a swell defenceman at blotting out incoming puck-carriers. The whole team will keep fans hollering at the action dished up.

* * * * * *

After Playoff Spots

If Bob Strickland is back on defence this tilt tonight, he will be with Beggs, Mason and likely Vitarelli—if not MacDonald. Up front are Wade, Foster and Pammett on one line, with Rochetta, Craig and Parnell on the other, provided the latter's wrist is right. Nichols is the extra forward, and Cournyea plays goal. The big and fast-stepping Colts, in second place now, are after a playoff berth in "B" company and Lakefield is out to earn a "C" spot, so they'll really play hockey tonight. It is hoped a big crowd turns out for the fray.

* * * * * *

With Dr. and Mrs. Clark and Ralph Clark, Herb Ralph—who used to manage Al and Grant Clark in junior ball—visited Potsdam, N'Yawk, to see Saturday's puck tilt there. Varsity beat Clarkson fairly handily but the Tech team had almost as much of the play. A big crowd—with cheerleaders, et al—saw the game in Clarkson's swell rink, one lit up far better than most Ontario arenas. Al Clark was banged up in a collision early and had to retire, but was O.K. later, and Grant played a swell game, Herb tells us. He said an Ogdensburg scribe, praising Al's work in the recent Queen's game, said he was big league hockey timber. Herb was talking to Coach Irvin Bailey of Varsity and the Ace asked to be remembered to all his friends in Peterborough.

A 5-0 Sweetheart

It was all there again last night in Belleville's big Hume Arena, all the ingredients of a first-class Petes-Fliers' whizzer. Both clubs right on the bit in the scramble for first place in their group, a good-sized crowd of rabid rooters, a glare sheet of ice, an easy-going ref, and a torrid tussle with no holds barred. The Petes won 5-0 and did it in convincing manner—but 'twas no cake walk, mes amis. A contest that fairly sizzled and crackled as play spun from end to end and side to side in breath-taking jerks. Speed galore, smart hockey, and several bags of assorted digs and dirty tricks! Thrown in for good measure—to give the hoarse customers an extra run for their oughday—were a disputed goal, a bit of mayhem by the Gibson citadel, and a fist fight that brought the law on the scene to stop a threatening free-for-all.

* * * * * *

Yep, a typical Petes-Fliers' fray, and these teams should dish up a whale of a playoff series again. The locals are atop the heap now but must trim the Airmen again to clinch first place and thus get that extra home game—and gate. Ray Harding was in great shape to earn the shutout, doing a jitterbug act through the hectic third chapter but nudging that flying bootheel off his doorstep. Our defence sparkled, Crowe and Gardner smearing 'em, Drake Jopling again strong and steady on the back fence and Les Burton—filling in for Ellis—going fine. Up front, they were all zooming in high, with Kingdon and Tompkins a bit more effective, but Starr—with his blond locks bandaged up for a cut — was hopping sticks and pestering Gibson all eve. Same with Heal, Coughlin, Jack Jopling and Blewett. McLeod, Legris and Irvine went best for the scrappy R.C.A.F.-ers.

* * * * * *

Oodles Of Arguments

As the timer's gong sounded to end the first period, Heal slapped home the rubber on Tompkins' assist. The Fliers protested bitterly, claiming the period was over and the goal should not count. "I didn't hear the gong," maintained Referee Bill Steen of Kingston, who had the job when Joe Smith couldn't come. So it remained. The Buckland Buckaroos got another in a heated second, and then poured in three more spoons of blackstrap in the third as the goalie came to a boil. An appetizing dish to those of us from Peter's borough! Starr kidded Gibson in the second and the angry goalie conked him with his stick, Eddie suffering a cut on the head — and there was no penalty. In the third, Kingdon and Higgins mixed it and got the air, and they began throwing punches again in the cooler. Gibson tore over but Coughlin got in and stopped him, this pair mixing. Gardner, at one time, dropped his gloves and stick and stepped up to Gibson, but the latter didn't force the issue that time. Yeah, 'twas hot all right—and the Petes always looked a bit faster and a few goals better than the Fliers.

On Thursday e'en in the Brock, an Industrial Puck Loop triple-header is listed, starting at 7.30 o'clock. Westclox play the Packers first, followed by Raybestos vs. Quakers, with Marines tangling with Watercraft to wind it up. The Watercraft crew staged a good skating party at the rink last p.m. with a pretty fair attendance, Grace Barnes and Ken Self winning the races. Canada Packers put on the next party up there on Monday evening.

Valentin Stops Robinson In The Ninth

NEWARK, N.J., Jan. 30 — (AP)—Mr. James Joy Johnston, the old "bay bandit" and ballyhooer of heavyweights, was over-stating just a bit in billing Valentin Campolo as a "new wild bull of the Pampas" but he wasn't kidding when he said his new importation was a glutton for punishment.

As a heavyweight sensation, the latest "wild bull" was no Luis Angel Firpo in making his big league United States debut in Laurel Gardens here last night. But in stopping big Jim Robinson in nine rounds before a crowd of 2,500, he showed a world of courage, a decided liking for rough going, and considerable ability once he warmed up to his task.

For eight rounds, Robinson punched him around as though he were going to send the bull right back home to pasture in the Argentine. Then, in the eighth, Valentin tossed a few bombs at the body, which the 218-pounder from Philadelphia didn't like at all.

Out came Valentin in the ninth, dropped Robinson in a neutral corner for a nine-count with two rights, and, when Big Jim got up again, belted away with both hands until Referee Paul Cavalier stepped in and halted the hostilities.

To give him more time to acclimate himself to conditions in this half of the Western Hemisphere, Johnstin decided to give Campolo another bout in this same arena in two weeks, with an opponent to be decided later.

Real Test Faces Patty Berg

CORAL GABLES, Fla., Jan 30.—(AP)—Patty Berg of Minneapolis today faced a genuine test in her return to golf competition, after a seven-month layoff, as match play began in the Miami Biltmore women's tournament.

Seven golfers, the red-head among them, scored par or better in yesterday's qualifying round. The medal went to an unheralded entrant, Grace Amory of Palm Beach, Fla. Miss Amory turned in an 80, two below par for women.

Betty Jameson of San Antonio, Tex., United States champion, Dorothy Kirby of Atlanta, Marion Miley of Lexington, Ky., and Miss Berg scored 81's, while Elizabeth Hicks of Long Beach, Calif., and Mrs. H. S. Robbins of Spring Lake, Mich., tied par 82.

Miss Berg is making her first tournament start since giving up the United States title to have her appendix removed.

Hostak Injured, Is Whipped By Newcomer

CHICAGO, Jan. 30 —(AP)— The middleweight boxing title picture, muddled these many months by twin claimants to the crown, appears destined to remain so far for some time to come.

The championship situation cannot be clarified under present circumstances until Ceferino Garcia, recognized as titleholder by the New York and California commissions, and Al Hostak, the National Boxing Association champion, get together in the ring.

Last night the setup was muddled even further when sturdy Tony Zale, Gary, Ind., boy, outpointed Hostak, Seattle, Wash., slugger in a non-title fight in the Chicago Stadium. Zale and Hostak put on a rousing show for five rounds until Hostak suffered a badly sprained or broken left hand which left him virtually helpless.

Zale, rated the No. 5 challenger by the N.B.A., projected himself into the middleweight picture by his hardy showing against Hostak. Battered around the ring and knocked down in the first round, Zale come on to give Hostak a stiff test in the first half of the fight and then proceed to win easily when his rival was injured.

PETES BLANK THE TRENTON FLIERS 5 TO 0 IN EXCITING CONTEST

Fist Fight In The Third Period Threatens Free-For-All As Locals Win In Belleville

Shutting out the Fliers, 5 to 0, in Belleville last night, the Petes took a firmer grip on first place in their O.H.A. intermediate "A" group standing. A good-sized crowd saw a rousing struggle with the Buckland bunch showing superiority throughout to earn the win.

Despite the count, it was a thrilling tussle all the way, with play switching from end to end continuously in one breath-taking rush after another to bring Goalies Gibson and Harding to their knees to save. It was featured by a fist fight that threatened to become a free-for-all in the third period. Kingdon and Higgins were gated for roughing it, and they mixed again in the penalty box, with Gibson and Co[illegible] tangling on the ice and the other players milling around angrily. The police arrived to restore order.

The score was 1-0 to end the first period, a big argument developing when the lone goal was scored. It occurred just as the gong sounded, but the referee did not hear the bell and permitted the counter—with the Fliers arguing bitterly, that it did not count. However, the Petes ran in another in the second and broke loose for three in a hectic third heat to clinch the contest.

A Typical Scrap

A typical Petes-Fliers' joust, it was a case of blinding speed from start to finish, with thrill piled upon thrill and plenty of spills as the old-time ice rivals bumped each other around and fought hard for every point. There was no letup, and plenty of fine hockey shown to the excited crowd. Of the 13 penalties handed out, seven went to the Petes, a misconduct penalty going to each side and Starr and Deryer—though innocent—serving time just for the others' misconduct penalties.

Ray Harding earned his shutout with some swell work in the visitors' cage in every period, and his defence was strong throughout. There was little to choose among the fast-stepping forwards of the Petes, all doing great. Bun Kingdon was in on three goals and Tompkins two, and the rest almost as effective. Of the losers, Gibson was good till the third period, and even then kicked out a bunch, while Irwine, McLeod and Legris played fine hockey over the route.

Edge In First

The Petes had a little edge in the first, but it was very fast and tight most of the way. Coughlin came close early and then Legris missed the open net on an in-close pass. A Gardner-Crowe rush made Gibson jump but, when J. Jopling went off for tripping, the Airmen tore in hard. With all back, Gibson had to be good as the Petes threw a lot of shots at him. They kept pressing in an exciting and speedy period till just at the bell when Heal scored from Tompkins in close. As the referee did not hear the gong, he permitted the tally—which took place just as the bell sounded—and an argument occurred for a space.

It was hot and even to open the second and then Crowe got the finger for boarding. The Fliers buzzed in dangerously but could not beat Harding, and Crowe returned without any damage having been done. Tompkins and Kingdon combined for a nice rush, and then Kingdon counted alone neatly when he took the puck from a faceoff outside the blue line in and fooled Gibson. Starr kidded the goalie and Gibson cut him over the head with his stick, the gash requiring medical attention, and a fight threatening. Play was fast and fairly rough then, and when Higgins was chased for boarding, the Petes did everything but tally. Tompkins got it next for tripping but no harm was done in his absence, Burton later getting the air for tripping. Harding was good in the jam that followed till Gathercol was penalized for tripping at the finish.

Hectic Period

Heal and Kingdon came close early in the third, and then Tompkins tested the net-guardian. Kingdon stickhandled his way out of the Fliers' corner smartly to sink another. Four of the Fliers went on the attack, but the Petes held their own. McLeod came close as play was hot and even with both sides fairly flying. J. Jopling took Starr's pass and skirted defence fast to blaze one into the hemp and make it 4-0. Less than a minute later, Tompkins took Kingdon's forward pass at the goal-mouth and blasted it home. Shortly after, Higgins and Kingdon mixed it up and got the gate. They argued in the penalty box and began throwing fists. Gibson tore out of his net and he and Coughlin mixed it, and others threatened to join in when the police arrived. The first two got misconduct penalties, with Deryer and Starr sent to the penalty box to serve two minutes for them of the 10. F. Jopling went off shortly for holding, and Blewett and Coughlin nearly scored, Gardner went off as J. Jopling got back for boarding and the Fliers pressed again. Then Irvine got it for holding, and was no sooner back than Lemieux was waved away for boarding just before the bell.

The teams:

Petes: Goal, Harding; defence, Gardner and Burton; centre, Kingdon; wings, Heal and Tompkins; alternates, F. Jopling, Crowe, J. Jopling, Coughlin, Blewett and Starr.

BOB PARNELL

Junior Contest Is Listed Here Tonight

Lakefield Cubs tangle here tonight (Tuesday) at 8:30 o'clock in the Brock St. arena with the local Colts in an O.H.A. junior "B" scheduled fixture. The game was moved ahead from Friday, and is the first appearance of the Lakefield lads in Peterborough this season. They have several local players aboard a scrappy lineup, Cauley, Connelly and Giardino, and gave the Colts a tough battle in the northern village a week ago. Both squads are fighting now for playoff berths either in the "B" or "C" group series, and these speedy and scrappy young outfits will dish up a dandy tussle. The game should draw a good crowd of fans.

Cournyea will be in goal for the Colts, with Beggs, Mason [illegible]ill and Strickland likely on d[illegible]e If the latter is over his leg [illegible]ry he will be playing again, and Vitarelli is likely to be a blue-line guardian this tilt. Wade, Pammett and Foster form one line; with Parnell, Rochetta and Craig on the other, provided Parnell's wrist is okay again. MacDonald and Nichols are extra players.

Westwood Holds Albions In 3-3 Fracas

HAVELOCK Jan. 30.—(ENS). —Battling to a 3-all deadlick in a spirited overtime struggle, the Havelock "Albions" and Westwood also went into a tie for leadership of the East Peterboro Rural Hockey League as they met last night at the Norwood arena. The game featured some heavy checking and bumping, with a few private feuds cropping up among the players to make it more interesting. Of the seven penalties distributed during the tussle, five of these went to the Albions.

Havelock went ahead after six minutes of play in the initial stanza, when Hunter camped in front of the Westwood cage, managed to deflect a flying puck into the net for the opening goal of the game. Near the end of the period Hagerman collected the Albions' second counter on a drifting hot from the blue line. Shearer of Westwood was penalized this session for boarding Pollock, and Hamilton was also sent to the cooler for a similar offence to Shearer.

Westwood in the second was finally successful as Buck slapped home Morris' rebound. The locals were short handed twice durng this period as Hoffman took two trips to the cooler, the first for boarding Shearer and the second for butt-ending Ross.

The Albions increased their lead to 3-1 as Hagerman made a nice passout to Pollock, parked in front of the Westwood cage, a minute after the play in the third period had begun. A penalty to Pollock for slashing at Gill paved the way for Westwood's second counter, as Green tallied from Buck, at the eight minute mark. In the final minute of play Buck finally tied it up, with Gill assisting. Hoffman and Shearer both drew penalties in this period.

The teams:

Havelock—Goal, Peters; defense, Whitney, Williams; centre, Pollock; wings, Hagerman, Watson; alternates, E. Ellis, F. Ellis, H. Gordon, Hoffman, Lade, Hunter, H. Hamilton, E. Gordon.

Gets Shutout

RAY HARDING

Trent River Crew Edge Elgin In 3-2 Battle

HAVELOCK, Jan. 30. —(ENS)— Trent River gained a 3-2 nod over Elgin last night at Norwood arena, in an East Peterborough Rural League tilt. Although the winners exhibited a decided edge over their opponents during the early part of the game, the strengthened Elgin lineup seemed to gain in power as play progressed and threatened to tie it up in the final stanza.

The only penalty of the game was handed out in the initial stanza, to C. Stevenson of the Trent's for tripping. While playing shorthanded however, Trent River took the lead when A. Brown notched the opening goal, with R. Hamilton assisting. Jamieson combined with Parcells a minute later to make the count 2 to 0, and at the 12 minute mark, G. Brown tallied their third and last marker of the night. Less than a minute had passed in the middle frame before Elgin retaliated with their first goal, Metcalfe scoring during a pile-up before the Trent River net, with Murphy also taking part in the play.

In the third, Elgin drew a little closer to the leaders when Webb tallied at the three minute mark. Both goalies were good on the night's play, Lobb having a particularly busy time of it. Outstanding for the winners was the smooth-working line of Jamieson, Parcells and Hamilton, while A. Brown, Geo. Brown, and McLaughlin were also good. For Elgin, Metcalfe, Murphy, Webb, Scott and Lumsden were the most effective members.

The teams:

Elgin—Goal, A. Lobb; defense, Sheppard, J. Richardson; centre, Rusaw; wings, Metcalfe, Murphy; alternates, G. Richardson, E. Preston, J. Preston, A. Cushman, Webb, Scott, Lumsden.

Trent River—Goal, Hill; defence, A. Brown, VanVolkenburg; centre, G. Brown; wings, Jim Brown, McLaughlin; alternates, C. Stevenson, E. Stevenson, Chaplin, Jamieson, Hamilton, Parcells, Jack Brown.

Trent River, Jamieson (Parcells) 9.00
Trent River, Geo. Brown 12.00
Penalty—C. Stevenson.

Second Period

Third Period

Tweed Terriers Wallop Norwood 9 to 4

TWEED, Jan. 30 (ENS).—Playing hosts to the league leading team from Norwood on Monday night at the local arena, the Tweed Terriers trounced the Norwood squad 9-4 in a fast, clean game.

The Terriers jumped into a 3-2 lead in the first period, with Orr tallying the first count on a pass from Long. O'Leary came back to tie the count, and the Terriers tallied two counts in quick succession, with Storms scoring from Tummon and Elsbury from J. Courneyea. The second Norwood counter was scored by G. Puffer. Orr received the only penalty of the period for tripping.

In the second period, Elsbury opened the scoring for the Terriers on a pass from J. Courneyea and Orr. However, Norwood came back to tie the count with two quick tallies by Puffer. However, Wagar took a pass from H. Leal to gain the lead, and Elsbury rapped in a pass from Long to give the Terriers a two-goal edge at the end of the period. Rothwell, Puffer, Tummon, Wagar, and Aboud got the nod from the referee during the period. However, no scoring took place when either side was short-handed.

In the last period, it was a field day for hefty Storms, who rapped in the three goals of the period, the first on a solo rush, the second on a pass from Wagar and Leal, and the third on a pass from Wagar. Orr and Aboud sent to the box in this period. A mild fight in this period was soon quelled before things got under way and no penalties were handed out.

The line-ups:

Norwood—Goal, MacMasters; defence, Rothwell and Webb; centre, Puffer; wings, P. Rogers and Hill; subs., Davis, O'Leary, Richardson, Brady, Aboud, W. Rogers.

Tweed — Goal, Reeves; defence, Tummon and Orr; centre, J. Courneyea; wings, Elsbury and Wagar; subs., H Leal, J. Marsh, Long, Wagar, Woodcock, A .Courneyea, and Storms.

Referees — Ennis, Norwood, and Sayers, Tweed.

Bidding Was High For The McCoy

With his proud mother, Mrs. Elmer McCoy, gazing over his shoulder, Benny McCoy, who hit .302 for the Detroit Tigers last season, and was made a free agent by Commissioner Kenneshaw M. Landis, reads a headline in the newspaper, telling of the reported offer of $35,000 made to McCoy by the Pittsburgh Pirates. Rumor hath it that Benny also had an offer of $30,000 from the Brooklyn Dodgers and the Washington Senators, with seven other major league clubs bidding for his services. McCoy wanted a $40,000 bonus and a three-year contract calling for $10,000 a year salary, but was given a $45,000 bonus and a two-year contract calling for $10,000 a year Monday by the Philadelphia Athletics.

DIED

SPEARS, Audrey Sarah.—On Tuesday, January 30, 1940, Audrey Sarah, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Spears. Funeral from the family residence, Lot 22, Con. 14, Otonabee, on Thursday, February 1, at 2.30 p.m. Interment Little Lake Cemetery.

IN MEMORIAM

HUGHES. — In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Samuel John Hughes, who passed away January 30, 1937.

He has solved it, life's wonderful problem;
The deepest, the strangest, the last,
And into the school of the angels,
With the answer forever has passed,
How strange he should sleep so profoundly,
So young, so unworn by strife,
While beside him brimful of hope's nectar
Untouched stood the Goblet of Life.
God knew all about it, how noble,
How gentle he was and how brave,
How bright his possible future
Yet put him to sleep in his grave;
God knew all about those who love him,
How bitter the trial must be,
And right through it all God is loving,
And knows so much better than we.
—Sadly missed by Mother, Father, Sisters and Brothers.

PRESTON.—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, William Preston, who passed away January 30, 1934.

The flowing stream of life rolls on,
But still the vacant chair
Recalls the love, the voice, and smile
Of him who once sat there
Though the world is full of sunshine;
Full of sorrow and of pain,
Still to us it would be heaven
If you were only here again.
—Sadly missed by Wife and Family.

MAHAFFEY.—In loving memory of Mr. Robert Mahaffey who passed away one year ago today.

His weary hours and days of pain,
His troubled nights are past;
And in our aching hearts we know
He has found sweet rest at last.
—Sadly missed by Wife, and his Children and two Grandchildren, and one son-in-law.

The Stars Say . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Wednesday, January 31.

While the faculties and energies may be under excellent astral stimuli on this day, there are certain equivocal or dubious factors to cope with. The inherent forces and predispositions, mental, psychical and emotional, seem to be in conflict, causing perplexity or anxiety that will be detrimental and taxing, as well as disturbing to relations with employers or superiors. Be alert to intrigue and be careful with writings.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a year in which there may be much accomplishment if a tendency to overstrain the mental and nervous forces is averted, and they are able to shun worry, doubts and perplexities, as well as duplicity, equivocal entanglemetns and indulgence in expedieney rather than principle. These might incite trouble with employers or superiors. With care there may be surprising gain and personal gratification.

A child born on this day may have characteristics and trends difficult to engineer into constructive and worthy channels. It may be versatile, skilful, and have much ingenuity, but overwrought nervous and emotional energy may incite unpleasant activities. Early careful training and discipline are recommended.

bid inclination to confess to each other on the eve of their marriage. They have an idea that it is an honest thing to do and that it starts them out on a clean platform. But it is a horrible mistake. All that it accomplishes is to destroy the ideals that each entertains of the other and to give each food for jealousy and subjects for recriminations when they get into quarrels.

Many men write to me on this subject, and I have never had one whose wife had confessed some past indiscretion to him who didn't say, "I wish she hadn't told me. I would have been far happier not knowing the things she told me." But if a girl is ever going to confess, she should do it before marriage, not afterward.

"TELL BILL GOODBYE"

By Marie Blizard

CHAPTER TWENTY-EIGHT

They went to a night club. To the Flamingo which was the gayest in town. Gertrude sat between Nicky, who was strangely silent, strangely smiling as his eye met the dark eyes of the demure, quiet girl sitting opposite next to Bill, and Fabienne, who looked frail and worn.

Gertrude's pose was being the Brave Mother that evening. A song brought sentimental tears to her eyes and, catching Bill's glance across the table, she said, "You'll have to forgive me. I've lost my big boy. The twins are only thirteen, you know." Then she flashed a glance at Nicky and another at Fabienne, a meaningful glance. "But parties some day I shall have Nicky for my son. He's always been like one to me."

Fabienne said, "Mother, please!"

"But I have," Nicky said. "I've even borrowed money from Gertrude."

Fabienne said, "I think I'll go if no one minds. I'm still a little weak from the flu."

Both Bill and Nicky got up.

"You can use my car, darling," her mother said. "And send it back. I've telephoned for some people to join us here or I'd go with you.'

"Don't bother, mother." Fabienne told her, with a sarcastic, knowing glance. "It really isn't necessary for anyone to come with me. Stay here and have a good time."

Ellen had got up, then. "I think I'll leave, too, Fabienne. I'm a working girl, you know. Is there room for me."

"Well, if you must—" Gertrude's voice trailed off. She'd seen someone she knew across the room and was waving gaily, her child's departure forgotten.

"We'll take you and Bill home first," Fabienne said, giving the chauffer directions to go to the apartment on twelfth street.

"Mind if I ride back to the house with you two?" Bill asked, getting back into the car after saying goodnight to Ellen.

"Not a bit," Fabienne told him.

They rode in silence for some little time. The silence was too heavy for Fabienne's frayed nerves. "Penny for the you-know-what's, Nicky."

"I was thinking about Ellen. Nice girl.'

"Wonderful," Fabienne said. "I told you she was."

"You gave me a slightly different picture."

"You have to know Ellen to know what a swell person she is," Bill said.

Fabienne was pretty fond of Ellen, but she was in no mood to listen to the peans of praise that went from Nicky to Bill and back again like a soft ball.

At her own door she said shortly, "It's too late to ask you up. Goodnight, me lads.

"You sleep until noon, young lady," Bill ordered.

Nicky said, "I'll give you a ring tomorrow."

"Not too early, Nicky. I'm going to take the doctor's advice. I'd like to sleep for the rest of my life," she said, her mouth trembling.

And so she would—to sleep and forget.

A little before noon, Gertrude came into her bedroom, he negligee trailing, jeweled cigaret case in hand, and settled herself in the pillows of Fabienne's chaise lounge. The signs indicated a long talk.

Fabienne sighed and sat up.

"It was nice, wasn't it?" her mother said brightly. "Brenda is such a lovely girl! I'm lucky to be getting a daughter like that."

"Instead of the one you have?"

"Really, Fabienne, you have the most unpleasant disposition. I sometimes think—' Whatever she thought was interrupted by the appearance of the aid with Fabienne's breakfast tray.

"Why did you ask Bill Mallory to—go with us last night And what's the idea of asking him to dinner next week," Fabienne shot at her mother.

"He's a very nice young man," her mother said calmly.

"You've met lots of nice young men." Fabienne drank from her coffee cup, looking at her mother over its edge.

Her mother lit a gold-tipped cigaret. She said, "I think the new registry did a very good job on the extra servants, don't you? I must remember to call them again."

Fabienne put down her cup and broke an egg into a warm glass. "He's poor," she said.

"Is it just because he is good looking? Another extra man for dinners."

"I hadn't thought of that," her mother said pleasantly, "but now that you mention it, I'll keep it in mind. Quite romantic looking, too. Like a doctor character in a novel. He looks quite like a Rockwell Kent design. So rugged!"

"A little too young for you," her daughter said cruelly.

I wasn't thinking of myself."

"Surely you weren't thinking of ME! I told you he was poor," Fabienne pointed out. "And, of course, there is always Nicky, or have you given up that idea?"

"You'll lose Nicky if you aren't careful," her mother observed.

Fabienne rang for the maid to take away her tray. When she had come and gone, she said, "Mother, why are you cultivating, or wanting to cultivate Bill?"

"Because I'm interested in clever people. Bob Whiting knows him. He says that he is one of the smartest young surgeons on his staff."

Dr. Whiting was probably the best-known orthopedic surgeon in New York. Fabienne's heart swelled with pride. If Whiting said that Bill was good, he must have been very good indeed.

Immediately she put her pride aside and persued the subject. "Bill isn't like your young actors or painters. You won't find him dropping in for a cup of tea and acting grateful for being taken up by the countess."

Gertrude's dark eyes flashed with anger. "Really, Fabienne, you are most difficult! What is it that you want? I suggest a suitable marriage for you! I offer to help your new friends! And what do I get for it? Rudeness! It's simply impossible for us to get along."

Fabienne studied her mother thoughtfully. At last she said, "You're right, mother, I am rude. I'm the one who is wrong. We just happen to be two very unlike people. We won't approve of what the other stands for. You'd really be happier if I weren't living with you, wouldn't you?"

Her mother got up, arranging her draperies, fixing her hair, frowning over a white one that showed at the temple. "Yes," she said, "I would. I think you would be happier living apart. If you want an apartment, I think I could manage to let you have a little money, although you have five hundred of your own—"

"Thanks," Fabienne answered. "I can manage alright. I'll leave this afternoon. I'll go back to Ellen's. She doesn't find me so difficult."

Gertrude shrugged her chiffon-clad shoulder. "Whatever you like, my dear, but do bring the doctor to dinner. I have some friends who could help him I think." She went out, leaving a perfumed wake behind her.

* * *

Fabienne appeared at Ellen's apartment a little before quarter of eight. "I'm back," she said. "I hope you'll be glad to have me."

"Of course, I'm delighted!" Ellen said.

Why had Ellen looked at her so strangely, colored so quickly and said she was delighted when something warned Fabienne that she was NOT delighted

She didn't know that Nicky was coming in a very few minutes.

CHARLES JOHNSTON, charged in police court with careless driving, told the court he drove here from Sudbury with a loaded five-ton truck in safety, although suffering from pneumonia. Striking a spot of icy roadway in this city, the truck skidded into a motor car which it did not damage, he said.

"I had pains all the way down and the next day I went to hospital," said Johnston. "I am just out of hospital and have lost my job over the accident."

He was remanded for sentence.

DON'T OBEY BLINDLY

IF YOUR eyes are wide open all the time, you will not merely notice all of the signals given by your partner's cards and then follow them subserviently. There will be rare occasions on which you can see that some defense, entirely different from what your partner can fathom, would produce a better result. In those situations, your job is to disregard his signal and proceed with the defense you have figured out.

North bid 1-Diamond on this deal, South 1-No Trump and North 3-No Trumps. Four spade tricks were rattled off by West who noticed a come-on signal of the high heart 8 on the last one. This particular West, however, Mrs. Lee Hazen, wife of a national championship winner, and herself a keen card reader, did not act hastily.

Trick counting showed that a heart lead would enable the declarer to run seven consecutive tricks. So, if South happened to have the heart Q, the club A and the club 9 or J, which was quite likely, the declarer would squeeze East. The latter, retaining the heart K and the club K-Q, would build up the game trick for the declarer by her discard on the last diamond. If she threw the heart K, the Q would be good; if she tossed one of her two clubs, the declarer would get the extra trick in that suit.

Mrs. Hazen therefore did not lead a heart to the fifth trick, but a club. This broke up communication with the declarer's two holdings prematurely, beating the contract a trick.

Poor Stuff

Santiago, Chile, Jan. 30 (CP-Havas)

THE Chilean Government today made diplomatic representations to Italy regarding alleged defects in Italian-manufactured planes sold to the Chilean army.

The Chilean defence ministry and General Armando Castro, commander-in-chief of the Chilean air force, have charged that the machines were not airworthy.

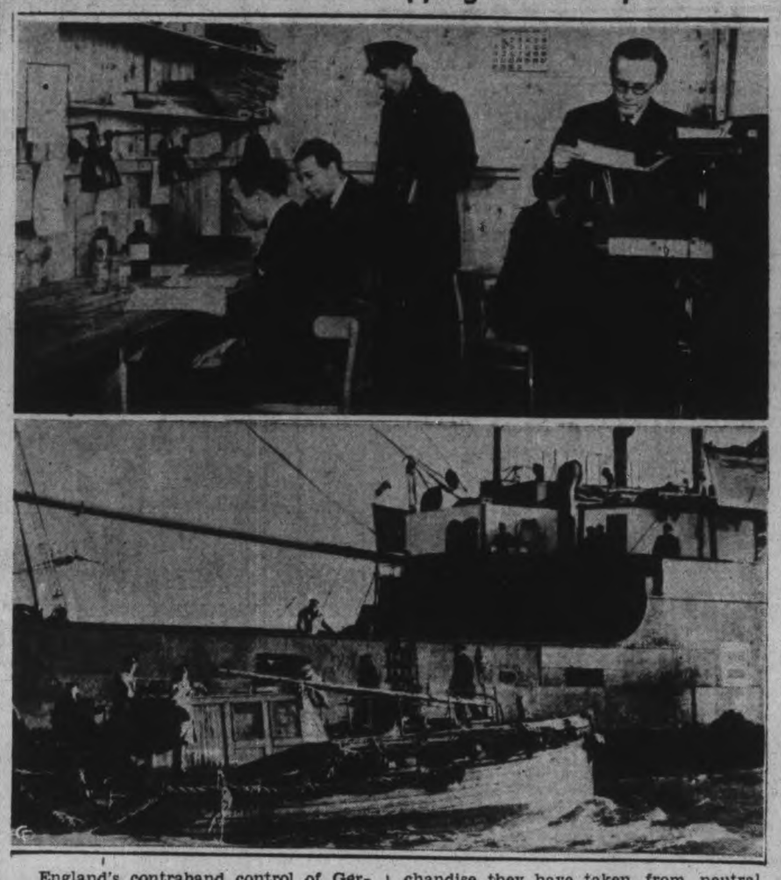
Caldwell Seeks Peace Parley

OTTAWA, Jan. 30 — (CP). — Immediate steps are to be taken by the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation to open negotiations with labor parties in the United Kingdom, other British Dominions and in France, towards the holding of a joint conference to formulate peace aims, M. J. Coldwell, National chairman of the C. C. F. announced today.

This step, he said, would be taken on the conviction that a just peace would be achieved only through the efforts and pressure of the common people.

"Just peace aims formulated by the peoples of the Allies now and made known to the German people, might be instrumental in bringing an early peace and avoiding needless sacrifice of man power," he said.

British Contraband Control Stopping German Exports



England's contraband control of Germany's sea exports is thoroughly under way. A scene in a southern England contraband control base is shown, TOP, with control officers at work in the intelligence room, making reports on the various merchandise they have taken from neutral vessels which had sailed from German ports with outbound German goods. A contraband control launch, BOTTOM, is pictured approaching a neutral vessel suspected of carrying German exports.

Britishers Credit Eased Rations To The High Prices

LONDON, Jan. 30 — (AP). — ons received double rations of bacon and ham today and the Government was reported planning to increase butter allowances.

The Food Ministry's announcement that the bacon and ham allowance would be increased to one-half pound a week per person said food supplies were more plentiful despite submarine warfare and mine menace.

The Daily Herald, however, declared high prices brought the relaxation. The newspaper predicted the butter ration would be increased from four to six ounces weekly for the same reason.

"There is only one honest way to straighten the bacon, butter muddle," the newspaper said, "and that is to bring down the price."

Since the war, bacon has increased by the equivalent of about 10 cents a pound and butter, about eight cents.

A New Ministry.

With British workers fearful that living costs may outstrip wage increases, the Labor Party has placed a motion on record with parliament for establishment of a Ministry of Economic Co-ordination.

Debate on the motion will begin Thursday in the House of Commons giving Prime Minister Chamberlain and Sir John Simon, Chancellor of the Exchequer, an opportunity to report on progress in the field of Economic co-ordination since the outbreak of war.

Proponents of the move for a new ministry are found in all parties. But its usefulness has been questioned by some well-known economists, who pointed out that there already exists a mixed national consultative committee of employer and employee representatives to report on discrepancies between salaries and living costs.

The mixed committee will meet again with government representatives next Wednesday. Economists commented that the government's attitude toward any proposals submitted will be conditioned by a desire to avoid inflation, credit being one of the principal weapons of a nation at war.

Competent circles believe one way of holding the price increases within bounds will be through strict limitation of consumption. Thus far the government has called only for voluntary sacrifices in most instances, but stricted measures may be on the way.

A proposal made by the noted economist J. M. Keynes at the beginning of the war, but not then accepted by the government, has been in the forefront of recent discussion. Mr. Keynes suggested forced savings for all classes, with the sums thus raised going into the treasury. The device would have the double purpose of limiting purchasing power — and consequently consumption—and of supplying necessary funds for carrying on the war.

Thorndale Man Reports Great Health Benefits

How many times have you said you would give anything to be able to eat three good meals a day without getting that full, bloated feeling in your stomach that almost makes you gasp for your breath? Those cramps, dizzy spells or nervous headaches? Pains in the back and limbs caused by excess acids in the system?

"For years I suffered for hours after meals with sour stomach and heartburn. Gas would press up into my chest and make me short of breath. I used to get awful dizzy, bilious spells and nervous headaches. Pains set into my back and muscles. This caused me to lose many a night's sleep and as a result I felt tired and worn out.

"I never had much faith in medicines, but Syntona had helped so many people all around me, so I got myself a treatment and it has given me great results. Now I can eat anything I like without suffering afterwards. I don't get those dizzy spells or headaches like I did. I got relief from those rheumatic pains and I sleep well. I have more energy to work now and I don't tire so easily. In every way I feel better than I did in years previously."

MR. FRANK CAMPBELL

Syntona is sold and recommended in Peterborough by Elliott's Drug Store. Get yourself a treatment today and see how much better you can be feeling in just a short time. —(Advt.)

U.S. May Delay Trade Deal With Japan

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30 — (AP). —Sentiment increased in the United States Senate Foreign Relations Committee to-day to delay action on proposals to embargo shipments of American raw materials to Japan.

Chairman Key Pittman of the Foreign Relations Committee, the author of one Embargo Bill, said "There is no hurry."

There have been signs, too, that State Secreatry Cordell Hull would prefer that embargo proposals be held in reserve as a weapon to combat any Japanese discrimination against Americans in China.

Instead, there is talk of giving further financial aid to the embattled government of China.

At least two Senators who specialize on foreign relations said they would seek an amendment to the pending Finnish Loan Bill to open export-import bank facilities to General Chiang Kai-Shek. This would enable the Chinese Chieftain to buy more non-military American goods.
